

RUDOLF NOT DEAD ALONE.

THE BODY OF A BOHEMIAN WOMAN FOUND WITH HIM.

A NEW RUMOR TO STARTLE EUROPEAN GOSSIPS... THE BRUSSELS CORRESPONDENT OF 'THE CHRONICLE' COMPLAINS OF THE PRESS CENSORSHIP IN STOPPING HIS TELEGRAMS.

RUDOLF LYING IN STATE.

ENORMOUS CROWDS VIEW THE DEAD BODY OF THE AUSTRIAN CROWN PRINCE.

Vienna, Feb. 4.—Enormous crowds of people awaited their turn to view the body of Crown Prince Rudolf.

As the day wore on the approaches to the Court chapel became more and more densely packed with people anxious to gain a vantage point from which to view the body.

Emperor Francis Joseph, in receiving Baron von Fejervary and other Hungarian Ministers to-day, expressed his satisfaction at the tone of the Vienna and Pesth journals with reference to the political situation.

The Emperor has given orders for the completion of Rudolf's 'Austrian-Hungarian' in Word and Picture.

Feith, Feb. 4.—The 'Festher-loyd,' after stating that the report that the Archduke Charles Louis had renounced the succession to the throne of Austria was a vulgar invention, adds in comment: 'It is inconceivable why these questions should be brought up at a time when the feelings of the broken family are absorbed in a desire to see the Emperor's health improved.'

London, Feb. 4.—Another sensational story relative to the death of the Austrian Crown Prince comes from Brussels.

London, Feb. 4.—The Spanish mail steamer Reina has foundered off the Island of Bilbao, one of the Philippines.

BOTH SHIPS GO DOWN.

DISASTROUS COLLISION ON THE BRITISH COAST—TWENTY-FIVE LIVES LOST.

London, Feb. 4.—The steamer Neelva was in collision with the British ship Kirkcaldy, Captain Macdonald, from Lyttelton, off Dunneen, last night, and both vessels went to the bottom in a short time.

THE TURMOIL IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, Feb. 4.—Father McFadden, who was arrested yesterday at Greecor, County Donegal, at the time Police Inspector Martin was killed, was taken to Letterkenny under a strong escort to-day.

A BRITISH NAVAL OFFICER DISCIPLINED.

Paris, Feb. 4.—A semi-official note states that the commander of a British man-of-war recently boarded a French vessel, whose papers were regular, off the Island of Pemba, which is situated thirty miles north of the Island of Zanzibar and outside of the blockaded territory, and took the vessel to Zanzibar.

DISASTROUS STORMS IN EUROPE.

Berlin, Feb. 4.—There was a heavy fall of snow in Berlin on Saturday, accompanied by a thunder-storm.

A DENIAL FROM ARCHBISHOP CORRIGAN.

Rome, Feb. 4.—The 'Osservatore Romano' says that a telegram has been received at the Vatican from Archbishop Corrigan, of New-York, in which he denies that in referring to the Armistice of the Pope he intended to subscribe upon the action of the Pope toward Ireland.

THE CHESS CONTEST AT HAVANA.

Havana, Feb. 1.—The seventh game—Evans gambit—in the chess tournament here was played to-day.

A ROYAL BETROTHAL TALKED OF.

Rome, Feb. 4.—The 'Tribuna' states that there is talk of a betrothal of Prince Emmanuel, eldest son of the Duke of Aosta and nephew of King Humbert, to Archduchess Margaret, daughter of Archduke Charles Louis of Austria.

GERMANY'S BUDGETSOME ARMY.

Berlin, Feb. 4.—A bill has been introduced in the Reichstag providing for a loan of 60,000,000 marks for expenses on account of the army, the navy and the State railways.

AN ANGLICAN ALLIANCE.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 4.—The British correspondent of the 'Novoye Vremya' states that he has reason to believe that England and Germany have concluded an alliance in the Anglo-Italian Convention, having for its object the protection of the Northern Alps and ports.

BISMARCK MAKES A PROPOSAL.

ANXIOUS TO CONFER WITH ENGLAND AND THE UNITED STATES ON SAMOAN AFFAIRS.

HE ASKS THAT THE WASHINGTON CONFERENCE OF 1857 BE RESUMED AT BERLIN.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Count von Arco, the German Minister, called at the State Department this afternoon and had a conference with Secretary Bayard in regard to Samoan affairs.

THE NAVY DEPARTMENT IS INFORMED THAT THE UNITED STATES NAVY YARD, FITTING OUT AT MARSEILLE, SHE WILL PROCEED DIRECT TO PANAMA, WHERE SHE IS EXPECTED TO RECEIVE ORDERS TO JOIN ADMIRAL KIMBERLY'S FLEET AT SAMOA.

THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS TO-DAY DECIDED TO ASK FOR A CONFERENCE ON THE SENATE AMENDMENTS TO THE DIPLOMATIC BILL.

