

bestowed upon them his first apostolic benediction. The "fisherman's ring" was placed on his finger and he left the chapel, the whole assembly wending its way through the Sala Ducale and the Sala Regia, along the loggia to the Sala Clementina, the Pope's official residence. All along the way he received the homage of the attaches who served during the conclave.

Meanwhile, the dean of the Cardinal Deacons, Bislet, followed by several Cardinals, repaired to the central balcony of St. Peter's, from which the election of the Pope's official residence. All along the way he received the homage of the attaches who served during the conclave.

Meanwhile, the dean of the Cardinal Deacons, Bislet, followed by several Cardinals, repaired to the central balcony of St. Peter's, from which the election of the Pope's official residence. All along the way he received the homage of the attaches who served during the conclave.

Meanwhile, the dean of the Cardinal Deacons, Bislet, followed by several Cardinals, repaired to the central balcony of St. Peter's, from which the election of the Pope's official residence. All along the way he received the homage of the attaches who served during the conclave.

Meanwhile, the dean of the Cardinal Deacons, Bislet, followed by several Cardinals, repaired to the central balcony of St. Peter's, from which the election of the Pope's official residence. All along the way he received the homage of the attaches who served during the conclave.

Meanwhile, the dean of the Cardinal Deacons, Bislet, followed by several Cardinals, repaired to the central balcony of St. Peter's, from which the election of the Pope's official residence. All along the way he received the homage of the attaches who served during the conclave.

Meanwhile, the dean of the Cardinal Deacons, Bislet, followed by several Cardinals, repaired to the central balcony of St. Peter's, from which the election of the Pope's official residence. All along the way he received the homage of the attaches who served during the conclave.

Meanwhile, the dean of the Cardinal Deacons, Bislet, followed by several Cardinals, repaired to the central balcony of St. Peter's, from which the election of the Pope's official residence. All along the way he received the homage of the attaches who served during the conclave.

Meanwhile, the dean of the Cardinal Deacons, Bislet, followed by several Cardinals, repaired to the central balcony of St. Peter's, from which the election of the Pope's official residence. All along the way he received the homage of the attaches who served during the conclave.

Meanwhile, the dean of the Cardinal Deacons, Bislet, followed by several Cardinals, repaired to the central balcony of St. Peter's, from which the election of the Pope's official residence. All along the way he received the homage of the attaches who served during the conclave.

PROPHECY OF POPES FORESAW PIUS XI. AS 'FIDES INTREPIDA.'

Pope Pius XI, reckoned as the 261st to sit in the chair of St. Peter, should be "Fides Intrepida," meaning "Unshaken, fearless faith," according to a "Prophecy Concerning the Future Popes" written in the twelfth century by St. Malachi.

Interest in this "prophecy" is aroused by reason of the true picture it drew so many centuries in advance of Pope Leo XIII. and Pius X. and Benedict XV. Of the first, St. Malachi, who was Archbishop of Armagh and legate in Ireland of Innocent III, wrote that he would be "Lumen in Coelo," that is to say, "Light in the heaven." The second he characterized as "Ignis ardens," which is to say "A flaming fire" or "blazing torch." The flames of the World War came during his pontificate and also France and Portugal were lost to the Holy See.

The third was spoken of as "Religio despoliata," meaning "Religion despoiled." This is held to have been a prophecy of the attempt to have the Pope declare for one side or the other in the World War, and also of the widespread destruction of church buildings in the conflict, with consequent loss of life among the congregations.

The "prophecy" was written in Latin and was not discovered until the last part of the sixteenth century. According to the text, it deals with Popes until the end of the world.

O'CONNELL IN ROME; AGAIN TOO LATE TO VOTE FOR PONTIFF

ROME, Feb. 6.—Cardinal O'Connell arrived in Rome this afternoon just an hour too late to take part in the election of Cardinal Ratti to the papacy. Pope Pius XI. received the American Cardinal at 2 o'clock this afternoon and bestowed his blessing.

Over seven years ago, when the Sacred College was balloting in the conclave which resulted in the election of Benedict XV., Cardinal O'Connell hurried from the United States to take part in the voting. He arrived at Naples on the very morning Benedict was chosen, and was on his way to Rome when his car broke down and telling bells informed him he was just too late.

This morning Cardinal O'Connell arrived in Naples and was on his way by special train to the capital when the election of Cardinal Ratti was announced.

HARDING REVERTS TO WILSON POLICY OF MORAL SUASION

Sees Better Preparedness in World Opinion Ready to Grant Justice.

