Dr. Glickstein's Mother Drops Dead While Viewing Body

NEWS OF DR. GLICKSTEIN'S MURDER KILLS HIS MOTHER

Aged Woman Collapses as She Views Body of Son Slain on Saturday.

CRIME STILL MYSTERY.

Movements of Slain Physician Traced to Philadelphia and Saratoga Springs.

Mrs. Lena Glickstein, mother of Dr. Abraham Glickstein, who at 6:30 o'clock on Saturday night was shot to death by an unidentified woman, fell dead about noon today at the foot of her son's coffin in the house where the murder occurred, at No. 535 Bedford Avenue.

News of the murder had been kept from the mother, who was seventy-four years old and had recently suffered a stroke of paralysis. Two of the dead doctor's daughters, Mrs. Florence Willing of No. 25 Bay Second Street, Bath Beach, and Mrs. Meister of Edgewater, N. J., brought the mother from Harlem, arriving at the house soon after 11 o'clock. They had told their grandmother that their father had undergone an operation for appendicitis.

When the auto neared the house there were in the neighborhood of 1,500 persons gathered on the sidewalk and swarming the front steps, and the street was jammed with automobiles. Mrs. Glickstein instantly divined the truth and began to cry.

"Oh, my Abie is dead!" she moaned. Her granddaughters got into the house through the basement entrance up the stairs being impossible because of the crowds. They broke the news to her as gently as possible, and were joined by another daughter of the doctor, Frances, fifteen years old. The trio assisted the stricken woman into the doctor's office, where the casket lay and which also was densely crowded, the atmosphere being heavy with the scent of flowers.

"Oh, Abie, my boy," she wailed in Yiddish, "you should go to my funeral, you should come to yours. These candles should be for me." The granddaughters led her to a seat at the foot of the casket, and she repeated her cry:

"Abie, my boy! My boy!" She then clasped her hands and tumbled in a state of collapse to the floor. Several physicians were in the crowded apartment and the first to reach the prostrate woman was Dr. Samuel Sweetnick of No. 236 South Fourth Street, who raised his hand as he knelt beside her to indicate that she had passed away.

"Her heart has failed," he said. Instantly all was confusion in the home of death and the funeral arrangements for the murdered man were temporarily suspended. The doctor's daughters, as well as his wife, became hysterical, as did other women in the gathering, and it devolved on the men to carry the body of the aged mother into an adjoining room and minister to the doubly stricken daughter.

There were also in the house Eli and Meyer, sons of the dead Mrs. Glickstein.

MAN'S ARM IS TURNED IN NEW I. R. T. BURNSTEL

Another's Finger Is Cut Off, Both at 66th Street.

Interborough officials are trying to find out what, if anything, is the matter with one of the new nickel-in-the-slot turnstiles at the 66th Street station of the Broadway subway. Two passengers have been hurt there.

John Harrington, No. 139 17th Street, Brooklyn, passed through the machine yesterday and came out with a broken arm. He was attended by a surgeon from Flower Hospital and sent home. To-day Ralph Peitl, No. 237 Seventh Avenue, went through the same machine, and the little finger of his left hand was cut off.

PACKERS DECLARE STRIKE HERE WILL NOT AFFECT PRICES

5,000 Men Out and Plants Crippled by Walkout To-day, Say Union Leaders.

New York's strike of meat cutters, drivers, slaughterers and other employees of six large packing plants who walked out to-day in sympathy with the strikers in the West will not increase the price of beef in this city, it was announced by the Institute of American Meat Packers, No. 17 East 42d Street.

"The six plants in this city, which are all subsidiaries of the 'Big Five,' kill little of the beef consumed in New York except that consumed by the kosher trade, it was explained, and the effects of the strike, the statement continued, are not expected to be serious locally.

Union estimates of the number of the strikers are 5,000, but employers stated this afternoon that only about 3,000 men are employed in the six plants and that only 2,500 of them walked out.

Other plants at which the men went on strike are: United Dressed Beef Company, 4th Street and First Avenue; New York Butchers Dressed Meat Company, 40th Street and 11th Avenue; Stern & Co., 40th Street and North River, J. J. Harrington & Co., 43d Street and First Avenue, and Nagle & Co., Jersey City. The unions refer to these concerns as the "Local Big Five."

W. A. Lynde, general manager of the Wilson & Co. station here, admitted that all the 600 packers, drivers, chauffeurs and butchers employed by his company are out and thirty-five wagons tied up. He declared there had been no previous warning, except as a sympathetic walkout with the Chicago unions. First Avenue from 42d to 46th Streets, the packing house district, was lined with trucks this morning.

