

TEXAS.

By the arrival of the steamship Louisiana, Capt. Jeremiah Smith, from Galveston, we have papers from that place to the 20th inst., and from Indianola, and San Antonio to the 20th.

The Galveston News of the 24th inst., in its commercial article, says: There have been no arrivals of vessels from Northern or European ports during the past week.

The steamer J. Jenkins, from Sabine, and Clifton, from Mobile, have also come in. Capt. Jenkins reports that the schooner General, on her way to Fine Bluff, passed Clifton on the 19th inst., the river being in very good order.

The steamer J. Jenkins, from Sabine, and Clifton, from Mobile, have also come in. Capt. Jenkins reports that the schooner General, on her way to Fine Bluff, passed Clifton on the 19th inst., the river being in very good order.

The steamer J. Jenkins, from Sabine, and Clifton, from Mobile, have also come in. Capt. Jenkins reports that the schooner General, on her way to Fine Bluff, passed Clifton on the 19th inst., the river being in very good order.

The steamer J. Jenkins, from Sabine, and Clifton, from Mobile, have also come in. Capt. Jenkins reports that the schooner General, on her way to Fine Bluff, passed Clifton on the 19th inst., the river being in very good order.

The steamer J. Jenkins, from Sabine, and Clifton, from Mobile, have also come in. Capt. Jenkins reports that the schooner General, on her way to Fine Bluff, passed Clifton on the 19th inst., the river being in very good order.

The steamer J. Jenkins, from Sabine, and Clifton, from Mobile, have also come in. Capt. Jenkins reports that the schooner General, on her way to Fine Bluff, passed Clifton on the 19th inst., the river being in very good order.

The steamer J. Jenkins, from Sabine, and Clifton, from Mobile, have also come in. Capt. Jenkins reports that the schooner General, on her way to Fine Bluff, passed Clifton on the 19th inst., the river being in very good order.

The steamer J. Jenkins, from Sabine, and Clifton, from Mobile, have also come in. Capt. Jenkins reports that the schooner General, on her way to Fine Bluff, passed Clifton on the 19th inst., the river being in very good order.

We learn from Mr. L. M. Hitchcock, who returned yesterday from a visit to the canal, that the work is progressing slowly and will be completed by the first of June.

The distance to be made before the machine enters East Union Bayou is 132 feet. This bayou (emptying into the Brazos) drains above foot channel, and will only require a little trimming of its banks to fit for navigation.

The Palmetto steamer, which left from Cherokee, on Monday last, at Fisher's Mills four miles this side of Rock, a negro man belonging to Mr. Fisher, killed a Mr. Bartlett, by stabbing him with a knife.

The Palmetto steamer, which left from Cherokee, on Monday last, at Fisher's Mills four miles this side of Rock, a negro man belonging to Mr. Fisher, killed a Mr. Bartlett, by stabbing him with a knife.

The Palmetto steamer, which left from Cherokee, on Monday last, at Fisher's Mills four miles this side of Rock, a negro man belonging to Mr. Fisher, killed a Mr. Bartlett, by stabbing him with a knife.

The Palmetto steamer, which left from Cherokee, on Monday last, at Fisher's Mills four miles this side of Rock, a negro man belonging to Mr. Fisher, killed a Mr. Bartlett, by stabbing him with a knife.

The Palmetto steamer, which left from Cherokee, on Monday last, at Fisher's Mills four miles this side of Rock, a negro man belonging to Mr. Fisher, killed a Mr. Bartlett, by stabbing him with a knife.

The Palmetto steamer, which left from Cherokee, on Monday last, at Fisher's Mills four miles this side of Rock, a negro man belonging to Mr. Fisher, killed a Mr. Bartlett, by stabbing him with a knife.

The Palmetto steamer, which left from Cherokee, on Monday last, at Fisher's Mills four miles this side of Rock, a negro man belonging to Mr. Fisher, killed a Mr. Bartlett, by stabbing him with a knife.

The Palmetto steamer, which left from Cherokee, on Monday last, at Fisher's Mills four miles this side of Rock, a negro man belonging to Mr. Fisher, killed a Mr. Bartlett, by stabbing him with a knife.

and the interest of patients alike require a simplification of the materials which have hitherto formed the resources of practice with the Homeopathic physician.

Such a general view of the spirit and purposes of this remarkable production. We cannot occupy our space with its details, which, although not devoid of interest to the scientific inquirer, are more suited to the examination of professional students.

Rule I. Rise early, and make it a point to retire at ten o'clock. Seven hours' sleep should suffice; although less may, in some cases, and in others, more may be required.

Rule II. Wash your whole body from head to foot, with cold water, every morning, winter and summer, immediately after leaving the bed, and rub yourself well with a fresh towel or coarse linen, immediately after washing.

Rule III. Avoid all kinds of heavy and indigestible food, such as rich pastry, fat, heavy, farinaceous diet, warm bread, and mustard, pepper, &c.

