

YELLOW FEVER RAVAGES.

MEMPHIS AND NEW-ORLEANS SUFFERING. MEMPHIS SILENT AND WOE-STRIKEN—A NOBLE RESPONSE TO THE APPEALS MADE TO THIS CITY. The yellow fever continues its ravages. In Memphis yesterday the number of deaths was twenty-six; the new cases 100. In New-Orleans there were forty-four deaths and 125 new cases. The Postmaster at Grenada, Miss., gives a sad picture of the gloom and stillness which have settled upon that town. He promises to remain at his post. Upwards of $63,000 was raised in this city yesterday for the benefit of the plague-stricken cities.

A SAD STATE OF AFFAIRS.

THE FEVER SPREADING AT MEMPHIS—ITS APPEARANCE IN THE HOSPITAL CAMPS—THE URGENT NEED OF ASSISTANCE. MEMPHIS, TENN., Aug. 26.—To-day the weather was very cloudy, and everything looked extremely gloomy. The fever has not only increased in the city, but has seemed to thwart the efforts to save the lives of many poor people who were moved out of the city, by appearing in two of the camps. It is now definitely known that three deaths occurred yesterday from fever at Camp "Joe Williams." Several others of the refugees are sick. In addition to these three, a woman also died from heart disease. When found this morning in her tent, her young babe was discovered on its dead mother's breast, seeking nourishment. At a camp near Overton Station, on the Memphis and Paducah Railroad, Charles Fagan died this morning. For the past twenty-four hours the Board of Health records show 100 new cases and twenty-five interments. Dr. Alexander Erskine and Fathers McGinty and Boke, of St. Peter's Parish, and two more of the sisters at LaSalle's Academy, W. W. White, clerk at the Peabody Hotel, and Joseph Russell (who has been actively at work among the sick of the Odd Fellows fraternity) were taken down to-day.

The disease has also attacked many negroes; in some neighborhoods sick ones are found in every household. Physicians and nurses are greatly needed, our own physicians having more than they can do without the attention of a nurse for days at a time. A ride through the worst infected districts draws forth many appeals for directions where or how to obtain the services of a physician. The Medical Association employs five physicians, but the calls upon them are more than they can attend to. Two of our practicing physicians have died of the fever, and five others are sick.

DESOLATION AT GRENADA.

THE POSTMASTER DESCRIBES THE GLOOM AND THE HEAVY MORTALITY. (BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The Postmaster at Grenada, Miss., writes to the department: "You can never realize the situation here. Nobody comes here. The world has refused shelter to our unfortunate refugees. Business houses, banks and schools all closed. No signs of business except among nurses, doctors and undertakers. Our white population generally 1,200 to 1,400, now numbers not more than 300, and there are the sick nurses and doctors. He says that his assistant is dead, but that he is willing to stay there and perform every duty that the department requires. He has been instructed to run his office so as to maintain the confidence of the remaining inhabitants, and beyond this not to attempt any distribution of his mail, but just to make it up and throw it on the trains as they pass, leaving the work of distribution to be performed by the railway postal clerks.

NO DECREASE AT NEW-ORLEANS.

FORTY-FOUR DEATHS AND ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIVE NEW CASES. NEW-ORLEANS, Aug. 26.—Forty-four deaths and 25 new cases have been reported here for the past twenty-four hours. The Times says: "The strong sympathy shown for the afflicted cities of the South by their more fortunate sisters of the North is something not to be easily forgotten. Over every side we hear of most noble efforts being made to raise contributions in aid of the afflicted; while the North, with lavish hand, is something the favored town of Southern suffering, she is building a monument to gratitude which will be luminous forever."

DEATHS AT NON-INFECTED PLACES.

A FATAL CASE AT PITTSBURGH—DEATH OF A TRAMP NEAR CAMDEN. PITTSBURGH, Penn., Aug. 26.—The first case of yellow fever arrived in this city last night on the steamer Abner O'Neil, from Wheeling. The patient was James Crawford, a resident of this city, who had been employed on the river at Cincinnati. The Board of Health had him removed to the hospital at once, and he died immediately upon his arrival. He died this evening.

RELIEF NOTES.

GREENSBRIER, WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. Aug. 26.—Colonel Long, the African explorer, and an ex-officer of the Egyptian Army, delivered a lecture in the ballroom here to-day. The proceeds, amounting to $200, were forwarded to the yellow fever sufferers at Vicksburg.

THE SISTER OF ST. MARY AT MEMPHIS.

