

If the Evening Express of yesterday had looked at our Postscript in borrowing (without credit) our table of the Ohio Legislature, it would have avoided some needless errors. The Pennsylvania article was borrowed correctly except the lack of credit.

The Whig Senatorial Convention for this District assembled at Broadway House last evening and unanimously nominated DANIEL LORD, Jr. for one of the two Senators to be chosen from this District. Mr. Lord is one of the most eminent and honored advocates of this City, of spotless integrity and estimable character. As a member of the Court for the Correction of Errors, he will inevitably take the very highest rank, while his decided, unvarying Whig principles will commend him to the enthusiastic support of his party. If the election were to turn on the fitness of the candidates, his majority over Varian would be immense. We can hardly hope for so favorable a criterion, but a generous, universal rally of the Whigs will by a large vote ensure success. What say you, Whigs? Shall he not be carried? Who will be recreant to his duty and his country? None! None! Then DANIEL LORD, JR. WILL BE OUR NEXT SENATOR! He has accepted the nomination. The other candidate will be nominated on Friday.

The Freeman's Ticket. The Whig Nominating Committee of this City harmoniously and usefully completed their labors last evening, by presenting to their constituents the following ticket for Members of Assembly: RICHARD E. MOUNT, Brush-maker. ELBRIDGE G. BALDWIN, Piano-maker. JOSEPH TUCKER, Mason. CHARLES M. GRAHAM, Jr., Farmer. LINUS W. STEVENS, Glove-maker. NATHANIEL G. BRADFORD, Hatter. CYRUS CHENEY, Merchant. JOHN C. HAMILTON, Gentleman. EDWARD D. WEST, Turpentine Distiller. GEN. WILLIAM JONES. PETER A. JAY, Lawyer. RICHARD F. CARMAN, Carpenter. JOHN COGER, Jr., Blacksmith.

With pleasure and pride do we present this ticket to the Freeman of New-York. We ask them to place it side by side with that nominated at Tammany Hall, and vote for whichever they judge best calculated to promote the interests and welfare of the City of New-York. On the Whig ticket all classes are represented, while a decided preference is given, as it should be, especially at this time, to the Mechanics and Artisans of our City. They will rejoice to recognize here the names of early, inflexible opponents of the State Prison Monopoly, in the day of its power and pride, such as TUCKER, BALDWIN, BRADFORD, &c. They will feel that their interests are safe in the hands of these men—safe not merely against intentional neglect, but against unwitting sacrifice through ignorance and inexperience.

It will be remarked that there is but one lawyer on the ticket, though Mr. HAMILTON, we believe, was also educated to the Bar, and practiced there until he retired from active business. But the fact that more lawyers were not nominated is not owing to any petty jealousy or hostility to that class of citizens—far from it. The Whig party and its representatives are above such miserable prejudice. But it was the very general desire of the Mechanics and Working Men that a large portion of the Delegation should this year be chosen from their ranks, and to this desire of the majority, founded on an obvious necessity, the residue of the party cheerfully acceded. We believe so large a number of practical Mechanics has never before been placed on the ticket of either party. But other classes are by no means unrepresented; and we would cheerfully submit the fate of the ticket to the judgement of the Bar of New-York as to whether they would prefer to be represented at Albany by the six young attorneys on the Loco-Foco ticket or solely by PETER A. JAY.

Freemen of New-York! Whigs! THIS TICKET CAN BE ELECTED if you will do your duty! And why shall it not? It can! It must! Let us each resolve to devote henceforth every leisure hour for a few days to the arduous of our friends and neighbors, and NEW-YORK WILL BE REDEEMED!

John A. Lott, the defeated candidate for Senator from Kings, has been favored with a nomination for Assemblyman by the Loco-Focos of that County. We have heard before of a lad who asked for bread and got a stone, but we never knew the name of the unfortunate individual before.

