THANKSGIVING FESTIVITIES - PREPARING FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON.

Thanksgiving Day will be observed in Harlem with all the old-time festivities and church-goings Services will be held in a number of the churches, many of the congregations holding union services. The people of Harlem have always observed Thanksgiving Day as one of the distinguish and the control of the distinguish by the control of the distinguish that the control of the contro Thanksgiving Day as one of the distinctive American holidays of the year, and many of the children who have been away at boarding-schools will return to town to take part in the festivities and to eat their Thanksgiving dinner at home. At the home of the Young Women's Christian Association, No. 74 West One-hundred-and-twenty-fourth-st., an old-fashioned Thanksgiving supper will be given. People desiring to give turkeys, pies. cakes or other entables should send them to the secretary at the above address.

carnival of all nations was held last week in the Church of the Beloved Disciple, Tuesday, Weinesday and Thursday, at which the leading nations of the world were represented at the difbooths, Mrs. H. B. Davies, Mrs. J. Rener and Mrs. George Coleman presided over the England. Scotland and Ireland booths, and offered fancy articles for sale. These booths were named "Erin go Bragh," "Merrie England" and "Honnie Scotland." Mrs. William Arnold and Mrs. R. M. Disbrow had charge of the United States booth, ich was decorated with red, white and blue bunting, and sold a large assortment of aprons. The Chinese and Japanese booth was in charge of the little girls of St. Agnes's Guild, under the direction of Mrs. Nugent. Germany and Holland had dolls and toys for sale, under the direction of Miss Schultz, who was assisted by members of the Guild of the Sisters of Bethany, Mrs. D. A CHILDREN'S MUSICAL SOCIETY.

The first move toward founding "The Children's Symphony Society of Harlem" was made on Friday afternoon at a meeting held at the home of Miss Alexandria McAdam, in West One-hundred-andtwenty-second-st. It is proposed to organize a musical society under this name, to which only young people under sixteen years of age will be admitted. T.ey will give two concerts during he season, the object of the club being to cultivate the season, the transfer among its members, a desire for high class music among its members. The members will meet next Wednesday at the same place for the purpose of electing their offi-cers. Some of the young people interested in this organization are Miss Amy Ferris, Miss Olive Hitchcock, Miss Lillian Young, Ralph Reinhold,

COMMISSIONER HAFFEN HARD AT WORK LETTING

CONTRACTS-A GAS WAR-SOCIAL INCIDENTS. Street Commissioner Haffen, secure in his new lease of power, and acting under the liberal laws passed by the last Legislature, is actively receiving bids and letting contracts for all kinds of improvements, although the season of the year is approaching when little work can be done. He may fear that the next Legislature may in some way re-strict his powers. The, building of twenty-six ewers was authorized at a single meeting of the Board of Street Openings. If the contracts are awarded before any adverse legislation is passed, they must be carried out, and the contractors chosen by Commissioner Haffen will be secure. Whatever the reason may be, the letting of contracts in the upper wards has gone ahead with unusual rapidity since the election.

The war between the gas companies is proving advantageous to the residents of the Twentythird Ward. The cut from $1 60 to $1 25 for 1,000 feet made by the Standard Gas Light Company has been met by the Central Gas Light Company. The Central Company has had a monopoly for many years, and does not supply the part of the city below the Harlem River. The down-town companies have not heretofore sought to extend heir mains above the Harlem, but the Standard Company, after some litigation, has established its right to open streets in the Twenty-third Ward. The Standard Company may make another reducon, and the Central Company will keep its price as low as that of the new company. The charges for service pipes and connections have been abol-

The poisoning of dogs by persons supposed to be thieves continued last week. Among those whose pets were killed were T. H. Mulcahy, Richard Coles and George Rogers, Prederick Finck, of One-hundred-and-sixty-first-st. Union-ave., saw a stranger on Wednes-give to a spaniel belonging to Mr. Finck ce of meat which the man took from a which he carried. The man ran away while Mr. Finck was taking the meat from his dog. The meat was found to contain powdered glass. A reward of 1900 has been offered by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animais for the capture of the poisoner. At one place where a dog had been killed an attempt to break into the house was made.

