PRICE THREE CENTS

Standard Oil Stocks Jump a Billion Dollars in Value

ROCKEFELLER S. O. STOCKS IN SENSATIONAL RISE, JUMP BILLION DOLLARS IN VALUE

Many Shares Have Soared From 50 to 200 Points in the Last Week.

SET NEW PRECEDENT.

New York Company Shares Alone Have Increased $275,000,000 This Year.

Wall Street is witnessing increases in the quoted market value of shares of companies that originally constituted the Standard Oil Trust which are without precedent in market annals.

When the trust was dissolved by Supreme Court decree in 1911 the original company was split up into fifty-three units. The value of shares since dissolution now show a price appreciation of more than $2,000,000,000.

Making a comparison with the low prices of this year the shares of these various units show an increase in market value of a billion dollars.

During the last week alone many of the shares of companies that constituted the trust ten years ago have risen from 50 to 200 points, and have added from $10,000,000 to nearly $200,000,000 to the collective wealth of stockholders.

At current market prices the shares of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana show an appreciation of nearly $120,000,000 compared with the low of this year.

Shares of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey show an increase in market value of slightly more than $30,000,000, shares of the Standard Oil Company of California have increased more than $165,000,000, while shares of the Standard Oil Company of New York alone have increased in market value $275,000,000.

It was stated at the time of the dissolution of the trust that John D. Rockefeller owned 30 per cent. of the stock. Had Mr. Rockefeller retained his original holdings his wealth measured by Standard Oil shares alone would show an appreciation of more than a billion dollars in ten years, to which this year has contributed approximately $400,000,000.

Wall Street has been at a total loss to understand the reason back of the urgent buying of the shares. It is known that many of the Standard Oil units have planned to follow the example of the Standard Oil Company of California, and the Standard Oil Company of New York and readjust capital, through which stockholders will receive large stock dividends.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 10.—Prof. John P. Tiernan of Notre Dame University, the complaining husband in the Tiernan-Poulin paternity suit, will not contest his wife's action for divorce, he intimated to-day. The case will probably go by default when Mrs. Tiernan presses her charge that Tiernan was "cruel and inhuman" before as well as after the Poulin affair.

CANDLER'S FIANCEE DENOUNCES HIM AS HE JILTS HER

Mrs. De Beouchel Issues Long Statement Saying She Will Fight for Honor.

CHALLENGES CHARGES

Declares Coca Cola Man Refuses Demand That He Name Her Traducers.

ATLANTA, Oct. 10.—The romance of Asa G. Candler, aged coca cola manufacturer, came to an abrupt ending to-day.

Mrs. Genevieve Debeouchel, New Orleans beauty, made public a statement asserting that Candler had broken his engagement to her on account of certain reports brought to him reflecting on her character, and that Candler had refused and was still refusing to furnish her with the names of the party or parties accusing her.

Mrs. Debeouchel came to Atlanta last night, after calling Mr. Candler over the long distance telephone. On reaching Atlanta she said she notified Mr. Candler, and he and his son, Asa G. Candler Jr., came to her hotel and the three were in conference nearly two hours.

"Mr. Candler was very much broken up," Mrs. Debeouchel said. "I felt sorry for him. He told me he still loved me and wanted to marry me and that he did not believe this hideous slander which has been taken to him and yet he refused to give me the name of the man or men who accused me."

The charges against her, Mrs. De Beouchel said, went back to a Confederate re-union in Atlanta, three or four years ago. She made the following statement:

"Mr. Candler and I were to have been married on the 20th of September. All arrangements were made, the clergyman engaged, cards of announcement printed and we were to be at home here in Atlanta on Oct. 10.

"On Sept. 15 he wrote me that it would not be fair to marry me and bring me here, where I would be slighted on account of reports circulated here against me."

"These reports," according to him, were that during a Confederate re-union in Atlanta three or four years ago, when I had the supreme honor of being Chaperone-General and when I was attended every moment, I had solicited two men to visit me at the hotel at night."