WARNING TO FRANCE

Repudiates His Advocacy of Force to Declare for Conferences.

By David Lawrence. (Special Correspondent of The Evening World.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (Copyright)—President Harding today turned the policy of America back—some people say forward—to the power of moral rather than physical force.

This change—and Mr. Harding avowed it proudly in the concluding speech of the Arms Conference—means that henceforth the argument that the best way to prevent war is to prepare for it with military and naval strength will be abandoned and the Republican Administration of today, including the Congress of tomorrow, will revert to the days before 1917, when reliance on moral justice was misunderstood as pacifism when the phrase "too proud to fight" unfortunately conveyed to war-mongering minds an impression of physical timidity.

"I once believed in armed preparedness," said President Harding to the Arms Conference. "I advocated it. But I have come now to believe there is a better preparedness in a public mind and a world opinion made ready to grant justice precisely as it exacts it. And justice is better secured by conferences of peace than in conflict of arms."

The foregoing quotation is the most significant paragraph of the closing address of Mr. Harding. As a mark of future pathways in American policy it is of far-reaching importance.

It was Mr. Harding's associates in the United States Senate who bitterly attacked President Wilson for his refusal in December, 1914, to yield to the pressure for armed preparedness. Mr. Wilson's belief that moral force was to triumph was a foundation of American inconsistency. It is merely a reversion to an original hope, an original desire, that a world be ruled by moral justice instead of physical coercion.

Again, Mr. Harding hopes, as did Mr. Wilson before the war clouds gathered, that peace is better attained by moral suasion than armed conflict.

Except for a general expression of hope that conferences like that held at Washington may again be held at appropriate times, there was no plea for a rigid association of nations, nor formal for a League of Nations to substitute the one created at Versailles.

The President is treading cautiously. He doesn't want the debate in the Senate to be complicated by extraneous affairs. He is driving hard now for ratification, and the probabilities are that until the treaties are approved by a two-thirds vote of the American Senate the decision of the United States Government on participation in the Geneva parley will be withheld.

One thing at a time is the Harding policy, and while it looks today as if all the treaties will be ratified, there is a bare chance that the four-power Pacific pact may be the subject of prolonged debate.

In many respects the closing of the Washington Conference resembled that at Versailles. The same satisfaction in having concluded a treaty, the same feeling of relief that the committee debates were ended, the same confidence that the whole world would approve and that the dissenting voices would be few and negligible—all is the same today in Washington, with no one daring to predict what the future will bring in the American Senate.

Public sentiment in the next few weeks will determine whether the Democrats shall follow the alleged opposition of Woodrow Wilson, who is reported as against the four power treaty, or whether they will put the treaty out of the way with brief debate and give the Republican Executive support in further international conferences.

BOXING RESUMED IN INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 6.—Professional boxing in Indianapolis will be resumed tonight after a lapse of several years. Chuck Wickline of this city and Harry Krohn of Akron, O., meeting in the feature bout, scheduled for ten rounds. The men will weigh about 175 pounds each at ring time. It was 2-1.

TO STOP A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take Little's Peppermint Cure. The remedy bears the name of Dr. W. W. Grove. (Be sure you get Little's Peppermint Cure.)

Would You Know Mayor Hylan, Grover Whalen in Palm Beach Rigs?

Mayor Hylan and Grover Whalen in Palm Beach Rigs.

SUNDAY ARRESTS IRRITATE COURT

Geismar Frees 24 Prisoners Held for Selling Merchandise on the Sabbath.

Magistrate Geismar expressed irritation today in Gates Avenue Court, Brooklyn, when he was informed that there were twenty-four cases of alleged Sunday selling of merchandise on the calendar.

"Why do you bring these cases here?" demanded the Magistrate. "Every time I come here it's the same thing. It's a Jewish and Irish Catholic neighborhood anyhow. What do they care? Don't bring me in this stuff."

The Magistrate suspended sentence in each case. In one of these cases a woman who bought a bottle of spices was represented by a man. But when Patrolman Charles Fiedler started to explain this, the Magistrate cut him short.

15 SHIPS HELD UP BY FOG IN THE BAY

All Anchor at Quarantine to Await Clear Weather.

Fog tied up steamship traffic in the waters about New York today. Fifteen steamships, seven of them liners, were anchored in the bay. The U.S.S. of the United Fruit Line, La Navarre of the French Line and the Finland of the Red Star, attempted early to come up to their pier.

