

FOR PRESIDENT. HENRY CLAY, OF KENTUCKY. TO ADVERTISERS.—The circulation of the WEEKLY TRIBUNE in the Western part of the State of New York...

City Subscribers, who prefer not being called upon weekly for their paper, may pay in advance for six months or a year at the rate of the publishing office, and they will have it served promptly and at an early hour.

Wanted, an Agent for this paper at PROVIDENCE, R. I. No one need apply unless he resides and is acquainted in that city.

For a Notice of the London Quarterly, with Extracts concerning Theodore Hook, Colored Temperance Celebration, and other Items see First Page.

For a spirited Narrative of the fight between the U. S. Frigate United States and the British frigate Macedonian, by a sailor on board the latter, see Last Page.

Cooperation in Progress. The following is the declaration of Mr. J. Fenimore Cooper upon his new action of libel against us, founded on our Report of our Cooperation at the Saratoga Circuit last December.

His demand, it will be seen, is only $3,000—his usual charge—but we have a lively trust that we shall convince the jury that we do not owe him the first red cent of it. However, we make no defence here, further than to say that some of Mr. Cooper's wire-drawn inferences from our good-natured remarks are quite mistaken, as we shall set forth in our plea to this declaration, which we shall lay before our readers in due season. Meantime, they will hearken to the complaint of Fenimore, who thus dolefully giveth vent to his tribulations:—

Supreme Court

Of the Term of May, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and forty-three. OTSEGO COUNTY, ss: J. FENIMORE COOPER, Plaintiff in this suit, by Richard Cooper, his Attorney, complains of HENRY CLAY and THOMAS McLEATH, Defendants in this suit, being in custody, &c., of a plea of trespass on the case.

For that whereas the said defendants contriving and maliciously intending to injure the said plaintiff in his good name, fame and credit, and to bring him into general contempt and ignominy, heretofore, to wit, on the twenty-ninth day of November, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and forty-one, and, to wit, at Cooperstown, in the County of Otsego, &c., did, to wit, at Cooperstown, in the County aforesaid, falsely, wickedly and maliciously published, and caused and procured to be published, in a certain newspaper called the New-York Tribune, a certain false, scandalous and malicious libel of and concerning the said plaintiff, containing, among other things, the following false, malicious and defamatory matter of and concerning the said plaintiff, to wit:—

At all events, having published the letter excepted to as a matter of intelligence, without any sort of feeling toward Mr. Cooper (the said plaintiff meaning) but such as his conduct in the case seemed to excite, we have at all times stood ready to publish cheerfully any correction or contradiction he might choose to send us. He (the said plaintiff meaning) chooses to send none, but a suit for libel instead. So be it, then, Walk in, Mr. Sheriff!

There is one comfort to sustain us under this terrible disposition. Mr. Cooper (meaning the said plaintiff) will have to bring his action (meaning said suit for libel) to trial somewhere. He will not like to bring it in New-York, (meaning the City of New-York) for we (meaning said defendants) are known here. Nor in Otsego, (meaning the County of Otsego) for we (meaning the said plaintiff) are known there; (thereby meaning that the said plaintiff, in consequence of being known in the County of Otsego, was in bad repute there, and would not, for that reason, like to bring an action for libel in that County.)

And the said plaintiff further says, and avers, that the syllables in, followed by a dash, when they occur in the publication hereinafter set forth, as follows, to wit, in, human, and that the said defendants, in using the aforesaid syllables, followed by a dash as aforesaid, in connection with the context, intended to convey, and did convey, the idea that the said plaintiff, on the occasion referred to in that part of said publication, had acted in an inhuman manner. And the said plaintiff also avers, that the syllables in, followed by a dash, as follows, to wit, in, when they occur in the publication hereinafter set forth, were meant and intended to convey, and did convey, the idea that the said plaintiff, on the occasion referred to in that part of said publication, had acted either in a most ungenerous or a most ungentlemanly manner, to wit, at the place and in the County aforesaid.

