FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1882.
THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

FOREIGN.—The closure resolution was adopted in the House of Commons last evening by a vote of 318 to 279.
STRIKES IN BARCELONA have led to disturbances and many arrests.

DOMESTIC.—The steamer Golden City, from New-Orleans for Cincinnati, was burned yesterday at Memphis, Tenn., and thirty-five of those on board are supposed to have lost their lives.

Not a man flinched yesterday when the members of the New-Jersey House of Assembly marched up in alphabetical order and single file, and each was asked to take his Bible oath that he was virtuous.

settled when due, be revived after many years have gone by. If this principle had been in the minds of the United States Senators yesterday it is not likely that they would have voted to pay the little bill presented by the State of Georgia for defending her own frontiers from the Indians sometime about 1795.

It is gratifying to notice that the activity which was caused in the Buildings Bureau by the severe expression of public opinion at the time of the fall of the houses in Grand-st. has not died out now that occurrences have diverted criticism to other quarters.

Rarely does a trial bring together a choicer lot of blacklegs than the murder case now in progress in the General Sessions. Both the murderer and his victim belonged to the class that is peculiarly the scourge of great cities, the class that lives by daily violation of the law, and that settles all differences on the spot with the pistol or the knife, but yet, by skillful use of money or peculiar influence, succeeds in keeping out of prison.

It is one of the most painful features of the burning of the steam packet Golden City on the Mississippi that there seemed for a moment so good a chance of saving all, or nearly all, of those whose lives were in danger, and that then this failed. The packet was approaching her dock, and when the fire was discovered she was immediately headed more directly for the shore, which she touched in four minutes.

The "regular" Democrats of the Assembly held a caucus yesterday afternoon. It was called for the ostensible purpose of considering the Railroad Commission bills, but although those important measures did, indeed, engage the attention of the caucus, the main piece of business which it transacted was of a different, that is to say, of a sanitary nature.

MR. HEWITT ON THE TARIFF.
Mr. Hewitt's speech on the Tariff Commission bill deserves the more candid and serious attention because, while dissenting from its reasonings, we recognize its ability and sincerity.

It would be interesting to know what trifling thing caused the agent of the Long Island Railroad Company at Roslyn, L. I., to go home by a different route than usual a few nights ago when some ruffians were lying in wait to rob him.

The little heed which the criminal classes give to the punishments inflicted by law and intended in great measure as a warning to them is shown by an incident which occurred yesterday in the United States Circuit Court. Judge Benedict sentenced to the State Prison, for counterfeiting, a man, who, seventeen years ago, when very young, was arraigned before him on a similar charge, but was acquitted, while his father and others were convicted.

ability, Mr. Hewitt strives to explain the recent prosperity of the country as due not at all to the tariff. It is always easy to point out a great many causes which conduce to the prosperity of a country when it is prosperous, but Mr. Hewitt entirely fails to show that the limitation of foreign imports has not been one of those causes.

There are not many who will agree with him. If it were granted that the tariff ought at some time to be reformed in the direction of lower duties, most intelligent men would say that this would be a very unfavorable time for such a step.

NOT A "BURNING QUESTION."
The vote in the Senate on Tuesday upon the Tariff Commission bill does not offer much encouragement to the Free Trade Democrats who before the opening of the session proclaimed with something of a flourish of trumpets their purpose to bring this issue to the front, and with the banner of Free Trade unrolled make it the burning question of the campaign of 1884.

The bill that has been under discussion for the past two months in the Senate, and passed that body on Tuesday by the decisive vote of 38 to 15, provides simply for the appointment of a Commission to revise the tariff. Though not presenting directly the issue of Free Trade vs. Protection, it has been antagonized by the Free Traders in such a manner that the lines have been distinctly drawn thereon, and the vote is accepted by both sides as showing the strength of the Free Traders in the Senate.

MR. LONGFELLOW'S BIRTHDAY.
The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Newcastle Chronicle says of General Skobelev: "I have never come in contact with any man who has left so charming an impression upon me.

BULLDOZING EXTRAORDINARY.
The panic among the South Carolina ballot-box stuffers continues. They are making every effort to bulldoze the Court when the election cases come up for trial next week.

GENERAL TALK TO THE BROSSES.
Ever since the young Mr. Cameron assumed the reins of direction of the party in this State has thrown upon the defensive, and it has been obliged to combat every campaign with an apology, and to make that apology as successful as possible.