Other passenger boats, the Dunbar of the South Line, San Lorenzo from Porto Rico, Tanager of the United Fruit, and the Fort Hamilton from Bermuda remained with the freighters. Outside, Sandy Hook reported there were whistles of several liners. Staten Island ferries made fairly regular trips, steering by compass.

WOMEN PRESBYTERIANS CAN'T DINE WITH MEN

Will Hold Own Dinner at Reception to Moderator.

SYRACUSE, Feb. 6.—Women of the Syracuse Presbytery have been denied the right to dine with the men at a dinner to be given in honor of Rev. Henry Chapman, Moderator of the General Assembly, during his visit here Feb. 16.

AMBULANCE DRIVER HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Samuel Jones, a chauffeur employed by the city on the ambulance of St. Paul, Moderator of the General Assembly, during his visit here Feb. 16. The women demanded he resign. They were voted down and threatened to call off their dogs. Today it was announced that a compromise had been reached and the women will hold a luncheon apart from the men.

RICHARD K. FOX FINED $500

Richard K. Fox, editor and owner of the Police Gazette, and Walter W. George, manager, were fined $500 each in the Court of General Sessions today after pleading guilty of publishing an improper article concerning the complaint was by John S. Feltner, Superintendent of the Society for the Prevention of Vice.

WINDOW BROKEN, SHOTS BY COP HALT NEGRO

Walter, Held For Grand Jury, Identified as Stone Thrower.

Two shots from the revolver of Patrolman Daniel E. Murphy of the East 51st Street Station were necessary to halt John Fleming, a Negro, this morning, after the breaking of the window of the Weber & Helbronner store at No. 41 East 42d Street, Fleming, who said he was a waiter and lived at No. 11-12 West 155th Street, was arrested beside the Hotel Biltmore in Vanderbilt Avenue.

The store window had been broken with a stone wrapped in a stocking. When Murphy heard the crash he saw Fleming running away. A Negro standing near the shop joined in the chase and later identified Fleming as the stone-thrower. Fleming denied it, but he was held in $1,000 bail for the Grand Jury.

A week ago the window of another furniture store in the vicinity was broken with the same sort of device and an overcoat was stolen. Nothing was taken from the Weber & Helbronner store. Fleming said he saw a white man throw the stone and run.

MRS. OBENCHAIN FACES MURDER TRIAL TO-DAY

Accused of Luring Former Sweetheart to His Death.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6.—The trial of Mrs. Madayine Obenchain, accused of the murder of J. Nelson Keimley, her former sweetheart, was on the calendar of the Superior Court here today. Mrs. Obenchain is charged with having conspired with Arthur C. Burch, with whom she attended college at Evanston, Ill., to slay Kennedy. Kennedy was shot in Beverly Glen, near here, on the night of Aug. 5 last, it being alleged Burch did the shooting after Mrs. Obenchain lured Kennedy to the gun.

Burch was placed on trial last Nov. 22 and the jury was discharged Jan. 16, after disagreeing to the final ballot being 10 to 2 for conviction.

DIES FROM BEATING BY THREE THUGS

Laborer Refused to Hold Up His Hands for Robber.

Philip Palmelano was so badly kicked by three burglars in his shanty on the municipal dump in the Newark Meadows last night that he died a few hours later at City Hospital. Two of the robbers were Negroes, and the third a white man.

WARREN GRAND JURORS TO RE-SPECIFY RIGHTS OF CITIZENS.

Dore Felbel, an insurance broker of No. 1 West 83d Street, was selected as foreman of the regular Grand Jury for the March term of court by Judge Sulqueen in General Sessions today and William C. Popper, a printer, of No. 459 West End Avenue was named as foreman of the extra jury. The court instructed the jurors to find no indictment against any one where in the obtaining of evidence the constitutional rights of the person had been violated. There are many cases pending where the police in making arrests under the Mullin-Gage Act are believed to have exceeded their authority in obtaining evidence.

FIGHT THE FLU WITH FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

Man's strength to resist influenza is his own's. No drugs—Adv.

$30,000,000 CUT IN COAL BILL OF THE CITY PLANNED

Association Formed to Reduce Freight Rates and Increase Efficiency Methods.

To effect an annual saving of approximately $30,000,000 a year in New York City's anthracite coal bill of $110,000,000 a year, the Anthracite Coal Consumers' Association, Inc., has been organized, with headquarters at No. 90 West Street.

The effect of this saving will benefit, first, the owners of apartment houses, office buildings and small homes, and second, the several millions of tenants who are now paying high rents, a large part of which goes to the charge imposed as freight rates by railroad companies.

