LATER FROM EUROPE.

By the packet ship Independence, Capt. Nye, we have Liverpool dates to the 25th ult.—six dates later than were before received.

The fire originated in Crompton street, at the north end of the town, and swept over a space of six or seven acres, the principal streets affected being Crompton, Formby and Neptune.

It appears that a watchman named Bernard Coyle who was employed to guard the premises of Mr. Peason, bone-grinder and drysalter, during the night, found the fire had broken out in the engine house, precisely at 3 o'clock, the fire having been kept in all night to keep up the steam.

The combustible nature of the premises was such, together with a strong breeze from the north-west, that Mrs. Isaac's oil and color store soon took fire, as well as many small crowded workshops of mill-wrights, smiths, &c., in that immediate locality.

Letters from Madrid notice a fatal duel between M. Riesch the ex-political chief of Cadix and M. Lorente, Editor of the Globe, in which the former was killed.

The next lot was drawn for first fire, and this was won by Senator Lorente, who requested that Senator Riesch would fire instead, saying, "I renounce my right in favor of this gentleman."

From time to time the high walls of the warehouses fell with a thundering crash, and shortly after nine o'clock one man was killed outright by the falling materials.

A fire-proof warehouse near the bottom of Formby-street, stood the effect of the flames surprisingly. Men were employed in hoisting buckets of water into it to cool the walls, which, however, were by no means so hot as might be expected.

POSTSCRIPT.

THREE O'CLOCK.

By the Columbia, Capt. T. P. Newbery, from Albany, which arrived with Harnden's Special Express, at the very early hour of half past two this morning, we have foreign papers by the Britannia to October 4th.

The Marquis of Wellesley died on the 2nd. He was brother of Wellington and 82 years of age.

The Ashburton Treaty and the American Tariff are still discussed with warmth by the British journals.

A change of the Cabinet has taken place in Portugal. Trade there is perfectly stagnant.

The budget of Prussia is about to be reduced one and a half millions, and this sum applied to internal improvements.

The Polish Army is about to be reorganized and to consist of 18,000 men.

In the East a collision has taken place between the Maronites and Druses: A camp of 20,000 or 25,000 men has been formed at Malatia.

A Provisional Government has been organized for Servia.

Cadiz was tranquil. The Globe has not appeared since the duel of its Editors. Measures have been taken to enforce the laws against dueling with great vigor.

The effect of the concessions in the British tariff is becoming evident in the fall of prices of live stock. Two heavy corn factors have suspended, and more failures are expected, in consequence of a fall in wheat.

Money is scarce, and prices of produce are low.

A decided improvement has taken place in the manufacturing districts.

Hereafter natives of India are to have a large share of the office of the E. I. Company.

A Convention is to be formed with France providing for the extension of the limits within which national right of search shall be in force. France it seems yields.

This is all the intelligence brought by the steamer later than that before received. The Britannia has 94 passengers, and reached Boston yesterday morning at 20 minutes before 7.

The Grand Explosion.

We have rarely seen more imposing spectacles than that expected yesterday at the Battery. The third experiment of Mr. Colt with his Submarine Battery was advertised to be performed in connection with the Exhibition of the American Institute, at 4 o'clock, and before 3, thousands were wending their way toward Castle Garden.

The King of Hanover had entirely recovered from his late attack of illness. The Times, as might be expected, lauds Tyler's Veto—and abuses Mr. Adams's Report. Still it says it is not at all surprised that the truly Democratic party should oppose the veto—as it is in perfect accordance with their views.

Letters from Madrid notice a fatal duel between M. Riesch the ex-political chief of Cadix and M. Lorente, Editor of the Globe, in which the former was killed. Riesch was the challenger and won the most favorable position. He declared his intention that the duel should be to the death and insisted on shortening the distance which was 15 paces. The seconds refused. The following is from the correspondence of the Times:

The next lot was drawn for first fire, and this was won by Senator Lorente, who requested that Senator Riesch would fire instead, saying, "I renounce my right in favor of this gentleman."

From time to time the high walls of the warehouses fell with a thundering crash, and shortly after nine o'clock one man was killed outright by the falling materials.

A fire-proof warehouse near the bottom of Formby-street, stood the effect of the flames surprisingly. Men were employed in hoisting buckets of water into it to cool the walls, which, however, were by no means so hot as might be expected.

NEW-JERSEY.—The Plebeian and other Loco-Foco papers complain of unequal representation in the Legislature of New-Jersey. All gammon; for no State in the Union is more fairly apportioned as to representation than New-Jersey.

FOR INSTANCE, look at the difference between Richmond, Rockland and Putnam Counties, each with a member representing 11,000 or 12,000 inhabitants, and Queens, Broome, Orleans, Clinton and Essex, with one from each, representing a population from 22,000 to 30,000.

ASHER TYLER of Ellicottville, Cattaraugus County, is the Whig candidate for Congress in the XXXIst District composed of Chataque and Cattaraugus. His election is of course certain, by an overwhelming majority.

BY THIS MORNING'S MAIL.

Ohio Election.