"These reports had been brought to him, he said, from sources he was bound to believe, just before he was to take the train for my wedding. They would, he said, follow me wherever I might go. I would never be able to hold my head up again."

"This hideous slander and Mr. Candler's conduct have ruined my life."

ROBBERS HOLD UP DIAMOND CUTTER; GET $23,000 GEMS

Enter Office at No. 284 Pearl Street and Attack Two Occupants.

BEATEN UNCONSCIOUS

Two Thugs Bind Shop Owner and Broker, Then Make Escape.

Shouts on the sixth floor of the office building at No. 284 Pearl Street, two doors from Beekman Street, at 9 o'clock to-day caused the elevator man, James Hall, to call the Superintendent, E. Jonathan, and take him up to find out what was the matter.

As the elevator reached the sixth floor G. Galer, a diamond broker, came hopping out of the door of room No. 605, occupied by A. Tarvitzky, who has a diamond cutting shop, were his hands, and there was a towel twisted about his neck. Blood was streaming from a gash over his right eye.

Hall cut the twine about the man's feet and hands and led him into the diamond cutter's office, where Tarvitzky was found similarly bound and with his face marked with slashes and bruises. Jonathan went down in the elevator and ran to the Beekman Street hospital and brought back a surgeon.

Tarvitzky and Galer said they had been looking over a package of uncut stones when two rough looking men entered and said they were diamond cutters looking for work. When Tarvitzky said he needed no help, the two drew revolvers, he said, and set upon him and the broker, beating them over the heads with the butts of their revolvers until they were unconscious.

When he recovered, Tarvitzky said, the strangers were gone, as well as a quantity of uncut stones. He telephoned to the Diamond Drill Carbon Company at No. 63 Park Row that a collection of diamonds sent to him by them for cutting and valued at $23,000 were among the missing gems.

When the detectives of the Oak Street Station arrived they were unable to get a satisfactory description of the robbers from either the diamond cutter or the broker. Neither Hall nor Jonathan had seen the strangers enter the building and Hall was particularly positive he had taken no one up in the elevator during the morning except tenants of the building, and Galer and that he had not seen or heard any one coming down the stairs before he heard the shouts for help.

SEVEN INJURED AS TRAINS CRASH AT COS COB, CONN.

Two Locomotives and Three Coaches Derailed When Local Sidewipes Freight.

ALL TRAFFIC BLOCKED.

Passengers in Panic, but None Is Hurt Seriously by Accident.

Seven persons were injured, none fatally, when local train No. 283 of the New Haven line, from Stamford to New Haven, Conn., sideswiped a way freight at Cos Cob shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The freight, eastbound, was pulling out of a siding on track No. 4 when the passenger train, travelling, it was reported, at a rate of 20 miles an hour, struck it.

The passenger train had two locomotives and the freight one. All three were badly smashed. In addition to the locomotives, a mail car, baggage car and one coach of the passenger train were derailed.

The injured included two members of the freight crew, three members of the passenger crew and two passengers. The derailed coach was a smoker and there were no women and children in it. For a time panic reigned in the other coaches, but subsided when it was found there were no injuries outside of shock. Most of the injured were treated at the station in Stamford.

Traffic on the eastbound tracks was interrupted several hours.

An official statement from the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad said:

"At 12:50 P. M. an eastbound way freight was pulling out of a siding on Track No. 4 when the motor of the freight was sideswiped by train No. 283, local from Stamford to New Haven, Conn. The passenger train, a mail car, baggage car and coach were derailed. There were no serious injuries. The members of both engine crews were slightly injured. Both eastbound tracks were blocked by the accident."

ROBBED OF $1,300 IN GREENWICH VILLAGE

Seeking Fiancee, Man Meets Thugs, Is Assaulted.

Bound hand and foot, Seymour Ely, twenty-six, who said he was a "secretary to Mr. Whiting in Detroit," was found at the foot of a stoop at No. 165 Waverly Place, at 2 A. M. to-day. He said he had been black-jacked by two men and robbed of $1,300 in cash and jewelry. He has been at the Hotel McAlpin since Sept. 17.

