

A LETTER FROM SPAIN.

INTEREST THERE IN THE WORLD'S FAIR.

JORN SLOAN'S SUGGESTION ABOUT ORGANIZATION.

EATON—A DIRECTOR-GENERAL NEEDED—MORE OFFERS OF PROPERTY.

The World's Fair Committee on Permanent Organization met again yesterday in the Governor's Room at the City Hall to complete the work left unfinished at the first session of the committee on Tuesday.

The President of the entire organization should be the Mayor of the city of New-York, and he should be in general charge of the whole work.

The present committee should be reorganized. The present committee should be reorganized. The present committee should be reorganized.

The Director-General should be authorized to appoint his own assistants, subject to the approval of the Executive Committee of Organization, and should be held responsible for them.

It is suggested that in this proposed form of organization the preliminary expenses would be materially reduced.

After a brief discussion this document was referred to the Executive Committee for consideration.

Edmund C. Stanton, secretary of the committee, read a communication from the Executive Committee of the Legislature suggesting that a General Executive Committee be formed, to consist of five members.

ACROSS NEW ENGLAND.

INDUSTRIAL WONDERS SHOW THE INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS.

THE DELEGATES WELCOMED BY WORCESTER.

SOUTH MANCHESTER, WILLAMANTIC AND HARTFORD—A BANQUET AT THE CAPITAL OF THE NUTMEG STATE.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.)

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 9.—An altogether new section of New-England, an altogether different series of industries, have been shown to the International Congress to-day.

The special train began to move away from Portland last night before any of the tired delegates had had time to climb into their sleeping berths.

TANNER'S FAMOUS ORDER RESCINDED.

MR. BUSSEY'S OPINION OF THE RULE FIXING A MONTH AS THE MINIMUM PENSION RATE.

Washington, Oct. 9.—In the claim of John A. Lunderberg, late private Company K, 10th Vermont Infantry, on appeal from the Commissioner of Pensions, Assistant Secretary Bussey to-day rendered a decision in which he reviews and rescinds the "order" which was issued by the Commissioner April 25, 1889, and which abolished the rule of six months, and established for the same the sum of five dollars per month, in all cases where a pensionable disability is found, such order dating from March 27, 1889.

The Assistant Secretary, in his review of the aforesaid appeal, addressing the Acting Commissioner, says that the law in relation to this appeal, the Chief of the Law Division, the Pension Office referred the case to the medical referee, who reported that, under the Commissioner's order mentioned, the claimant should receive $4 a month from March 27, 1889.

Continuing, the Assistant Secretary says in part: "In conformity with the authority bestowed upon the Bureau of Pensions, the ultimate rates of pension for non-specific disabilities are so divided and sub-divided into degrees, as to constitute a schedule of ratings, predicated upon the degree of disability ascertainable by medical examinations."

It is upon this principle alone that a system can be enforced in accordance with justice to all who may seek its benefits; and one of the essential features of this system is that an increase of pension must be determined by an increase of disability, as the same may be found by medical examination. In view of this fact it is obvious that, if it were admitted that rates of pension for non-specific disabilities might be increased by a mere order of the Commissioner of Pensions, unimposed by any disability, the whole schedule of ratings, as such disabilities might be obliterated or revolutionized at a similar order.

The error of the above-mentioned order, issued April 25, 1889, by the late Commissioner of Pensions, is hereby rescinded, and the rule of six months, as it has never the color of law nor the authority of precedent.

Chicago's Inadequate Postal Force. Washington, Oct. 9.—The Commissioner of Pensions appointed to examine and report upon the postal force of Chicago has filed a long report with the Postmaster-General. They find that Chicago's postal service is, and has been for years, entirely inadequate to the needs of the public, especially in the business sections.

The territory to be covered is about 175 square miles, including the town recently annexed. An entire reorganization of the carrier department is recommended, involving a separation of collections and deliveries, and an allowance for 115 additional carriers, and the number of routes, 400, and twenty-two additional routes called for. Additional routes to be added in each of the other departments are also suggested, and it is recommended that certain annexed territory be present quarters of several of the divisions, being reorganized, and that the organization of the executive and registry divisions is also called for, and a system of pneumatic transportation is favored.

The Brooklyn Navy Yard's Efficiency. Washington, Oct. 9.—Secretary Tracy has received from the commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard a statement of the cost of and time expended on the repairs to the yard, which was injured by striking a rock in 1887. The statement shows that the cost of the repairs was $250,000, and the time expended was six months.

