

Amusements.

ACADEMY—815—The Old Homestead.
ACADEMY OF DESIGN—8 a. m. to 6 p. m. and 7.30 to 10 p. m.—Water Color exhibition.
AMERICAN THEATRE—815—Valentine.
AMERICAN INSTITUTE FAIR BUILDING—100 a. m. to 10 p. m.—Poetry and Pigeon Exhibition.

seems clearly to be in the public interest. If police officials of any grade are at present stockholders in breweries or the like, it would, however, be only fair to set a date at a reasonable time in the future to which such connection should terminate.

has listened with respect to the representations made, and if information from Washington is correct, has substantially decided to recommend, and to embody in a bill to be reported, all that the representatives of the farmers and the farming interest have asked.

reverenced and even publicly worshipped in temples erected in their honor, they were borne to their tombs in the rock caves of Beni-Hassan just 4,000 years ago, by processions of white-robed priests with clashing of cymbals and chants by the choirs of Isis.

MR. AND MRS. KENDAL.
A change of play was made at the Fifth Avenue Theatre last night, and "Impulse" took the place of "The Weaker Sex."

MR. AND MRS. KENDAL.
As the typical heroine of modern English social life, Mrs. Kendal is easily first. Her sensibility, her abundant vitality, her personal beauty, her exquisite grace, and her unerring perception of the strength and value of human feelings, combined with a fine and finished art of expression, commend her to a deep sympathy, and to the admiring acceptance of the most fervent taste.

Index to Advertisements.

Table with 4 columns: Page, Col., Page, Col.
Advertisements... 12 4
Amusements... 12 4
Business Notices... 12 4

Business Notices.

TRIBUNE TERMS TO MAIL SUBSCRIBERS.
Daily, 7 days a week... $10.00
Daily, without Sunday... $8.00
Semi-Weekly... $4.00

New-York Daily Tribune.

FOUNDED BY HORACE GREELEY

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1890.

TWELVE PAGES.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

Foreign.—In the German elections to the Reichstag the Government parties lost fifteen seats and the Socialists doubled their vote.
Mr. Evans, Liberal, was elected unopposed from the middle division of Glamorganshire to Parliament.

CONGRESS AND THE FAIR.

It is a curious circumstance that, after so long a delay and so many vicissitudes, the news that Governor Hill had signed the New-York World's Fair bill should have reached Washington just as the debate upon the Congressional bill was beginning in the House.

The only valuable part of Governor Hill's message is his signature, but, under the circumstances, that feature is so important and so welcome that it is unnecessary to condemn the stump speech which accompanies it further than to say that it is exceedingly characteristic.

THE NEW HIGH-LICENSE BILL.
Senator Hendricks introduced a High-License bill yesterday which is modelled upon the Commission bill of last winter.

MURDERING UNITED STATES OFFICERS.
Whatever may have been extracted by the Supreme Court, from time to time, from Federal laws intended to secure to the citizen the enjoyment of his rights, it has left enough to enable the United States to defend the lives of its officers.

FREE RAW MATERIALS ON TEST.
The great test of that rising tide of popular demand for tariff reform, about which the Free Traders boasted so loudly a short time ago, has at last been made.

LET FARMERS BE HEARD.
Before the last Presidential election THE TRIBUNE took the lead in asking the farmers themselves to state what modifications of the tariff they desired.

LET FARMERS BE HEARD.
Before the last Presidential election THE TRIBUNE took the lead in asking the farmers themselves to state what modifications of the tariff they desired.

PERSONAL.

Senator Hoar will probably resume his duties at the Capitol on Monday.

Mr. Halford, the President's private secretary, has taken to riding horseback a great deal about Washington, a sport in which he excels.

Mr. Henri Rochefort after twice changing his residence in London is now living at York Terrace overlooking Regent's Park.

The King of Italy personally placed the body of his brother, the Duke of Aosta, in his coffin.

Mr. Henry Gladstone, whose marriage to Miss Mand Bond took place in London ten days ago, is the fourth son of the Grand Old Man.

