

TRAPPED IN A PASS.

NEARLY 300 NATIVE INDIAN TROOPS IN THE BRITISH SERVICE SHOT DOWN.

ANOTHER BUTCHERY BY HOSTILE TRIBES IN ASSAM—ENERGETIC ACTION BY THE VICEROY OF INDIA—THE MANI-PUR MASSACRE.

Calcutta, March 31.—Official dispatches received here by the Government officers confirm the report of the massacre of Gorkhas at Manipur, in the Province of Assam, where about 470 of these native soldiers were slain by hostile tribesmen of Assam after two days' desperate fighting. The fate of the British officers who were in command of the Gorkhas, and of Chief Commissioner James W. Quinton, who was conducting the negotiations at the durbar for the arrest of a prominent chief who had been instrumental in depositing the Rajah of Manipur, is still uncertain; but the Viceroy of India, the Marquis of Lansdowne, believes that all the officers and officials have either met death at the hands of the rebellious tribesmen of Assam or are held as prisoners.

In addition to the disaster at Manipur, it is believed that a force of British troops composed of a detachment of 200 soldiers of the Bengal Infantry and about eight Gorkhas, who were marching from Shillong to Manipur in order to reinforce the 42d and 44th Gorkhas Light Infantry, which composed the escort of Chief Commissioner Quinton, have also been attacked and massacred. The Bengal Infantry detachment and the eight Gorkhas, it appears, as they were marching through a difficult and dangerous pass were set upon by the Assamese; and, though they fought gallantly against heavy odds, the rebel tribesmen, from the advantageous positions which they occupied on the sides of the pass and ahead and behind the British force, poured such a destructive fire into the ranks of the Bengalese and Gorkhas that the latter are said to have been killed to a man.

The Viceroy is hurrying troops into the Province of Assam in order to punish the hostiles. Reinforcements of troops are also being sent into States in proximity to Assam, in order to prevent any possible disorder or warlike outbreak which, it is thought, might follow the spreading of the news of the massacre of British troops at Manipur.

Simala, March 31.—Further particulars received from the scene of the Manipur massacre show that the insurgent tribes have captured a number of prisoners, including the Rajah of Manipur, whose deposition by a powerful chieftain of Assam was the cause of all the present trouble. The insurgents have also captured Chief Commissioner Quinton, F. St. G. Grimwood, the British Political Agent at Manipur; and Colonel Skene, who was in command of the detachments from the 42d and 44th Gorkhas, which defended the camp of the Commissioner, pitched between Kohima and Manipur. Mrs. Grimwood, the wife of the Political Agent; two assistant commissioners and one of the officers of the 42d when the insurgents made their final charge upon the camp and broke through the ranks of the Gorkhas, owing to the latter having exhausted their supply of ammunition during the forty-eight hours' fighting which followed the midnight assault upon their camp.

The fate of the remaining officers is still unknown. Four regiments have already started for the aid of the Viceroy, with the object of effecting the release of prisoners and of punishing the rebellious tribes. The regiments include two native regiments, which were in garrison at Assam, and the 3d Bengal Infantry. Several mountain batteries are being sent to the field in Assam immediately. The general opinion seems to be that the military authorities will have to punish the rebels severely and promptly, in order to avert the possibility of a general insurrection. The military authorities will have to punish the rebels severely and promptly, in order to avert the possibility of a general insurrection. THE BAR ASSOCIATION ACTS.

CONDEMNING THE COMMISSIONER'S REPORT. ITS MEMBERS, HOWEVER, NOT UNANIMOUS IN THEIR OPINIONS.

The Bar Association held a meeting last night and adopted the report of its own committee, which condemned the report of the Commission appointed by the Legislature to propose amendments to the Judicial article of the Constitution. This report was adopted in the face of strong opposition by James C. Carter, Joseph H. Choate, William B. Hornblower and several other well-known lawyers. The resolutions containing the gist of the recommendations made by the Bar Association committee, and which were passed last night, were as follows:

Resolved, That this association is opposed to the scheme of limiting appeals to the Court of Appeals by an amendment to the Constitution, as proposed by the Commission appointed under Chapter 180 of the Laws of 1890, and respectfully requests the Legislature not to adopt the Commission's recommendations.

That this association is opposed to the part of said Commission's report in reference to the Supreme Court which recommends an amendment to the Constitution that "no member of the General Term shall exercise any of the powers of a Justice of the Supreme Court, other than those pertaining to the General Term of which he is a member."

That this association is opposed to the addition of the following words to section 21, viz: "No judge or justice after he shall be seventy years of age."

That this association is opposed to the addition of the following words to section 21, viz: "No person shall be appointed to the office of Justice of the Supreme Court or of Justice of the General Term of which he is a member, who is over the age of thirty years."

ARCHBISHOP WALSH ON IRELAND.

TAKING A HOPEFUL VIEW—THE POPE'S ATTITUDE TOWARD THE IRISH CONFLICT.

Rome, March 31.—A representative of the Associated Press had an interview to-day with Archbishop Walsh of Dublin. The Archbishop expressed the liveliest satisfaction that in a long audience with the Pope he found the latter perfectly acquainted with the position in Ireland. The Pope, he said, "has followed every change in the situation with sympathy. He has no doubt that by legal means we will eventually obtain our rights. He has never thought of interfering with Irish affairs while questions were of a purely political character. Those who presumed that the Pope would take any action against Ireland were badly informed. There may exist parties desirous of drawing the Vatican into a line of policy against us, but the Pope will not lend an ear to these interested voices. He fully approves the attitude of the Irish Episcopate during the present internal crisis and desires union and common tactics on the part of the bishops."

Archbishop Walsh was asked: "Do you believe the Parnellite crisis will provoke religious schism? Is there any reason to fear that the political feud will extend to religious ground?"