At union headquarters it was said the strike was called in obedience to orders from the International office in Chicago as a protest against the alleged tactics used there to force the men into the company's unions. They based their charges of sympathetic action by the packers on the failure of a conference here Saturday night. The men declared their contract had expired several months ago and representatives of the unions and the butchers had been conferring to draw up a new working agreement. The unions yesterday voted on the strike. The men, all members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's Union of North America, declared they were making from $20 to $30 a week and recently received a 10 per cent. cut in wages.

So far there has been no trouble. Firms not so far affected by the strike declare that even should it extend to them there is sufficient meat in stock here to last a week without any shortage in the retail trade being felt.

Shortly after 500 employees of the Nagle Packing Co. walked out in Jersey City, it was reported that employees of the Swift, Armour, and Cudahy plants would go out this afternoon. Chief of Police Battersby sent 200 policemen to the Nagle plant as a precaution against possible trouble. Trucks were loaded with meat at the Nagle plant when the men walked out and the drivers refused to move them. At the Swift & Co. plant in Harrison, N. J., 350 men walked out at noon.

The statement of the packers said that the walkout was a great surprise to them because they had an agreement with the men which had five months to run.

JAPAN TO RULE YAP, BUT OTHER POWERS GET EQUAL RIGHTS

Also Gets Mandate to Other Islands Above Equator by New U. S. Treaty.

BRITISH PACT SOUGHT.

Japan Also Gives Up Her Post Offices in China, to Date From Jan. 1, 1923.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (Associated Press).—The text of a treaty between the United States and Japan covering an agreement as to the status of the island of Yap was made public late to-day at the State Department.

The treaty prohibits fortification of the island of Yap and gives Japan the right to maintain an order.

The treaty, it was said in official American quarters, leaves sovereignty, or control, over the island of Yap to Japan, observing the mandate received under the Treaty of Versailles. Japan, it was said, also was given control over the other mandated islands north of the equator.

Negotiations with Great Britain are to follow for a similar agreement as that reached with Japan. Great Britain, under the Treaty of Versailles, was given the mandate for former German islands in the Pacific south of the Equator and it was said the United States would proceed to deal with Great Britain with respect to these.

Under the treaty, it was said that the United States would stand on an equal footing with all of the five principal powers as to the privileges accorded on the island of Yap and the other islands mandated to Japan. This nation, it was said, would have the same right as Great Britain and other nations, including Japan, as to the use of the islands, with the exception that Japan would have the technical suzerainty.

Japan through her Arms Conference delegation announced to the powers represented in the Far Eastern Committee of the Washington conference to-day her willingness to withdraw Japanese postoffices from China Jan. 1, 1923. The Japanese delegation coupled the announcement with a request that more Japanese be employed in the Chinese post office.

ALICE BRADY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

She Was Not Badly Hurt, but One of Her Company Was.

ALBANY, Dec. 12.—Alice Brady, actress, was slightly injured in an automobile accident early to-day at East Greenbush, but announced she would be able to fill an engagement here this afternoon.

Leo Melviner Jr. of New York, known on the stage as Leo McKenzie, and Adelaide Sullivan, members of Miss Brady's company, were with Miss Brady. McKenzie suffered injuries which prevented him from keeping his engagement here. Miss Sullivan was uninjured.

The car was overturned when the chauffeur, in attempting to avoid a collision, swerved to the side of the road.

EXPLOSION IN CHEMICAL PLANT AT GARFIELD, N. J., BURNS 37; SEVEN NOT EXPECTED TO LIVE

Blast in Plant Owned by Allan A. Ryan Caused by Acid Explosion.

Thirty men were seriously burned and seven are believed to have been mortally injured when an explosion wrecked the Heyden Chemical Works at Garfield, N. J., late this afternoon. The men who are thought to be dying are in the Passaic Hospital.

The building, a four-story brick, was soon in flames, and resisted the efforts of the Garfield and Passaic departments to save it. It is one of a group of several that were taken over by the Government. They formerly belonged to a German concern and were sold by the Government to Allan A. Ryan.

An explosion of salicylic acid is said to have caused the explosion. The damage is estimated at a half million dollars.

GATE ON TRAIN MOWS DOWN TEN IN LENOX SUBWAY

Odd Mishap on Moving Car Caused Injuries and Excitement.

The folding iron guard fence between the first and second cars of a train entering the downtown side of the Lenox Avenue subway station at 116th Street worked loose to-day and swung wide over the platform.