And the said plaintiff further says, that the said defendants, further contriving and intending as aforesaid, afterwards, to wit, on the twelfth day of December, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and forty-two, and, to wit, at the place and in the County aforesaid, falsely, wickedly and maliciously published, and caused and procured to be published, in a certain newspaper called the New-York Daily Tribune, a certain other false, scandalous and malicious libel of and concerning the said plaintiff, in one part of which said last mentioned libel there was and is contained the following false, malicious and defamatory matter of and concerning the said plaintiff, that is to say:—

Knowing what we positively did and do of the severe illness of the said Mr. Wood, and the dangerous state of his eldest daughter, at the time of the Fonda trials in question—regarding them as we do—the jokes attempted to be cut by Fenimore (the said plaintiff meaning) over their conversation, his talk to her, and his going up to her, and his mother and three or four young ladies—his frequent and probably having the Asiatic Cholera among them, or some other contagious disease, &c., &c.—however it may have seemed to others, did seem to us rather inhuman, (meaning inhuman.) Hallo there! We had like to put our foot right into it again, after all our tuition. We mean to say, that considering that just the day before Mr. Wood had been choked by his counsel into surrendering a discretion to Fenimore, (the said plaintiff meaning) being assured (correctly) that he would be hanged, that as the law is now expounded, said administered by the Supreme Court, he had no earthly chance, but to bow his neck to the yoke, yet all that might be claimed of him, and publish whatever humiliations should be required, or be prepared to be immediately ruined by the suits which Fenimore (the said plaintiff meaning) had brought, and had already commenced, or were getting ready for him—considering all this, and how much Mr. Wood had paid and must pay towards his (meaning said plaintiff's) subsistence, speaking his mind of him—we did not think that Fenimore's (meaning said plaintiff's) talk at this time and place, of Wood's family, and of Wood himself as a man so patently that he would pretend to sickness in his family as an excuse to absent himself from Court, and resort to trick after trick to get out of his case for a day or two, and to seem to be considering the present relations of the parties, most ungentlemanly (meaning either ungenerous or ungentlemanly.) Thus we go again!

And in another part of which said last-mentioned libel there was and is contained the following false, malicious and defamatory matter of and concerning the said plaintiff, that is to say:—

At all events, having published the letter excepted to as a matter of intelligence, without any sort of feeling toward Mr. Cooper but such as his conduct in the case seemed to excite, we have at all times stood ready to publish cheerfully any correction or contradiction he might choose to send us. He (the said plaintiff meaning) chooses to send none, but a suit for libel instead. So be it, then, Walk in, Mr. Sheriff!

There is one comfort to sustain us under this terrible disposition. Mr. Cooper (the said plaintiff meaning) will have to bring his action (meaning the said suit for libel) to trial somewhere. He will not like to bring it in New-York, (meaning the City of New-York) for we (meaning said defendants) are known here; nor in Otsego, (meaning the County of Otsego) for we (meaning the said plaintiff) are known there; (thereby meaning that the said plaintiff, in consequence of being known in the County of Otsego, was in bad repute there, and would not, for that reason, like to bring an action for libel in that County.)

And in another part of which said last-mentioned libel there was and is contained the following false, malicious and defamatory matter of and concerning the said plaintiff, that is to say:—

At all events, having published the letter excepted to as a matter of intelligence, without any sort of feeling toward Mr. Cooper but such as his conduct in the case seemed to excite, we have at all times stood ready to publish cheerfully any correction or contradiction he might choose to send us. brought into general hatred and contempt, and had been otherwise greatly injured and damaged, to wit, at the place and in the County aforesaid, to the damage of the said plaintiff of three thousand dollars; and, therefore, he brings his suit, &c. R. COOPER, Plaintiff's Attorney.

Take notice, that the defendants in this cause are required to plead to the declaration filed therein, within twenty days after service of a copy of said declaration or judgment.—Dated May 29th, 1843. Yours, &c. R. COOPER, Plaintiff's Attorney.

To THOMAS McLEATH, Esq., one of the Defendants, and Attorney for Defendant HENRY CLAY.

Important from Texas. We have received by mail Washington, Texas, papers to the 17th and Galveston to the 24th of June. They bring the intelligence that an Armistice had been concluded between Mexico and Texas, and that negotiations have commenced between the two countries for the establishment of a permanent peace.

It needs but the dullest intellect to perceive that Mexico will not relinquish her claims to the territory west of the Nueces without a violent struggle; and we can only expect to maintain our claim to it by force or by purchase. Mexico now has possession of that territory, and we have recent intelligence that three hundred of her troops are actually stationed east of the Rio Grande.

Count D'Orsay is mentioned in the London Morning Post as one of the guests at a dinner lately given by Lord Brougham. It seems probable therefore that he was not shot in a duel as was rumored.

Dr. LARDNER is still lecturing at St. Louis—His lectures are well attended. WALLACE, the celebrated violinist, had a narrow escape at Baltimore a few nights since, at one of his concerts. He had just left the piano stool when the stucco moulding over all of the chandeliers, jarred by the applause, fell with a crash, some of it upon the stool he had just left.

A rumor had reached Washington that Col. Warfield and Snively had captured the Santa Fé traders without bloodshed! The amount of booty taken is said to be upwards of two hundred thousand dollars. The report was discredited.

