

UNITED STATES OFFICIALLY ASKS END OF WARSHIP BUILDING RACING RESULTS

Tigers with Keck at the head. The opposing captains and officials met in midfield. Yale won the toss.

FIRST PERIOD.

Princeton kicked off. O'Hearn was tackled on Yale's 25 yard line by Snelvy. Stinson was hurt on the play but kept his place. On the first play Aldrich made a poor kick, the ball going out of bounds at midfield. Garity hit the Blue line for two yards and Lourie added three more around the left end. On an attempted forward pass Princeton lost 22 yards.

The pass from O'Hearn was poor and Snelvy just managed to capture the bounding ball from two Hull Dogs. After this setback Lourie kicked to O'Hearn on Yale's 33-yard line. On a fake kick Jordan gained eight yards. Aldrich broke loose through right guard and gained 20 yards. Stock replaced Stinson for Princeton. Aldrich again got clear and went to Princeton's 20-yard line.

The Tigers braced and stopped two plunges for only a yard gain. Yale started another smash for the line, but this time it was only a fumble. As the two lines came together, O'Hearn took a direct pass from the center and sprinted around Princeton's right end 17 yards for a touchdown, after shaking off two tacklers. Aldrich kicked the goal. The Blue stands went wild over the quick-scoring foot of their team. Yale kicked off.

Princeton, unable to make any headway, punted to O'Hearn, who made a brilliant dash back for 25 yards, dodging one Tiger after another and almost getting a clear field for a touchdown.

Thirty yards in front of Princeton's goal line Yale tried its first forward pass, but Gilroy knocked the ball down. From his 35-yard line Aldrich tried a fake run but the ball was short. Slugging from the 20-yard line Lourie slipped around the end for 8 yards. Garity made the first down through center. After clearing 12 yards, 7 yards around the left end, Lourie punted to Yale's 20-yard line. After Aldrich failed to gain, O'Hearn made a poor kick, the ball going out of bounds on Yale's 40-yard line. Lourie made 4 yards around left end the first quarter ended. Score—Yale, 7; Princeton, 0.

SECOND PERIOD.

Starting the second quarter Cleaves dashed around right end for 5 yards. A forward pass Lourie to Garity, made the first down but the ball was short. Slugging from the 20-yard line Lourie slipped around right for five yards. Yale was off side and received a fifteen-yard penalty, bringing the ball to within twenty-three yards of their goal line.

Lourie and Cleaves went forward right for five yards. With two yards to go, Princeton tried a long forward pass over the goal line but the ball was knocked down by a Blue defender. Yale put the ball in play on its twenty-yard line. Getting the ball back a kick the Tigers made twelve yards on two runs by Lourie and Cleaves. When Garity failed to gain through the line Lourie punted to Aldrich who was tackled near the 10-yard line. Neither side could gain consistently.

There would be one play invariably followed by a kick. The Tigers got the ball on their 33-yard line. The Blue smashed into the Blue line, ended disastrously. Keck was hurt in one plunge and had to be assisted off the field. Rufan took his place.

Undaunted, the Blue led off their Captain the Tigers on the first play gained 25 yards on a long forward pass, Snelvy to Lourie. Another pretty pass from Lourie to Garity, but Lourie, brought the ball to Yale's 18-yard line.

Lourie on a wide and run made 8 yards. Two line plunges netted 15 yards. The Blue spread out wide for a forward pass, but the ball was knocked down by Aldrich.

A successful pass, Snelvy to Cleaves, then a forward pass to Lourie, Yale's one-yard line. With both sides of the ball yelling like mad the two teams met in a fierce struggle on the goal line, the Blue side being the Tiger through Yale's left tackle and all the way over the chalk mark for a touchdown. It was Garity, the Princeton battering ram, who kicked the goal, making the score Princeton 7, Yale 7.

Princeton kicked off. On a series of vicious line smashes, Aldrich carried the ball to mid-field. Aldrich went around right end for 8 yards. With only several minutes remaining Aldrich dropped back and tried a field goal from the 40-yard line, but the ball went to the right of the goal posts. After Lourie gained in 5 yards the second quarter ended. Score—Yale, 7; Princeton, 7.

Between the halves Marshal Foch crossed the field from the Yale side to sit among the cheerleaders.

THIRD PERIOD.