The gate caught and mowed down eight or ten persons before the screams of those who were hit and the shouts of others warned the motorman and he put on the emergency brake.

Station guards and ticket choppers and passengers untangled the frightened heap of persons who had been swept up by the gate.

Those who were attended by the ambulance surgeons were: Fannie Kaarler, twenty-six, No. 62 West 118th Street, left leg bruised; Norma A. Turner, twenty-three, No. 351 West 114th Street, face cut; Bertha Prince, twenty-three, No. 118 West 115th Street, left leg bruised; Louis Stern, fifty-six, No. 223 East 115th Street, hurt internally; Beulah Brickman, twenty-two, No. 8 West 115th Street, right hand cut and bruised; and Robert Perlman, forty-three, No. 360 Clinton Street, the Bronx, hurt internally. All except Perlman were able to go home after their hurts were dressed. Perlman was taken to the hospital.

FOREIGN TRADE OFF $6,000,000,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Exports during November were the lowest for any month this year, while imports were higher than at any time during the past six months, according to reports issued to-day by the Commerce Department.

Exports totalled $295,500,000, as compared with $348,500,000 in October and $676,500,000 in November, 1920, while imports aggregated $211,300,000, as compared with $188,000,000 in October and $231,000,000 in November a year ago.

During the eleven months ended with November exports aggregated $4,131,000,000, as against $7,508,000,000 during the corresponding months of 1920 and imports totalled $2,272,000,000, against $5,012,000,000 during the same months last year.

WOMEN IN THROG AT MURDER TRIAL OF GUSSIE HUMANN

Crowds So Big Police Are Forced to Drive Score Out of Court.

There was such a crowd in the upper corridor of the Queens County Court House in Long Island City this morning, eager to attend the opening session of the trial of Gussie Humann, who is charged with the murder of her former sweetheart, Harry Dewey Garbe, that it was necessary for police and court officers to drive every one downstairs. In the crowd were a large number of women, many well dressed and the kind invariably found at sensational trials.

Not an empty seat remained in Judge Humphrey's court room when the examination of witnesses was begun. On one of the front benches, just back of the rail inclosing the tables for counsel and newspaper men, sat the family of the young defendant.

Members of the Garbe family were in the District Attorney's office. While she was in the jail awaiting summons to the court, Gussie Humann talked for a few minutes to newspaper men. She said: "I am glad my long experience in jail is at an end, and I am going to trial, because I'm eager for vindication as the District Attorney seems to be for my conviction. I shall go on the stand and tell the truth, of course, and I know I'm going to be acquitted. I'm not worried, not a bit nervous."

District Attorney Dana Wallace said that he was sure he would be able to find twelve men in the county

HELD AS BROADWAY MAIL BANDIT ON TIP OF EX-SWEETHEART

Man Under Arrest Since Nov. 1 Identified by Driver of Postal Truck.

WOMAN HELPS POLICE.

Letter Telling of New Girl and Gifts to Her Leads to Capture.

Accused of implication in the $1,500,000 mail truck robbery in Leonard Street, near Broadway, at 10:30 o'clock on the night of Oct. 24, Frank Calabrese, thirty-two of No. 623 Monroe Street, Hoboken, was arraigned before United States Commissioner John Wahl Queen in Jersey City this afternoon and held in $50,000 bail to await examination.

The proceedings revealed that Calabrese has been a prisoner since Nov. 1, when he was arrested in Jersey City by Capt. Daniel Casey and Detectives Sadiak and Cusack of the police force. Casey ordered the arrest, because he thought Calabrese looked like one of the four bandits as described by Frank Haverack, driver of the mail truck.

A few days after the arrest Haverack was taken to Jersey City by Post Office inspectors. He was unable to identify Calabrese by appearance, but said he recognized his voice as that of the man who jumped on the running board of the truck in Broadway, just north of Chambers Street, put the muzzle of a pistol against his body and commanded him to turn west into Leonard Street, where the truck was looted of four bags of registered mail.

While the identification was not satisfactory, Calabrese was held because he was wanted in Bergen county on a charge of burglary. About a week ago, Calabrese was ordered to put on a pair of thick eyeglasses and take his place in line with nine other men in Jersey City Police Headquarters.

Haverack was brought into the room and unhesitatingly picked Calabrese out of the line. On that identification, a formal charge was made.

CRAIG HOLDS LLOYD GEORGE BROKE PLEDGES TO ULSTER; CALLS SITUATION SERIOUS

Premier Declares North Will Cling to Ideals, but Urges Moderation in Belfast Meeting That Becomes Stormy Over England's Attitude.

