

New York Daily Tribune

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Georgia Peace rumors are repeated on authority of the Louisville Journal. The story now is that...

THE WAR.

The Georgia Peace rumors are repeated on authority of the Louisville Journal. The story now is that...

THE UNION TICKET—New York.

- For President... ABRAHAM LINCOLN, of Illinois. Vice-President... ANDREW JOHNSON, of Tennessee. Governor... REUBEN E. FENTON, of Chautauque.

THE TRIBUNE.

Notwithstanding the enormously increased expenses attending the publication of THE TRIBUNE, occasioned by the employment of numerous army correspondents and other liberal expenditures...

Table with 2 columns: Subscription type and Price. Includes Single copy, Daily Tribune, Semi-weekly Tribune, Weekly Tribune.

Persons at the trouble of procuring subscribers, and sending in 20 copies of the Weekly, will be entitled to one copy gratis.

GENERAL NEWS.

At Noblesville, Ind., on the 17th, a McClellan meeting was started at the same time with an Agricultural Sanitary Fair for the soldiers.

The morning mail train at 7:45 a. m., to-day (Wednesday) on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, will go through to Wheeling...

The steamer La Salle, from St. Louis to Nashville, laden with Government stores, struck a snag on Sandville Island...

Benjamin Cozine, aged 13 years, employed in a lawyer's office at No. 212 Broadway, was fatally shot yesterday...

E. N. Fuller, editor of the Newark Daily Journal, has been indicted by the grand jury of the United States Circuit Court at Trenton...

Gold has not varied very widely to-day. The opening rate was 139, followed by a steady advance to 140.

The Union Meeting at Newburgh on Monday evening was the largest held there for years by any party.

The war established high prices, the Rebellion induced the war, the Northern Democracy sympathized with and sustained the Rebellion.

Mr. I. T. Williams, who is a plain, practical speaker, and labors to convince his hearers by hard argument, will address a meeting to-night at Mount Vernon...

The Maine Legislature is figured up by the Bangor Whig as follows: Senate, 30 Unionists; 1 doubtful. House, 123 Unionists; 23 Democrats.

Brooklyn is rousing itself to the great work of the campaign, and enthusiastic meetings are held nearly every evening.

HANGLING FOOT ON PEACE. Hon. and Gen. Henry S. Foote, who used to be a Union Democratic U. S. Senator from Mississippi...

once seemed resolved not to adjourn. If Newburgh doesn't give Lincoln and Johnson a larger majority this Fall than she ever yet gave to any Presidential ticket...

Union Meetings. WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 28. The Hon. THOS. G. ALVORD. The Hon. RICHARD BUSTEAD. The Hon. J. H. HAMILTON.

One of our surgeons who was captured by Early's Rebels on the 19th, has escaped. He says he was conveyed before Gen. Early, who inquired, among other things, if Grant was not in command of our forces.

Stories from Missouri concerning the invasion of that State by a large Rebel force under Price, are confused, conflicting and apparently exaggerated.

A Nashville dispatch of Monday, says: Forrest with his whole force advanced upon and destroyed Sulphur Spring yesterday.

Some of the soldiers just released from Libby Prison have reached Washington. It is stated that one of their number, while on the way to the place of delivery, engaged himself in sketching the Rebel defensive works on the river and other points of interest.

The gunboat Fort Morgan arrived here yesterday, with Mobile dates to the 16th. Mobile, at the time of her departure from the Bay, had not been attacked.

Major-General Dix arrived at Sandusky, Ohio, on Monday evening, and was serenaded at the West House by the Union Band.

A full description of a number of the Lake Erie privateers has been telegraphed to different points in Canada, and every exertion is being made to secure their arrest.

Admiral Farragut says he is successfully engaged in removing torpedoes, and thus far has succeeded in taking up twenty-one.

A Western dispatch states that 500 men of the 6th and 8th Indiana Cavalry were captured in the recent fight at Athens.