According to the story he told Detective Campbell of the Charles Street station, he went to the Waverly Place address to confer with his fiancee regarding the furniture for their home. The money he carried was to have been spent for it.

On reaching the flat she had occupied, he said, he found she had moved to the Hotel Judson. As he was leaving two men seized him, slugged him, carried him into the empty room where his fiancee had lived and robbed him. They left him trussed up, he said, but he managed to roll out, through the hall and to the stoop, where Policeman Joseph Gordon found him.

Two Murders a Week by Police, Says Deputy Commissioner Leach

Rum-Hounds Must Go, Declares Enright's First Assistant at Cop's Trial.

"There's a murder a week due to drunken policemen," declared Deputy Police Commissioner Leach in Brooklyn to-day. "Two since last Saturday. We are going to rid the department of the rum-hounds."

It was in the trial of Patrolman John Dolan of the Butler Street Station that the Deputy Commissioner was moved to make these remarks. Dolan was charged with being drunk on duty Sept. 14, and the gravest testimony against him was that of Dr. Leahy, a police surgeon.

"Dolan reported sick four times in May," said the doctor; "twice in June, twice in July and three times in September. Each time the trouble was alcohol. I don't know what his

TWO PARTIES BELIEVED TO HAVE HAD A HAND IN HALL-MILLS MURDER

Absence of Blood Under the Body of Mrs. Mills Now Prompts Suspicion Her Throat Was Cut Some Time After She and Rector Had Been Shot to Death.

Prosecutors Admit They Doubt Authenticity of Confession Made by Schneider, but Say "He Knows Something"—Bahmer Girl Attempted Suicide Over Him.

(Special From a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.) NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 10.—Were there two parties of spies upon suspected love affairs on the Phillips's farm the night the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills were shot to death? It is possible that the one party, seeking divorce evidence rather than murder, found themselves close behind a band of drunken boys who did the killing in a mistaken belief as to their identity.

There was no blood found under the body of Mrs. Mills, though her head was nearly cut off. Did a member of the second party, in a frenzy of jealousy, attempt to wreak vengeance on the dead woman by slashing at her throat and neck when she was growing cold?

In the confusion of doubt and suspicion which have grown out of the later developments of the Hall-Mills tragedy these questions are being asked on the streets by persons who are absorbed by the murder; puzzled to the point of forgetfulness of their daily routine of business and domestic life.

The so-called "solution" of the murder does not dissolve in public opinion.

PROSECUTORS DOUBT STORY OF SCHNEIDER. On the very highest authority, The Evening World is informed that neither Prosecutor Stricker of Middlesex County nor Prosecutor Beekman of Somerset County believes the story of Raymond Schneider that he saw his friend, Clifford Hayes, shoot the minister and the choir singer.

The most that they tell their intimate friends is that they believe "the boy knows something."

When Raymond Schneider began "confessing" at dawn yesterday he said some things which were plainly untrue. Everything he said was taken down by a stenographer. Mr. Stricker studied over the first statement and then went back to the boy and pointed out the utter improbability of some of his story. Schneider promptly corrected the tale to fit Mr. Stricker's criticism. This continued until Mr. Stricker and Mr. Beekman had five different statements from Schneider, each one of which he signed, declaring that it was the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. He signed the last one in his cell in the Somerville Jail at five minutes after 10 o'clock last night.

One of the discrepancies which Schneider haggled most about was the time at which the minister and his choir singer were killed. The "confession" at first fixed the time at 1 o'clock Friday morning, which accounts for the formal charge that he committed the murder Sept. 15, instead of Sept. 14.

The shots and screams on the Phillips farm were heard by at least six persons at a time which they fix, varying, at half past 10 or 11 o'clock Thursday night.

Detective Totten of Somerset County, after a talk with Schneider to-day, asserted meaningfully that the prosecutor had at last a reasonably sounding explanation as to the attempted beheading of the body of Mrs. Mills, but that it made it necessary for him and Mr. Beekman to come back to New Brunswick and question "some of those who were under