THE AMENDMENT APPROPRIATING $500,000 FOR THE PROTECTION OF AMERICAN INTERESTS IN SAMOA MET WITH UNANIMOUS APPROVAL, BUT WILL BE ALLOWED TO GO WITH THE OTHER AMENDMENTS INTO CONFERENCE.

IN THE CASE OF THE AMENDMENT APPROPRIATING $1,000,000 FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A NAVAL STATION AT PAGO-PAGO, SAMOA, IT WAS HELD THAT THE PARAGRAPH IN THE NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL RELATING TO THE SAME SUBJECT (AND MUCH BROADER IN ITS TERMS) WAS BETTER FRAMED THAN THE SENATE AMENDMENT, AND IN ADDITION, WAS PLACED IN THE BILL WHERE IT PROPERLY BELONGED, SO IT IS LIKELY THAT IT WILL BE DROPPED IN CONFERENCE IF EARLY ACTION ON THE PART OF THE SENATE UPON THE NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL IS ASSURED.

TO REMOVE THE GERMAN CONSUL AT SAMOA, BISMARCK SAID TO BE MUCH DISPLEASED AT THE CONSUL'S ACTIONS.

London, Feb. 5.—The Berlin correspondent of 'The Daily Telegraph' says it is certain that the German Consul at Samoa will be removed.

NO OVERTURES MADE TO GERMAN.

THE AMERICAN MINISTER, IT IS SAID, HAS NOT BEEN THE BEARER OF OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS REGARDING SAMOAN ILLNESS OF MR. PENDLETON.

Berlin, Feb. 4.—The 'North German Gazette' tonight makes a statement from the German Government, which is construed as an indication that the appointment of a new American Minister is desirable.

THE 'NORTH GERMAN GAZETTE' SAYS: 'EVEN IF THERE IS NO REASON TO DENY THE STATEMENT THAT SECRETARY BAYARD SENT INSTRUCTIONS TO MR. PENDLETON, IT IS CERTAIN THAT THE LATTER HAS MADE NO OVERTURE WHATSOEVER TO THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT. ON ACCOUNT OF HIS HEALTH, MR. PENDLETON HAS NOT CALLED AT THE FOREIGN OFFICE FOR MONTHS, AND SINCE HE RESUMED HIS DUTIES SOME WEEKS AGO HE HAS NOT BEEN THE BEARER OF ANY OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS WHATSOEVER FROM HIS GOVERNMENT. ON THE SAME MATTER, WE SHOULD NOT BE ASTONISHED IF NEXT MONTH, WHEN MR. HARRISON ENTERS OFFICE, SOMEBODY ELSE IS APPOINTED TO REPRESENT AMERICA HERE.'

THE COALING STATION AT PAGO-PAGO.

Berlin, Feb. 4.—Commenting upon the action of the United States Senate in voting a credit for a coaling station at Pago-Pago, the 'National Zeitung' says: 'America obtained the right to establish a coaling station from Malacca, but she did not take advantage of the privilege within the specified time. The establishment of a station now would appear to be an American protest against German annexation.'

THE ICE PALACE OPENED BY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF CANADA.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 4.—Governor-General and Lady Stanley arrived in Montreal at noon to-day, and were met by members of the carnival executive committee.

THE NUMBER OF NEW-YORKERS ATTENDING THE CELEBRATION IS UNUSUALLY LARGE. SINCE FRIDAY NIGHT SOME 400 PERSONS HAVE AVAILED THEMSELVES OF THE SPECIAL FACILITIES FOR THE CELEBRATION OFFERED BY THE NEW-YORK CENTRAL, AND IT IS CONSIDERED PROBABLE THAT NEARLY 500 WILL GO THERE BY WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

DISCUSSING THE FISHERIES IN OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 4.—In the Senate to-day, Mr. Drummond, speaking of the fishery question, said that Canada had no reason to regret that the bargain made at Washington was broken off.

PANAMA CANAL COMPANY MISOLVED.

Paris, Feb. 4.—The dissolution of the old Panama Canal Company has been decreed by the French Government, and the liquidation of the company is being carried out.

EXTENSION OF TIME ON FREIGHT BONDS.

London, N. Y., Feb. 4.—(Special.) Mr. Marshall, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, has issued a new order regarding the bonding of freight on which there is duty while passing through Canada to the United States on its way to some foreign port.

ACIDITY OF AN ARTIST.

Baltimore, Feb. 4.—James K. Harley, an artist, whose first wife is said to have been related to Senator and General Sherman, committed suicide here to-day. He was sixty years old.

TRYING TO COMMIT SUICIDE TOGETHER.

Cary, N. Y., Feb. 4.—(Special.) Mr. J. H. Claxton, a party of five, were arrested at Cary, N. Y., last night at 11 o'clock in Seventy-fourth street, suffering from the effects of Paris green, which they had taken with the intention of committing suicide. They were taken to the Ninety-ninth Street Hospital.