hundred-and-thirty-ninth-st. Of course, no meats were found among the large variety of dishes served. Tomato bisque soilly, entire wheat bread, potatoes, cauliflower, calery, dates and various fruits satisfied the appetites of the guests without exposing them to the evils which they dread in a meat diet. The Rev. Mr. Somerby, Theedore Home and Mr. Haviland were among those who spoke to the guests of the pleasures of the pleasur vegetarianism.

The recent reports made by the stuff of the Leb-anon Hospital, Westchester-ave, and One-hundred-and-fiftieth-st., show that the usefulness of the institution is increasing. The upper wards are poorly supplied with hospital accommodations, and the new hospital has been of great benefit to many persons. persons.

Evans, John Trim and John Gemond are in the lead in the club's home whist tourney. The Montauk silver trophy cup now repores in the clubhouse. It was won from the Montauk bowlers in a game at the Montauk's alleys on Thursday night. The visitors scored 857 to the home teams 741 in the first game, and in the second the scores were tied at 85 pins seach. The Hanover Club will hold the cup until it is won by another team. The club will hold its first theatre party at the Amphion on Monday evening, December 4. They will see Roland Reed in "Dakata" and return to the clubhouse afterward for a dance and supper, at which Mr. Reed, who is a member of the club, is expected to be present. The Algonquin Club gave a "ladies reception" at the cosey clubhouse in President-st., last Thursday evening.

The dinner to Colonel Frederick D. Grant, on Thursday evening, was the principal incident of the week at the Union League Club.

The Entertainment Committee of the Aurora Grata Club is arranging some attractive amusement features. The club, gave its first many frack? Mason. A return match game of leavies will be rolled with the Carleton Club early in December. The Carleton bowlers, Messers, Schenek, Van Sicklein, Lincoln, Kapper, Wheeler, Hollard, Sigmun and Stafford will meet the Aurora Grata players, Mosers. Gooderson, Kirkland, Delong, Rice, Morse, Ellis Bedersell and Robertson, and compete for five prizes. The first game resulted in the Aurora Gratas scoring 1.181 and the Carletons L106.

The silver trothy cup, valued at $600, put up by the bowlers of the Montauk Club, was contested for on Thursday evening for the first time. The home club team met the strong team of the Hamover Club, who carried the cup away. It is an assured fact that the defeated Montauks will put forth all their energies to regain it. According to the rules governing the contests, each club is allowed to play for, and win or lose the cup, three times. If any club can win the cup and hold if for three successive games, it will be entitled to hold it until the bowling season of 1894-25.

THANKSGIVING SPORTS AT FLATBUSH.

INTERESTING PROGRAMMES AT THE KNICKER POCKER AND MIDWOOD CLUBS.

The members of the Knickerbocher Field Club in Flatbush will celebrate Thanksgiving Eve with a theatrical performance by home talent, to be followed by a dance. The play to be presented is "Engaged," and the cast includes Mr. and Mrs. R. Brandt, Miss Florence Oldham, Miss Florence Bergen, Miss Sallie Walden, Philip Bergen, Alexander Walker, R. Morgan and P. L. Theaten. The Saturday evening whist parties occupy the atten-tion of large gatherings. It fell to the lot of the Misses Holman to furnish prizes for the winners last night. On Tuesday evening the second musical season concert was held. The inclemency of the weather prevented a large atendance, but those assembled greatly enjoyed the programme. Mrs Robert Conner, of New York, and the Murray Erothers, with musical director D. W. Robertson, Robert Conner, of New York, and the Murray Erothers, with musical director D. W. Robertson, appeared in their rousical inclange. E. H. Lott. E. H. Driggs and F. A. Adams were the committee in charge. During the week D. V. B. Relley and W. Wiss, the committee on the home billiard tourney, will adjust the handicaps. The tourney will include these competitors. W. McNeil, E. Maynard, W. O. Schwarzwachler, D. Relley, W. Wiss, H. Wall, W. D. A. Rose, J. C. Havland, E. Lott, R. Catlin, J. Z. Lott, W. Norwood, F. A. Adams, G. Waldo, E. Zabriskie, R. Walker, W. L. Cort, E. H. Driggs, W. Cristeld, C. Bollinger and J. Sellig, The club's crack bowling team will meet the team of the Aurora Grata Club in the interclub series to-morrow night, on the home alleys. At a meeting of the directors last Monday evening five new members were elected, and the applications of R. Walker, Miss Louise Borchers, R. T. Walker and Harold Wilcox were posted.