Starting the third quarter there were no chances in either team. Keck still being absent from the Tiger line-up, Yale kicked off. After a short run by Lourie the Tigers worked a forward pass to Garity, but after a kicking exchange, Princeton began operations on its 43-yard line. After a line plunge failed, Princeton attempted a long forward pass which Aldrich intercepted on his own 25-yard line. Unable to advance, Yale punted deep into Princeton territory, but the ball was brought back and the Tigers penalized five yards.

Snelvy threw Aldrich for four yards loss, but again the Tigers were penalized five yards. Aldrich then made a long kick, the ball going out of bounds on Princeton's 3-yard line. Lourie punted to mid-field. O'Hearn slugging back 8 yards. On a delayed pass Aldrich gained 20 yards around Princeton's left end.

With the Yale stands yelling for a touchdown, Jordan and Aldrich, the two smashes, raised the ball but Gilroy then intercepted a Yale pass but failed to hold the ball. Aldrich dropped back to the 35-yard line and kicked a goal from the field. Yale 10, Princeton 7.

Yale kicked off to Lourie, who made a brilliant run back to his 40-yard line. Lourie was tackled on the play but returned to the game. Getting the ball on a kick Yale started another drive, but Jordan fumbled and was thrown for a 15-yard loss by Scott. This forced the Bulldog to kick out but the ball was brought back and the Tigers penalized five yards. After shaking the ball to mid-field, O'Hearn punted to Lourie on his 16-yard line. Yale stopped 2-yard line smashes, but was penalized 5 yards for off side. When three line plays failed, Princeton punted to Lourie, who sprinted back 15 yards. Princeton's

NAVY TRIED A SHORT KICK.

Three more plays carried the ball to the 20-yard mark. Killinger tossed a forward pass to Knabb, which carried the ball to the 10-yard mark. Killinger swept through tackle and crossed the goal line, but the play was recalled and State penalized five yards for off-side. The Middles obtained the ball on downed ball on the 15-yard line. Burke continued to rip big holes into the Penn line. Captain Jim Robertson continued his sensational playing by reeling a 30-yard run around Penn's left end. HERE ARE PROPOSALS CUTTING DOWN NAVIES OF 3 GREAT NATIONS

American proposal but it was declared in the proposals that since the importance of the merchant marine is a factor in any naval armament program "regulations must be provided to govern the conversion of merchant craft for war purposes.

Other features of the auxiliary craft reduction programme include: Exemption from the terms of the agreement of existing monitors, unarmored surface craft and other types of ships, supply ships, tenders, repair ships, tugs and mine sweepers.

No new auxiliary combatant craft could be built, except from terms of the agreement, that exceeded 3,000 tons, had a speed of more than fifteen knots and carried more than four five-inch gun or two six-inch guns.

All auxiliary surface craft whose keels already have been laid could be carried to completion. Agreement would be made later as to details of scrapping the ships falling outside the proposed limitation.

Each of the powers party to the agreement would bind itself to inform the other parties concerning: 1. The names or number of the ship to be replaced or tonnage.

2. The dates of laying the keels of replacement tonnage.

3. The displacement tonnage of each new ship.

4. The actual date of completion of each new ship.

5. The fact and date of the scrapping of the replaced tonnage.

A summary of the results of the agreement so far as it affects capital ships was included in the American proposal in the following terms:

"If the terms of the present agreement are agreed to, then the United States, Great Britain and Japan agree that their navies, three months after the making of the agreement, shall consist of the following capital ships:

"United States: Maryland, California, Tennessee, Idaho, Mississippi, New Mexico, Arizona, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Nevada, Texas, New York, Arkansas, Wyoming, Utah, Florida, North Dakota, Delaware—18. Total tonnage, 500,550.

"Great Britain: Royal Sovereign, Royal Oak, Resolution, Ramilies, Revenge, Queen Elizabeth, Warspite, Valiant, Barham, Malaya, Benbow, Emperor of India, Iron Duke, Marlborough, Erin, King George V, Cornwall, Ajax, Hood, Renown, Repulse, Tiger—22. Total tonnage, 604,450.

"Japan: Nagato, Hiei, Ise, Yamashiro, Fuso, Settsu, Kirishima, Haruna, Hiyey, Kongo—10; total tonnage, 229,700.