Rule IV. Never sit or sleep in a draught of air; this rule is almost universally violated, but a draught of air is never so hurtful as in a case like this, in another, as it is especially when persons are over heated or covered with perspiration.

Rule V. Dress according to the season; but be careful not to leave off your winter clothes before the warm weather has fairly set in. This rule is frequently violated by persons who are subject to sore throat, bronchitis, chronic cough, and such like weaknesses.

Rule VI. Live as nearly as possible in the same temperature; keep your room moderately warm, and make it a point never to sit near the fire.

Rule VII. Avoid every kind of food or drink which naturally disagrees with you, take no more exercise in the open air than you can comfortably bear, and select particularly fine, bracing or balmy weather for a walk or ride; exposure to rainy, windy, raw or damp weather never does any body any good.

These twelve rules are golden rules, the observance of which will secure to you a long and healthy life, and will save you the expense of a physician, and the pain of a hospital.

several previous works. In point of simplicity and form of expression, if not of freshness of portraiture, we think that the present story is an improvement on those which we have already noticed.

The chief interest of the story dates from this period. Without any marvellous sentimentality, it describes the lights and shades of this mode of life, betraying an intimate knowledge of the interior of a New-England factory village, and relating its daily routine with a spirit and ease, which rather than a charm around what would be deemed by many readers an unpromising subject.

The North-American Review. The April number of this quarterly opens with an interesting biographical and critical notice on De Fos. A very favorable view is taken of the author of Robinson Crusoe, who is eloquently vindicated from the assaults which he experienced from the rabid party spirit of the English Tories, and is held up to our admiration as "the most thorough Englishman and writer of his day, a model of integrity, and as consistent, since not to have been so gifted."

The Life of William Paley. This is followed by a paper on "Liberty Impaired," in which the claims of Alexander Dumas to the place among the heroes of modern literature are made the subject of a searching and most damaging examination. The materials for this labor of love are credited to recent French authors, thus protecting the North-American reviewer from the reproach of a piratical use of other men's writings, which was unmercifully established against Dumas. Eliot's "History of Liberty" receives a degree of commendation which amounts to more of friendship than of just criticism.

The second work on our list is a controversial treatise in reply to Professor Simpson's "Homeopathy" misrepresents, reprinted from the Edinburgh edition. It presents a comparative view of Homeopathy and Allopathy as adapted to acute diseases, and aims to prove that the latter is a fatal delusion—an outline of the life and labors of Hahnemann—a discussion of some of the principal charges against Homeopathy—and a defense of its leading principles.

The Nineteenth Volume of English Reports is published by Little, Brown & Co., Boston, and sold in this city by Lewis & Blood. It contains reports of cases in all the British Courts of Equity during the year 1853.

NEW WORKS IN PREPARATION. Miller, Orton & Mulligan, of Auburn and Buffalo, will soon issue the second series of "Fern Leaves," by FANNY PERIN. The first series of "Fern Leaves," although issued only some eight months since, has reached a sale of over sixty thousand copies; "Little Ferns," from the same pen, has reached a sale of thirty thousand copies in three months; and we are informed that twenty thousand copies of the second series of "Fern Leaves" have already been ordered, in advance of publication.

RECORDS OF THE LIFE, CHARACTER, AND ACHIEVEMENTS OF ALONZO JUDSON. 12mo. pp. 45. Edited and published by the Rev. Wm. H. Burleigh, of New York. With the admirable biography of Dr. Judson by President Wayland, we do not perceive that there was any demand for this work in the literary market. The touching and often romantic story of the noble-minded, heroic missionary is replete with a grace, and dignity and simplicity, which entitles it to a high place in the popular, as well as the refined literature of this country.

RECORDS OF THE LIFE, CHARACTER, AND ACHIEVEMENTS OF ALONZO JUDSON. 12mo. pp. 45. Edited and published by the Rev. Wm. H. Burleigh, of New York. With the admirable biography of Dr. Judson by President Wayland, we do not perceive that there was any demand for this work in the literary market.

At about 1 o'clock on Wednesday morning a fire broke out in the Star Mill, which, in a short time, reduced the entire premises to a mass of ruins. It appears to have originated in a small building contiguous to the mill, then used as a sleeping-house, whence it reached the third story.

THE STATE OF EUROPE.

From Our Correspondent. LONDON, Friday, March 17, 1854. The flames of antagonism are burning forth with a force in Europe. The fire of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time.

The flames of antagonism are burning forth with a force in Europe. The fire of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time.

The flames of antagonism are burning forth with a force in Europe. The fire of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time.

The flames of antagonism are burning forth with a force in Europe. The fire of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time.

The flames of antagonism are burning forth with a force in Europe. The fire of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time.

The flames of antagonism are burning forth with a force in Europe. The fire of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time.

The flames of antagonism are burning forth with a force in Europe. The fire of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time.

The flames of antagonism are burning forth with a force in Europe. The fire of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time.

