

Interest in our politics. Even if Mr. Curry should succeed in proving to the satisfaction of all the world that Africans are not men, and therefore not entitled to any humane or Christian sympathy...

Such, at least, is our opinion. If the South contests the point, and intends to try to resist the currents of civilization, if it is able to secure the continuous services of Mr. Postmaster Holt, it may succeed. The first Mrs. Partington was not able to sweep back the rising waves of the Atlantic, but a second Mrs. Partington might do better.

THE LATEST NEWS. RECEIVED BY MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH. From Washington. Special Dispatch to THE N. Y. TRIBUNE. WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Dec. 27, 1859. THE MEXICAN TREATY. Mr. McLane's treaty has arrived, and will be submitted to the Senate immediately...

THE POSTMASTER-GENERAL'S REPORT. The Postmaster-General gives an interesting account of the affairs of the Department. He advocates various reforms, and trusts that Congress will either give its express sanction to the specific contracts for carrying the mails between Portland and New-Orleans...

Non-Arrival of the Hungarian. PORTLAND, Tuesday, Dec. 27, 1859. There are as yet no signs of the steamship Hungarian, now fully due here with Liverpool dates of the 14th inst. Weather clear and very cold.

Follow-citizens of the Senate and House of Representatives. Our deep and heartfelt gratitude is due to that Almighty Power which has bestowed upon our nation and our people such abundant and so timely blessings...

Another Political Suicide. The recent speech of Vice-President Breckenridge will prove fatal to his prospects for the Presidency, or for the nomination of the Charleston Convention.

THE INDIANA DELEGATES TO CHARLESTON. The report that Mr. Douglas had secured the delegates from Indiana to Charleston was premature. It is believed he has a majority of the State Convention, but its call is so worded as to give the control to the State Committee...

THE HOUSE. Mr. Smith of Virginia concluded his three days' speech, much to the relief of the House. The Democracy endeavored to cry him down yesterday. One ballot was had to-day. Mr. Sherman had the same relative vote as heretofore, wanting four of an election.

Completion of a Railroad Track. LOGANSPORT, Ind., Monday, Dec. 26, 1859. The Toledo, Logansport and Hamilton Company completed the track on Saturday, and an excursion train left here for Peoria to-day.

Arrival of Henry Clay's Statue. NEW-ORLEANS, Monday, Dec. 26, 1859. The ship Fanny Fern has arrived from Havre, with the statue of Henry Clay.

THE AMERICAN OUTWARD BOUND. BOSTON, Tuesday, Dec. 27, 1859. The mails per the Royal Mail steamship America, for Liverpool via Halifax, will close here at 2 o'clock on Wednesday morning...

Holt & Co. vs. Civilization. The N. Y. Herald doesn't deny its incendiary character, but declares it does not care a brass farthing for its Southern support, and that Mr. Postmaster Holt may cut it off as soon as he likes.

Slipping the Halter. Gov. Wise has slipped his neck out of the noose. We had expected to be obliged to hang him. But the vision of the gallows does not please him.

XXXVTH CONGRESS. FIRST SESSION. SENATE. WASHINGTON, Dec. 27, 1859. The Message was received from the President. Mr. IVESON moved that it be taken up and read.

THE TREASURY REPORT. The Secretary of the Treasury in his report does not doubt that the receipts of the treasury for the present and next fiscal years will be fully equal to the estimates.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. The President's Message was received. JOHN COCHRANE moved that it be laid on the table until the House was organized.

Our history proves that the Fathers of the Republic, in advancing their nation, conceived of the African slave-trade. It was, notwithstanding, deemed expedient by the framers of the Constitution to deprive Congress of the power to prohibit the migration or importation of such persons as any of the States may at any time think proper to admit.