BELFAST, Dec. 12 (Associated Press).—Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, presided over a meeting of the Unionist Party here to-day, informing his supporters of his recent conversation with Prime Minister Lloyd George in London.

It is unofficially reported the proceedings grew stormy when Sir James informed the meeting that Mr. Lloyd George had maintained an unyielding attitude toward Ulster.

It was intimated that, except for a few trifling changes, the British Premier had declined to make any concessions, his attitude being: "There is the treaty, and it stands."

In a statement on the general outlook, Sir James described the situation as grave, but recommended an attitude of courage and optimism. He said Ulster was determined not to swerve one inch from the path she had worked out and not to alter her ideals.

He accused Mr. Lloyd George of a breach of his pledge to Ulster. No decision was reached at to-day's meeting as to whether Ulster will elect to retain its representation at Westminster or enter the Dublin Parliament. In political circles here, however, it is regarded as a certainty that Ulster will continue to associate herself with the British Parliament. Some Ulster leaders asserted to-day that such action would not be an account of "any love of England, but for Ulster's own reasons."

EX-MAYOR OF CORK SHOT BY STRANGER, WHO IS ARRESTED

Assailant's Name Kept Secret; Disturbances Renewed in Belfast.

CORK, Dec. 12 (Associated Press).—Patrick Meade, former Mayor of Cork, was shot and wounded by an unidentified assailant while he was opening his place of business this morning. The man who fired at him was arrested, but his name had not been made public this afternoon.

A compositor by the name of Williams, employed by the Cork Constitution, was fired at and wounded by an unidentified man as he was returning home from work early to-day. His assailant has not been arrested.

BELFAST, Dec. 12.—Disturbances which broke out here in some isolated sections Saturday night were renewed last night. Several shooting affrays occurred, in which two men were wounded. One man was arrested, charged with having fired at a soldier.

DUBLIN, Dec. 12.—One of the most powerful influences opposing the treaty is the Radical Transport Union. Leaders of this union charge the Irish Government leaders merely used the people of Ireland as tools, and then sold them out by signing the treaty. The union professes to be ready to fight anybody and everybody before accepting the settlement.

"Wait until Wednesday," one of the union chiefs said, "if the treaty is ratified you will see a show staged." It was intimated the transport workers would start their own revolution.

The Irish Republican Army so fears the transport workers that recently all rifles were ordered brought in for inspection and those of the transport men were not returned to them.

"When one of the union chiefs was asked about this he said: "Never mind, we have our own rifles."

4 DEAD, 1 DYING FROM LANDSLIDE

ABERDEEN, Wash., Dec. 12.—Two men, a woman and a baby are dead, and two men are injured, one possibly fatally, as a result of two slides along the Clemens Logging Company's Railroad, about sixteen miles southeast of Aberdeen, last night.

The violent rise in all the exchange markets is due to the "Four Power Treaty" on Pacific affairs agreed upon between the United States, England, Japan and France; to the action of the Senate Finance Committee on Saturday in agreeing to the House bill, which proposes the refunding of foreign war debts to the United States in the form of certificates which will run until 1947 and which will bear 5 per cent. interest, and also to the favorable developments of the Arms Conference.

Of huge importance to every line of business in this country, according to leading Wall Street bankers, was a sensational rise this morning in all the principal foreign exchange markets.

Before noon the English pound sterling was quoted at $4.23 1-2, a gain of more than 10 cents over the close of last Saturday and a rise of more than $1.02 over the low record quotation established last year.

Quite recently French francs were quoted at less than 7 cents per franc. This morning they were traded in at 8.84 cents per franc, a rise of 55 cents over the close of last week.

German marks have nearly doubled in value in the last month. To-day they were quoted at 81 one-hundredths of a cent, compared with a recent low of 22 one-hundredths of a cent.

The rise in these exchanges, according to bankers, is bound to stimulate our foreign trade greatly and prove to be of tremendous benefit to business generally. Discarding the fluctuations in the price of commodities, it means, for instance, that English merchants can now buy American goods at approximately 22 per cent. less cost than when the pound sterling was at its low mark. German manufacturers and merchants can buy American raw materials and manufactures at about half the cost entailed a month or so ago.

TRINITY COLLEGE BOARD ON RECORD FOR RATIFICATION

Directors Urge Members in Dall and British Parliament to Approve Treaty.

DUBLIN, Dec. 12 (Associated Press).—Trinity College put itself on record to-day in favor of ratification of the peace treaty between Great Britain and Ireland.

The board of directors of the college passed a resolution instructing