Regarding the naval armaments of France and Italy, the American proposal says:

"In view of certain extraordinary conditions due to the World War affecting the existing armaments in the navies of France and Italy, the United States does not consider necessary the discussion at this stage of the proceedings of the tonnage allowance for these countries, but proposes it be reserved for the later consideration of the conference."

most radical proposal. He insisted that no replacements should be made in less than ten years and that there should be agreed upon in advance a maximum tonnage for replacement of 500,000 tons for the United States, Great Britain 500,000 tons, and Japan 300,000 tons. He also declared that 35,000 tons should be the limit in size of any new battleships.

In concluding, Mr. Hughes predicted that enormous sums would thus be released to aid the progress of civilization and at the same time the proper demands of national defense will be adequately met and the nations will have complete opportunity during the naval holiday of ten years to consider their future course. Preparation for offensive naval war will stop now.

It is difficult to describe the cheering and enthusiasm of the galleries as the Secretary of State of the United States finished his speech. The delegates sat quietly, only a few joining in the demonstration of applause—those who could understand English. Announcement was made that a French text had been printed and would be distributed after the end of the session, so no visible opportunity was given to determine the effect of Mr. Hughes's remarks. The delegates showed their surprise, however. The British and Japanese took up their pencils and began to make notes before they learned that copies would be available later. It was a sensational performance and typical of American tactics.

John W. Garrett of Baltimore was elected secretary general of the conference. An adjournment was taken at 12:26 P. M. until 11 A. M. on Tuesday next.

the invitation, I think I may say the call is not of the United States of America alone, it is rather the spoken word of a war-weary world, struggling for restoration, hungering and thirsting for better relationship; of humanity crying for relief and craving assurances of lasting peace.

It is easy to understand this worldwide aspiration. The glory of triumph, the rejoicing in achievement, the love of liberty, the devotion to country, the pang of sorrow, the burden of debt, the desolation of ruin—all these are appraised alike in all lands. Here in the United States we are but freshly turned from the burial of an unknown American soldier, when a nation sorrowed while paying him tribute.

"Whether it was spoken or not, a hundred millions of our people were summarizing the inexcusable cause, the incalculable cost, the unappealing sacrifices, and the unutterable sorrows, and there was the ever compelling question: How can humanity justify or God forgive? Human hate demands no such toll; ambition and greed must be denied. If it is understood that must take the blame, then let us banish it, and let understanding rule and make good will reign everywhere. All of us demand liberty and justice. There can not be one without the other, and they must be held the unquestioned possession of all peoples. Inherent rights are of God, and the tragedies of the world originate in their attempted denial. They want to-day to defend or deny, when simple sanity calls for their recognition through common understanding.

"Out of the cataclysm of the World War came new fellowships, new convictions, new aspirations. It is ours to make the most of them. A world staggering with debt needs its burden lifted. Humanity which has been shocked by wanton destruction would minimize the agencies of that destruction. Contemplating the measureless cost of war and the continuing burden of armament, all thoughtful peoples wish for real limitation of armament and would like war outlawed. In soberest reflection the world's hundreds of millions who pay in peep and die in war wish their statesmen to turn the expenditures for destruction into means of construction, aimed at a higher state for those who live and follow after."

"It is no one's duty to deny the world's need for that understanding which will emphasize the guarantees of peace, and for commitments to less burdens and a better order which will tranquillize the world in such a accomplishment there will be added glory to your flags and ours, and the rejoicing of mankind will make the transcending music of all succeeding time."

MORGUE RECEIVES BODY OF WAR HERO

Miller, Who Brought First News of Armistice to Trenches, Dies in Squalor. BUFFALO, Nov. 12.—While all America paid homage to the Unknown Hero in Arlington National Cemetery, the body of Albert Miller, twenty-five years old, holder of the British Distinguished Service Medal and credited with having delivered the first official message that the armistice had been signed, lay on an oak slab in the dimly lighted Morgue here, bearing a small tag on which was scrawled "unclaimed."

Friends, jobless, emancipated from lack of food, poorly clothed, Miller died in a squalid rooming house. His body was found by another roomer. The Medical Examiner said death was due to natural causes, but he pointed out that the man had been in the line of duty when he died.

Three years ago yesterday Miller was a dispatch rider attached to the British General Headquarters. He was the first man to carry the news to the front in the line that the war had come to a close. Miller served three and a half years in the war. He was decorated for distinguished service at Vimy Ridge.