The flames of antagonism are burning forth with a force in Europe. The fire of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time.

The flames of antagonism are burning forth with a force in Europe. The fire of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time, but that of conquest seems to have been kindled for a time.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

The clearing details begin to pour in from all parts of the State, showing an unprecedented triumph for Freedom and Temperance. The Representatives, so far as heard from, are as follows:

As to the popular vote on Governor and the Legislature, The New Haven Palladium says: Mr. Dutton appears to have obtained one third more votes than his opponent, and has been well sustained.

The State is reported to stand 16 Whigs and 3 Democrats. The Democrats have carried, possibly the 13th and 14th, all it would give them only 5 of the 21. "LET THE PEOPLE RULE!"

We find nearly one half of all the Democrats elected to the House, and nearly all the Whigs elected to the Senate. The Democrats have carried, possibly the 13th and 14th, all it would give them only 5 of the 21. "LET THE PEOPLE RULE!"

Such a complete rout never was known before in the history of the State. The Whigs have been completely routed, and the Democrats have been completely routed, and the Democrats have been completely routed.

Another Littlefield Co. correspondent writes: This notwithstanding the petting vote of your Government, the Whigs have triumphed. This the liquor question was distinctly the issue.

Another Littlefield Co. correspondent writes: This notwithstanding the petting vote of your Government, the Whigs have triumphed. This the liquor question was distinctly the issue.

Another Littlefield Co. correspondent writes: This notwithstanding the petting vote of your Government, the Whigs have triumphed. This the liquor question was distinctly the issue.

APPROVED BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

WATERBURY, N.Y. The Mayor, Col. M. W. Strong, was inducted into office on the 3d inst. In his inaugural address he calls the attention of the Common Council to various city improvements and reforms, and the necessity of taking precautions for guarding the health of the city.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. The Mayor, Col. M. W. Strong, was inducted into office on the 3d inst. In his inaugural address he calls the attention of the Common Council to various city improvements and reforms, and the necessity of taking precautions for guarding the health of the city.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. The Mayor, Col. M. W. Strong, was inducted into office on the 3d inst. In his inaugural address he calls the attention of the Common Council to various city improvements and reforms, and the necessity of taking precautions for guarding the health of the city.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. The Mayor, Col. M. W. Strong, was inducted into office on the 3d inst. In his inaugural address he calls the attention of the Common Council to various city improvements and reforms, and the necessity of taking precautions for guarding the health of the city.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. The Mayor, Col. M. W. Strong, was inducted into office on the 3d inst. In his inaugural address he calls the attention of the Common Council to various city improvements and reforms, and the necessity of taking precautions for guarding the health of the city.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. The Mayor, Col. M. W. Strong, was inducted into office on the 3d inst. In his inaugural address he calls the attention of the Common Council to various city improvements and reforms, and the necessity of taking precautions for guarding the health of the city.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. The Mayor, Col. M. W. Strong, was inducted into office on the 3d inst. In his inaugural address he calls the attention of the Common Council to various city improvements and reforms, and the necessity of taking precautions for guarding the health of the city.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. The Mayor, Col. M. W. Strong, was inducted into office on the 3d inst. In his inaugural address he calls the attention of the Common Council to various city improvements and reforms, and the necessity of taking precautions for guarding the health of the city.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

COURT OF APPEALS.

April 5, 1854. No. 39. RICHARDSON, vs. THE STATE. The Court of Appeals, in a unanimous opinion, affirmed the judgment of the Circuit Court in favor of the State.

April 5, 1854. No. 40. RICHARDSON, vs. THE STATE. The Court of Appeals, in a unanimous opinion, affirmed the judgment of the Circuit Court in favor of the State.

April 5, 1854. No. 41. RICHARDSON, vs. THE STATE. The Court of Appeals, in a unanimous opinion, affirmed the judgment of the Circuit Court in favor of the State.

April 5, 1854. No. 42. RICHARDSON, vs. THE STATE. The Court of Appeals, in a unanimous opinion, affirmed the judgment of the Circuit Court in favor of the State.

April 5, 1854. No. 43. RICHARDSON, vs. THE STATE. The Court of Appeals, in a unanimous opinion, affirmed the judgment of the Circuit Court in favor of the State.

April 5, 1854. No. 44. RICHARDSON, vs. THE STATE. The Court of Appeals, in a unanimous opinion, affirmed the judgment of the Circuit Court in favor of the State.

April 5, 1854. No. 45. RICHARDSON, vs. THE STATE. The Court of Appeals, in a unanimous opinion, affirmed the judgment of the Circuit Court in favor of the State.

April 5, 1854. No. 46. RICHARDSON, vs. THE STATE. The Court of Appeals, in a unanimous opinion, affirmed the judgment of the Circuit Court in favor of the State.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate. CORNELIUS VAN DEUSEN, D. Magistrate of Lowell, to be United States Marshal, with leave to resign his office in the State of Massachusetts.