Mr. Eugene Field writes that at a lunch given recently by Mr. J. R. Osgood at the Century Club, London, the chief dish was corned-beef hash, which devoured with great gusto.

Our declassified contemporary "The Sun" is able to perceive that the World's Fair compromise involved no humiliation or defeat or backdown on the part of Mr. Platt.

The House Committee on Military Affairs have made a concise but interesting report in favor of the appropriation of $100,000 for the erection of a monument at Fort Greeng, Brooklyn.

The New Constitution of Bohemia is the heading which reminds our readers writers have lately been putting over some of their articles.

"Do you see that man over there?" said one rural visitor in the House gallery to another.

"The Philadelphia Telegraph" announced a meeting in this city for Tuesday night to oppose the World's Fair.

Sub-Editor "Speck" is a report from the hospital. "Fannyman" (speaking up)—News of the week.—Lawrence American.

The present condition of Bohemia is the heading which reminds our readers writers have lately been putting over some of their articles.

"Times are hard," remarked Nash, as he gazed from the starboard side of the ark into the extended sea.

In place of shoes, Nasima, N. H., cotton mill strikers use snowballs to impress non-union workmen with the holiness of their offices.

Accustomed though we long have been to hear about the romance and chivalry of the South, and to regard the warm, passionate verses of some of the poets of that section as a logical product of a tropical environment, there has been little evidence to prove that in that peculiarly favored region resided some of the most clever of American humorists.

Among the excellent results of Speaker Reed's work during the last few weeks is the collection of addresses indicating the Democratic view of the rights of the minority.

A shipment of 150,000 cats—in a mummified state—has been received at Liverpool from Upper Egypt.

THE TALK OF THE DAY.

"Children, like two-edged swords, often come home to roost," quoth "The Christmas Times-Star."

A young woman began a song, "Ten Thousand Leaves Are Falling." She pitched it too high, screeched and stopped.

"Sighs cost at five thousand," cried an auctioneer.—British American.

The Gold Spring Hatchery, of this State, contains about twenty to the number of 75,000; lake trout, 475,000; brook trout, 30,000; salmon, eggs, 40,000, and of all other kinds of fish, 50,000.

"Do you see that man over there?" said one rural visitor in the House gallery to another.

"The Philadelphia Telegraph" announced a meeting in this city for Tuesday night to oppose the World's Fair.

Sub-Editor "Speck" is a report from the hospital. "Fannyman" (speaking up)—News of the week.—Lawrence American.

The present condition of Bohemia is the heading which reminds our readers writers have lately been putting over some of their articles.

"Times are hard," remarked Nash, as he gazed from the starboard side of the ark into the extended sea.

In place of shoes, Nasima, N. H., cotton mill strikers use snowballs to impress non-union workmen with the holiness of their offices.

Accustomed though we long have been to hear about the romance and chivalry of the South, and to regard the warm, passionate verses of some of the poets of that section as a logical product of a tropical environment, there has been little evidence to prove that in that peculiarly favored region resided some of the most clever of American humorists.

Among the excellent results of Speaker Reed's work during the last few weeks is the collection of addresses indicating the Democratic view of the rights of the minority.

A shipment of 150,000 cats—in a mummified state—has been received at Liverpool from Upper Egypt.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY.

Mrs. Nicholas Gwynne, of No. 6 West Fifty-eighth, gave a small informal luncheon yesterday for Mrs. Frederick Sharon.

Mrs. Schuyler Warren, of No. 1 East Thirtieth, gave yesterday a series of entertainments in breakfast. Her guests were Mrs. Charles Bates Hill, Mrs. J. F. J. Jones, Mrs. Mary Lusk, Mrs. John C. Williamson, Miss Beatrice How, Miss Ruth Lawrence, Miss Adeline Miller, Miss Hoyt and Mrs. A. L. Hart.

