

Who began the War? The question whether to commence hostilities, the Mexican Army invaded our territory, it is generally admitted that the Mexican Army invaded our territory...

Mr. Beverley Johnson and the War-The Whigs and the Post. It is but just to Senator Johnson to state that his late speech on the War is by no means the novelty which the most like of his friends and his foes represent it.

Mr. Huntington's Comm. moved to strike out the preamble, which was voted down by 28 Yeas to 14 Nays...

The Evening Post chooses its position among the journals which exult over Mr. Johnson's speech, and in order that our readers may have its grounds of triumph fairly before them, we copy its leader of yesterday verbatim. It is as follows:

The speech of Senator Johnson, of Maryland, on the war with Mexico, which we give some portions of in this issue, is a specimen of the kind of oratory which is now so common in the halls of Congress...

Now that any Whig journals or other adversaries of the War have proclaimed Mexico entirely right in all her dealings with the United States, we have not seen. We all know the Mexicans to be a semi-barbarous people, their ruling class prone to turbulence and plunder...

We learn from the Auburn Daily Advertiser that the State Prison Inspectors have made the following appointments for the Auburn State Prison: A. Gray, Auburn, and R. C. Chappey, Warrenville...

The Sewing Machine. That men so conspicuously before the country as Senator Benton and Gen. Kearney, should make presence a matter of debate in the Fremont Trial, is indeed much to be regretted.

From Haverhill. The Honorable Bridgewater, Capt. Matthews, 27 days from New York, arrived yesterday. He is a man of high rank, and an officer of the highest order...

Things in Washington, &c. &c. Loco-Foco Senator Dickinson. The more I see of Loco-Focoism the more I see its other dishonesty and hypocrisy. From day to day, in both Houses of Congress and in the Union...

When I went into the Hall, they had got through with the supper, provided elegantly by Mr. Thompson, of the United States Hotel. Senator Dickinson was standing on the table, about the middle of the hall, reading a speech from manuscript...

The Great Gains Case. It will delight many of our readers—all indeed who have been acquainted with the merits of this case, which for the long period of fourteen years has been in the courts—to learn that the Supreme Court of the United States yesterday afternoon decided it on all points in favor of Mrs. Gaines.

Mr. Clay in the Supreme Court—Decision in favor of Mrs. Gaines' Claim. Mr. Clay attended the Supreme Court yesterday and moved the admission to practice of Mr. Nathaniel H. Bonaparte and Andrew Jackson, and actually making comparisons, called Clay 'the noblest work of God'...

Markets. NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848. The Cotton market is depressed, but there is a demand for previous quotations. The sugar market is fairly supplied—small sales at yesterday's prices...

NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848.—Cleaned—Ship Lark, Philadelphia; ship Louis, Boston. Arrived—Lark, Antigua, Boston.

XXXIX CONGRESS—First Session. By Telegraph to the Tribune. SENATE.—WASHINGTON, JAN. 13, 1848. Mr. HENRY reported a bill supplementary to the act retroceding Alexandria to Virginia.

Mr. MASON introduced a resolution which has been passed, calling on the President for copies of all the suggestions and opinions transmitted by Gen. Scott relative to the force requisite to carry it out. Mr. JOHNSON'S bill submitted a resolution calling for a settlement of losses by express and to the New Orleans. Agreed to.

Mr. BENTON does not now attend the Fremont Court. On Saturday, he rose indignantly like the far-famed Argemone, and much was his dark brow filled with rage, and his eyes resembled flashing fire.

THE SENATOR FROM MISSISSIPPI.—A correspondent of the Boston Courier, writing from Bangor, gives the following information: The appointment of Mr. Attorney General Moore to the office of Secretary of the Treasury, is such an one as might have been expected in our somewhat low-down Government.

VEGETABLE LEATHER.—We learn from the New-York Times that Mr. H. H. Day, the celebrated inventor of the vegetable leather, has been successful in patenting the value of a new substance recently discovered, called vegetable leather, or various names.

THE WATKINS.—At Amsterdam, on Tuesday morning, the 13th inst., at 30 years of age, died Mr. A. Watkins, a native of New York.

LATER FROM MEXICO. OPINION OF THE COUNTRY. MEXICAN CONGRESS. Attacks of Hobbess. By Pony Express and Telegraph TO THE TRIBUNE.