The steamship City of Baltimore, from Liverpool Sept. 14 and Queenstown Sept. 15, arrived here yesterday, bringing three days late news.

The English papers which advocate the cause of the Rebels are unanimous in the praise of the Chicago platform, which they regard as the first step toward the recognition of Southern independence.

In Spain, the Ministry have resigned, and their resignation has been accepted. The elections in Portugal have resulted in a large majority for the Government.

The Agent of the Overland Stage Line has arrived from Salt Lake, and reports the route entirely free of hostile Indians, and ready for business.

The steamer La Salle, from St. Louis to Nashville, laden with Government stores, struck a snag on Sandville Island, four miles above Cape Girardeau on Sunday.

Benjamin Cozine, aged 13 years, employed in a lawyer's office at No. 212 Broadway, was fatally shot yesterday, by another lad named Clinton Harring, employed in the same building.

E. N. Fuller, editor of the Newark Daily Journal, has been indicted by the grand jury of the United States Circuit Court at Trenton, on a charge of publishing articles in July last counselling resistance to the draft.

Gold has not varied very widely to-day. The opening rate was 139, followed by a steady advance to 140. From this rate the market settled to 139, and again rose to 140, closing at 140 1/4.

The Union Meeting at Newburgh on Monday evening was the largest held there for years by any party. The People's Hall, holding 1,500, was packed; so was the hall beneath it; and hundreds could not wedge themselves into either.

Mr. I. T. Williams, who is a plain, practical speaker, and labors to convince his hearers by hard argument, will address a meeting to-night at Mount Vernon, and another at White Plains on Friday evening.

The Maine Legislature is figured up by the Bangor Whig as follows: Senate, 30 Unionists; 1 doubtful. House, 123 Unionists; 23 Democrats—a gain of one from last year.

once seemed resolved not to adjourn. If Newburgh doesn't give Lincoln and Johnson a larger majority this Fall than she ever yet gave to any Presidential ticket, then we are very badly informed.

Union Meetings. WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 28. The Hon. THOS. G. ALVORD. The Hon. RICHARD BUSTEAD. The Hon. J. H. HAMILTON.

One of our surgeons who was captured by Early's Rebels on the 19th, has escaped. He says he was conveyed before Gen. Early, who inquired, among other things, if Grant was not in command of our forces.

Stories from Missouri concerning the invasion of that State by a large Rebel force under Price, are confused, conflicting and apparently exaggerated.

A Nashville dispatch of Monday, says: Forrest with his whole force advanced upon and destroyed Sulphur Spring yesterday.

Some of the soldiers just released from Libby Prison have reached Washington. It is stated that one of their number, while on the way to the place of delivery, engaged himself in sketching the Rebel defensive works on the river and other points of interest.

The gunboat Fort Morgan arrived here yesterday, with Mobile dates to the 16th. Mobile, at the time of her departure from the Bay, had not been attacked.

Major-General Dix arrived at Sandusky, Ohio, on Monday evening, and was serenaded at the West House by the Union Band.

A full description of a number of the Lake Erie privateers has been telegraphed to different points in Canada, and every exertion is being made to secure their arrest.

Admiral Farragut says he is successfully engaged in removing torpedoes, and thus far has succeeded in taking up twenty-one.

A Western dispatch states that 500 men of the 6th and 8th Indiana Cavalry were captured in the recent fight at Athens.

The steamship City of Baltimore, from Liverpool Sept. 14 and Queenstown Sept. 15, arrived here yesterday, bringing three days late news.

The English papers which advocate the cause of the Rebels are unanimous in the praise of the Chicago platform, which they regard as the first step toward the recognition of Southern independence.

In Spain, the Ministry have resigned, and their resignation has been accepted. The elections in Portugal have resulted in a large majority for the Government.

The Agent of the Overland Stage Line has arrived from Salt Lake, and reports the route entirely free of hostile Indians, and ready for business.