Mrs. Newell Morris, of No. 10 East Sixty-first, gave a dinner party last night for young people. The guests were the Misses Sands, Miss Trevor, Miss Charles Livingston, Miss Georgia Wampler, Miss Eva Morris, Stockton Child, Oakley Richardson, N. Morris, Jr., William Wainwright, Thomas McEvaine and Thomas Rhineholder.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Howell, of No. 33 West Nineteenth, gave a party of nearly eighty anniversary of their wedding last night. They were dancing and a supper.

Mrs. Henry Chess gave a large dinner party last night. Her guests afterward attended the meeting of the Thursday Evening Club.

Peter Marie entertained the Thursday Evening Club at his home, No. 45 West Nineteenth, last night. During the evening there was general conversation and a poem written by Mr. Marie was read, supper was served by Delmonico.

The wedding of Miss Jose E. Mannel, daughter of Horace Mannel, to Robert Winslow Milbank occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, No. 340 West Fifty-sixth, to Rev. Henry Lubbed of St. Timothy's Church, officiating. The maid of honor was Miss Jennie Mannel, sister of the bride. George Turner and Edward Locke were the groomsmen. A small reception followed. Among the guests were Mrs. Jeremiah Milbank, Dr. and Mrs. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Culp, of Boston; Miss Jessie Loder, Miss C. Smith, Charles Jones, Frank Coleman, J. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan, Miss Horion, Mrs. D. B. Hunt, Mrs. Edward Whit, Mrs. P. R. McCarver, Mrs. Robert Hilliard and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Liner, of Seventy-first and Park-avenue, celebrated the silver wedding yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. Liner, 100 West Ninety-ninth. Relatives. Dinner was served for fifty couples.

The wedding of Miss Jose E. Mannel, daughter of Horace Mannel, to Robert Winslow Milbank occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, No. 340 West Fifty-sixth, to Rev. Henry Lubbed of St. Timothy's Church, officiating. The maid of honor was Miss Jennie Mannel, sister of the bride. George Turner and Edward Locke were the groomsmen. A small reception followed. Among the guests were Mrs. Jeremiah Milbank, Dr. and Mrs. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Culp, of Boston; Miss Jessie Loder, Miss C. Smith, Charles Jones, Frank Coleman, J. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan, Miss Horion, Mrs. D. B. Hunt, Mrs. Edward Whit, Mrs. P. R. McCarver, Mrs. Robert Hilliard and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Liner, of Seventy-first and Park-avenue, celebrated the silver wedding yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. Liner, 100 West Ninety-ninth. Relatives. Dinner was served for fifty couples.

The wedding of Miss Jose E. Mannel, daughter of Horace Mannel, to Robert Winslow Milbank occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, No. 340 West Fifty-sixth, to Rev. Henry Lubbed of St. Timothy's Church, officiating. The maid of honor was Miss Jennie Mannel, sister of the bride. George Turner and Edward Locke were the groomsmen. A small reception followed. Among the guests were Mrs. Jeremiah Milbank, Dr. and Mrs. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Culp, of Boston; Miss Jessie Loder, Miss C. Smith, Charles Jones, Frank Coleman, J. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan, Miss Horion, Mrs. D. B. Hunt, Mrs. Edward Whit, Mrs. P. R. McCarver, Mrs. Robert Hilliard and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Liner, of Seventy-first and Park-avenue, celebrated the silver wedding yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. Liner, 100 West Ninety-ninth. Relatives. Dinner was served for fifty couples.

The wedding of Miss Jose E. Mannel, daughter of Horace Mannel, to Robert Winslow Milbank occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, No. 340 West Fifty-sixth, to Rev. Henry Lubbed of St. Timothy's Church, officiating. The maid of honor was Miss Jennie Mannel, sister of the bride. George Turner and Edward Locke were the groomsmen. A small reception followed. Among the guests were Mrs. Jeremiah Milbank, Dr. and Mrs. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Culp, of Boston; Miss Jessie Loder, Miss C. Smith, Charles Jones, Frank Coleman, J. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan, Miss Horion, Mrs. D. B. Hunt, Mrs. Edward Whit, Mrs. P. R. McCarver, Mrs. Robert Hilliard and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Liner, of Seventy-first and Park-avenue, celebrated the silver wedding yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. Liner, 100 West Ninety-ninth. Relatives. Dinner was served for fifty couples.

