

Amusements and Meetings Co-Night.

DAILY THEATRE—Wives.
FIVE O'CLOCK THEATRE—Opera Bouffe, "La Fille du Miroir."
BAVERLY'S THEATRE—"The Tourists in the Pallman."

Index to Advertisements.

ADVERTISEMENTS—3d Page—6th column.
BANKING AND FINANCIAL—7th Page—3d column.
BANKING AND FINANCIAL—7th Page—6th column.

Business Notices.

"ALDERNEY BRAND" CONDENSED MILK.
REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS.—Ladies and gentlemen can be all on the same footing by purchasing our goods from the same source.

FRANCHISE OFFICES OF THE TRIBUNE.

NEW-YORK: No. 1238 Broadway, corner Thirty-first-st.
ALBANY: No. 208 Broadway, corner Third-st.
BOSTON: No. 700 Broadway, corner North-st.

New-York Daily Tribune.

FOUNDED BY HORACE GREELEY.
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1879.
THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

FOREIGN.—President Diaz, of Mexico, says he will not favor any particular candidate in the Presidential election.

DOMESTIC.—The latest returns make few changes in the result of the elections; in Virginia the Republicans will have a small majority in the Legislature; in Pennsylvania the Republican majority will be from 51,000 to 53,000.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.—Full returns show that Robinson's vote in this city is 58,548.

THE WEATHER.—THURSDAY local observations indicate cloudy and partly cloudy weather, with light rain or snow.

Secretary Sherman's prompt refusal to be a candidate for Senator in Ohio ought to simplify greatly the selection of some prominent man, upon whom the Republicans can unite.

The probability that the granaries of this port may not be capacious enough for the supplies of Western corn arriving daily, affords satisfactory evidence of the abundance with which the Nation has been blessed.

While Detroit yesterday celebrated with due solemnity and heartfelt regard the obsequies of Senator Chandler, this city paid the last tribute of respect to General Hooker.

Although the Ottoman Government is supposed to be tottering it has had independence enough to refuse the British Ambassador's request to make Baker Pacha Governor of the Erzerum district.

Irrespective of its intrinsic justice, the successful operation of immediate emancipation in this country might have taught the Spanish Government that such would be the best course to pursue in Cuba.

There are many indications that the reign of Beaconsfield is nearly over.

that prominent leaders charge so completely their party colors, and the transfer of the head of the great house of Stanley from a place in the Premier's Cabinet to a front seat on the Opposition benches may well cause a flutter in English politics.

TUESDAY'S RESULTS.

The smoke of the battle is a long time in clearing off, in this State. It has been several years since so many conflicting elements were involved in a campaign, and so much difficulty was experienced in learning just what had been decided at the polls.

THE FIGHT BETWEEN IRONCLADS.

The sea fight off Mejillones de Bolivia, if the details received from Peruvian sources prove to be correct, reflects little credit upon Chilean seamanship.

"IN THE AIR."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

NEW-YORK NEXT YEAR.

It is not surprising that both Democratic factions in the State of New-York should have drawn from the incomplete returns published yesterday morning a conclusion flattering to their self-love and their hopes.

PERSONAL.

Miss Colenso, a daughter of the distinguished Bishop of that name, is writing a work which not many young women would undertake—a history of the late Emperor Napoleon.

THE PHILHARMONIC CLUB.

The interest of the first performance of the New-York Philharmonic Club at Cieslering Hall last evening, centred chiefly in the debut of Miss Florence taken up by the statesmen who supply opinions and policies from the establishment in Fourteenth-st. Tammany Hall has no principles and no prejudices. It will hurrh tomorrow for the candidate whom it damned yesterday; and if it can be made to see that its advantage lies in yielding to the seductions of the Claimant, no regard for appearances, no foggy notions of consistency or decency, will impede the rapidity of its conversion.

BULLDOZING IN THE BAY STATE.

Morbid anatomy has its value to the medical student. The Massachusetts election is a useful lesson to personal politicians. If it has been one of the most unsavory canvasses in our history, it is not easy to see how it could have been otherwise.

GENERAL NOTES.

There is one man in the Far West who does not believe in the total depravity of new mining. This is a Baptist minister in Denver, who is leading over the heads of his people an offer of $5,000 a year from a Leadville congregation, and threatening to go west unless his own flock will consent to build a larger church.

Robinson feels hurt. Well, he is hurt.

Somewhat the Democrats don't seem to get much comfort out of the fact that Mississippi is still solid.

Tilden will decide in a day or two whether he will condone it or not.

There seems to be a decided prejudice against income-tax dodging among the citizens of the Solid North.

Pelton thinks Brother Henry is a most melancholy failure as a manager.

The Democrats are already talking about recovering what they have lost by behaving with great wisdom during the coming session of Congress.

Robinson carried Danmore township. That ought to entitle him to a free ride on Smith Weed's railroad.

Wade Hampton takes a curious view of Southern solidarity. He said recently that the South was merely sold for home rule and the Democratic party, but not sold against the North.

The nomination is Tilden's if he wants it, and he will speak all booms for other candidates as a waste of wind.

Will you run for President, General Butler?

Secretary Sherman is said to have written a letter to a member of the Ohio Legislature declining to be a candidate for the United States Senate.

It is the fulness of time to say ta-ta to the alleged Hancock boom.

How does it strike you now, Mr. Hendricks? Do you think Indiana is enough of a "pivot" to force you into the first place on the Democratic ticket next year?

A London paper, writing of the departure of Messrs. Sullivan and Gilbert for New-York, remarks that the extraordinary success of "H. M. S. Pinafore" in the United States has not brought "a single half-penny as remuneration to author or composer."