The steamer La Salle, from St. Louis to Nashville, laden with Government stores, struck a snag on Sandville Island, four miles above Cape Girardeau on Sunday.

Benjamin Cozine, aged 13 years, employed in a lawyer's office at No. 212 Broadway, was fatally shot yesterday, by another lad named Clinton Harring, employed in the same building.

E. N. Fuller, editor of the Newark Daily Journal, has been indicted by the grand jury of the United States Circuit Court at Trenton, on a charge of publishing articles in July last counselling resistance to the draft.

Gold has not varied very widely to-day. The opening rate was 139, followed by a steady advance to 140. From this rate the market settled to 139, and again rose to 140, closing at 140 1/4.

The Union Meeting at Newburgh on Monday evening was the largest held there for years by any party. The People's Hall, holding 1,500, was packed; so was the hall beneath it; and hundreds could not wedge themselves into either.

Mr. I. T. Williams, who is a plain, practical speaker, and labors to convince his hearers by hard argument, will address a meeting to-night at Mount Vernon, and another at White Plains on Friday evening.

The Maine Legislature is figured up by the Bangor Whig as follows: Senate, 30 Unionists; 1 doubtful. House, 123 Unionists; 23 Democrats—a gain of one from last year.

Jeff. Davis & Co. and must be divided between the Northern and the Southern members of the firm. The larger share should be charged to the McClellan Democracy.

HON. JOHN A. GRISWOLD. John A. Griswold, of Troy, was elected to Congress in 1863 for the Rensselaer and Washington District.

"GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to acknowledge your communication announcing my nomination, by the Union Convention recently held in this district, as a candidate for representation in Congress."

"For more than three years we have been engaged in a war of unprecedented magnitude, for the preservation of our Government against an infamous Rebellion organized for its destruction."

"The Union as it was!" the Copperhead cries. Where are the 300,000 dead, slain by the Rebellion? Where is the freedom from the debt and taxation that distinguished the old Union?

A Rebel officer writing to The Mobile Register of the terrible losses the South sustained at Atlanta, said: "I brought thirty-five men with me from Baldwin county."

The Paterson (N. J.) Register has a fabrication purporting that Hancock's Army Corps has been polled, and will give about three to one for McClellan.

Why could neither of the last two Legislatures of New Jersey—both strongly Democratic—be coaxed, badgered, bullied, taunted or shamed into passing an act inviting a Constitutional Amendment, whereby the soldiers of that State should be enfranchised?

If there be one Unionist who takes The World, Express, or Journal of Commerce, after their deliberate, persistent, conscious lying with regard to the Lincoln Central Campaign Club attending a negro ball, we hope that Unionist will be the next target of these villainous calumnies.

The largest meeting ever assembled in Twiddle Hall, Albany, gathered on Friday evening last, to ratify the nomination of ROSCOE CONKLIN, by the Unionists of the XXI (Onondaga) District.

"I am very truly, &c., J. A. Griswold." "To J. F. Winslow, A. D. Wait, G. Reynolds." The Herald mistakenly says that THE TRIBUNE is trying to force the nomination of Mr. S. B. Chittenden for Congress, in the district of old Brooklyn.

The popularity of this war in the North—and the Democrats will be stunned by the measure of it, which the election will give them—is due in part to the fact, that it has been from the start, a war of the people on our side, and of the professional politicians and place-hunters on the other side.

In San Francisco the art of political portraiture has reached a high degree of perfection. Congressman COLE in a public speech defined a "Copperhead" to be "simply a broken-down politician, who is willing to confess himself the inferior and servant of the slaveholders."

"Should the Chicago meeting be defeated, as I believe to be scarcely probable, said a result would be clearly attributable to force or fraud, or the part of the unprincipled faction now in power, that it could not reasonably be expected that the great body of the States Rights Democracy of the North, now so fully and deliberately organized in Washington City, would be found willing to submit to that deposition for four years more."