WINTER IN NEW-YORK AND THE EAST.

THE MERCURY FROM 30 TO 40 DEGREES BELOW ZERO IN THE ADIRONDACKS AND NORTHERN NEW-ENGLAND.

Waterbury, Vt., Feb. 4.—The thermometer is 30 degrees below zero here, and 40 below at Stowe.

St. Johnsbury, Vt., Feb. 4.—The thermometer was 32 degrees below zero at 7 o'clock this morning.

Montpelier, Vt., Feb. 4.—The following are Vermont's temperatures: Montpelier, 36 to 41 below; Barre, 35; Northfield, 42; Morris-town, 38; Elmore, 38.

Hanover, N. H., Feb. 4.—(Special.)—The mercury fell to 25 degrees below zero last night, the lowest it has been this winter.

Worcester, Mass., Feb. 4.—The thermometer dropped thirty-eight degrees between 3 p. m. yesterday and 7 a. m. to-day, where it stood at 7 o'clock this morning.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 4.—(Special.)—For the first time this season the ice is of sufficient thickness to be worth harvesting, six inches, and hundreds of men are filling the houses.

Rome, N. Y., Feb. 4.—Last night the thermometer in this city reached 32 degrees below zero. The weather to-day was cold and clear.

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Feb. 4.—The weather here this morning was clear, but the thermometer was only 20 degrees below zero, and the thermometer at other sections of the Adirondacks show still lower temperatures.

Canajoharie, N. Y., Feb. 4.—To-day was the coldest day of the present winter in the Mohawk Valley, the thermometer registering from 18 to 24 degrees below zero.

Kingston, N. Y., Feb. 4.—(Special.)—This was the keenest morning of the winter along Hudson. The mercury fell to 9 below zero at various points in the city.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 4.—Another cold wave is prevailing in the North-west. The Special Service people expect the mercury to drop to zero by morning.

THE MURDER OF CLAYTON.

CHARACTERISTIC OF ARKANSAS DEMOCRATS.

HISTORY OF A SERIES OF BRUTAL CRIMES TOLD BY GENERAL POWELL CLAYTON AND HIS BROTHER—THE WAY OF ASSASSINATION MADE EASY BY THE DEMO.

CHIEF GOVERNOR OF THE STATE.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 4.—General Powell Clayton and Judge Clayton, brothers of John M. Clayton, who was assassinated on the night of January 29, have furnished the following statement to the public:

That the public may understand the circumstances leading up to and culminating in the assassination of our own brother, John M. Clayton, we desire, over our own stenographer, to make the following statement of facts. All agree that this was a political assassination. It will therefore be necessary for us to refer to the political conditions and circumstances surrounding it. We do this in no partisan spirit, but only that justice may be done to the memory of our brother, and that a knowledge of the facts which led to his assassination may induce the people of this State to correct the evils from which this and other great crimes have sprung, and that, however these circumstances may be to his memory, may result in good to the people of this and other States.

Although since the commencement of the last political canvass for State officers in Arkansas many political crimes have been committed in different parts of the State, in this statement we will confine ourselves to the limits of Conway County, within which Plummerville, the scene of this murder, is situated, and only to those circumstances which in our opinion led to the commission of the crime.

Prior to the September election and during the canvass a political club was organized at Morrilton, the county seat of Conway County, which one Stowers, fresh from Mississippi, at its head. This club soon after resolved itself into a militia company, and about two weeks before the election, at a time of profound peace in the county, Simon P. Hughes, then Governor, was not fully supplied with State arms, but furnished it with a full supply of ammunition.

Simon P. Hughes, then Governor, was not fully supplied with State arms, but furnished it with a full supply of ammunition. This was done by the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

Under these changed conditions about two months after the Congressional election occurred, John M. Clayton being the Republican candidate and G. H. Breckinridge the Democratic. The day before the election, the citizens of the town of Plummerville (who were nearly all opposed politically to our brother, while those of the farming parts were his political friends, the latter greatly outnumbering the former) collected at the voting places before the hour fixed by law for the opening of the polls, and organized a full set of election officers of their party.

FLAMES IN A FINE HOUSE.

A HANDSOME UPTOWN HOME RUINED.

THE DWELLING OF HENRY C. NEVINS, NO. 3 EAST FIFTY-THIRD-ST., A COMPLETE WRECK.

The handsome house No. 3 East Fifty-third-st., owned and occupied by Henry C. Nevins, the Church-st. dry-goods merchant, was damaged badly by a fire yesterday.

Mrs. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined to the house most of the time, although she was able to take short drives on pleasant afternoons. She was in her room, on the second floor, when the alarm was given.

Mr. Nevins had been ill several weeks and had been confined