An appeal for help from the Sisters of St. Mary of Memphis, appeared in yesterday's TRIBUNE, with the approval of the Rev. Dr. George W. Houghton, of the Church of the Transfiguration, in East Twenty-Ninth-st. Yesterday Dr. Houghton said that one of the Sisters whom he mentioned as having been removed to Memphis from this city on account of the distress prevailing there, had been this day dispatched to Memphis, and that she was almost helpless for want of means. The orphanage under the care of the Sisters is close by the infected district. Dr. Houghton had just received word that Sister Frances, the Sister in charge of the orphanage, was down with the fever, and also two of the children. Many demands were being made at the institution for the admission of children who had been made orphans by the pestilence. It was impossible to receive such without impeding those who had not yet been exposed. A branch orphanage will be established for them until their disappearance. Dr. Houghton said that contributions placed in his hands amounted to $80 before noon. This sum he sent by express at a personal expense of $2 50. Up to last evening he had received additional contributions aggregating almost as much. Bishop Quintard, of Tennessee, will send to the city a longer. He asks for contributions for the special relief of the orphans and Sisters of St. Mary, and can be addressed at Dr. Houghton's parsonage, No. 1-East Twenty-ninth-st.

SUBSCRIPTIONS IN THIS CITY.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE RAISES $4,755 71 IN ONE DAY—OTHER GIFTS SWELL YESTERDAY'S CONTRIBUTIONS TO $6,373 41—MISS MARY ANDERSON GIVES $100 AND OFFERS HER SERVICES FOR A BENEFIT FOR THE SUFFERERS. The Relief Committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce on Friday last met yesterday Henry Hents in the chair. Several members expressed regret that other commercial bodies had determined to act independently of the Chamber in soliciting funds for the sufferers, fearing that it might impair the efficiency of the Chamber in collecting a sum that would properly represent the liberal business men of the city. Appropriations were made by the committee as follows: New-Orleans, $2,000; Vicksburg, $1,000; Memphis, $1,000. The following contributions were acknowledged yesterday by the treasurer, J. Pierpont Morgan:

Table listing donors and amounts: Brown Bros. & Co. $500.00, Edwin Parsons... $25.00, Phelps Dodge & Co. 250.00, James, Smith & Co. 25.00, etc.

THE DEMOCRATS PREPARING HOW TO RAISE MONEY AND SEND OUT DOCUMENTS.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—A meeting of the Democratic Campaign Committee, at which Senator McDonald, Representatives Blackburn and Hunter and the resident members, Mr. Harvey and Mr. Denver, were present, took place to-day. After reading the accumulated correspondence a general discussion of the situation took place, followed by a consideration of the future work of the committee, having reference principally to the printing of documents and raising money. The committee will meet again to-morrow.

THE PRESIDENT'S WESTERN TOUR.

THE ITINERARY OF HIS JOURNEY—FARGO AND BISMARCK TO BE VISITED. WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The President, Mrs. Hayes and family, will leave here next Friday evening at 7 1/2 o'clock, on the Baltimore and Ohio Road, for Fremont, Ohio, where they will arrive Saturday afternoon. Monday evening they will leave Fremont for Chicago, arriving in that city the next morning. Wednesday he will start from Chicago for St. Paul, arriving at the latter place Thursday morning, and breakfasting with ex-Senator Pillsbury at the Fair. In the evening there will be a public reception of about 10,000 people. The President will leave for Fargo, Minn., on Friday morning, and will arrive at Minneapolis, where he will hold a public reception, on Wednesday morning. He will keep on to Chicago, reaching there on Wednesday morning, and thence he will return to Washington.

CURRENT TOPICS AT THE CAPITAL.

SUGGLERS TO BE PUNISHED. WASHINGTON, Monday, Aug. 26, 1878. The Secretary of the Treasury will renew his recommendation to Congress for the building of a new light-draught Revenue marine steamer to patrol the Mississippi Sound near Shiloh, and the heavy-draught steamer being unable to get up the Sound and to detect and break up the practice of smuggling cigars and other goods from Mexico. The goods are taken in small boats and carried to the nearest railroad station. Such smuggling operations are the source of considerable loss to the Government.

THE CHINESE EMBASSY'S PLANS.

A private letter from Mr. D. W. Bartlett, the American Secretary of the Chinese Legation, announces that the members of the Embassy will take up their residence in Washington about the middle of September, and present themselves to the President after their return from Minnesota. Mr. Bartlett contradicts the wild stories about the wealth and extravagance of the Legation, and says that for the coming winter. As he says: "They do not propose to build a new residence, but desire to live quietly and attend to the business upon which they were sent."

GLOOMY REPORTS FROM BRAZIL.

Captain James McLean, commander of the schooner D. M. Anthony, arrived in this city yesterday from Para, Brazil, to which port he took a cargo of rail iron and other supplies from Fall River, Mass., for the Medina and Mamora Railroad. The captain reports that the men engaged on the railroad are in a terrible condition for want of food and medical attention. He brought four of the men back to this city with him. They will be sent to the hospital. Reports of the condition of the men are very gloomy. He says that the men are not getting any food, and that the men are dying of starvation. He says that the men are not getting any food, and that the men are dying of starvation.