John T. Wait holds the Union Electoral Ticket in Connecticut. He is a life-long Democrat, and has repeatedly been a nominee on the Democratic State ticket. In a recent letter he says: "From March, 1861, till the present time, I have openly and publicly avowed Succession, and this standard I have considered that all parties were surrendered, that

John T. Wait holds the Union Electoral Ticket in Connecticut. He is a life-long Democrat, and has repeatedly been a nominee on the Democratic State ticket. In a recent letter he says: "From March, 1861, till the present time, I have openly and publicly avowed Succession, and this standard I have considered that all parties were surrendered, that all old party issues were dead, and that it was the duty of every man to do all in his power to sustain the administration of Mr. Lincoln. You know I voted against him for the patriotic Douglas in 1860. I am a Copperhead and a perfect man by any name. But I had had, since the day he was inaugurated till this, an abiding faith in his integrity, capability and patriotism; and when the question came whether I would sustain him standing on the platform adopted at Baltimore, I did not hesitate a moment. Yours truly, JOHN T. WAIT."

Solomon's judgment turned the point of a California orator's plea for a continued Union through a continued war. He likened the North and South to the two women who claimed the child before Solomon, when the wiser ruler, unable to decide which was the mother, ordered that the child should be cut in two, and one half given to each claimant.

"The Union as it was!" the Copperhead cries. Where are the 300,000 dead, slain by the Rebellion? Where is the freedom from the debt and taxation that distinguished the old Union?

A Rebel officer writing to The Mobile Register of the terrible losses the South sustained at Atlanta, said: "I brought thirty-five men with me from Baldwin county. Of these only one is left (Frank Sutton), and I have given him a bomb-proof pillow, to keep the Yankees from killing him. I will save him for seed."

The Paterson (N. J.) Register has a fabrication purporting that Hancock's Army Corps has been polled, and will give about three to one for McClellan. Will The Register please answer this question:

Why could neither of the last two Legislatures of New Jersey—both strongly Democratic—be coaxed, badgered, bullied, taunted or shamed into passing an act inviting a Constitutional Amendment, whereby the soldiers of that State should be enfranchised?

If there be one Unionist who takes The World, Express, or Journal of Commerce, after their deliberate, persistent, conscious lying with regard to the Lincoln Central Campaign Club attending a negro ball, we hope that Unionist will be the next target of these villainous calumnies.

The largest meeting ever assembled in Twiddle Hall, Albany, gathered on Friday evening last, to ratify the nomination of ROSCOE CONKLIN, by the Unionists of the XXI (Onondaga) District. The candidate was worthy of the oration. He is one of the best legislators and one of the ablest men in this State ever sent to Congress.

"I am very truly, &c., J. A. Griswold." "To J. F. Winslow, A. D. Wait, G. Reynolds." The Herald mistakenly says that THE TRIBUNE is trying to force the nomination of Mr. S. B. Chittenden for Congress, in the district of old Brooklyn.

The popularity of this war in the North—and the Democrats will be stunned by the measure of it, which the election will give them—is due in part to the fact, that it has been from the start, a war of the people on our side, and of the professional politicians and place-hunters on the other side.

In San Francisco the art of political portraiture has reached a high degree of perfection. Congressman COLE in a public speech defined a "Copperhead" to be "simply a broken-down politician, who is willing to confess himself the inferior and servant of the slaveholders."

"Should the Chicago meeting be defeated, as I believe to be scarcely probable, said a result would be clearly attributable to force or fraud, or the part of the unprincipled faction now in power, that it could not reasonably be expected that the great body of the States Rights Democracy of the North, now so fully and deliberately organized in Washington City, would be found willing to submit to that deposition for four years more."

