

Barney Gallagher, tailor—riot; Officer Finch. Committed by Justice Welch.

Robert Sturges, butcher—stabbing; Officers Kemp and Barrett. Committed by Justice Welch.

John C. Smith, complainant against Ploger, was badly stabbed in the testicles. He was taken to the Hospital. The stabbing took place in Anthony, near Church street.

Several of these men were more or less cut in the head, also a few of the special police. Dr. Killbourne dressed the wounds of eight persons in all.

The stabbing affair of the three persons last mentioned in Canal street, Shamber has a large beer saloon in Canal street. Shamber has a large beer saloon in Canal street.

About 12 o'clock Saturday night a fire was discovered in the carpenter's shop corner of West Broadway and York streets, which was speedily extinguished by the police of the precinct.

SIXTH PRECINCT. This District was again the scene of rowdiness during the most of Saturday afternoon and evening, occasioned by that class of rowdies and thieves termed "Dead Rabbits," who attacked the Police, and also came in conflict with another party of men and boys, called Bowery Boys, when guns and pistols were freely used.

The scene of riot was mostly confined to the Bayard street, between Elizabeth and Baxter streets. A crowd of 40 or 50 persons, mostly of the Bowery Boys, were set upon and stoned by the said Dead Rabbit gang, when one of the officers was seriously cut.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

On the side of the head by a brick, which was taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital. He was afterwards taken to the Hospital.

FIFTEENTH PRECINCT. Sarah Hill, domestic—vagrancy; Officer Dutton. Committed by Justice Davison.

Thomas Chary, carpenter—disorderly conduct; Officer Little. Discharged by Sergeant Upland.

Thomas McCarri, laborer—assault and battery on Mr. Green; Officer Davis. Committed in default of $500 by Justice Davison.

Thomas Daily, laborer—baldness mischief; Officer Wilson. Committed by Justice Davison in default of $500.

Thomas Maloy, laborer—disorderly conduct; Officer Wilson. Discharged by Capt. Dicks.

In the Fifteenth Precinct the "Fourth" passed off with less than usual demonstration. No disturbance worthy of note took place in the district, and no accident of any kind was reported. By midnight, everything was quiet, all firing having ceased.

Francis Colby, No. 22 Minetta street went home intoxicated on Saturday night, and on Sunday morning was found dead on the floor.

SIXTEENTH PRECINCT. John Barrett, mechanic—intoxication; Officer Fischer. Discharged by Justice Davison.

Albert Birch, farmer—intoxication; Officer McConnell. Discharged by Justice Davison.

Thomas McDonough—disorderly conduct; Officer Butler. Discharged by Justice Davison.

William Davis, mechanic—disorderly conduct; Officer Hyatt. Discharged by Justice Davison.

Edward W. Taylor, laborer—disorderly conduct; Officer Conroy. Committed by Justice Davison, in default of $500 bail.

Andrew Murray, laborer—disorderly conduct; Officer Bennett. Committed by Justice Davison, in default of $500 bail.

John Irwin, laborer—disorderly conduct; Officer Jackson. Discharged by Justice Davison.

John Kinney—disorderly conduct; Officer Layden. Committed by Justice Davison, in default of $500 bail.

Heyron Holland, laborer—disorderly conduct; Officer Leonard. Committed by Justice Davison, in default of $500 bail.

Patrick Leonard, laborer—assault and battery on J. G. Sande; Officer Smith. Committed by Justice Davison, in default of $500 bail.

Thomas Leonard, laborer—intoxication; Officer Jackson. Committed by Justice Davison.

Patrick Leonard committed an assault and battery on Mr. J. G. Sande, this ward, with a knife, cutting the hand of the officers in the discharge of their duty. The officers displayed great courage in these arrests, as they had to contend with a gathering of more than 500 persons, being compelled to display their "shootings" to succeed. With these exceptions, nothing quiet prevailed in this district.

WILLIAM SUTHERLAND, Special Ad. SEVENTEENTH PRECINCT. The day passed off comparatively quiet in this district. No serious disturbance occurred. About 7 o'clock, a man named John Hitchcock, who had been on duty in the Sixth Ward, returned, with a slight injury on his head.