New-York Sugar Customs Cases Decided. Washington, Oct. 9.—Assistant Secretary Tichenor has written to the Collector of the Port of New-York in regard to a number of appeals from his assessment of duty on certain quantities of sugar. The result of the cases is as follows: "Your decision assessing duty at the rates corresponding with the polariscopic tests reported by the Appraiser is hereby affirmed on all the appeals relating to sugars which were not resampled, and to such of the resampled sugars as are covered by the appellants' claim for lower tests than any official tests. As to the cases where the appellants claim the official tests of the resampled sugars, the Appraiser's view of Circular No. 161, of September 5, 1887, that the appeals are well taken, and you are hereby authorized to refund the duties on the sugars, as provided for in said circular, and to take the necessary steps for a refund of the duties exacted in excess."

Command the Schoolship Saratoga. Washington, Oct. 9.—Secretary Tracy this morning received a request from the local board of managers of the training ship Saratoga for the detail of Commander Francis M. Green, of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, to take charge of her. The request is the result of a long negotiation for securing Commander Green's services, and he will probably be detailed as requested. At the conference between the managers and Commander Green at Philadelphia yesterday, a satisfactory understanding was reached, by which the officer will be placed upon a footing more nearly equal with those whose active duties in similar service credit them with sea pay. The Saratoga is at present at the yard, and will be ready to start on her voyage on an outfit of $50,000, and as soon as Commander Green indicates his acceptance of her command, a force will be detailed to take her to Philadelphia.

Improve the New-York Postoffice. Washington, Oct. 9.—The Postmaster-General has practically determined upon a rearrangement of the divisions of the New-York Postoffice, with a view to improving the facilities for transacting the great business of that office. The plan contemplates placing the registers and money-order departments at the present site, where they are now accessible to the public, and where they are also proposed to introduce a system of pneumatic tubes throughout the building, for the prompt distribution of mail matter, etc. The supervising Architect of the Treasury, Mr. Tilden, has proposed, in order to determine the feasibility and probable cost.

WEDDINGS PAST AND TO COME.

The Church of the Heavenly Rest, Fifth-ave. and Forty-fifth-st., was crowded yesterday morning with a fashionable assemblage who had gathered to witness the marriage of Miss Pauline Onatvia to John Richard Townsend, a son of J. Lawrence Townsend.

The ceremony took place at noon, the Rev. Dr. Parker Morgan officiating. The ushers were Paul Gilbert the bridegroom, Thomas Suffern Tailor and Francis A. Watson; the bridesmaids, Miss Sophie Taylor, a cousin of the bridegroom; Miss Nina Onatvia, sister of the bride; Miss Mollie Sloan, Miss Helen Brier, Miss Mabel Simpkins and Miss Mathilde Tetra; the flower girls, Miss Alice and Miss Helen, both of the bridegroom; the ring bearer, Miss Helen, with short veils and they wore white ostrich plumes. Instead of bouquets they carried long white walking-sticks with gold tips, made in the fashion of the Directory period, from which were suspended wreaths of white roses tied with India silk sashes.

The bride was on the arm of her brother, T. L. Onatvia, who gave her away. She wore a gown of white silk and tulle, with a full train of silk. The groom was on the arm of his brother, T. L. Onatvia, who gave him away. He wore a suit of dark blue cloth, with a white shirt and a white necktie.

COMMITTEES AT A DINNER.

WILLIAM WALDORF ASTOR ENTERTAINS SOME OF HIS FRIENDS INTERESTED IN THE WORLD'S FAIR.

William Waldorf Astor gave a dinner at Delmonico's last evening to a number of his friends and fellow-workers who are interested in New-York's project for a World's Fair. At half past 8 o'clock thirty diners set down in the large dining-room and trooped themselves about a round table forty feet in diameter.

In its center was a large sheaf of wheat, and leaning against it a sumac bush with bright red leaves and bunches of dark red berries. These were the central features of the scheme of decoration. The space from the edge of the table to within two feet of the edge was a brilliant display of autumn leaves and fruits mingled with blue and red roses and green amaranth. Yellow squashes and watermelons cut in half added their touches of color. The bill of fare was of a character adapted to the occasion and of a thoroughly artistic design.

On the cover were hand-painted medallions of Christopher Columbus and a typical American Indian surrounded by a well-executed water-color sketch representing the landing of Columbus.

As the guests gathered in the reception room their talk was all about the World's Fair. They kept the subject going throughout the dinner. There was no formal or informal speechmaking. Mr. Astor was asked to define the object of the dinner, said modestly: "To have a good time." Chaney M. Depey, who was present, gave a clear explanation of its purpose. "We are a party of taxpayers and taxpayers," it was developed during the course of the dinner that if New-York is chosen as the site of the World's Fair beyond a shadow of a