The wedding of Miss Jose E. Mannel, daughter of Horace Mannel, to Robert Winslow Milbank occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, No. 340 West Fifty-sixth, to Rev. Henry Lubbed of St. Timothy's Church, officiating. The maid of honor was Miss Jennie Mannel, sister of the bride. George Turner and Edward Locke were the groomsmen. A small reception followed. Among the guests were Mrs. Jeremiah Milbank, Dr. and Mrs. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Culp, of Boston; Miss Jessie Loder, Miss C. Smith, Charles Jones, Frank Coleman, J. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan, Miss Horion, Mrs. D. B. Hunt, Mrs. Edward Whit, Mrs. P. R. McCarver, Mrs. Robert Hilliard and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Liner, of Seventy-first and Park-avenue, celebrated the silver wedding yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. Liner, 100 West Ninety-ninth. Relatives. Dinner was served for fifty couples.

The wedding of Miss Jose E. Mannel, daughter of Horace Mannel, to Robert Winslow Milbank occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, No. 340 West Fifty-sixth, to Rev. Henry Lubbed of St. Timothy's Church, officiating. The maid of honor was Miss Jennie Mannel, sister of the bride. George Turner and Edward Locke were the groomsmen. A small reception followed. Among the guests were Mrs. Jeremiah Milbank, Dr. and Mrs. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Culp, of Boston; Miss Jessie Loder, Miss C. Smith, Charles Jones, Frank Coleman, J. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan, Miss Horion, Mrs. D. B. Hunt, Mrs. Edward Whit, Mrs. P. R. McCarver, Mrs. Robert Hilliard and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Liner, of Seventy-first and Park-avenue, celebrated the silver wedding yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. Liner, 100 West Ninety-ninth. Relatives. Dinner was served for fifty couples.

The wedding of Miss Jose E. Mannel, daughter of Horace Mannel, to Robert Winslow Milbank occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, No. 340 West Fifty-sixth, to Rev. Henry Lubbed of St. Timothy's Church, officiating. The maid of honor was Miss Jennie Mannel, sister of the bride. George Turner and Edward Locke were the groomsmen. A small reception followed. Among the guests were Mrs. Jeremiah Milbank, Dr. and Mrs. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Culp, of Boston; Miss Jessie Loder, Miss C. Smith, Charles Jones, Frank Coleman, J. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan, Miss Horion, Mrs. D. B. Hunt, Mrs. Edward Whit, Mrs. P. R. McCarver, Mrs. Robert Hilliard and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Liner, of Seventy-first and Park-avenue, celebrated the silver wedding yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. Liner, 100 West Ninety-ninth. Relatives. Dinner was served for fifty couples.

The wedding of Miss Jose E. Mannel, daughter of Horace Mannel, to Robert Winslow Milbank occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, No. 340 West Fifty-sixth, to Rev. Henry Lubbed of St. Timothy's Church, officiating. The maid of honor was Miss Jennie Mannel, sister of the bride. George Turner and Edward Locke were the groomsmen. A small reception followed. Among the guests were Mrs. Jeremiah Milbank, Dr. and Mrs. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Culp, of Boston; Miss Jessie Loder, Miss C. Smith, Charles Jones, Frank Coleman, J. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan, Miss Horion, Mrs. D. B. Hunt, Mrs. Edward Whit, Mrs. P. R. McCarver, Mrs. Robert Hilliard and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Liner, of Seventy-first and Park-avenue, celebrated the silver wedding yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. Liner, 100 West Ninety-ninth. Relatives. Dinner was served for fifty couples.