Officers of the new organization are Henry Mace Payne, mining engineer, of No. 300 Madison Avenue, President; Charles C. Heffley, real estate, No. 3561 Broadway, Vice President; Charles S. Allen, freight rate specialist, No. 90 West Street, Secretary-Treasurer; George Gordon Battle, No. 37 Wall Street, General Counsel, and an Advisory Committee consisting of Charles G. Edwards, President of the Real Estate Board, with a membership of 2,000; John H. Towne, Chairman of the Board, Fifth Avenue Association, and Lawrence H. Elliman of Pease & Elliman, real estate. These officers, with Gifford M. Pearson of Babylon, L. I., comprise the association's General Board.

Users of bituminous coal will be helped indirectly by the battle to be waged here. The Anthracite Coal Consumers' Association, Inc., as it is expected, the bituminous rate will be lowered in conjunction with the anthracite carrying charges. This reduction would give manufacturers—the principal users of bituminous—a chance to lower production costs and thus reduce prices accordingly, a step they believe essential to a full revival of business.

The anthracite coal bill, however, affects the man who needs coal for heating purposes, office building owners, for example, who charge rents of $5 or $6 a square foot, or more, and apartment house owners who charge proportionately high rents for flats. In each case the main cost of maintenance is divided between coal costs and taxes, principally the former.

The average cost of coal, computed from figures based on a year-to-year purchase, is roughly $10 a ton. Of this amount, $2.61 per ton is for freight charges—a charge held to be $1.30 too high. In addition, a poor quality of coal is being shipped into New York, containing a large percentage of incombustible material. The new association stands for coal to be shipped here, the association hopes to effect a still greater saving.

"All told," said Mr. Allen today, "we find the present prices of anthracite coal at least $2.50 per ton in excess of what they should be. The new association proposes to get the backing of every user of coal in the city; then to appeal to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a hearing on their request that a freight rate of $1.31—instead of the existing $2.61 rate—be set. The association will engage engineers to study best methods of firing furnaces, mixing anthracite with a small percentage of bituminous, and to instruct firemen throughout the city in these new scientific methods.

Figures that will be presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission will show that New York for a haul of 150 miles, pays a freight charge of $2.61 per ton. Coal landed from the West Virginia fields into Hampton Roads, a distance of 403 miles—over twice as far as New York's supply—is handled at a freight charge of $2.80 per ton. These figures, the association believes, will open the eyes of Washington to the need of protecting New York residents from exorbitant charges by railroads delivering coal to New York.

BURY FLORENCE DESHON; BROTHER SCOUTS SUICIDE

Chaplin Had Courtship Actress, Says Her Mother.

Florence Deshon, stage and screen actress, who died at St. Vincent's Hospital of apoplexy, although her friend, Max Eastman, Socialist and poet, has given his name today at the Campbell Funeral Church. Among those in the church was Walter Deshon, her brother. He said he was convinced his sister had not committed suicide.

Deshon said that Charlie Chaplin had once asked Miss Deshon to marry him, and sold cigarette case he gave her. Mr. Deshon added, had not been found among her things. She had an engagement to meet Mr. Eastman, he went on, in the afternoon on Friday. Miss Deshon was buried this afternoon in Mt. Zion Cemetery, Masspeth, L. I.

DECLARE WAY IS FOUND TO GET BERGDOLL BACK

Ex-Servicemen in House Assent Slicker Will Be Punished.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—A way was found today to bring Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the Philadelphia Slicker, back to the United States for punishment, ex-servicemen in the House declared today.

Bergdoll is reported to be hiding in Switzerland. He fled there for safety from Germany after his close relations were re-established between Berlin and Washington, fearing Germany would be forced to hand him over to the United States.

AN OFFENSE

When the Philadelphia Bulletin published two hundred dollars' worth of news about the Slicker, it was a great offense. You say that news is not in the list I presented to you.

TAYLOR'S DAUGHTER BY FIRST MARRIAGE, WHO LIVES HERE

Miss Ethel Daisy Deane-Tanner.

N. Y. MAN SOUGHT IN MOVIE MURDER FLEES TO MEXICO

(Continued from First Page.)

but denied he was the man Mrs. Taylor described. He did not see leaving the Taylor home.

After he was released, the deputies and the police detectives, with some officials of the motion picture company with which Taylor was connected began in Taylor's apartments a searching for letters and documents found there.