GRATIFIED WITH SMALL FAVORS.
Should one be gratified with the list of prominent names which have been filed since September 19, 1881, he would discover that James L. Orr, a member of the Legislature, who consented to be a member of the National Convention, has been named for a coveted Consular position in Canada.

asking the exceedingly impertinent question: "How can a ghost reappear?" To this a Tilden disciple made reply that Mr. Tilden would be found to be the liveliest kind of a ghost that had been seen for many years.

ROYALTY CANNOT ESCAPE FROM SEWER GAS.
The grants made to the Duke of Connaught before his marriage were as liberal as the incomes of Queen Victoria's children invariably are, yet he has lived in an unhealthy palace and his Duchess has had a narrow escape from blood-poisoning.

THE UTOPIA OBSERVER HAS SUCH A PASSION FOR LEGISLATIVE INVESTIGATIONS that it calls upon some Democrat in the Senate or Assembly to do himself the "honor" of moving an investigation of the new Capitol from foundation to roof.

PERSONAL.
A carved likeness of the late Dr. J. G. Holland will soon be placed on the wall of the room and back of the chair which he formerly occupied at The Century office.

THE ST. PETERSBURG CORRESPONDENT OF THE NEWCASTLE CHRONICLE says of General Skobelev: "I have never come in contact with any man who has left so charming an impression upon me.

MISS FRANCES POWER COBBE is perhaps the most energetic and persistent opponent of vivisection in England. A little inconsistency on her part was not long ago pointed out to her by a scientific man with whom she had remonstrated on his sanction of the practice she objects to.

GENERAL NEWS.
A mass of pig iron was cast at Frontale one day last week, and the next morning in the shape of twenty-seven nails formed a part of a building in course of construction in Chicago.

MR. PRELIMINARY TALK TO THE BROSSES.
Ever since the young Mr. Cameron assumed the reins of direction of the party in this State has thrown upon the defensive, and it has been obliged to combat every campaign with an apology, and to make that apology as successful as possible.

reference to the hopes and fears of the Republican party. So we had presumed. The Republican party got through with the Butler problem several years ago. It is the Democratic party's problem now—at least, we supposed it was till we read the foregoing statement by the General that he was to decide the question all by himself.

THE GRAND LODGE OF GOOD TEMPLARS OF ENGLAND passed and sent to Mr. Tennyson a resolution of regret that his "new National song" written to celebrate drinking as expression of loyalty, patriotism and freedom, thus pandering to a fast-decaying convivial custom.

IN INDIAN CREEK, an outlying township of Monroe County, Indiana, Democrats have made several attempts to nominate candidates for township offices, but petty jealousies have prevented, and their conventions have adjourned without result.

POLITICAL NEWS.
LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR BULKELEY, of Connecticut, has been unanimously renominated by the Republicans for the office of Governor. He has been successful in administering the affairs of the city as he is in presiding over the State Senate.

THE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE OF THE LOWER HOUSE of the Ohio Legislature has reported in favor of the measure taxing the liquor traffic and known as the Pond bill. A question is raised as to whether the measure should become a law. Judge West has given an opinion in favor of the bill, on the ground that the Constitution permits the General Assembly to provide by law against the evils which attend the liquor traffic.

ONE OF THE CANDIDATES named for Congress—namely, James E. McFarland, of Meadville, Pa.—was a Democrat until 1868, when the repudiating tendencies of the Democracy became plain and compelled him to cut loose from the organization. Colonel S. B. Dick is also a candidate for the same position. As they are both Republicans, and both reside in Crawford county, it is not surprising that the committee to the State Convention from that neighborhood particularly are.

PUBLIC OPINION.
HOW CONGRESS CAN AID THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.
From The Herald (New York).
We beg to suggest to Congress that it can greatly aid the worthy Attorney-General. There is one man in the nation who has more influence than any other man in the country, and that is the Attorney-General.

REPUBLICAN HARMONY NECESSARY.
From The Albany Journal (N.Y.).
It is no longer worth while to ignore an unpleasant but very palpable fact. This danger is less because of the dissensions which have prevailed in the party during the past two years than because of the prevailing impression that those who have the power are not disposed to dispense with the party by adopting a policy of conciliation.

PLAIN TALK TO THE BROSSES.