Miss Edwards, the young Englishwoman whose disappearance from Liverpool some eight weeks ago has created a great deal of excitement, having been found in London, her family withholds any statement as to the reason of the young lady's disappearance, and her father "wishes the affair to drop as quickly as possible from the public mind."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

the treason of Tammany Hall; to Mr. Tilden, who, it alleges, "lashed his own political corpse as closely as he could to the living candidate of the Democracy of New-York"; to the refusal of Tilden to withdraw from the Presidential field and the unwillingness of Robinson to cut loose from him; and to the clergy of the Roman Catholic Church, who "openly 'electioneered' for Kelly. Finally, it says 'there was never so much appearance of 'doctoring the returns,' and intimates that the Democrats have been cheated out of their victory.

All these things indicate that our contemporary is what the pugilists call "groggy."

It staggers up and strikes out where the "Hen Party" voted, and the politicians felt victory, and our neighbors had gathered so much encouragement—"in the air." Well, if our friends on the other side can't beat anything else—and they seem unable to—it may comfort them to beat the air. But, after all, they needn't look there for the causes of defeat.

BULLDOZING IN THE BAY STATE.

Morbid anatomy has its value to the medical student. The Massachusetts election is a useful lesson to personal politicians. If it has been one of the most unsavory canvasses in our history, it is not easy to see how it could have been otherwise. It is only fair to say for the Republican party that if it occasionally fell into the methods of the adventurers, headed by the great adventurer of them all, it could hardly help itself. Seldom has there been a campaign in which the air was so foul and thick with personal imputations. If it be asked who began them, we are afraid that the answer must be—the General and his tutelage. What General Butler deserves credit for, is persistence and hard work. If he had only possessed a good cause he might have done even better.

GENERAL NOTES.

There is one man in the Far West who does not believe in the total depravity of new mining. This is a Baptist minister in Denver, who is leading over the heads of his people an offer of $5,000 a year from a Leadville congregation, and threatening to go west unless his own flock will consent to build a larger church.

Robinson feels hurt. Well, he is hurt.

Somewhat the Democrats don't seem to get much comfort out of the fact that Mississippi is still solid.

Tilden will decide in a day or two whether he will condone it or not.

There seems to be a decided prejudice against income-tax dodging among the citizens of the Solid North.

Pelton thinks Brother Henry is a most melancholy failure as a manager.

The Democrats are already talking about recovering what they have lost by behaving with great wisdom during the coming session of Congress.

Robinson carried Danmore township. That ought to entitle him to a free ride on Smith Weed's railroad.

Wade Hampton takes a curious view of Southern solidarity. He said recently that the South was merely sold for home rule and the Democratic party, but not sold against the North.

The nomination is Tilden's if he wants it, and he will speak all booms for other candidates as a waste of wind.

Will you run for President, General Butler?

Secretary Sherman is said to have written a letter to a member of the Ohio Legislature declining to be a candidate for the United States Senate.

It is the fulness of time to say ta-ta to the alleged Hancock boom.

How does it strike you now, Mr. Hendricks? Do you think Indiana is enough of a "pivot" to force you into the first place on the Democratic ticket next year?

A London paper, writing of the departure of Messrs. Sullivan and Gilbert for New-York, remarks that the extraordinary success of "H. M. S. Pinafore" in the United States has not brought "a single half-penny as remuneration to author or composer."

Miss Edwards, the young Englishwoman whose disappearance from Liverpool some eight weeks ago has created a great deal of excitement, having been found in London, her family withholds any statement as to the reason of the young lady's disappearance, and her father "wishes the affair to drop as quickly as possible from the public mind."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late.

There has been a great deal going on "in the air" of late. The managers of the Tilden-Robinson campaign, when urged to give figures or facts or reasons for their confidence in Robinson's success, declined to furnish anything tangible, but fell back upon the assertion that it was "in the air."

next two or three days. He has already been informed upon "high authority" that the defeat of his party in this State might have been avoided if he had only followed the advice given him some weeks ago by the same authority to withdraw from the Presidential field. He is told that though his position in National politics would have been no better than it is now, he would have had the credit of having voluntarily abdicated the position from which he has now been driven in discredit. Mr. Tilden should ponder this well. And since he is now almost as dead politically as he can be, and cannot commit political suicide, it might be well for him to blow his own brains out or somehow make way with himself, so as to avoid the discredit of dying from some vulgar natural cause. Only if he does we beg he won't "lash his own corpse" to anybody, as they say he has done; for it seems to create hard feeling.

A Norristown subscriber has ascertained that the official figures of the ordinary expenditures of the Government for 1874-'75 and 1876-'77, as given in THE TRIBUNE ALMANAC, differ from those embodied in the report of the Secretary of the Treasury for 1878 (page 17) and is anxious to have the discrepancy explained. The difference is palpable. The table in the Secretary's Report gives gross expenditures, without regard to character. The table in THE ALMANAC includes ordinary as distinguished from extraordinary expenditures. In 1874 the difference is $15,500,000, being the amount of investments made by the Treasury for the benefit of Alabama claimants. As this is an extraordinary investment and has nothing whatever to do with ordinary movements, it is excluded. In 1875 the difference between the two tables is $1,929,519, being the amount paid to British claimants under a treaty which has nothing to do with ordinary movements. In 1876, the difference is $6,641,287.26, being the amount paid during that year on awards under the Alabama Treaty. The figures in THE ALMANAC are invariably taken from the table at the beginning of the Secretary's Report, which classifies all the payments, and enables one to discriminate between ordinary and extraordinary expenditures. Our Norristown friend must swear by his Almanac, and not at it.