John T. Wait holds the Union Electoral Ticket in Connecticut. He is a life-long Democrat, and has repeatedly been a nominee on the Democratic State ticket. In a recent letter he says: "From March, 1861, till the present time, I have openly and publicly avowed Succession, and this standard I have considered that all parties were surrendered, that

John T. Wait holds the Union Electoral Ticket in Connecticut. He is a life-long Democrat, and has repeatedly been a nominee on the Democratic State ticket. In a recent letter he says: "From March, 1861, till the present time, I have openly and publicly avowed Succession, and this standard I have considered that all parties were surrendered, that

John T. Wait holds the Union Electoral Ticket in Connecticut. He is a life-long Democrat, and has repeatedly been a nominee on the Democratic State ticket. In a recent letter he says: "From March, 1861, till the present time, I have openly and publicly avowed Succession, and this standard I have considered that all parties were surrendered, that

John T. Wait holds the Union Electoral Ticket in Connecticut. He is a life-long Democrat, and has repeatedly been a nominee on the Democratic State ticket. In a recent letter he says: "From March, 1861, till the present time, I have openly and publicly avowed Succession, and this standard I have considered that all parties were surrendered, that thrashing out the thrashing machine monopolist, McCormick, very thoroughly. A canvas by "Long John" always sparks. In his last ward meeting speech he said, among other good things:

A few nights ago, a procession went through this city bearing a motto, "Free ballot or free fight." The McClellanites had them both in Maine and Atlanta, and they are going to get them all through the campaign.

The Philadelphia Union Campaign Club, composed in part of 2,400 veteran soldiers, the remainder being civilians prominent in position in Philadelphia, made their first parade with transparencies and mottoes, 3,000 torches and lanterns, and costly fireworks, on Saturday night last.

A letter from a well-known Philadelphia office gives new evidence of the fact that the Rebels in front of Petersburg cheered over McClellan's admission to the Union.

Mr. Joseph S. Fay, who presided at the McClellan meeting in Faneuil Hall on Saturday evening, has a summary of the proceedings of the meeting, as a correspondent sends us the following statement of the manner in which Mr. F. celebrated the last anniversary of our National Independence:

Opposite Mr. Fay's summer residence at Wood's Hill, Vt., there was a public flagstaff in the street. Mr. F. owns a flag which is sometimes used on the Fourth of July last this gentleman put this private flag on this public staff at half-past seven.

A Marylander expounding in a letter says very sensibly that it would be as well to preach gravely to a monkey, or to forbearance to a prize-bait as it would be to advance any reasons or argument with the view of checking the operations of the infernal traitor that infests the South.

At the Philadelphia Keystone Club headquarters last Tuesday, there was a public exhibition of the military history of the Revolution. A large white sheet was spread on a framework in front of the thirty-story window of the building.

At the Philadelphia Keystone Club headquarters last Tuesday, there was a public exhibition of the military history of the Revolution. A large white sheet was spread on a framework in front of the thirty-story window of the building.

At the Philadelphia Keystone Club headquarters last Tuesday, there was a public exhibition of the military history of the Revolution. A large white sheet was spread on a framework in front of the thirty-story window of the building.

At the Philadelphia Keystone Club headquarters last Tuesday, there was a public exhibition of the military history of the Revolution. A large white sheet was spread on a framework in front of the thirty-story window of the building.

At the Philadelphia Keystone Club headquarters last Tuesday, there was a public exhibition of the military history of the Revolution. A large white sheet was spread on a framework in front of the thirty-story window of the building.

At the Philadelphia Keystone Club headquarters last Tuesday, there was a public exhibition of the military history of the Revolution. A large white sheet was spread on a framework in front of the thirty-story window of the building.

At the Philadelphia Keystone Club headquarters last Tuesday, there was a public exhibition of the military history of the Revolution. A large white sheet was spread on a framework in front of the thirty-story window of the building.

At the Philadelphia Keystone Club headquarters last Tuesday, there was a public exhibition of the military history of the Revolution. A large white sheet was spread on a framework in front of the thirty-story window of the building.

At the Philadelphia Keystone Club headquarters last Tuesday, there was a public exhibition of the military history of the Revolution. A large white sheet was spread on a framework in front of the thirty-story window of the building.