The wedding of Miss Jose E. Mannel, daughter of Horace Mannel, to Robert Winslow Milbank occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, No. 340 West Fifty-sixth, to Rev. Henry Lubbed of St. Timothy's Church, officiating. The maid of honor was Miss Jennie Mannel, sister of the bride. George Turner and Edward Locke were the groomsmen. A small reception followed. Among the guests were Mrs. Jeremiah Milbank, Dr. and Mrs. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Culp, of Boston; Miss Jessie Loder, Miss C. Smith, Charles Jones, Frank Coleman, J. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan, Miss Horion, Mrs. D. B. Hunt, Mrs. Edward Whit, Mrs. P. R. McCarver, Mrs. Robert Hilliard and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Liner, of Seventy-first and Park-avenue, celebrated the silver wedding yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. Liner, 100 West Ninety-ninth. Relatives. Dinner was served for fifty couples.

The wedding of Miss Jose E. Mannel, daughter of Horace Mannel, to Robert Winslow Milbank occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, No. 340 West Fifty-sixth, to Rev. Henry Lubbed of St. Timothy's Church, officiating. The maid of honor was Miss Jennie Mannel, sister of the bride. George Turner and Edward Locke were the groomsmen. A small reception followed. Among the guests were Mrs. Jeremiah Milbank, Dr. and Mrs. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Culp, of Boston; Miss Jessie Loder, Miss C. Smith, Charles Jones, Frank Coleman, J. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan, Miss Horion, Mrs. D. B. Hunt, Mrs. Edward Whit, Mrs. P. R. McCarver, Mrs. Robert Hilliard and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Liner, of Seventy-first and Park-avenue, celebrated the silver wedding yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. Liner, 100 West Ninety-ninth. Relatives. Dinner was served for fifty couples.

THE FELLOWSHIP CLUB ELECTION.

The annual meeting of the Fellowship Club was held last night at the club-house, No. 12 East Twenty-ninth, when the following officers were elected: Richard Watson Gilber, president; John W. Alexander, vice-president; Frederick C. Mortimer, secretary; and S. S. Carville, treasurer.

The following addresses were read: "The Future of the South," by Rev. Dr. C. Clarke and Postroy Bigelow, and for the evening term, Frederic Remington. Several amendments were made to the constitution giving discretion to the Board of Governors in the admission of new members.

The annual meeting of the Fellowship Club was held last night at the club-house, No. 12 East Twenty-ninth, when the following officers were elected: Richard Watson Gilber, president; John W. Alexander, vice-president; Frederick C. Mortimer, secretary; and S. S. Carville, treasurer.

The following addresses were read: "The Future of the South," by Rev. Dr. C. Clarke and Postroy Bigelow, and for the evening term, Frederic Remington. Several amendments were made to the constitution giving discretion to the Board of Governors in the admission of new members.

The annual meeting of the Fellowship Club was held last night at the club-house, No. 12 East Twenty-ninth, when the following officers were elected: Richard Watson Gilber, president; John W. Alexander, vice-president; Frederick C. Mortimer, secretary; and S. S. Carville, treasurer.

The following addresses were read: "The Future of the South," by Rev. Dr. C. Clarke and Postroy Bigelow, and for the evening term, Frederic Remington. Several amendments were made to the constitution giving discretion to the Board of Governors in the admission of new members.

The annual meeting of the Fellowship Club was held last night at the club-house, No. 12 East Twenty-ninth, when the following officers were elected: Richard Watson Gilber, president; John W. Alexander, vice-president; Frederick C. Mortimer, secretary; and S. S. Carville, treasurer.

The following addresses were read: "The Future of the South," by Rev. Dr. C. Clarke and Postroy Bigelow, and for the evening term, Frederic Remington. Several amendments were made to the constitution giving discretion to the Board of Governors in the admission of new members.

The annual meeting of the Fellowship Club was held last night at the club-house, No. 12 East Twenty-ninth, when the following officers were elected: Richard Watson Gilber, president; John W. Alexander, vice-president; Frederick C. Mortimer, secretary; and S. S. Carville, treasurer.

The following addresses were read: "The Future of the South," by Rev. Dr. C. Clarke and Postroy Bigelow, and for the evening term, Frederic Remington. Several amendments were made to the constitution giving discretion to the Board of Governors in the admission of new members.