Mr. A. BRISBANE delivered a Lecture at the Suyvesant Institute last evening upon the Genius of Christianity considered in its bearing on the Social Institutions and Terrestrial Destiny of the Human Race. He contended that the mission of Christianity upon earth has hitherto been imperfectly understood, and that the doctrines of Christ, carried into practical effect, would free the world of Want, Misery, Temptation and Crime. This, Mr. B. believes, will be effected by a system of Association, or the binding up of individual and family interests in Social and Industrial Communities, wherein all faculties may be developed, all energies usefully employed, all legitimate desires satisfied, and idleness, want, temptation and crime be annihilated. In such Associations, individual property will be maintained, the family be held sacred, and every inducement held out to a proper ambition.—Mr. B. will lecture hereafter on the practical details of the system of Fourier, of whom he is a zealous disciple, and we shall then endeavor to give a more clear and full account of his doctrines.

The Whigs of GEORGIA are extensively savage in view of their recent defeat. They say they have been swindled out of the Election.—Their opponent raised the hue-and-cry that the Whig Congress had imposed a tax on Tea and Coffee, and that Dawson voted for it; and though both assertions were utterly false, they sufficed to defeat Col. Dawson and give the State to the Loco-Focos.

McLEOD did not go to England, but to Canada, via Saratoga and Lake Champlain. A letter to the Troy Whig announces that he was safely landed at St. Johns, L. C. on Sunday night last.

PENNSYLVANIA.—George Darsie, Whig, is elected to the Senate in the Allegheny District by a majority of one! This secures a Whig majority in the Senate, and a fair apportionment for Members of Congress. The official canvass shows the following result:

Table with 3 columns: Name, Votes, Total. Darsie, White, 4297, 1707, 5974. Gatzert, Loco, 4314, 1659, 5973. Little, Whig, 766, 11, 777.

Whigs of New-York! one vote may ward off the greatest calamities! Remember it!

Ohio.—The following are all our returns up to last evening:

Table with 3 columns: Whig, Loco-Foco, Total. Holdover, 9, Holdover, 9, 18. Belmont & Harrison, 1, Hamilton, 1, 2. Muskingum, 1, Ross, Pike, &c., 1, 2. Geauga, &c., 1, Guernsey & Munroe, 1, 2. Ashabula & Lake, 1, Columbiana, 1, 2. Gallia, Lawrence, &c., 1, Richland, 1, 2. Clinton, Brown, &c., 1, Jefferson and Carroll, 1, 2. Champaign, Logan, &c., 1, J. Johnson and Carroll, 1, 2. Athens & Meigs, 1, Morgan, Perry, &c., 2, 3. Total, 17, Total, 17, 34.

Time more to hear from: Adams, Highland, &c. and Lucas, Williams, &c. We have hopes of the latter.

Table with 3 columns: Whig, Loco-Foco, Total. Ashabula, 1, Trumbull, 2, 3. Genuga, 1, Columbiana, 1, 2. Lake, 1, Coshocton, 1, 2. Cuyahoga, 1, Jefferson & Carroll, 2, 3. Portage, 1, Morgan, Perry, &c., 2, 3. Lorain, 1, Fairfield, 1, 2. Huron & Erie, 1, Ross, Pike, &c., 3, 4. Greene, 1, Knox, 1, 2. Clinton, Highland, &c., 1, Hamilton, 1, 2. Franklin, 1, Belmont, 2, 3. Montgomery, 1, Butler, 2, 3. Pickaway, 1, Richland, 2, 3. Clark and Madison, 1, Holmes, &c., 2, 3. Guernsey, 1, Seneca, Sandusky, &c., 2, 3. Harrison, 1, Wayne, 1, 2. Warren, 1, Stark, 1, 2. Preble, 1, Delaware, Marion, &c., 2, 3. Miami, Darke, &c., 3, 4. Champaign, 1, Monroe, 1, 2. Logan & Union, 1, Total, so far, 34.

To be heard from, Adams, Highland, &c.; Lucas, Williams, &c. and Summit 1—5 in all. Summit can hardly fail to be Whig; we hope for Lucas & Co., but not much for Adams, Highland, &c.