For Tranksgiving Eve the members of the Midwood Club, in Flatbush, have an interesting programme. Every member who can roll a ball on the alleys has been invited to take part. Every man is required to furnish a prize to the value of not less than $2. These prizes will be laid out on a table, and after the game the player rolling the highest score will have the first place of the prizes. Then in their respective order till the last of probably forty taking part, the prizes will be claimed. G. T. Cone, F. J. Steinbusler and S. F. Walker are the committe in charge of the fan. On Friday night the Boston ideal Banjo, Mandolin, Guitar and Giec Club furnished music at a stag party in the partors. The enterclub league team which last week heid first place in the Kings county League tourney has dropped to second place. This is owing to the defeat of the Midwoods in one game by the Hanover team last Monday. To-morrow night Messra. Cone, Johnson, Steinbusler, Matthews and Sullivan, the club's bowling team, will journey to the Lincoin Club and play on their alleys. The home Milliard and whist tourney

Board of Trustees gave a reception and house known and progressive school. Over 200 persons open to inspection, and the displays of the pupils speeches were uncommonly interesting, and the aims and work of the school were set forth in an ers had been vitally connected with the academy consequently, and what they had to say consequently, a personal interest. The eutiside speakers, so to say, were Dr. Backus, Professor Hooper and Dr. Maxwell. Superintendent Maxwell was at one time a patron of the academy, and Dr. Backus and Professor Hooper were warmly interested in its welfare at different stages of its growth. Mr. Chadwick, Dr. Hatchins, and Mr. Pratt spoke for the present and former trustees. Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Munson and Mrs. Palmer represented the work of the Froebel Society in its various aspects, and Miss Hotchkiss, the efficient principal, spoke in behalf of the school itself. The Froebel Society, it should be explained, is composed in the main of ladles whose children attend the academy, and they furnish a bond between the parents and the school which is deemed of vital impertance. The speechmaking took place in the assembly-room on the fourth floor of the building, and afterward refreshments were served in the kindergarten room on the first floor. The entertainment was a great success, and the manners of the academy received many constraintations upon the bright prospects of the institution under their care, which in its new building has now entered upon a larger career of usefulness than it has enjoyed during the ten years of its existence. onsequently, a personal interest. He has bought a house on a handsome block in Stuyvesant-ave., and i one of the newest patrons of the Froebel Academy it may be remarked in passing that his coming t Brooklyn brings it about that all three member Brooklyn brings it about that all three members of the committee in charge of the erection of the monument to Scottish-American soliders in Edinbursh last August are now residents of this city. The other two are Henry R. Heath and Francis H. Wilson. Almost the whole credit for the successful carrying out of this undertaking was due to Mr. Bruce, with whom the idea of such a monument originated, although some published statements have created a contrary impression. Mr. Bruce intends to make Brooklyn his home henceforth, and will devote himself to lecturing and literary work. He greatly enjoyed his stay abroad and became extremely popular with the Scots, his name alone being a sufficient open ressage to unlock the doors of all their hearts to him.