It has been very quiet in this ward for the Fourth of July. Nothing of importance has happened. Two children were restored to their parents. A man, name unknown, was found drowned at the foot of Twenty-first street, E. R., this morning. He was taken to Bellevue by Officers Sherwood and Loughton.

HERNANDEZ, First Sergeant. Richard Crowley, laborer—fighting; Officer Polly. Discharged by Alderman McSpedden.

Michael Oden, sailor—intoxicated; Officer Wright. John McFee, laborer—intoxicated; Officer Wright. Anne Jane Dayton, housekeeper—drunken and disorderly conduct.

John McNamara, laborer—drunken and disorderly conduct. Catharine Conkley, lat trimmer—drunken and disorderly conduct.

Joseph Warner, house of prostitution—disorderly house; Officer Harold. Committed in default of $100 bail.

John M. Satterley, ironmith—drunk and indecent exposure of person; Officer Hyatt. Discharged by the Court.

Thomas McDonough—disorderly conduct; Officer Hyatt. Discharged by the Court.

John Woods—assault and battery; Officer Smith. Discharged by the Court.

Our entire force has been on duty for the last 36 hours. The Ward is now remarkably quiet. It was a quiet Fourth of July. The day is entirely broken up, and one still worse, at No. 43 Eighth avenue is now closed, and will be closed in a few days.

FRANCIS M. CURRY, Sergeant. JOHN REYNOLDS, laborer—disorderly conduct; Officer Matthews. Held to bail in the sum of $300 by Justice Davison.

Patrick Austin, laborer—disorderly conduct; Officer Rockwell. Held to bail in the sum of $300 by Justice Davison.

Lawrence Logan, laborer—petty larceny; Officer Stephens. Two lost children restored. A pair of horses and carriage found astray, and taken to Bradley's Livery Stable in Thirty-first street. Everything passed off quietly in this Precinct yesterday. Rowdiness was at a discount. Never since the Ward was organized was there such a quiet Fourth of July. Scarcely a drunken man was to be seen during the day or night. All classes of citizens expressed themselves as being in favor of upholding the law.

While the riot was raging fiercely corner of Bayard and Mulberry streets, on Saturday afternoon, William Penney, who was witnessing the fight from the second story window of house No. 78 Bayard street, where he was on a visit to some friends, received a bullet in the forehead and fell insensible to the floor.

He was taken up and laid on the bed, when a physician was called to attend him. Medical aid proved of no avail, and Penney, after lingering much longer than it was thought possible for him to survive, died early on Sunday afternoon. The deceased was a native of England, and resided on the corner of North Moore and Hudson streets. He had no relatives in this country. The ball that took his life shattered the window-shutters, and, after passing through the head of the unfortunate man, lodged in the casing of the window. Coroner Conroy will hold an inquest on the body to-day. It is unknown who fired the fatal shot.

CORONER'S INQUIRY. During the terrible riot which occurred on the corner of Bayard and Mulberry streets, on Saturday afternoon, one of the persons shot was Cornelius Mahony, a boy. What part he took in the disgraceful affair did not transpire, but it is certain he was among the rioters.

No clue could be obtained of the individual who fired the fatal shot, and in all probability the guilty party will not be identified and thereby escape the punishment due for the murder which he so richly merits.

The following is the evidence adduced before the Jury: Matthew Mahony being duly sworn, deposes and says: I live at No. 119 Mulberry street; I am father of the boy who was shot in Mulberry street about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. I was at my own house when a little boy came and told me my son was shot at the corner of Bayard and Mulberry streets; I shortly afterward saw my son brought home by men; I had him conveyed to the New-York Hospital, where he died in an hour afterward; the way I heard it happened, was that a crowd of men was gathered in front of the corner of Bayard and Mulberry streets, one of the party fired, and the ball entered my child's head, which caused his death; I don't know, neither could I ascertain who the man was who shot my child, neither could I ascertain who any of the men were.

Thomas Bradley, of No. 188 Hester street, corroborated the evidence of the previous witness.

Henry D. Noyes, House Surgeon, being sworn, deposes and says: Deceased was admitted into the Hospital last evening, July 4, between 7 and 8 o'clock, with a wound of the skull over the right ear; the boy was in a state of collapse, cold, almost dead, and insensible; from the wound blood and a small fraction of the brain came out; in about an hour he died; after death I probed the wound and the probe passed into the brain, going downward and inward to the extent of about three inches; I judge that it was the appearance of the wound that was produced by a bullet; it was the cause of death.