Col. Kinney, who had been confined in Matamoros for many months, has made his escape and reached Galveston. A French brig from Havre has arrived at Galveston, having on board 200 emigrants from France.

Col. John O'Brien was lately shot with a rifle ball while standing at the door of his house, in Anahone, by some person concealed in the bushes near the place. He expired a few moments after receiving the wound. Mr. Ferguson, who was standing near him, was also shot and dangerously wounded with buckshot at the same time.

The Washington Vindicator is mainly devoted to the vindication of President Houston from the attacks that are made upon the policy he has pursued. It contains an article with reference to Col. J. H. Perry, whose lecture on Texas and Sam. Houston we reported last winter. It also denounces, in the most violent terms, the execution of the four men convicted of mutiny, by Com. Moore, which it says was done while he was under arrest.

Efforts were made to open the navigation of the Brazos to the falls, one hundred miles above Washington. The Vindicator says that the Mexican General Pardez has raised the standard of revolt against Santa Ana, and it is said that the Meir prisoners in passing through the province of Quarator, where he has command, have been liberated by him, and have unanimously joined his standard.

A large amount of Exchequer bills were sold at Washington, for specie, at sixty cents on the dollar. Late from the Coast of Africa. The brig Robert, Capt. Cook, whose serious difficulty with the British Consul at Sierra Leone we mentioned at length some days since, arrived at this port yesterday morning.

The native inhabitants were generally very peaceable and did not interrupt the trade in any manner whatever, except on the River Pongo, where a cruel and bloody war exists without any prospect of its speedy termination. It seriously interrupts all valuable trade in that neighborhood, very much to the cost of the traders on the coast, of whom there are at present a great number.

The English vessels of war still keep up the practice of boarding American vessels, but generally treat them with courtesy and politeness.—The brig Robert was herself boarded by a boat from an English steamer.

The Slave Factories on the Island of Galenas were rebuilt, and were doing as brisk a business as ever, according to the account given by a Spanish slaver to Capt. Cook. There were a number of slaves on the Coast, one or two of which had full cargoes and were preparing to sail for Cuba. The health all along the Coast was excellent; no accounts were received from the Colony at Monrovia.

The Robert brings a quantity of gold dust and ivory as part of her cargo. She is consigned to her owners, Messrs. Gilman & Smith. Later from Montevideo. The Bremen bark Julius and Edvard, Captain Siedenburg, arrived yesterday, bringing Montevideo dates to 11th May. Oribe was still besieging the city, and about 5000 Foreigners, principally French and Italians, had declared in favor of the City Government. Admin. Brown had made a second attack on Rat Island, but the British Commodore Parry interfered. It was thought that both belligerents would consent that Rat Island should be occupied by the Central forces.

In Buenos Ayres there was still some considerable excitement against the foreigners for their interference. Hon JOHN HOLMES, U. S. Attorney for the District of Maine, whose sickness we mentioned yesterday, died at Portland on the evening of the 7th inst. He had just completed his 70th year. He was a lawyer of decided ability and was highly esteemed in public and in private life.

Personalities. Rev. Drs. SMITH and ANTHONY will publish their exposé of the recent trouble at St. Stephen's Church in a pamphlet. It will, we understand, aim to produce testimony to prove that the candidate for ordination objected to had expressed a decided preference for Romanism.

ARTHUR MIDDLETON, Esq. lately U. S. Charge at Madrid, where he acquired unbounded popularity by his manifold eccentricities, as well as by his more substantial and serviceable talents, is at present in this city. Our readers will recollect a racy account we published some months since of a splendid entertainment he gave at Madrid, at which he brilliantly acted the part of a picadore in a savage bull-fight.

Col. R. M. JOHNSON has announced in a letter to the Editor of the Pottsville Pa. Emporium that he will start on his eastern tour to New-Jersey, Massachusetts, Vermont and other States some time between the 19th and the 30th of August.

The friends of Hon. DAVID HENSHAW intend to give him a public dinner previous to his departure for Washington. Hon. LUTHER BRADISH, late Lieut. Governor of this State has retired to a farm in Westchester County.

Hon. WILLIS HALL is at Howard's Hotel. Judge JOHN McLEAN, Judge LEAVITT, Col. JOHNSON, Gov. SHANNON, Hon. THOMAS L. EWING, Hon. BENJ. TAPPAN, Hon. THOS. L. HAMER, and Hon. D. KILGORE are mentioned by the Chronicle as being on the 5th inst. all in Cincinnati.

