

meared searching the premises for valuables. While thus employed, the mistress of the house returned, and at once seized upon the bold thief, calling loudly for assistance at the same time. The chief attendant seized Mrs. McAdam by the throat with one hand and commenced pounding her in the face with the other. The cries of the lady soon brought assistance, and the thief was taken into custody by Officers Cokely and White of the Twenty-second Precinct. On being taken before Justice Osborn, the prisoner gave his name as John McDermott, and was committed to answer a charge of assault and battery and one of larceny. Mrs. McAdam was very much disfigured about the face in consequence of the beating she had received.

RECEPTION OF THE SEVENTH REGIMENT.—Last night a meeting of the ex-members of the Seventh Regiment, National Guard, and the present members of the organization who were held at Lafayette Hall, Broadway, for the purpose of making arrangements to receive their brothers in arms upon the return of the latter from Washington this morning. Col. Durvan, the late commandant of the regiment, was called to the chair, and was invited to take command of the battalions, which he consented to do providing that not less than one hundred and fifty men would turn out and act as the escort. The question was put to vote, and many more than the prescribed number agreed to parade. The Colonel issued an order for the men to assemble at Lafayette Hall at 5 o'clock this morning, and, after the appointment of the necessary officers, the meeting adjourned.

Orders have been issued by Col. Batterfield for the Twelfth Regiment "Independence Guard" to assemble this morning in Winter uniform to receive the Seventh Regiment on their return home. Line will be formed at 5 o'clock in Broome street, right on Broadway. A salute will be fired on the arrival of the Guard, by Capt. McMahon of the Fourth Regiment Artillery.

The Ninth Regiment, under command of Col. Van Buren, will also turn out and join in the reception, which will no doubt be very enthusiastic. The several Regiments will march down Broadway to the foot of Courtlandt street, where the reception will take place at 6 o'clock, that being the time for the arrival of the Philadelphia train. The Ninth Regiment will form in Broome street with the Twelfth. After the ceremony of reception, the Guard will be escorted up Broadway to their quarters, and the military dismissed.

REPUBLICAN CENTRAL CAMPAIGN CLUB.—A regular meeting of the Club was held last evening at Clinton Hall—the President, Mr. Simson Draper, in the chair.

Mr. Blunt, of the Committee appointed to consider the proper method of organizing union campaign clubs throughout the city, reported in favor of distributing them by Assembly Districts, rather than Wards, thus giving the actual population a fair representation. The report was accepted, and the Committee continued. On motion of Mr. Macomber, the appointment of the Executive Committee was deferred until the next meeting. The President addressed the Club in some eloquent remarks, urging the necessity of union and hard work. An adjournment was then taken till Thursday next, on which occasion it is hoped a full attendance will be present, to assist in the more complete organization for the campaign.

A NEW DODGE.—Some days ago a well-dressed man, named George Piggatt, or Picket, entered the store of Mr. Phelps, No. 233 Broadway, and requested permission of the proprietor to write a note at his desk. The request was granted, and after writing a little while, Piggatt asked Mr. Phelps if he would object to his bringing a friend in to sign the note. Upon being answered in the negative, the stranger left the store, but returned in a few minutes thereafter with another man, named — Shaw.

The two stepped behind the desk, and from their conversation seemed much engaged in business. Piggatt asked Mr. Phelps for some reference, which the latter afforded him, handing him his pocket diary. The diary was returned, and the two, thanking Mr. P. for his kindness, left the store. In a little while, Piggatt again entered the store, and stepping behind the desk, appeared to busy himself writing some notes, after which he hastily departed. By and by Mr. Phelps, having occasion to go down town on business, put on his overcoat; but what was his astonishment at finding the diary—which contained notes and drafts to the amount of $1,500, and which he had placed in his pocket upon its being returned by the stranger—non est tunc.

The services of Sergeant Lefebvre and Detectives Bennett and Wilson were procured, and on Wednesday night, Shaw was arrested, and the property recovered. Piggatt was arrested yesterday morning while crossing the South Ferry. The two were taken to the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday afternoon, and upon complaint of Mr. Phelps, Piggatt was locked up in default of $3,000 bail, and Shaw in default of $2,000.

FUNERAL OF MR. FANSHAW.—The remains of the late Daniel Fanshaw, printer, were brought from his residence in Yorkville to the Second-street Cemetery yesterday, and interred. The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Lord of the Dutch Reformed Church.

MEETING OF BOSS BAKERS.—Last evening a large and enthusiastic meeting of boss bakers was held at the Metropolitan Rooms, in Hester street. Mr. H. H. Hager, a four merchant, was called to the chair. Mr. Peter Schanz said that the object of the meeting was to adopt some plan to do away with Hecker's opposition. Hecker made leaves weighing 25 pounds, and sold them for six cents, while the bakers had to pay $5 and $5 50 per barrel for flour, and they sold their loaves, weighing a pound and three quarters, for six cents. It was impossible for him to give that weight and pay the same price for flour which they did. They wanted the flour dealers to unite with them, and with such an accession they would force Mr. Hecker to cave in. After some discussion, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we, the boss bakers of New York and vicinity, will withdraw our patronage from all flour merchants who shall continue to purchase flour in any quantity or description from Hecker Brothers; and

Resolved, That a Committee of two from each Ward, to procure signatures to the foregoing resolution, be appointed, and report at next meeting.

After some further conversation, the meeting adjourned to meet again at the call of the Chair.

The police authorities were notified of the requirements of the new law, and will do all in their power to enforce it for the future.

In the case of Frank Fowler, the ticket-windler, he was granted on Friday next to conclude some private business, after which he will assume the uniform of the Sing Sing Guards.

Other Massachusetts postmasters are accused of complicity with lottery sellers.

RADLY SOLD.—A little affair happened the other day, which is too good to be lost. Mr. A. called on one of our farmers, and asked him the price of oats, and was informed that they were one dollar per bushel. He agreed to pay 40 cents, on condition that he should be permitted to "trap" them in the half bushel. To secure the bargain he paid for twelve bushels, and the next day took his wagon and went after them. The farmer filled the half bushel, after which he returned, and gave them a most vigorous "tramping," contracting their proportions considerably. The farmer thereupon emptied the oats into the bag without filling up the measure. Mr. A. raved, but it was no use. The farmer had complied with his part of the agreement, and as an evidence, told Mr. A. after he had measured the oats, he might "trap" them all day.

At the late Chancery Circuit, held by Judge Bulcom, five suits were tried in which women were plaintiffs. The first was for slander, in which the plaintiff obtained a verdict for $30; the second was for an assault and battery, in which the plaintiff recovered $100; the third was on a note, to which money was set up, in which the plaintiff recovered $20; the fourth was for libel, in which the plaintiff had a verdict for $300; the fifth was for slander, but the defendant was also a woman, and the jury could not agree. They cleared up the case by awarding a girl, and five for the defendant, as she was married.