Somebody in Pennsylvania sends us a list of the majorities for Gov. Porter in different Counties as an answer to our remark that the said Governor is an unprincipled demagogue. But does this prove his point? Was not Aaron Burr once elected Vice President of the United States by the entire Democratic vote of the Union? and was he not within an ace of being made President? Yes, who does not know that he was a desperate demagogue and a black-hearted villain all the while. Yet Aaron Burr never did a public act so unjustifiable in its character, so perilous in its consequences as David R. Porter has repeatedly done, in pardoning his personal satellites under indictment for crime so as to shield them from trial. Fifty thousand majority would not wash out the infamy of this foul deed.

The Whigs of Washington County have nominated JAMES McKIE, Jr. of White Creek and Dr. D. S. WRIGHT of Whitehall for Assembly. They concurred enthusiastically, as they well might, in the nomination of Hon. DAVID RUSSELL for Senator. And now, Whigs of Washington! draw out your last man to elect him! Your County Ticket is safe enough, but without a vigorous effort, your Senator will be lost! To the rescue!

The Whigs of Schenectady County have nominated WILLIAM McCAMES of Schenectady for Assembly, and act as though they mean to elect him.

Dr. T. R. POWELL has been nominated for Assembly by the Whigs of Franklin, a County that never falters!

The Whigs of Tompkins County have nominated Gen. LEVI HUBBELL and ALFRED H. SHAW, Esq. their Members last year, for re-election to the Assembly. They know how to elect them and have resolved that it shall be done.

In Butler County, Pa. the opposing candidates for Commissioners are tied, having 1682 votes each. The other Whig candidates are elected.

BALTIMORE elected Charter Officers on Monday. The Whigs offered no candidates save in one Ward, where they elected them.

Hon. JOHN M. SCOTT, the new Mayor of Philadelphia, was inaugurated on Tuesday, when a great number of his friends called upon him, and partook of his hospitality. Hon. John Swift, who has been Mayor for several years, retired at the same time. The newspaper reporters united in a letter of thanks to him for his kindness and courtesy in affording them access to information.—The new City Councils have embarked efficiently in the work of Reform. They intend to finish a portion of the Girard College for Orphans, and have it go into operation speedily.

VAN BUREN NOMINATIONS. Sixth Senate District.—James Faulkner of Livingston County for Senate. [He was a candidate last year, and defeated.]

Assembly. Clinton County.—Lemuel Stetson of Keeseville. Washington County.—Samuel Sergeant of Fort Ann and Stephen Barker of White creek. Niagara County.—Luther Wilson of Wilson and Joel McCollum of Lockport. Sullivan County.—Mathew Brown of Bethel. Chenango County.—Richard W. Juliard, Clark Burnham and Adam Storing.

Stevens County.—Ziba A. Leland, Francis E. Erwin and Aaron W. Beach for Assembly, [all original Anti-Masons and Adams men as against Jackson.] William Hamilton for Clerk. Saratoga.—Halsey Rogers and John Cramer. Kings.—John A. Lott, William M. Udell. Schenectady.—Jonathan C. Burnham.

Miss Esther C. French of Norwalk, Conn. committed suicide on the 15th by throwing herself into a well. She had been ill of the measles, fell in a decline and her mind became disordered and despondent.

ANOTHER BANK EXPLOSION.—A letter in the Ohio Statesman says that the new Bank of Circleville has exploded, and made an assignment of its assets.

FAIR OF THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE.—Among the other numerous visitors at the Fair yesterday we observed the officers of La Belle Poule, who were going the rounds of the rooms in company with the Committee appointed by the Managers of the Fair to receive them. They appeared quite agreeably surprised at the beauty and perfection of the Nautical Instruments which were exhibited, and particularly with a splendid Chronometer of American manufacture, made by Messrs. Aggart & Sons of our City, exhibited in the case of Messrs. Frye & Shaw. This Chronometer has been a voyage, and stood the test of comparison with the best European Instruments. Cochran's Bomb-Cannon and Francis's Life-Boat justly attracted much attention. Mr. Francis made some experiments with the Life-Boat; she was loaded with 750 lbs. of stone, and afterward three men were sent into her in addition without being able to sink her.

We noticed our old friend of the cocked hat, Searle, with his bees and patent hives or bee houses. He has succeeded in introducing his humane plan of taking the honey without destroying the bee, to a considerable extent on Long Island and in the State of New-York. We hope that either his or some other better method may become universally adopted, for we cannot but think that the old system is barbarous and worse than cruel.