BALTIMORE CITY ELECTION.—The vote for Mayor at the election yesterday was 7,241 for Hillen, to 2,853 for Small. Hillen had a majority in every ward in the city, and in the thorough Whig ward (the 8th) where the Whigs have a majority of about 500, he had Small 390 votes. This will show you how he was supported by both parties. In the City Council the Loco Focos elected their candidates in all but two or three wards, without opposition from the Whigs.

OHIO ELECTION.—ALL GONE!—The returns I sent you yesterday of the votes for Governor were decisive as to the election of Shannon, and left scarcely a doubt of the Legislature being Loco-Foco. The news this morning settles all doubt. The Loco-Focos carry the Clinton and Ross Districts, electing one Senator and seven Representatives. As these were the most warmly contested and most important Districts in the State, and as they have been so what in doubt from the first, I send you the returns from each.

In the Clinton, Clermont and Brown District the Loco-Foco candidates are elected by majorities ranging from 27 up to 103, as follows:—Foot (Senator) 103 majority; White (Representative) 62; Rees, do., 43; Sargent, do., 31; Emory, do., 27. This District was Whig last year, but we lose it now by the greatly increased Loco-Foco majority in Brown County.

The Ross County (Chillicothe) District was in doubt at Columbus at the last accounts, but I have the full vote for Representatives which I send you.

You see by this that Blynton, lowest on the Loco-Foco ticket, heads our lowest man 49 votes. The Abolition vote is very large, and in several Counties from which I have seen returns, was just sufficient to beat us. Thus, in Harrison County, which we carried last year on the Representative ticket, the vote stood: Leman (W.) 1817; Gruber (L. F.) 1851; Harmer (Abolition) 99. The same result will be found in many Counties on the Reserve. I could give you some more samples from the Southern and Western parts of the State, but after what has been told, your readers would rather that I should send them 'no more reports.'

Things in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18, 1842. The exhibition of the Franklin Institute has commenced to-day under highly favorable auspices.

The Whigs of Schoharie have nominated HENRY MANN, Jr. for Sheriff, MERRIMAN PRESTON and ADAM P. MATTICE for Assembly. Schoharie does not often send Whigs to the Legislature, but they are always first rate ones when she does send.

Gen. JOHN A. DIX, former Secretary of State under Gov. Marcy, sailed from this port on Saturday for Madeira. The ill health of Mr. Dix renders this voyage necessary.

Mr. Sheffield, pilot, in charge of the brig Atlas, when she ran into the sloop Rienzi, of which we published an account on Friday, desires us to contradict the statement on his authority, assuring us that the accident was entirely owing to carelessness and mismanagement on the part of the sloop.

There is an uncalled-for letter at the Post Office in Burlington, Vt. addressed to "the prettiest girl in Burlington."

That speaks well for the modesty of the girls in Burlington—for we 'happen to know' that it is not because there are no competitors that the letter in question is yet 'uncalled for.'

The Loco-Focos of Dutchess Congressional District have two candidates for Congress; Richard D. Davis of Poughkeepsie, nominated by a Convention at Stormville; and Gouverneur Kemble of Putnam, nominated by a Convention at Fishkill. We presume that the latter will be backed out in due season to secure the election of Davis.

The JAMESTOWN JOURNAL, Chataque Co. has passed into the hands of J. W. Fletcher, a young man of good talents and staunch Whig principles, in whose hands it already evinces a decided improvement, though hitherto a most respectable and efficient Whig journal. We heartily wish our young friend that success which he will certainly merit.

Our Temperance friends will remember the grand Concert of the Lady Neptune Society this evening at the corner of Madison and Catherine-sts. See advertisement.

A sale of useful and fancy articles for the benefit of St. Matthew's Church, Jersey City, will be held by the ladies of the congregation, during the day and evening of Wednesday, the 19th Oct., at the Lyceum, in Grand street, in Jersey City.

We learn the dead body of Mrs. Bridge, wife of Mr. Wm. Bridge, whom we mentioned the other day as being missing, was found in a brook in Roxbury yesterday afternoon.

CURIOS CLOCK.—M. Schwilgue (says the Courrier du Bas Rhin) is putting the finishing hand to the repairs of the astronomical clock of the cathedral of Strasbourg, after having devoted four years to the work.

Never have we seen a more completely successful experiment. The explosion was attended with a very slight noise—completely silenced by the superior sound of the gun fired at the same instant. The boats which had surrounded the vessel rushed in to inspect her wreck; and scores of life preservers, life seats, life buoys, life boats, &c. &c., which had been put on board were picked up. A fine brass band in the Garden struck up 'Hail Columbia,' and the great throng with a tremendous shout began to disperse.

STEAMBOATS AROUND.—At Flint Island, on Monday, at 8 o'clock, the steamers Hugh L. White, Paragon, Goddess of Liberty, Du Quene, and Massachusetts were fast aground, with very little prospect of getting off. These boats occupied near half the breadth of the river, and left little opportunity for the passage of other boats.

The Racers and Dempster give another of their charming Concerts to-night at the Society Library.

Have our readers all listened to the electric and calligraphic performances of the American Museum? If not, they should go at once, for he is the most amusing performer in the country. The other attractions and entertainments this week are unusually rich.