The annual meeting of the Fellowship Club was held last night at the club-house, No. 12 East Twenty-ninth, when the following officers were elected: Richard Watson Gilber, president; John W. Alexander, vice-president; Frederick C. Mortimer, secretary; and S. S. Carville, treasurer.

The following addresses were read: "The Future of the South," by Rev. Dr. C. Clarke and Postroy Bigelow, and for the evening term, Frederic Remington. Several amendments were made to the constitution giving discretion to the Board of Governors in the admission of new members.

The annual meeting of the Fellowship Club was held last night at the club-house, No. 12 East Twenty-ninth, when the following officers were elected: Richard Watson Gilber, president; John W. Alexander, vice-president; Frederick C. Mortimer, secretary; and S. S. Carville, treasurer.

The following addresses were read: "The Future of the South," by Rev. Dr. C. Clarke and Postroy Bigelow, and for the evening term, Frederic Remington. Several amendments were made to the constitution giving discretion to the Board of Governors in the admission of new members.

The annual meeting of the Fellowship Club was held last night at the club-house, No. 12 East Twenty-ninth, when the following officers were elected: Richard Watson Gilber, president; John W. Alexander, vice-president; Frederick C. Mortimer, secretary; and S. S. Carville, treasurer.

The following addresses were read: "The Future of the South," by Rev. Dr. C. Clarke and Postroy Bigelow, and for the evening term, Frederic Remington. Several amendments were made to the constitution giving discretion to the Board of Governors in the admission of new members.

The annual meeting of the Fellowship Club was held last night at the club-house, No. 12 East Twenty-ninth, when the following officers were elected: Richard Watson Gilber, president; John W. Alexander, vice-president; Frederick C. Mortimer, secretary; and S. S. Carville, treasurer.

The following addresses were read: "The Future of the South," by Rev. Dr. C. Clarke and Postroy Bigelow, and for the evening term, Frederic Remington. Several amendments were made to the constitution giving discretion to the Board of Governors in the admission of new members.

The annual meeting of the Fellowship Club was held last night at the club-house, No. 12 East Twenty-ninth, when the following officers were elected: Richard Watson Gilber, president; John W. Alexander, vice-president; Frederick C. Mortimer, secretary; and S. S. Carville, treasurer.

The following addresses were read: "The Future of the South," by Rev. Dr. C. Clarke and Postroy Bigelow, and for the evening term, Frederic Remington. Several amendments were made to the constitution giving discretion to the Board of Governors in the admission of new members.

The annual meeting of the Fellowship Club was held last night at the club-house, No. 12 East Twenty-ninth, when the following officers were elected: Richard Watson Gilber, president; John W. Alexander, vice-president; Frederick C. Mortimer, secretary; and S. S. Carville, treasurer.

The following addresses were read: "The Future of the South," by Rev. Dr. C. Clarke and Postroy Bigelow, and for the evening term, Frederic Remington. Several amendments were made to the constitution giving discretion to the Board of Governors in the admission of new members.

The annual meeting of the Fellowship Club was held last night at the club-house, No. 12 East Twenty-ninth, when the following officers were elected: Richard Watson Gilber, president; John W. Alexander, vice-president; Frederick C. Mortimer, secretary; and S. S. Carville, treasurer.

The following addresses were read: "The Future of the South," by Rev. Dr. C. Clarke and Postroy Bigelow, and for the evening term, Frederic Remington. Several amendments were made to the constitution giving discretion to the Board of Governors in the admission of new members.

The annual meeting of the Fellowship Club was held last night at the club-house, No. 12 East Twenty-ninth, when the following officers were elected: Richard Watson Gilber, president; John W. Alexander, vice-president; Frederick C. Mortimer, secretary; and S. S. Carville, treasurer.

The following addresses were read: "The Future of the South," by Rev. Dr. C. Clarke and Postroy Bigelow, and for the evening term, Frederic Remington. Several amendments were made to the constitution giving discretion to the Board of Governors in the admission of new members.