Gen. WORTH was to leave St. Augustine on Saturday last, in the steamer Col. Harney, for Tampa, to hold a talk with some of Sam. Jones' tribe, now at that place.

Count D'Orsay is mentioned in the London Morning Post as one of the guests at a dinner lately given by Lord Brougham. It seems probable therefore that he was not shot in a duel as was rumored.

Dr. LARDNER is still lecturing at St. Louis—His lectures are well attended. WALLACE, the celebrated violinist, had a narrow escape at Baltimore a few nights since, at one of his concerts. He had just left the piano stool when the stucco moulding over all of the chandeliers, jarred by the applause, fell with a crash, some of it upon the stool he had just left.

No injury was sustained by any one. Signor ANTONIINI, well known to our musical public, unfortunately broke his arm just above the elbow on the 3d inst. at Pittsburgh, Pa. while exhibiting some feats of strength to a few friends at his lodgings.

MAX BOBER, the celebrated violinist, is at Pittsburgh, Pa., giving concerts. DEMETER is singing to good houses at Buffalo.

Disturbance of Public Worship.—We were much surprised on Sunday evening when passing Vauxhall Garden, to hear a musical band playing a selection of pieces from operas, accompanied by the loud hammering of the visitors upon the tables to attract the notice of the servants, the loud calls for ice creams, &c. &c. We should hardly suppose such a desecration of the Sabbath would be permitted.

The Garden is in the immediate neighborhood of four churches, in which devotional exercises were held, and so loud were the strains from the band that all four congregations must have been seriously disturbed, not to speak of the neighbors who might wish to enjoy a quiet Sabbath evening at home.

James M. Greene, Surgeon of the U. S. N., publishes in the Courier a full refutation of the charge which was recently circulated in some of the city papers, that he grossly insulted the Coroner, Mr. Archer, while in the discharge of his duty in holding an inquest upon the body of a lad named Storms who was killed by falling upon the deck of the Independence. He gives letters from Mr. A. Storm, father of the deceased, and from J. A. Rinagle and D. S. Edwards, who were present, proving that the Coroner was guilty of the first rudeness, and that Mr. Greene's conduct was in every respect courteous, kind and proper.

We are requested by Mrs. Farnham and Mrs. Stephens to say that the paragraph in our paper contradicting the rumor that they are to be connected with the contemplated Ladies' daily, arose from no doubt of the talent or integrity of the persons who projected that enterprise, or from any disapprobation of the project itself, but from existing engagements, which would have rendered any movement of the kind a violation of contracts in other quarters.

Letters have been received from Mr. Perkins, the American Missionary in Persia, to the 16th May, at which time he had reached Trebizond, a city of 50,000 people on the Black Sea, with his family and Mr. Yohannan. He writes that with the remarkable extension of commerce the facilities of diffusing Christian influence also increase.

Deaths in the City.—The weekly Report of Interments shows that the whole number of deaths for the week was—35 men, 38 women, 63 boys, 58 girls, total 198. Of these there died of Cholera Infantum 24, Consumption 26, Convulsions 25, Dropsy in the head 9, Dysentery 7, Erysipelas 4, Inflammation of brain 7, do. of bowels 6, do. of chest 6, do. of lungs 11, Influenza 6, Old Age 6.

State Prison Statistics.—Mr. A. M. C. Smith, Deputy Sheriff, informs us that during the present month six prisoners have been discharged from the State Prison at Sing Sing by expiration of sentence, and that there remain in the institution 765 males and 76 females—total 841. This is a larger number than has been in the prison at one time for the last two years.

William Johnson, a fugitive convict from the Missouri Penitentiary, has been retaken and sent back: he is under sentence for ninety-four years! This was his third escape. He says that two of the convicts who escaped with him—Francis McGee and Thos. Perry—were drowned afterwards. It is believed that two other convicts—were with Johnson about the time of his capture; but they have so far escaped.

Mr. HIELD, who was for some time manager of the Theatre in Washington City, died lately in Florida, where he had been performing with a dramatic corps. Hon. JOHN HOLMES, U. S. District Attorney of Maine, is dangerously sick.

POSTSCRIPT.

Half-past 5, A. M. LOSS OF THE STEAMSHIP COLUMBIA. We are indebted to Capt. Brainard of the South America from Albany, for a copy of the Boston Mail, containing the following account of the loss of the Steamer Columbia:

We learn by the passengers that arrived in the Eastern stage last evening, that Captain S. Kendrick of a small schooner arrived at Ellsworth on Friday forenoon, bringing letters from Hon. Abbott Lawrence for the mail, for performing which service at the speediest possible time he was paid one hundred dollars.