We observed that King's Patent Self-Rocking Chair was a point of great attraction. It is certainly one of the most ingeniously luxurious articles we ever saw. We left positive orders with Mr. King not to send one to our office, for even with very ordinary chairs our editorial sanctum is too frequently invaded by loungers whose propensities, when indulged in such a chair as we have alluded to, might cause the most serious consequences.

THE EUCLIDIAN SOCIETY of the New-York University held their anniversary last evening in the College Chapel. It would seem that the young gentlemen who compose this Society are special favorites with the ladies, for never before have we seen such a crowd of gay and beautiful faces in the Chapel as on this occasion. We would take this opportunity of appraising our fair readers, however, that not all the members of the Euclidian are young men, for we have the honor ourselves of being an honorary member and yet some years have rolled round since we were considered as particularly youthful. The speakers all acquitted themselves with great credit and their manner had decidedly less of the Eastern Presbyterian peculiarity than we have witnessed on former similar occasions. Indeed, in this respect we are happy to notice that within the last year or two a much more manly, independent and natural tone and manner have prevailed in our Eastern Colleges than formerly.

THE CASE OF JAMES B. GLENTWORTH.—It is a singular fact, as stated yesterday by the Recorder in the Court of Sessions, that the heavy expenses resulting from the inquiry preliminarily and also at the trial of J. B. Glentworth at the Court of Sessions, some months since, have not been paid by the Board of Supervisors, though the bill has long since been rendered by the District Attorney, and which as yet remains unpaid. Until that bill is paid, the indefatigable District Attorney, it is understood, will not consent to incur any additional expense consequent on a second trial of this indictment; and Glentworth will therefore in all probability remain untried, unless the Loco-Foco Fathers of the City shall, by prompt payment, honor the ardent exertions of their prosecuting officer and furnish him a passport for further proceedings. It is certainly neither generous or just for the disbursing authorities to refuse to cancel a debt contracted in accordance with their opinions and wishes, and out of which they endeavored to make such a mass of political capital for the overthrow of their opponents. It is an old saying that "those who will dance should always pay the fiddler."

The U. S. Circuit Court is now holding a term at Albany, Judges Thompson and Conklin presiding.

Chief Justice Weston of Maine has been re-appointed by Gov. Kent and Council, who have appointed John S. Tenney of Norridgewalk an Associate Judge of the Supreme Court, vice Judge Emery, whose term had expired.

The Peoria (Illinois) Register states that goods have just reached that place, (situated on the Illinois River, about the centre of the State, with uninterrupted steamboat navigation to St. Louis,) by way of the Hudson, Erie Canal and Lakes to Chicago, thence by wagon to Peoria, for $2 10 per hundred, and might have been transported, by taking sail instead of steam on the Lakes, for $1 50 per hundred, which is lower than they can be sent via New-Orleans and St. Louis, besides being very much quicker. The charge is $1 30 per hundred (by steam) to Chicago, thence 80c. by land to Peoria. Only give us the Enlarged Canal, and New-York will sell and carry for nearly all the vast Western Country above St. Louis.

WILLIAMS COLLEGE BURNED.—We learn with regret that the East building of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass. was destroyed by fire on Sunday afternoon last. The fire broke out while the Faculty and Students were at Church, and there being no engine in the place, its extinguishment was impossible. Most of the contents were destroyed; the walls only remain. The edifice was four stories high, contained thirty-two rooms, was occupied by the Senior and Junior Classes, and contained the Students' Libraries. It was erected in 1798 at a cost of $15,000. The College is poor, and can raise funds to repair this loss only by appealing to the liberality of the State or the public. It will be difficult to find accommodations for the Students through the approaching winter.