THE MURDERED POLICEMAN.

BENNETT IS BROUGHT INTO COURT BUT REFUSES TO TESTIFY. The Smith inquest was continued yesterday in Jersey City. The attendance was small. William D. Daly, the lawyer who has been retained for the defense by Alderman Smith testified that he had known Smith about fifteen years, and that he had known him to be a man of good character. He testified that he had known Smith about fifteen years, and that he had known him to be a man of good character. He testified that he had known Smith about fifteen years, and that he had known him to be a man of good character.

RAILWAY REFORMS.

A TALK WITH MR. VANDERBILT. HIS SATISFACTION WITH THE RECENT RAILWAY CONFERENCE—THE CHANGES AGREED UPON A BENEFIT TO THE PUBLIC AND THE RAILWAY OWNERS. In an interview with a TRIBUNE correspondent, Mr. William H. Vanderbilt expressed great satisfaction with results of the recent railway conference at Saratoga. He said the pooling system is working well, and will result in a benefit to the general public as well as to railway owners. He anticipates a revival of business in the Fall. He said the New-York Central has ordered 800 new cars, and the Erie 2,000 to meet the expected demands. He declared that he does not wish to injure any other road or the Erie Canal, and would not have the latter closed if he could.

THE WORK OF THE SARATOGA CONFERENCE.

THE MEETING A GREAT SUCCESS—THE POOLING SYSTEM WORKING WELL—THE CHANGES AGREED UPON A BENEFIT TO THE RAILWAY OWNERS AND THE PUBLIC. (FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.) SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 26.—"What is the opinion of railroad managers concerning the results of the conference just concluded?" was an inquiry addressed to William H. Vanderbilt by a TRIBUNE correspondent to-day. "Every one who took part in it," he replied, "considers it to have been a great success, and is pleased with the results. I never attended one that was so satisfactory. The system followed was different from that pursued at previous conferences. At this one questions to be settled were referred to arbiters and committees, and the representatives of the companies agreed beforehand to be bound by their decisions. A reasonable and amicable spirit was shown throughout the proceedings. There was not the least inclination to quarrel. No sharp remarks were made, and no bitter replies received, as at some other railroad meetings."

MINISTER LANGSTON ON HAYTI.

HE TAKES A HOPEFUL VIEW OF THE ISLAND—HE CONSIDERS THAT COLORED VOTERS SHOULD NOT BE CLANNISH. (BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Professor John M. Langston, American Minister to Hayti, arrived in Washington on Saturday, and has to-day paid a formal visit to the President and the acting Secretary of State. He will return to his post of duty at Port-au-Prince early in October. Professor Langston spoke of the country to which he is accredited and of its inhabitants in the most glowing terms, and said that if asked what place outside the United States he would prefer to make his home, he would reply unhesitatingly Port-au-Prince. He spoke of the Government of Hayti as progressive and enlightened; of general society as being in a high state of refinement, with schools and other enterprises for the moral and material progress of the people, not unworthy of imitation in countries that boast of greater things. "The finest specimen of the negro race," said the Professor, "I have ever seen, and his demeanor, without cringing disposition, without servility in conduct, always polite, respectfully brave. I never saw a Haytian whether rich or poor, an ordinary laboring man or a Senator, that he does not impress me with that feeling." Professor Langston says that President Canale is very popular among his people, and is doing whatever lies in his power to maintain peace and promote the general interests of his countrymen. "I am very cordial toward this Government, and any American going to Hayti will be sure to receive cordial treatment both from the Government and people."

THE POOLING SYSTEM WORKING WELL.

"Has the working of the pooling system in West-bound freights been so satisfactory that it is desirable to extend it to the East-bound business?" "Yes," answered Mr. Vanderbilt. "It has worked very well. I was opposed for a long time to the plan of pooling in railroad affairs, but after a thorough consideration of the whole subject I came to the conclusion that it was the only way to save many of these railroad properties. The lines west of Chicago have had a pool for two or three years, and it has been the advantage of all of them. Pooling has been found to be the best course on the other side of the Atlantic also, and has been practised there for years."

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson, of Boston, the chairman, is that the issues dividing the parties during and after the war no longer exist, the questions of the present being only those relating to the currency and Civil Service reform. Party allegiance should depend on principle, and not on fealty to persons. Every voter should be a politician, and office-holders should be the servants of the people, and not of the party.

THE CONFERENCE ARRANGES FOR AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS—GENERAL GARFIELD TO BE INVITED TO WORK FOR THEM.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Judging by the enthusiasm with which the Young Republicans opened their campaign in Worcester to-day, their power will be felt in the State this Fall to as great an extent as in the city election last year. The conference to-day was attended by seventy-five gentlemen from all parts of the State who are opposed to the machine in politics, and their discussion of the living issues of the day was vigorous and free. Their doctrine, as foreshadowed in the address of Mr. Thompson,