

WASHINGTON.

FURTHER CABINET SPECULATION—THE PRESIDENT ELECT BESIEGED BY THE POLITICIANS—THE "COMING MAN" FROM PENNSYLVANIA NOT YET KNOWN—GEN. GRANT ON THE NEW-YORK CUSTOM-HOUSE—PASSAGE OF THE SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT IN THE HOUSE—THE CASE OF GEORGIA—HER REPRESENTATIVES TO BE DECLARED INELIGIBLE.

The present administration of the New-York Custom House, and said he believed it could and should be made to work without dishonor to the Government. He did not like the present bonded warehouse system. He thought that on the whole it encouraged foreign manufacturers to send their surplus goods, to the exclusion of our own, to be stored by the United States, and kept ready for every favorable turn of the market.

ALBANY.

THE CIVIL TENURE-OF-OFFICE LAW DEBATED IN THE SENATE—THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE EXCISE LAW.

ALBANY, Feb. 25.—Senator Hubbard, a Democrat, is very anxious, like his friend Jacobs, to propitiate Gen. Grant. He introduced a resolution instructing our Senators to vote and use their influence for the repeal of the Tenure-of-Office Law. This gave rise to considerable debate—Senators Nichols and Beach, both Democrats, supporting Mr. Hubbard, and taunting the Representatives in Congress with being afraid to trust Gen. Grant. Senators Parker, Kennedy, and Morgan made the principal speeches against the resolutions, the former making a very humorous allusion to the Democrats bowing to the rising sun.

ALBANY.

THE CIVIL TENURE-OF-OFFICE LAW DEBATED IN THE SENATE—THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE EXCISE LAW.

ALBANY, Feb. 25.—Senator Hubbard, a Democrat, is very anxious, like his friend Jacobs, to propitiate Gen. Grant. He introduced a resolution instructing our Senators to vote and use their influence for the repeal of the Tenure-of-Office Law. This gave rise to considerable debate—Senators Nichols and Beach, both Democrats, supporting Mr. Hubbard, and taunting the Representatives in Congress with being afraid to trust Gen. Grant.

ALBANY.

THE CIVIL TENURE-OF-OFFICE LAW DEBATED IN THE SENATE—THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE EXCISE LAW.

ALBANY, Feb. 25.—Senator Hubbard, a Democrat, is very anxious, like his friend Jacobs, to propitiate Gen. Grant. He introduced a resolution instructing our Senators to vote and use their influence for the repeal of the Tenure-of-Office Law. This gave rise to considerable debate—Senators Nichols and Beach, both Democrats, supporting Mr. Hubbard, and taunting the Representatives in Congress with being afraid to trust Gen. Grant.

ALBANY.

THE CIVIL TENURE-OF-OFFICE LAW DEBATED IN THE SENATE—THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE EXCISE LAW.

ALBANY, Feb. 25.—Senator Hubbard, a Democrat, is very anxious, like his friend Jacobs, to propitiate Gen. Grant. He introduced a resolution instructing our Senators to vote and use their influence for the repeal of the Tenure-of-Office Law. This gave rise to considerable debate—Senators Nichols and Beach, both Democrats, supporting Mr. Hubbard, and taunting the Representatives in Congress with being afraid to trust Gen. Grant.