DISCOVERY IN AFRICA.—The following interesting announcement is made in the Southern Literary Messenger for October. The literary world will be anxious to receive authentic accounts from Timbuctoo:—Dr. Charles Mathews, who left the United States about fifteen years since, with a view to make discoveries in the interior of Africa, writes to a friend in Vermont from Abyssinia that he shall return in the summer of 1842, and that he has been generally successful in his researches. He had traveled from Morocco, across the Great Desert, to Timbuctoo, and from that capital nearly to the Cape of Good Hope, back to Timbuctoo and Abyssinia, besides making several less important journeys, which had added much to his knowledge of the geography of the country and the social condition of its people.

ARRAIGNMENT OF THE GREAT FORGER.—Yesterday the celebrated Col. Monroe Edwards, with the aliases of John P. Caldwell and Hugh S. Hill, who had acquired such a high degree of fame by his stupendous frauds and forgeries, was brought out of the City Prison into the Court of Sessions, for arraignment on the four indictments for forgery which the present Grand Jury found against him. In anticipation of this event, the Court room was densely crowded with well-dressed citizens and strangers, anxious to see the 'Great Forger' who had circumvented an English Lord, and swindled some of our most respectable and perspicacious citizens of more than half a hundred thousand dollars of their money. The distinguished financier walked with a bold and manly step to the prisoner's box, in which he took his seat, and looked around with an air of complacent dignity on the surrounding spectators. He is a man of about the middle stature, not heavily moulded; was genteelly dressed, and had the appearance of a well-bred gentleman at his ease. As the charges were severally read to him, and the questions propounded by the Clerk—"Do you demand a trial on this indictment?" he each time answered emphatically, "Yes, sir," and accompanied the last reply with a smile, that played for a moment on his face, and betokened either an apathy concerning his situation, or a disposition to act his part in the grand drama of guilt to the best possible advantage for the gratification of the multitude his fame had summoned to see him.

At the conclusion of the arraignment he made a slight bow, and returned to prison with his arm and dignified step as he came out, "he observed of all observers."

For the New-York Tribune. Late Scientific Discoveries. ETCHING DAGUERRETYPE VIEWS.—A method has been discovered by which Daguerrotype impressions may be permanently etched, by submitting the plate to a voltaic process, which process renders it fit for the hands of the printer. Beautiful electrotype copies can be taken from them.

INFUSORIA IN CHALK.—M. De Humboldt has stated to the Academy of Sciences at Paris, that in certain cretaceous formations in Prussia, nineteen-twentieths of the mass of the rock consist of very small coralliform insects and infusoria.

RED SNOW.—Prof. Agassiz, in a communication to the British Association, contends that red snow is altogether an animal production—the ora of the Phloclonia, and not partly vegetable, as has been heretofore supposed.

ROTATION OF THE SUN.—Prof. Gaithuisen, of Munich, announces that he has ascertained the exact period of the Sun's sidereal rotation on its axis, to be 25 days 14 hours 54 minutes and 5 seconds, and its synodical rotation, 27 days 14 hours 17 minutes and 19 seconds.

AN IMPROVED BAROMETER.—Mr. Harris has submitted to the British Association an improved Barometer, by which variations of the ten-thirtieth part of an inch can be read off with perfect accuracy.

AN IMPORTANT CHEMICAL DISCOVERY.—A discovery has lately been made that promises to be of much importance in chemical science, which is, that carbon, which has always been considered a simple substance, can, by a certain process, be converted into silicon, a decidedly metallic body.

A NEW SUBSTANCE.—The peculiar odour given off during electro-magnetic action, is supposed to be a new substance, and will probably receive the name of Electrogen.

FROM THE BOSTON TIMES. COLT, THE UNFORTUNATE.—It has been our lot to be acquainted with this young man for several years, and when we first read the awful intelligence of his killing Mr. Adams, we set it down as entirely unworthy of credit. But, alas! it is too true. This circumstance awakens our memory to the train of his acquaintance, and leads us on to some reflections.

Our first knowledge of J. C. Colt was at Cincinnati, some four or five years ago. He was at that time engaged in teaching the science of Accounts, and preparing a work on this subject for the press, which has since appeared; and, we must say, giving him justice for his labors, on a comparison of his work with that of similar publications, he has evinced in his production, in point of genius, originality and talent, a degree of superiority which places him beyond all cavil far in the van of his contemporaries.