Nothing left for us but to plunder and destroy. He hoped we should not thus hazard our national honor, because Mexico is too proud to sue for the peace she desires. As to the incorporation of Mexico in our Union, he says it never would take place.

On the motion of Mr. BUTLER the Senate adjourned. The resolution of Mr. SCHENCK from the Navy Committee for increasing the number of the Chief of the Secretaries of the Navy for giving additional rank to surgeons and purgers of the Navy was reconsidered, and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. CLAY in the Supreme Court—Decision in favor of Mrs. Gaines' Claim. Mr. CLAY attended the Supreme Court yesterday and moved the admission to practice of Mr. Nathaniel H. Bonaparte and Andrew Jackson, and actually making comparisons, called Clay 'the noblest work of God'...

NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848. The Cotton market is depressed, but there is a demand for previous quotations. The sugar market is fairly supplied—small sales at yesterday's prices...

NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848.—Cleaned—Ship Lark, Philadelphia; ship Louis, Boston. Arrived—Lark, Antigua, Boston.

XXXIX CONGRESS—First Session. By Telegraph to the Tribune. SENATE.—WASHINGTON, JAN. 13, 1848. Mr. HENRY reported a bill supplementary to the act retroceding Alexandria to Virginia.

Mr. MASON introduced a resolution which has been passed, calling on the President for copies of all the suggestions and opinions transmitted by Gen. Scott relative to the force requisite to carry it out. Mr. JOHNSON'S bill submitted a resolution calling for a settlement of losses by express and to the New Orleans. Agreed to.

Mr. BENTON does not now attend the Fremont Court. On Saturday, he rose indignantly like the far-famed Argemone, and much was his dark brow filled with rage, and his eyes resembled flashing fire.

THE SENATOR FROM MISSISSIPPI.—A correspondent of the Boston Courier, writing from Bangor, gives the following information: The appointment of Mr. Attorney General Moore to the office of Secretary of the Treasury, is such an one as might have been expected in our somewhat low-down Government.

VEGETABLE LEATHER.—We learn from the New-York Times that Mr. H. H. Day, the celebrated inventor of the vegetable leather, has been successful in patenting the value of a new substance recently discovered, called vegetable leather, or various names.

THE WATKINS.—At Amsterdam, on Tuesday morning, the 13th inst., at 30 years of age, died Mr. A. Watkins, a native of New York.

NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848. The Cotton market is depressed, but there is a demand for previous quotations. The sugar market is fairly supplied—small sales at yesterday's prices...

NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848.—Cleaned—Ship Lark, Philadelphia; ship Louis, Boston. Arrived—Lark, Antigua, Boston.

XXXIX CONGRESS—First Session. By Telegraph to the Tribune. SENATE.—WASHINGTON, JAN. 13, 1848. Mr. HENRY reported a bill supplementary to the act retroceding Alexandria to Virginia.

nothing left for us but to plunder and destroy. He hoped we should not thus hazard our national honor, because Mexico is too proud to sue for the peace she desires. As to the incorporation of Mexico in our Union, he says it never would take place.

On the motion of Mr. BUTLER the Senate adjourned. The resolution of Mr. SCHENCK from the Navy Committee for increasing the number of the Chief of the Secretaries of the Navy for giving additional rank to surgeons and purgers of the Navy was reconsidered, and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. CLAY in the Supreme Court—Decision in favor of Mrs. Gaines' Claim. Mr. CLAY attended the Supreme Court yesterday and moved the admission to practice of Mr. Nathaniel H. Bonaparte and Andrew Jackson, and actually making comparisons, called Clay 'the noblest work of God'...

NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848. The Cotton market is depressed, but there is a demand for previous quotations. The sugar market is fairly supplied—small sales at yesterday's prices...

NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848.—Cleaned—Ship Lark, Philadelphia; ship Louis, Boston. Arrived—Lark, Antigua, Boston.

XXXIX CONGRESS—First Session. By Telegraph to the Tribune. SENATE.—WASHINGTON, JAN. 13, 1848. Mr. HENRY reported a bill supplementary to the act retroceding Alexandria to Virginia.

Mr. MASON introduced a resolution which has been passed, calling on the President for copies of all the suggestions and opinions transmitted by Gen. Scott relative to the force requisite to carry it out. Mr. JOHNSON'S bill submitted a resolution calling for a settlement of losses by express and to the New Orleans. Agreed to.