It being impossible to obtain further evidence, the case was given to the Jury, who, after a short deliberation, rendered the following verdict: "That Cornelius Mahony, the deceased, came to his death by a gun shot wound in the head, received from the hands of some person unknown to the Jury, on the corner of Bayard and Mulberry streets, on Saturday, July 4, 1867.

The deceased was 14 years of age, and a native of Ireland.

ITEM FROM AN EYE WITNESS. An ex-officer says that a friend of his from the country, who happened to be in the vicinity of the affray on Saturday, went into Elizabeth street to look at the rioters. He states that he stood in the street at the side of an Irishman who was loading a gun. He thought the man intended to discharge his weapon in the air, in celebration of the day, but instead of so doing, he pointed the gun at the crowd and fired. The stranger saw a man fall, the bullet from the gun seeming to strike him in the head. At this dreadful occurrence, he said to the Irishman, "You have killed that man;" to which he replied "And I would have killed you;" The deliberate murderer, of course, was not arrested, for such an undertaking would probably have cost the stranger his life.

DESPERATE AFFRAY IN THE TWENTIETH WARD.—ONE MAN STABBED, AND A NUMBER BADLY BEATEN. At an early hour on the morning of the Fourth a terrible affray occurred in the porter-house, No. 487 Eighth avenue, kept by Henry Herman, and, during the course of the disturbance, a man named Freeman Campbell was stabbed and so badly beaten that his recovery is a matter of doubt. Joseph Foss of the Eleventh avenue was also terribly beaten. Word was dispatched to the Twentieth Ward Station-House, when Sergeants Curry and Dennet with a posse of men started for the scene, but upon arriving at the place found the door shut and fastened. The officers knocked at the door and demanded admittance, but were told to go about their business, upon which they forced open the door. Three or four men, who stood inside armed with bludgeons, hatchets, ice-tongs and other weapons, dared the police to enter. An excited crowd soon gathered about the premises; and while the officers were talking with those inside, some person or other in the street discharged a pistol loaded with ball at the house, the ball taking effect in the fleshy part of the leg of the proprietor of the house, and bringing him to the floor. The others in the house now fled through the rear windows and door into the yard, where they were arrested. The ruffians fought desperately, however, and endeavored to drive back the police. During the melee, Officer Brady was badly cut about the face, with a bottle thrown by one of the women of the house. The prisoners, upon being taken to the Second District Police-Court, gave their names as Henry Culer, Lawrence Shaffer, Frederick Glas, Margaret Turner, Henry Herman and Mrs. Herman, his wife.

The following affidavits were made by Mr. Foss: Joseph Foss of Eleventh avenue, between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth streets, being duly sworn, deposes and says that, in said city and county, at the Twentieth Ward of said city, on the morning of the Fourth of July, one Freeman Campbell and deponent were violently, riotously and feloniously assaulted and beaten by Henry Herman, the keeper of a disorderly house at No. 487 Eighth avenue, and that the said Herman was aided and abetted in said assault by the then inmates of said house, viz: Henry Culer, Lawrence Shaffer, Frederick Glas, Margaret Turner and Mrs. Herman, now here; that the said Henry Herman and his said wife assaulted and beat said Campbell, striking him on the head with bottles, tumbler, and stabbing and cutting him with knives or other sharp instruments, wounding him so that his life is in danger; that they assaulted deponent, and Culer and Mrs. Herman held deponent while the others beat said Campbell; deponent him rescuing Campbell from his assailants; deponent further says that the house kept by said Herman is a disorderly house, and is the resort of vile and vicious persons, and is frequently the scene of brawls, riots, fighting and disorderly conduct.

Justice Davison, before whom the prisoners were taken, committed them to prison to await the result of Campbell's injuries.

Campbell was so seriously injured that there is but little probability of his recovery, and he would no doubt have been killed on the spot but for the timely arrival of the police.

Among the weapons taken from the prisoners was a heavy wooden ax, a pair of ice-tongs, and iron bar, and other weighty articles. Several revolvers, the barrels snapped from the breech, were found on the floor.