In Cincinnati, Colt's acquaintances were confined almost exclusively to his pupils, who held him in high esteem, and few persons that he had business with from time to time. His general deportment was tacit and reserved, which was attributed to his peculiar circumstances; as with those whom business had caused an acquaintance, he was not only communicative but instructive; and, in his private life, he was as simple, plain, affable, mild, gentlemanly, as all the same to him, whether in converse with the lord of the soil or the beggar in the street. Among those who knew him it was often spoken of as surprising that he should be engaged in teaching, as he was evidently qualified, both by nature and education, to fill a much more distinguished rank in society.

It is well confident in saying, is the general character and estimate in which young Colt was held, not only in Cincinnati, but Louisville, Massville, and the other cities of the West, where he was known as a teacher.

Although eminently successful as an accountant, Mr. Colt has met several reverses of fortune within the last three years, that has led many of his friends to think, from an apparent change of countenance, that these casualties were undermining his constitution, and that to this he would soon yield. If this be true, how far a broken spirit may have had a tendency to make him irritable, and produce the unfortunate result between himself and Mr. Adams, we are unable to say. But this is not our opinion. From our knowledge of Mr. Colt, we should have taken him to be one of those who would bear with fortitude any of the ordinary reverses of life. He has but just passed that period in manhood when the rose on the cheek, and the laughing eye, change places for the grave, reflective, meditating cast which envelops the countenances of persons like Mr. Colt, whose habits have been sedentary and given to study.

It was our intention when we commenced this article to have spoken of some of Mr. Colt's misfortunes, but as we have already drawn it out beyond our prescribed limits, we omit doing so for the present. We have only to add that, we hope he may be able to bear up with Christian fortitude—that Christianity be professed when a youth—in passing the ordeal of his trial, and resign with that manliness to his fate, whatever that fate may be, which has characterized his life; as we have it in his own words, beautifully applied to Goddard the Accountant, "a life of reverses, mis-carriages and misfortunes."

BREACH OF PROMISE.—A novel case of breach of promise of marriage was decided at the late term of the Huntington circuit court, Judge Wright presiding. Dr. S. A. Fate, merchant, &c. of the town of Huntington, Indiana, brought suit against a Mrs. Luvally, a widow lady who was housekeeper of the late Chief-Justice of the Indiana parties, and laid his damages at $2000. Both parties had able and eloquent counsel. The jury, after a short absence from the boxes, brought in a verdict in favor of the broken-hearted doctor, for $150.

CLERKS.—A meeting of the Clerks, without distinction of grade, will be held this evening, at Columbia Hall, Grand-street, at half past 8 o'clock, at which a plan of an Association will be laid before them by the Editors of the 'Clerks' Gazette.' The paper will be published this week on Saturday.

The loss of Sage & Kennedy by the fire in Rochester last Sunday is said to have been much exaggerated. A good portion of their stock was saved, and their insurance is believed quite sufficient to cover their actual loss.

The loss of Messrs. Wm. & John James of this city, upon buildings, machinery, &c. is more than covered by insurance in this city.

Some rascals undertook to get into the Bank of Mobile by boring through the door during a violent storm of wind and rain on the 9th, but were stopped by a lining of sheet-iron, and went off undisturbed.—If they had got in and robbed the Bank, the story would have been blazoned in the Loco-Foco papers as another evidence of the rascality of the Bank monopolies.

Somebody who killed Prof. Davis at the University of Virginia, and who had been liberated on bail of $25,000, failed to appear when his trial came on, so that his recognizance are forfeited.

Albert Baker, Jr., a prominent lawyer and politician of New-Hampshire, died at Hillsborough on the 17th, aged 31.

The cars on the Long Island Railroad run off the track this morning at Hillsburgh, by reason of the switch being turned during the night by some malicious persons, and the fog preventing its being seen, until it was too late. The train was proceeding continually at the time, an account of the fog, so that no person was injured, nor was there any damage occasioned to the train.

What would be a right punishment for such an offence? The trains run as usual this afternoon at four o'clock. [Brooklyn News of last evening.]

LAWYERS' DIARY... October 21. File notes of issue Chancellor (New-York).