Mr. BENTON does not now attend the Fremont Court. On Saturday, he rose indignantly like the far-famed Argemone, and much was his dark brow filled with rage, and his eyes resembled flashing fire.

THE SENATOR FROM MISSISSIPPI.—A correspondent of the Boston Courier, writing from Bangor, gives the following information: The appointment of Mr. Attorney General Moore to the office of Secretary of the Treasury, is such an one as might have been expected in our somewhat low-down Government.

VEGETABLE LEATHER.—We learn from the New-York Times that Mr. H. H. Day, the celebrated inventor of the vegetable leather, has been successful in patenting the value of a new substance recently discovered, called vegetable leather, or various names.

THE WATKINS.—At Amsterdam, on Tuesday morning, the 13th inst., at 30 years of age, died Mr. A. Watkins, a native of New York.

NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848. The Cotton market is depressed, but there is a demand for previous quotations. The sugar market is fairly supplied—small sales at yesterday's prices...

NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848.—Cleaned—Ship Lark, Philadelphia; ship Louis, Boston. Arrived—Lark, Antigua, Boston.

XXXIX CONGRESS—First Session. By Telegraph to the Tribune. SENATE.—WASHINGTON, JAN. 13, 1848. Mr. HENRY reported a bill supplementary to the act retroceding Alexandria to Virginia.

nothing left for us but to plunder and destroy. He hoped we should not thus hazard our national honor, because Mexico is too proud to sue for the peace she desires. As to the incorporation of Mexico in our Union, he says it never would take place.

On the motion of Mr. BUTLER the Senate adjourned. The resolution of Mr. SCHENCK from the Navy Committee for increasing the number of the Chief of the Secretaries of the Navy for giving additional rank to surgeons and purgers of the Navy was reconsidered, and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. CLAY in the Supreme Court—Decision in favor of Mrs. Gaines' Claim. Mr. CLAY attended the Supreme Court yesterday and moved the admission to practice of Mr. Nathaniel H. Bonaparte and Andrew Jackson, and actually making comparisons, called Clay 'the noblest work of God'...

NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848. The Cotton market is depressed, but there is a demand for previous quotations. The sugar market is fairly supplied—small sales at yesterday's prices...

NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848.—Cleaned—Ship Lark, Philadelphia; ship Louis, Boston. Arrived—Lark, Antigua, Boston.

XXXIX CONGRESS—First Session. By Telegraph to the Tribune. SENATE.—WASHINGTON, JAN. 13, 1848. Mr. HENRY reported a bill supplementary to the act retroceding Alexandria to Virginia.

Mr. MASON introduced a resolution which has been passed, calling on the President for copies of all the suggestions and opinions transmitted by Gen. Scott relative to the force requisite to carry it out. Mr. JOHNSON'S bill submitted a resolution calling for a settlement of losses by express and to the New Orleans. Agreed to.

Mr. BENTON does not now attend the Fremont Court. On Saturday, he rose indignantly like the far-famed Argemone, and much was his dark brow filled with rage, and his eyes resembled flashing fire.

THE SENATOR FROM MISSISSIPPI.—A correspondent of the Boston Courier, writing from Bangor, gives the following information: The appointment of Mr. Attorney General Moore to the office of Secretary of the Treasury, is such an one as might have been expected in our somewhat low-down Government.

VEGETABLE LEATHER.—We learn from the New-York Times that Mr. H. H. Day, the celebrated inventor of the vegetable leather, has been successful in patenting the value of a new substance recently discovered, called vegetable leather, or various names.

THE WATKINS.—At Amsterdam, on Tuesday morning, the 13th inst., at 30 years of age, died Mr. A. Watkins, a native of New York.

NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848. The Cotton market is depressed, but there is a demand for previous quotations. The sugar market is fairly supplied—small sales at yesterday's prices...

NEW-YORK, JAN. 14, 1848.—Cleaned—Ship Lark, Philadelphia; ship Louis, Boston. Arrived—Lark, Antigua, Boston.

XXXIX CONGRESS—First Session. By Telegraph to the Tribune. SENATE.—WASHINGTON, JAN. 13, 1848. Mr. HENRY reported a bill supplementary to the act retroceding Alexandria to Virginia.