RIOT IN THE SEVENTH WARD. Between 4 and 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon the Captain of the Metropolitan Police force in the Seventh Ward made a call upon the Thirteenth Ward for assistance at the foot of Jackson street. Captain Steers immediately responded with all his available force. On arriving at the foot of Jackson street they found a body of five or six hundred persons assembled there, but as no violent conduct was manifested at the time, Capt. Steers withdrew his force. They had gone but a short distance when the mob commenced an attack upon them, throwing a shower of bricks, stones, &c., compelling the police to make a hasty retreat as far as Grand, where the Police made a stand and repulsed the rioters, resulting, however, in three of the men (a Mr. Young of the Seventh Ward, Joshua Howell of the Thirteenth Ward, and George H. Tyler of the Seventh Ward) being very badly if not fatally wounded. Dr. Wells was called to dress the wounds of the injured men. Ex-Captain Letts of the Seventh Ward is said to have been among the rioters, and inasmuch as the latter were very vociferous in their plaudits of Mayor Wood and Captain Letts, and from other expressions, it is believed that a large number of the rioters consisted of disbanded policemen.

ACCIDENTS. Charles Cuth was severely beaten in West Broadway by some rowdies in the morning, and was badly bruised and cut about the head and right ear.

Jeffery Holmes, a negro, was incautious enough to face a pistol to explode in such close proximity to his face as to take considerable skin off. The accident happened at No. 23 Leonard street, and the sufferer was taken to the Hospital by a colored man.

George W. Waines, while passing through the Bowery, near Canal street, got a blow from a brickbat on his head, which stunned him temporarily, and produced a bad abrasion. The missile was thrown by an unknown hand.

Coroner Perry held an inquest at the house of ex-friend the fatal shot, and in all probability the guilty party will not be identified and thereby escape the punishment due for the murder which he so richly merits.

The following is the evidence adduced before the Jury: Matthew Mahony being duly sworn, deposes and says: I live at No. 119 Mulberry street; I am father of the boy who was shot in Mulberry street about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. I was at my own house when a little boy came and told me my son was shot at the corner of Bayard and Mulberry streets; I shortly afterward saw my son brought home by men; I had him conveyed to the New-York Hospital, where he died in an hour afterward; the way I heard it happened, was that a crowd of men was gathered in front of the corner of Bayard and Mulberry streets, one of the party fired, and the ball entered my child's head, which caused his death; I don't know, neither could I ascertain who the man was who shot my child, neither could I ascertain who any of the men were.

Thomas Bradley, of No. 188 Hester street, corroborated the evidence of the previous witness.

Henry D. Noyes, House Surgeon, being sworn, deposes and says: Deceased was admitted into the Hospital last evening, July 4, between 7 and 8 o'clock, with a wound of the skull over the right ear; the boy was in a state of collapse, cold, almost dead, and insensible; from the wound blood and a small fraction of the brain came out; in about an hour he died; after death I probed the wound and the probe passed into the brain, going downward and inward to the extent of about three inches; I judge that it was the appearance of the wound that was produced by a bullet; it was the cause of death.

It being impossible to obtain further evidence, the case was given to the Jury, who, after a short deliberation, rendered the following verdict: "That Cornelius Mahony, the deceased, came to his death by a gun shot wound in the head, received from the hands of some person unknown to the Jury, on the corner of Bayard and Mulberry streets, on Saturday, July 4, 1867.

The deceased was 14 years of age, and a native of Ireland.

ITEM FROM AN EYE WITNESS. An ex-officer says that a friend of his from the country, who happened to be in the vicinity of the affray on Saturday, went into Elizabeth street to look at the rioters. He states that he stood in the street at the side of an Irishman who was loading a gun. He thought the man intended to discharge his weapon in the air, in celebration of the day, but instead of so doing, he pointed the gun at the crowd and fired. The stranger saw a man fall, the bullet from the gun seeming to strike him in the head. At this dreadful occurrence, he said to the Irishman, "You have killed that man;" to which he replied "And I would have killed you;" The deliberate murderer, of course, was not arrested, for such an undertaking would probably have cost the stranger his life.