These incidents marked the first activity by the Sheriff's forces. Other high lights are in search for a drug peddler for a former employee of Taylor who had been discharged for being drunk "on the job" and said "Bill Taylor got what he deserved" when told of the murder; the mysterious disappearance of a silken nightdress from Taylor's apartment; the discovery by a fingerprint expert that most of the impressions on the ultimate belongings of the dead man were prints of women's fingers, and the disappearance of letters and telegrams Miss Mabel Normand had sent to Taylor and which, she says, were in his room a few days before the murder.

The exact importance of the missing nightdress, which was pink, was not made plain. Peavey, the butler, was firm in his declaration that it had a regular place in Taylor's apartments and equally firm in his assertions that since his employer was slain he had been unable to find any other nightdress standing for coal to be shipped here, the association hopes to effect a still greater saving.

"All told," said Mr. Allen today, "we find the present prices of anthracite coal at least $2.50 per ton in excess of what they should be. The new association proposes to get the backing of every user of coal in the city; then to appeal to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a hearing on their request that a freight rate of $1.31—instead of the existing $2.61 rate—be set. The association will engage engineers to study best methods of firing furnaces, mixing anthracite with a small percentage of bituminous, and to instruct firemen throughout the city in these new scientific methods.

Figures that will be presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission will show that New York for a haul of 150 miles, pays a freight charge of $2.61 per ton. Coal landed from the West Virginia fields into Hampton Roads, a distance of 403 miles—over twice as far as New York's supply—is handled at a freight charge of $2.80 per ton. These figures, the association believes, will open the eyes of Washington to the need of protecting New York residents from exorbitant charges by railroads delivering coal to New York.

DIED.

MILLER.—After a brief illness, on Feb. 5, 1922, MINNIE MILLER (nee West), beloved wife of Harry Miller, in her forty-fourth year. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend mass at 10 A. M. at St. Joseph's, Benedicta, R. C. Church, 118th St., Morris Park, L. I., on Wednesday, Feb. 8, 1922.

SCHNENAGEL.—On Feb. 4, 1922, JOHN T. SCHNENAGEL, beloved husband of Amelia B. Schnenagel, and beloved father of Maude, Marguerite and Leonard, passed away at his residence, 40 Monroe St., Brooklyn.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

When Death Occurs Call "Columbus 8200" FRANK E. CAMPBELL "The General Church" Inc. (NON-SECTARIAN) Broadway at 66th St.

All "Lost and Found" articles advertised in The World or reported to "Lost and Found Bureau," Room 408 World Building, will be listed for their day. These lists can be seen at any of The World's Offices.

White Rose Tea

The all-Ceylon Tea

SEEMAN BROTHERS, Inc., New York Proprietors of "White Rose" Popular Products

HEALTH LAW VIOLATORS RECEIVE FINES

Spitters, Smokers and Food Dealers Lectured.

In Harlem Court today Magistrate McGuire fined 175 violators of health ordinances, the sums ranging from $2 to $5. These violators were brought to book by patrolmen of the East 104th and 126th Streets stations. A number of the prisoners were charged with having ashtrays uncovered, and the exposure of foodstuffs by dealers also brought fifth fines.

TAYLOR'S DAUGHTER RETAINS LAWYER TO PROTECT INTERESTS

Miss Deane-Tanner Says Father Told Her She Would Be His Heir.

Miss Ethel Daisy Deane-Tanner, nineteen, daughter of William Desmond Taylor, slain director of motion pictures at Los Angeles, has retained Frank Schrenkeisen, a lawyer at New Rochelle, to protect her interests in her father's estate.

The girl lives with her mother, Mrs. E. L. C. Robins, at Orienta Point, Manhasset, and is a student at the New York School of Applied Design.

IN GOLDEN GOBLETS

Montezuma, luxurious ruler of the ancient Aztecs, lived in a state of great magnificence.

Yet he drank no other beverage than "chocolate of a delicacy to melt in the mouth."

Fifty jars were prepared for his daily use, and the beverage was served in golden goblets.

That Montezuma's luxurious living could afford no better drink is the opinion of many at CHILDS.

For hot chocolate with whipped cream, as served at CHILDS, is a beverage de luxe.

Childs

Loft

Penny a Pound Profit

Trade Mark

Adv. on page 8

With several hundred dollars he re-

From Ceylon to the steaming cup, its enticing flavor is retained by the sealed lead-foil packet.

Rose White Tea Expert

White Rose

The all-Ceylon Tea

SEEMAN BROTHERS, Inc., New York Proprietors of "White Rose" Popular Products