

CARPENTIER IS NOW VOGUE OF PARISIAN DRAWING ROOMS

French Heavyweight Is Sought After by the Most Fashionable Aristocrats.

PARIS, March 21.—Jack Dempsey's knockout blow has carried Georges Carpentier into society drawing rooms. While he was formerly regarded by the leisure classes of France as a distant curiosity, he has since his defeat been received in the salons of the people whom the society newspapers describe as the elite.

This may be some little consolation, and fortunately Georges is so free from affectation that there is little danger of his becoming a snob. He has, however, to submit to some trying ordeals, such as interrogations by litterateurs, who want impressions of his travels. When questioned in this way Georges is always full of blazes and founders around till he can find the right word to express his ideas.

His latest adventure of this sort was in the Paris drawing room of Marshal Lyautey, the maker of modern Morocco. The invitation was due to his having given an exhibition bout at Casablanca, and in recognition of this the Marshal asked him to come around and bring Mme. Carpentier.

Numbers of Parisians associated in some way with the French colonization of Morocco were present, and Georges was the principal object of curiosity to this assembly of politicians, ex-administrators, men of letters and painters.

Scarcely many of them who were seeking the champion for the first time, expected him to turn up in some weird kind of costume. There was a tinge of disappointment when Georges arrived in a quiet blue suit wearing a dark tie, and looking for all the world like a young university man priding himself on the neatness of his dress. The Marshal singled him out for the special favor of the longest chat, but whether they talked Morocco or boxing could not be ascertained.

He caused the biggest surprise, however, when leaving by withdrawing from the crowd in a very heavy stick with a terrible-looking handle "To protect myself," he explained.

JERSEY TUNNEL BOARD ORGANIZES AT TRENTON. Will Meet To-Day With the New York Commissioners in This City.

TRENTON, N. J., March 21.—The New Jersey Interstate Bridge and Tunnel Commission organized yesterday, electing Theodore Boettger (Rep.) of Hackensack, Chairman, and County Judge John B. Kates (Rep.) of Camden Vice Chairman.

James P. Dolan of Jersey City was retained as Secretary at $5,000 annually. The Commission dispensed with the services of James McMahon of Jersey City, Assistant Secretary at $2,500 a year.

Chairman Boettger was designated as disbursing officer and Secretary Dolan as legislative official. Today the New Jersey Commissioners will meet the New York state Tunnel Commission in New York.

TO SIFT BUCKETING CHARGE. Testimony Against American Cotton Exchange to Go to Jury.

District Attorney Benton said last night testimony against officers and directors of the American Cotton Exchange will be presented to the Additional Grand Jury to-day by Assistant District Attorney Simmons and Schrader.

This action by the District Attorney's office is the result of a John Doe investigation before Chief City Magistrate McAdoo, who held the testimony warranted a Grand Jury investigation on charges of "bucketing" orders and making fictitious sales.

Mr. Simmons said he had testimony sufficient to take up several days of the Grand Jury's time. Some complaints, he added, have been received against the American Cotton Exchange from other cities.

AGED BEGGAR HAD $210. Rashed Schmolwitz, eighty years old, who said he lives in Sutter Avenue, Berkeley, was arrested last night by Detective Christian of the Special Service Squad, on a charge of vagrancy. She was soliciting alms, according to the police, at Park Row and New Street at the Oak Street Station 3110 and about 100 ft. foreign currency were found on her.

60,000,000 BUSHELS IN NEW WHEAT POOL. CHICAGO, March 21.—With 60,000,000 bushels of wheat already under contract on a 100 per cent. pooling basis, the American Wheat Growers' Association, organized in Kansas City early this month, expects to begin operations by May 1, says W. G. Landon of Salina, Kan., one of a committee of three men consulting Aaron Shapiro of San Francisco, general counsel, here on plans. He reported 52,000,000 bushels under contract in Idaho, Oregon, Washington and Montana, 11,000,000 in Kansas, 8,000,000 in Oklahoma and between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 in other States.

Credit now is demanded where credit is due; in fact, overdue. American hairdressing artists, the men and the women who out of their own brains created the "ear muffs" and the "bob," should have their just deserts.

"The fact is," continued Mr. Alwyn-Schmidt, "that most modern hairdressing fashions were first seen in this country and were introduced later by smart American women in Paris. The 'ear muffs' were introduced that way, and so was the 'turban' of ten years ago.