DESPERATE AFFRAY IN THE TWENTIETH WARD.—ONE MAN STABBED, AND A NUMBER BADLY BEATEN. At an early hour on the morning of the Fourth a terrible affray occurred in the porter-house, No. 487 Eighth avenue, kept by Henry Herman, and, during the course of the disturbance, a man named Freeman Campbell was stabbed and so badly beaten that his recovery is a matter of doubt. Joseph Foss of the Eleventh avenue was also terribly beaten. Word was dispatched to the Twentieth Ward Station-House, when Sergeants Curry and Dennet with a posse of men started for the scene, but upon arriving at the place found the door shut and fastened. The officers knocked at the door and demanded admittance, but were told to go about their business, upon which they forced open the door. Three or four men, who stood inside armed with bludgeons, hatchets, ice-tongs and other weapons, dared the police to enter. An excited crowd soon gathered about the premises; and while the officers were talking with those inside, some person or other in the street discharged a pistol loaded with ball at the house, the ball taking effect in the fleshy part of the leg of the proprietor of the house, and bringing him to the floor. The others in the house now fled through the rear windows and door into the yard, where they were arrested. The ruffians fought desperately, however, and endeavored to drive back the police. During the melee, Officer Brady was badly cut about the face, with a bottle thrown by one of the women of the house. The prisoners, upon being taken to the Second District Police-Court, gave their names as Henry Culer, Lawrence Shaffer, Frederick Glas, Margaret Turner, Henry Herman and Mrs. Herman, his wife.

The following affidavits were made by Mr. Foss: Joseph Foss of Eleventh avenue, between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth streets, being duly sworn, deposes and says that, in said city and county, at the Twentieth Ward of said city, on the morning of the Fourth of July, one Freeman Campbell and deponent were violently, riotously and feloniously assaulted and beaten by Henry Herman, the keeper of a disorderly house at No. 487 Eighth avenue, and that the said Herman was aided and abetted in said assault by the then inmates of said house, viz: Henry Culer, Lawrence Shaffer, Frederick Glas, Margaret Turner and Mrs. Herman, now here; that the said Henry Herman and his said wife assaulted and beat said Campbell, striking him on the head with bottles, tumbler, and stabbing and cutting him with knives or other sharp instruments, wounding him so that his life is in danger; that they assaulted deponent, and Culer and Mrs. Herman held deponent while the others beat said Campbell; deponent him rescuing Campbell from his assailants; deponent further says that the house kept by said Herman is a disorderly house, and is the resort of vile and vicious persons, and is frequently the scene of brawls, riots, fighting and disorderly conduct.

Justice Davison, before whom the prisoners were taken, committed them to prison to await the result of Campbell's injuries.

Campbell was so seriously injured that there is but little probability of his recovery, and he would no doubt have been killed on the spot but for the timely arrival of the police.

Among the weapons taken from the prisoners was a heavy wooden ax, a pair of ice-tongs, and iron bar, and other weighty articles. Several revolvers, the barrels snapped from the breech, were found on the floor.

RIOT IN THE SEVENTH WARD. Between 4 and 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon the Captain of the Metropolitan Police force in the Seventh Ward made a call upon the Thirteenth Ward for assistance at the foot of Jackson street. Captain Steers immediately responded with all his available force. On arriving at the foot of Jackson street they found a body of five or six hundred persons assembled there, but as no violent conduct was manifested at the time, Capt. Steers withdrew his force. They had gone but a short distance when the mob commenced an attack upon them, throwing a shower of bricks, stones, &c., compelling the police to make a hasty retreat as far as Grand, where the Police made a stand and repulsed the rioters, resulting, however, in three of the men (a Mr. Young of the Seventh Ward, Joshua Howell of the Thirteenth Ward, and George H. Tyler of the Seventh Ward) being very badly if not fatally wounded. Dr. Wells was called to dress the wounds of the injured men. Ex-Captain Letts of the Seventh Ward is said to have been among the rioters, and inasmuch as the latter were very vociferous in their plaudits of Mayor Wood and Captain Letts, and from other expressions, it is believed that a large number of the rioters consisted of disbanded policemen.

ACCIDENTS. Charles Cuth was severely beaten in West Broadway by some rowdies in the morning, and was badly bruised and cut about the head and right ear.

