REVIEWS OF NEW BOOKS.

HISTORY OF THE SIEGE OF BOSTON, AND OF THE BUNKER HILL, BY RICHARD PROTHINGHAM, JR., &c.

The author of this volume deserves the gratitude of every lover of American history, for the diligence, impartiality, and critical discrimination with which he has investigated the abundant materials for his narrative, furnished by contemporary documents, and for the manly and vigorous simplicity with which he has embodied the fruits of his researches.

THE PATRIOTS OF BOSTON IN 1775. The foremost of them, James Otis, so vehement and wild in his support of liberty that the British called him mad, of such pure patriotism and spirit-stirring eloquence that the people hung upon his words with delight, had accomplished his great pioneer work; and his fine genius, by a savage blow from an enemy, had become a wreck.

Several maps and illustrations accompany this volume, including a Plan of Boston in 1775, by Lieut. Page, now engraved in America for the first time; a Plan of Bunker Hill Battle, by the same person; a Plan of Boston and its Environs, compiled from various sources; and other views and representations on a smaller scale.

"THE ANGLO-AMERICAN NEW-ENGLAND REPOSITORY," conducted by GEO. BUSH, (No. 5, May, 1850), contains the first of a series of articles on the "Principia" of Swedenborg, which, from the specimen afforded, must astonish some of his most fervent admirers.

"LETTERS OF A TRAVELER; OR, NOTES OF THINGS SEEN IN EUROPE AND AMERICA," by WILLIAM COLLIER BRYANT. A collection of letters, the greater part of which have already appeared in print, written at various times, during the last sixteen years, and during journeys made in England, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Cuba, and the United States.

"THE GOSPEL ITS OWN ADVOCATE," by GEORGE GRIFFIN, LL.D.—A Treatise on the Evidences of Christianity by a distinguished jurist, showing a familiarity with the usual course of argument on the subject, and a happy talent for setting forth the results of learned research with the acutest effect.

"THE LORONATTE," by an Opera-God, has won a flattering reputation for its quiet, mischievous humor, its lively sketches of fashionable follies, its shrewd delineations of character, and its mastery of a graceful, transparent, healthy English style.

"THE NEW ENGLANDER," (May), an able number of a rich and vigorous periodical, with articles on R. W. Emerson, Henry Giles, Dr. Chalmers, Hugh Miller, Henry Ward, Jr. and several elaborate discussions of important questions.

"THE TRIPPINGS OF TOM PEPPER," by HARRY FRANCO, is published in a neat edition of two volumes, bringing the biography of its vagrant hero to a close.

"THE PARTNERSHIP" heretofore existing between DANIEL A. LARKIN and THOMAS MULCAHY, as Pawnbrokers, doing business at 206 Center-st. in this City, has been dissolved since the first of May, last, by mutual consent.—Dated, May 10, 1850. DANIEL A. LARKIN. ular Venus school. Mr. Mathews does not rake upon the dens of vulgar debauchery to give an infernal zest to his story, nor does he rely for the strength of his style on the writings of the English language in a convulsion fit.

"A KEY TO OLENDORFF'S METHOD OF LEARNING FRENCH" (12mo. pp. 291) is published in a revised edition by D. APPLETON & CO.