However, prizes have been offered by the association for coiffures of distinction created by the members, which can be built up of a woman's own hair, and to-morrow night there will be a contest between hairdressers for the best coiffure made with the aid of false hair.

The convention, which is called a beauty show, has many exhibits of first aid to beauty. There are many booths in which are shown all kinds of appliances, oils, ointments and treatments for everything, from creating permanent waves which are guaranteed for six months, to the newest wrinkle in wrinkle eradication.

STABBED WOMAN WATCHED. Miss Grace Hugo, fifty-two, who was taken from the Young Women's Christian Association in West 14th Street on Saturday to Gouverneur Hospital suffering from a knife wound of the neck, self-inflicted, has been placed in the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital. She is reported recovering a normal status and in no danger from the wound.

Reports that Miss Hugo was a sculptress of some talent but little material success and later became a millinery saleswoman, could not be affirmed. Miss Farnish, No. 194 Broadway, Paterson, N. J., who was entered as nearest friend of the patient, was not available for inquiry yesterday.

FRANCE TO PAY U.S. IS WORD GIVEN OUT THROUGH POINCARÉ

Wants Doughboys to Stay on Rhine—New Terms for Turks Outlined.

PARIS, March 21.—Premier Poincaré expressly asked the American correspondents last evening to give the widest publicity to France's intention of paying her debt to the United States. The Premier had previously seen M. Loucheur, the industrial magnate, who has said that France could never pay except in dim and distant bonds.

keep were not met directly. The French Government prizes their presence more than ever and the view is that there is no question that the American bill will be met ultimately, although how and when are unfortunately not possible to hint.

Regarding Genoa, the French attitude is becoming more and more rigid, corresponding to Mr. Lloyd George's decline in power. France may send a full delegation of five, but it is improbable that any big names will be on it. The majority will be second-rate Deputies and Senators. Some of those will be sent because of their oratorical powers—to open the ball—others will be more suited to talking economic business.

It is confirmed that the Quai d'Orsay has formally requested the British Government to acquiesce in the presence at Genoa of a delegation of the League of Nations.

Chief interest in Paris to-day naturally centres on the Near East Conference which will open to-morrow. It is said that Lord Curzon will present the British scheme for repairing the situation, and in so doing he will be the first official "peacemaker" formally to throw overboard one of the five treaties so painstakingly patched together three years ago. The present conference is evidence of the rottenness of the Sevres compact. Now Greece is to be deprived of practically everything pressed upon her by that treaty. In the words of a high official: "Greece will be found in a considerably less intractable frame of mind than last March."

The Turks—which is to say the Nationalist Government at Ankara—will be given a virtually pre-war status and territory north of the line of Dardanelles and the Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus, with a dual effect that a powerful barrier will exist against any Russian schemes, and also Constantinople may be occupied at any time the Turks show symptoms of wanting to fight their way up again into the Balkans.

PRINCESS FATIMA CAN'T LEAVE. Princess Fatima of Kabul, Afghanistan, is at the Fourth Avenue Hotel, No. 425 Fourth Avenue, for an indefinite stay, or until the money to redeem from pawn her $5,000-carat diamond, the family heirloom, which she refused to leave in this country without a guarantee that it would not be sold before she could repurchase it. The British Council refuses to stand sponsor for it.

New Spring Styles For the Smallest Girls

"SPRING FASHION DAYS" have brought the most adorable new things for the Littlest Girl to the A. & S. Baby Shop; miniature top coats are fashioned in the new sports models of the prevalent tweeds—party frocks are a bewildering array of tiny organdy ruffles and ribbon bows—and bloomer dresses are cunningly fashioned of ginghams and cretonnes, all as winsome and flower like as the small persons they are destined for!

The jaunty little coat above is a copy of a French importation, made of checked tweed with Raglan shoulders, and absurd little pockets ($21.95), and the hat is of tweed with tiny wool flowers, $4.95. The slip-over sweater meets all the requirements of smartness with its high round neck, check weave and belt ($2.95), while the unconcerned little sports hat is of blue straw and tan worsted, with a dashing blue band, $3.95.

A. & S.—Second floor, East.

A. & S. Gingham Week Special! 32-Inch Imported Ginghams 69c Yard

INSTEAD of $1.25, the usual price for these beautiful ginghams. They are made of the choicest yarns that are spun, and when completed by master hands of Scotland, they are fine textured, soft quality and as attractive ginghams as Scotland can produce, which means Par Excellence.