Jeffery Holmes, a negro, was incautious enough to face a pistol to explode in such close proximity to his face as to take considerable skin off. The accident happened at No. 23 Leonard street, and the sufferer was taken to the Hospital by a colored man.

George W. Waines, while passing through the Bowery, near Canal street, got a blow from a brickbat on his head, which stunned him temporarily, and produced a bad abrasion. The missile was thrown by an unknown hand.

Coroner Perry held an inquest at the house of ex-friend the fatal shot, and in all probability the guilty party will not be identified and thereby escape the punishment due for the murder which he so richly merits.

The following is the evidence adduced before the Jury: Matthew Mahony being duly sworn, deposes and says: I live at No. 119 Mulberry street; I am father of the boy who was shot in Mulberry street about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. I was at my own house when a little boy came and told me my son was shot at the corner of Bayard and Mulberry streets; I shortly afterward saw my son brought home by men; I had him conveyed to the New-York Hospital, where he died in an hour afterward; the way I heard it happened, was that a crowd of men was gathered in front of the corner of Bayard and Mulberry streets, one of the party fired, and the ball entered my child's head, which caused his death; I don't know, neither could I ascertain who the man was who shot my child, neither could I ascertain who any of the men were.

Thomas Bradley, of No. 188 Hester street, corroborated the evidence of the previous witness.

Henry D. Noyes, House Surgeon, being sworn, deposes and says: Deceased was admitted into the Hospital last evening, July 4, between 7 and 8 o'clock, with a wound of the skull over the right ear; the boy was in a state of collapse, cold, almost dead, and insensible; from the wound blood and a small fraction of the brain came out; in about an hour he died; after death I probed the wound and the probe passed into the brain, going downward and inward to the extent of about three inches; I judge that it was the appearance of the wound that was produced by a bullet; it was the cause of death.

It being impossible to obtain further evidence, the case was given to the Jury, who, after a short deliberation, rendered the following verdict: "That Cornelius Mahony, the deceased, came to his death by a gun shot wound in the head, received from the hands of some person unknown to the Jury, on the corner of Bayard and Mulberry streets, on Saturday, July 4, 1867.

The deceased was 14 years of age, and a native of Ireland.

ITEM FROM AN EYE WITNESS. An ex-officer says that a friend of his from the country, who happened to be in the vicinity of the affray on Saturday, went into Elizabeth street to look at the rioters. He states that he stood in the street at the side of an Irishman who was loading a gun. He thought the man intended to discharge his weapon in the air, in celebration of the day, but instead of so doing, he pointed the gun at the crowd and fired. The stranger saw a man fall, the bullet from the gun seeming to strike him in the head. At this dreadful occurrence, he said to the Irishman, "You have killed that man;" to which he replied "And I would have killed you;" The deliberate murderer, of course, was not arrested, for such an undertaking would probably have cost the stranger his life.

DESPERATE AFFRAY IN THE TWENTIETH WARD.—ONE MAN STABBED, AND A NUMBER BADLY BEATEN. At an early hour on the morning of the Fourth a terrible affray occurred in the porter-house, No. 487 Eighth avenue, kept by Henry Herman, and, during the course of the disturbance, a man named Freeman Campbell was stabbed and so badly beaten that his recovery is a matter of doubt. Joseph Foss of the Eleventh avenue was also terribly beaten. Word was dispatched to the Twentieth Ward Station-House, when Sergeants Curry and Dennet with a posse of men started for the scene, but upon arriving at the place found the door shut and fastened. The officers knocked at the door and demanded admittance, but were told to go about their business, upon which they forced open the door. Three or four men, who stood inside armed with bludgeons, hatchets, ice-tongs and other weapons, dared the police to enter. An excited crowd soon gathered about the premises; and while the officers were talking with those inside, some person or other in the street discharged a pistol loaded with ball at the house, the ball taking effect in the fleshy part of the leg of the proprietor of the house, and bringing him to the floor. The others in the house now fled through the rear windows and door into the yard, where they were arrested. The ruffians fought desperately, however, and endeavored to drive back the police. During the melee, Officer Brady was badly cut about the face, with a bottle thrown by one of the women of the house. The prisoners, upon being taken to the Second District Police-Court, gave their names as Henry Culer, Lawrence Shaffer, Frederick Glas, Margaret Turner, Henry Herman and Mrs. Herman, his wife.

