

THE OHIO LEGISLATURE.

Mr. Garfield had a dispatch read from Columbus, giving the Ohio Legislative endorsement of her Congressional delegation.

A CLINCHER.

Mr. Stevens clinched his resolutions of yesterday by laying on the table the vote to reconsider, by 108 to 37.

THE VOORHEES CASE.

Mr. Dawes, from the Committee on Contested Elections, reported in favor of assigning the seat now held by Mr. Voorhees to Henry D. Washburn. The subject was put over to Friday when Mr. Voorhees will bid adieu to the scene of his former glories.

IMPORTANT SALE OF LANDS.

Mr. Julian, Chairman of the Committee on Public Lands reported an important bill providing for the sale of the Government gold and silver lands.

THE LOAN BILL DISCUSSION.

Mr. Morrill of Vermont and Mr. Hooper of Massachusetts declared the majority report of the Loan bill. Mr. Stevens moved a substitute, defeating the foreign loan clause, and making the conditions of the act subject to positive Congressional enactment, instead of subject to the will of the Secretary of the Treasury. The impression extensively prevailed among members that Mr. Stevens's views would be adopted.

THE DAVIS OBSEQUES.

Congress adjourned over to Friday, in order that the obsequies of Henry Winter Davis may be observed to-morrow. Mr. Crosswell will deliver the eulogy from the desk of the Clerk of the House, in the presence of the President, Cabinet, Supreme Court, Senate and House.

AN OPPOSITION GATHERING.

is advertised in the Copperhead papers to come off at noon, to-morrow, at Grover's Theater, to sustain President Johnson in his Veto Message. Rogers of New-Jersey, Dixon of Connecticut, and S. S. Cox, formerly of Ohio, are among the speakers advertised. T. J. Florence is one of the chief managers, and the name of Louis Schade, the defender of Wirz, is among the many other Copperhead names of the convocation. The display here has not been so profoundly stirred with joy since the news that our poor boys were starving by the thousands at Andersonville.

AN IMPORTANT CAUCUS.

There will be a general caucus of Republican members of the Senate and House on Friday night, to determine upon some definite and concurrent course of action in view of the present exigencies of the Union party.

THE SUFFRAGE BILL.

for this District will be pushed to an immediate vote in the Senate, the President's veto of the bill being, it is claimed, already assured.

A PRESIDENTIAL REQUIREMENT.

The President declared last night to a party who applied for an official appointment that he could not have it without the condition of giving in his adherence to his policy in all its parts, and that the requirement will be made in all future cases of appointment to office under his administration.

TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Feb. 21, 1866.

MERCHANT TAILORS.

A large delegation of merchant tailors are here from Pennsylvania and Maryland, joined by some of the trades of Washington, to appear before the Committee on Ways and Means with a view to obtain an amendment of the Internal Revenue law. They say they are now required to pay $50 on every $1,000 of gross receipts, which is a heavy tax, and they are desirous of being relieved. They are willing to pay what is recommended by the Treasury Commission, namely, $5 on $1,000.

SALE OF GOLD AND SILVER LANDS.

Representative Julian, Chairman of the House Committee on Public Lands, today reported from that Committee a very important bill providing for the sale of the gold and silver lands of the United States.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

The receipts from Internal Revenue to-day were $796,100.

CONSCIENCE MONEY.

Another contribution of conscience money, amounting to $150, was to-day received by Treasurer Spinner. The person making the contribution states that he was formerly an officer in the Union Army, and that the returned money was drawn by him for two servants, while he actually employed but one.

CABINET RUMORS.

The statements telegraphed here that there is to be an immediate and general disruption of the Cabinet are entirely unfounded, as we are assured upon the best possible authority. At the Cabinet meeting yesterday there was the usual personal cordiality, although the differences of opinion between those who favored and those who opposed the veto are irremediable. The statement that Mr. Speed will shortly retire seems to be founded on something more than ordinary rumors, and is an event quite dependent as to time and circumstance upon that gentleman's own volition.

CIRCULAR FROM GEN. BAIRD.

Major-Gen. Baird, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau for Louisiana, has published a circular to the planters of St. Martin's, in reply to certain resolutions adopted by them at a meeting to regulate contracts with freedmen, in which he compliments them for their liberality and justice, and speaks of the resolutions as highly creditable to them, but suggests a few improvements that would render the rules provided by the resolutions acceptable to all parties concerned.

AUTHOR OF THE MESSAGE.

The authorship of the President's Veto Message is variously assigned. The opinion which most generally obtains in Congressional circles is that it is the handiwork of several doctors, with the prescriptions a good deal mixed. Montgomery Blair is popularly assigned an important part in its authorship.

POST-OFFICE CLERKSHIPS.

Of the 29 new Post-Office clerkships provided for by the House bill, 18 are to be filled by those now filling temporary positions in the Department. The other 11 will be selected from among the thousand and more applications now on file.

DEATH OF A MISSIONARY.

The Rev. Rufus F. Buell died in this city yesterday. He was for many years an eminent missionary of the Baptist denomination to Greece.

MR. GARRISON'S LECTURE.

Wm. Lloyd Garrison lectures in this city at the Union League Room on Friday night.

NEW-YORK, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1866.

The CHAIR—The Chair is not advised of the character of the resolution.

Mr. COWAN—I would suggest that the resolution be read.

The resolution was then read as it passed the House yesterday.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

The CHAIR—The question is upon taking up the resolution. It is not now before the Senate.

Mr. COWAN—I cannot say certain that this is not the most important resolution ever offered in this body. I cannot conceive anything, myself, of more importance, than that we should decide, upon the spur of the moment, that States shall be shut out of this Union, without having a chance to be heard.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

Mr. COWAN—I think the resolution had better go over to give us time to consider it and read it.

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.

Mr. LANE (Kansas) gave notice that on Friday he would introduce a bill to continue in force the existing Freedmen's Bureau, which by the terms of the act establishing it expires one year after the termination of the Rebellion.

REPRESENTATION.

The regular order which was the proposed amendment to the Constitution on the subject of representation being called for, Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives from the South. Third: The proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. BUCKALEW addressed the Senate on the general subject of representation in Congress, under the following heads: First: The Senatorial representation of the Eastern States. Second: The admission of Senators and Representatives