He reports that the Columbia on her passage from Boston to Halifax, on Monday noon in a thick fog, ran on to Black Ledge, near Seal Island off the coast of Nova Scotia, at high water.

There were a number of fishing vessels in the vicinity that took the passengers, mails and baggage on to the main land. As the tide receded, the steamship commenced breaking up, and at 8 o'clock, the time Capt. K. left, it was supposed she would be a total wreck.

Capt. K. was employed by the Hon. Abbott Lawrence of Boston who was a passenger in the Columbia, to take letters to the nearest port in Maine. He landed at Ellsworth as before stated and the letters will go on to Boston in the same mail with this slip.

There was one man missing, but whether lost or not could not be ascertained. The following is a letter from the Post-Master of Ellsworth, Me., to the Postmaster in Portland: POST-OFFICE, ELLSWORTH, ME.

DEAR SIR: A captain of a British fishing schooner has just arrived at this place with the intelligence of the loss of the steamship Columbia, which sailed from Boston last Saturday. She was lost on, or near Seal Island, with 168 souls on board, 95 of whom were passengers. All saved, together with the mails, baggage, &c.

The passengers and crews were on the island awaiting a steamer for which they had sent to Halifax. Hon. Abbott Lawrence of Boston, who was on board, hired the Captain of the fishing vessel to come to the U. S. with letters, and he fell in at S. W. Harbor, and has just arrived here in season for the letters to go this mail. Please hand this to the editor of the American as soon as received. Yours, truly,

Jos. A. WOOD, Post-Master, Ellsworth. Extract of a Letter to a gentleman in Savannah. 4th July. The ship will be likely to go in a day or two. R. S.

We are indebted to the politeness of Mr. Gordon, Postmaster of Boston, for permission to copy the following letter from Lieut. Parsons, giving full particulars of the loss of the Columbia: LETTER FROM LIEUT. PARSONS. The Columbia sailed from Boston at 2 P. M., on Saturday, the 1st of July, with the American mail for Halifax and England, with 90 passengers and a crew of 80 in number, making in all from 170 upwards. Water smooth, but very foggy.

On Sunday, at quarter past one, in the afternoon, while steaming at the rate of ten knots, grounded and heeled to port, with her bow high up, and her stern in deep water, having quarter less five abaft, observed splinters from false keel, and fore foot along side, and fired alarm guns, which were answered by musket and horn.

At 4 P. M., a boat with the master of Seal Island Light came alongside with information that that the Columbia lay on Black Ledge Reef, and within a mile and a quarter of the Island at this time. The fog was dense and the wind moderate from S. S. E.

As the tide fell, a pointed rock of a sugar-loaf construction, uncovered to the depth of ten feet, and less than that distance from the bow. The ship lay on an inclined plane of smooth rock, from her bow forward, while her stern was in deep water, and as she strained heavily, it was judged fit to land the lady passengers, or about twenty, who up to this time had displayed wonderful fortitude and self-possession; nor did it desert them when placed under the protection of a perfect stranger, the master of Seal Island Light, to land on a small, rocky and ragged island, with only another family beside his own to take from its desolate appearance; and well did Mr. Hitchings, the master of the Light, fulfil that trust.—His great kindness to them, and his efficient services to us, cannot be too highly estimated.

On the night's tide, having lightened the ship by discharging coal, anchors, chains, &c. &c., tried the only engine that would work, and have on our stern anchor.

But although she rolled uneasily on her bed, she did not start an inch at 5 A. M. Judging from the distressed situation of the ship and the falling tides that our chance of saving her was small, landed Her Majesty's mail on Seal Island, and got it secured by the kindness of Mr. Hitchings. Found the island as barren as its desolate appearance denoted, and our lady passengers were kindly but poorly accommodated, with the distressing want of water added to its numerous discomforts—all of which were borne with cheerfulness and resignation.

I have to observe that this beautiful steamboat ashore under charge of her well-tried pilot, Capt. Stairs, and that the cool seamanship and conduct of Capt. Shannon, his officers and crew, with their indefatigable and never-failing exertions, not only excited my admiration, but that of all his passengers, who labored with much zeal, I fear in vain, for this most excellent steamer will only be taken by pieces from her present dangerous position.

We were enabled yesterday to send the melancholy intelligence to Halifax, and expect the Margate here to-morrow night. This is written under confusing and unpleasant circumstances, which in some measure will account for the hurried and imperfect statement of this melancholy loss. I am, my dear sir, very truly yours,

G. S. PARSONS, Lt. R. N. British Adm. Agent. SEAL ISLAND, 2 P. M., 4th July, 1843.