The following affidavits were made by Mr. Foss: Joseph Foss of Eleventh avenue, between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth streets, being duly sworn, deposes and says that, in said city and county, at the Twentieth Ward of said city, on the morning of the Fourth of July, one Freeman Campbell and deponent were violently, riotously and feloniously assaulted and beaten by Henry Herman, the keeper of a disorderly house at No. 487 Eighth avenue, and that the said Herman was aided and abetted in said assault by the then inmates of said house, viz: Henry Culer, Lawrence Shaffer, Frederick Glas, Margaret Turner and Mrs. Herman, now here; that the said Henry Herman and his said wife assaulted and beat said Campbell, striking him on the head with bottles, tumbler, and stabbing and cutting him with knives or other sharp instruments, wounding him so that his life is in danger; that they assaulted deponent, and Culer and Mrs. Herman held deponent while the others beat said Campbell; deponent him rescuing Campbell from his assailants; deponent further says that the house kept by said Herman is a disorderly house, and is the resort of vile and vicious persons, and is frequently the scene of brawls, riots, fighting and disorderly conduct.

Justice Davison, before whom the prisoners were taken, committed them to prison to await the result of Campbell's injuries.

Campbell was so seriously injured that there is but little probability of his recovery, and he would no doubt have been killed on the spot but for the timely arrival of the police.

Among the weapons taken from the prisoners was a heavy wooden ax, a pair of ice-tongs, and iron bar, and other weighty articles. Several revolvers, the barrels snapped from the breech, were found on the floor.

RIOT IN THE SEVENTH WARD. Between 4 and 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon the Captain of the Metropolitan Police force in the Seventh Ward made a call upon the Thirteenth Ward for assistance at the foot of Jackson street. Captain Steers immediately responded with all his available force. On arriving at the foot of Jackson street they found a body of five or six hundred persons assembled there, but as no violent conduct was manifested at the time, Capt. Steers withdrew his force. They had gone but a short distance when the mob commenced an attack upon them, throwing a shower of bricks, stones, &c., compelling the police to make a hasty retreat as far as Grand, where the Police made a stand and repulsed the rioters, resulting, however, in three of the men (a Mr. Young of the Seventh Ward, Joshua Howell of the Thirteenth Ward, and George H. Tyler of the Seventh Ward) being very badly if not fatally wounded. Dr. Wells was called to dress the wounds of the injured men. Ex-Captain Letts of the Seventh Ward is said to have been among the rioters, and inasmuch as the latter were very vociferous in their plaudits of Mayor Wood and Captain Letts, and from other expressions, it is believed that a large number of the rioters consisted of disbanded policemen.

ACCIDENTS. Charles Cuth was severely beaten in West Broadway by some rowdies in the morning, and was badly bruised and cut about the head and right ear.

Jeffery Holmes, a negro, was incautious enough to face a pistol to explode in such close proximity to his face as to take considerable skin off. The accident happened at No. 23 Leonard street, and the sufferer was taken to the Hospital by a colored man.

George W. Waines, while passing through the Bowery, near Canal street, got a blow from a brickbat on his head, which stunned him temporarily, and produced a bad abrasion. The missile was thrown by an unknown hand.

Coroner Perry held an inquest at the house of ex-friend the fatal shot, and in all probability the guilty party will not be identified and thereby escape the punishment due for the murder which he so richly merits.

The following is the evidence adduced before the Jury: Matthew Mahony being duly sworn, deposes and says: I live at No. 119 Mulberry street; I am father of the boy who was shot in Mulberry street about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. I was at my own house when a little boy came and told me my son was shot at the corner of Bayard and Mulberry streets; I shortly afterward saw my son brought home by men; I had him conveyed to the New-York Hospital, where he died in an hour afterward; the way I heard it happened, was that a crowd of men was gathered in front of the corner of Bayard and Mulberry streets, one of the party fired, and the ball entered my child's head, which caused his death; I don't know, neither could I ascertain who the man was who shot my child, neither could I ascertain who any of the men were.

Thomas Bradley, of No. 188 Hester street, corroborated the evidence of the previous witness.