The Archbishop answered: "I do not believe these pessimist predictions. Ireland is too faithful, too thoroughly loyal in her faith, to put particular interests above the interests of the Church and the morality of the country. Besides, the crisis will not last. After the coming general election Mr. Parnell will be interred. When defeated at the elections he will understand his error and will seek to repair the wrongs which the present rupture has done to the cause of Home Rule. Mr. Gladstone's victory in the elections is nearly certain. He will have at least a majority of fifty, sufficient to pass the Home Rule bill in the House of Commons."

"Once Home Rule is achieved, will the condition of Ireland be ameliorated?" asked the reporter.

"Undoubtedly it will," the Archbishop answered. "The present administration is infected with abuses. The day will disappear. I know of no better test of sincerity in any cause than the sacrifices its supporters make for it. Mr. Gladstone sacrificed the place of Premier for Home Rule. I am satisfied that he is earnest. When the present Ministry makes a similar or other substantial sacrifice for the advance of Catholic interests I shall be prepared to believe the sincerity of their professions. They make no sacrifices; they are content with promises."

Referring to the actual situation, Archbishop Walsh said: "There is no conflict between the bishops and the people. Mr. Parnell no longer represents a National force. He has followers here and there—possibly everywhere there are some. He is not the National force, and doubtless will have until the end; but the country is against him. The bishops simply gave to our sentiments, and when course was needed, Mr. Parnell seemed to be 'obnoxious' to the country. Gradually the country as a whole, emboldened by the strong moral support of the bishops and clergy, is coming to see the error of its ways. The Ireland which came so near imposing itself upon Ireland now rapidly melts away."

THE FIGHT IN WESTCHESTER.

HARD WORK AT THE POLLS ALL DAY.

MICHAEL RAUCH PROBABLY ELECTED SUPERVISOR—RESULT IN YONKERS AND OTHER TOWNS.

The triangular Supervisory contest in Westchester township was fought out yesterday under gloomy and lowering skies. Rain fell at times during the day, and now and then the cold clouds in angry desperation sent down luscious and unseasonable flakes of snow. The polls at Williamsbridge, Throg's Neck and Westchester were open from sunrise until sunset, and when they closed at 6-24 p. m. no one could be found rash enough to venture a prediction as to who was the winner.

The candidates for the office of Supervisor and their tickets were thus officially designated: Alfred H. Morris, Democratic; William F. Duncan, Tammany Democratic Citizens'; John G. Freeman, Prohibition; Michael Rauch, Democratic-Republican. Taking all the offices together, Supervisor, Town Clerk, Overseer of the Poor, Justices of the Peace, Constables, Assessors, Game Constables and Inspectors of Election, there were 106 candidates to be voted for.

Dr. William F. Duncan is the president of the village of Williamsbridge. He is a physician, whose Westchester City address is given as No. 123 West 19th-st. The only time he is said to be seen in the town of Westchester is on Thursday of each week. Why he was running for Supervisor no one seemed to know, and as far as votes went he was not a material factor in the contest. Michael Rauch has been a successful business supervisor of the town, and struggled yesterday for a fifth term. Rumors were in circulation touching a laxity on his part in rendering a detailed accounting of his stewardship, but no definite charges were made. He received the generally united support of the German element. Alfred H. Morris belongs to the well-known Morris family, and stood for what is sometimes called "the gentleman in politics." He was opposed on the ground of the family's claim to a certain acre of land under water in the neighborhood of Throg's Neck. Contrary to popular expectation, there was no blockading of the polls, and the day was a great day for the groggers, and they reaped a mighty harvest. The cold, raw, disagreeable day and the excitement of the contest seemed to act as an inspiration to universal conviviality.

And the result of it all was that Rauch is probably elected. At midnight full returns had not been received, but the Rauch men claimed his election by about fifty majority. The Morris supporters, however, asserted that the vote was so close that they could not concede Rauch's election without the complete count.

A large number of the employees at the Morris Park racetrack voted for Morris after swearing in their votes to a challenge of the Rauch men, and a number of Rauch supporters were ordered out of one of the polling places by Henry C. Henderson, who said they had no right to be there.

The election held in Yonkers was one of the closest and most interesting contested for years. It was in the First and Third wards a fight against the Buer element. In these wards the liquor-shop keepers' candidates were successful by small majorities, but in the Fourth Ward the Democratic Alderman was replaced by a Republican. This makes an even division in the Common Council, which before stood 5 to 3 Democratic.

Mayor Millward is a Republican. The better class of citizens, regardless of party lines, decided, after the election, that the city must be redeemed from the corrupt ring. A strong and united effort was made and a dozen more republican votes in the Third Ward would have elected another Republican Alderman.

The vote was as follows: For Supervisor, Jacob Rauch, 3,624; for Justice of the Peace, George F. Rice, 1,570; J. J. Beaudry (Dem.), 1,515; For Alderman, First Ward John Stahl (Rep.), 460; Thomas J. Lally (Dem.), 577; Second Ward, Marvin R. Gully (Dem.), 577; Third Ward, John A. O'Brien (Dem.), 577; For Justice of the Peace, 1st Ward, J. Broderick (Dem.), 520; Fourth Ward, David Taylor (Rep.), William Austin (Rep.), 520; Fifth Ward, J. Broderick (Dem.), 520; Sixth Ward, J. Broderick (Dem.), 520; Seventh Ward, J. Broderick (Dem.), 520; Eighth Ward, J. Broderick (Dem.), 520; Ninth Ward, J. Broderick (Dem.), 520; Tenth Ward, J. Broderick (Dem.), 520; Eleventh Ward, J. Broderick (Dem.), 520; Twelfth Ward, J.