"Uncle Dan" Northup, whose death occurred or Monday, the anniversary of his birth and of his marriage, was a unique character in Brooklyn. and in many respects was a remarkable man. For almost fifty years—ever since the consolidation of Williamsburg with Brooklyn—he had been an office-holder, and for more than twenty years he had held the office of secretary of the Department of City Works. No change of administration ever led to a suggestion that he should be displaced Mr. Northup was looked on as a walking encyclopachia on all matters relating to the city government, and it goes without saying that he will be sorely missed by his associates in and around the City Hall, as well as by a wide circle of triends. He continued in active work almost to the close of his life, having been fill only three or four days.

The removal of ex-Mayor Chaple to New-York where he will be a comparatively near neighbor made his home for so many years, and it is easily within the bounds of possibility that he may desire Of course there is a likelihood that Boss McLaugh lin may feel inclined to do something for him next

The compliment which is to be paid to St. Clair McKelway in the dinner to be given in his honor on Tuesday evening is a high and a deserved one Mr. McKelway's work in the recent campaign for Mr. McKelway's work in the recent campaign good government entitles him to his recognition. The list of names signed to the letter favitin, him to accept this honor is one of which any ma-might well be proud. It includes the names of many of the most prominent citizens of Brooklyn. The dinner is certain to be notable in many respects

Residents of Brooklyn familiar with the immunity enjoyed by the liquor saloons of the city in the matter of carrying on their lusiness on the first day of the week were agreeably surprised las the law forbidding the sale of liquor on that day. It appears that the liquor sellers were strictly It appears that the liquor sellers were strictly warned by the police on the previous day that their places must be kept closed on Sunday; so whatever business was transacted had to be done entirely by means of the side doors and in a very quiet and unobtrusive manner. The result was so easily secured that Police Commissioner Hayden must see the desirability of giving orders to the captains of the several precincts that the belated reform is very welcome in the interest of decency and good order and should be kept up.

Some time ago it was suggested in The Tribune that the proper way of dealing with the Insane wards of Kings County was to turn them over to the care of the State. The transfer to the State of the county farm at St. Johnland, it was felt, was the only way of putting an end to the scandals which have been so numerous in connection with that institution. The question has now been raised in practical form by the proposition of the Charitles Commissioners that the State shall acquire the St. Johnland establishment. It remains to be seen low this proposal is received by the State authorities. The investment by the county at St. Johnland represents upward of $5.000,000, and there is mighty little to show for it. That the county can ever get its money back is out of the question; but it will be worth while to put an end to the jobbery and corruption that have prevailed there, even at a considerable loss. Almost anything is better than that the present scandalous condition of things should be permitted to continue.

It is the old Crooke Homestead, built in 1800, with It is the old crocke Homestead, built in 1890, with its antique gables, broad balconies and dormer windows. The Crooke Homestead was named after General Philip S. Crooke, of Flatbush. In the early days the estate comprised eighty-four acres, of The latter gained National reports from his finan-cial connections with the United States Governcial connections with the United States Government. He advanced large sums of money to the struggling Government out of his private purse, and after the troubles were over the money was refunded, and used by him to build houses in the town. His son, Bermon Martense, built the old Crooke house and two others. The latter were the old Lott mansion, torn down four months ago to give place to a row of modern flats, and the other, which though since modernized, still stands in Flatbushave., opposite the Lefferts estate. In 1812 an English captain was captured in this house. In 1825 Remsen Martense died, and the property reverted to Susan Martense, the next helr of kin. At this time the property was known as the Martense estate, which soon afterward was changed. This was owing to the marriage of Susan Martense to Patrick Caton, and it was then known as the Caton estate, and is down as such to-day on the county maps. It was for Patrick Caton that the avenue now bearing that name was called. It adjoins the property, beginning at Flatbush-ave. opposite the postoffice, and continues for about ten miles out to the Ocean Boulevard.

Mayor Boody has permitted the resolution of the Adams to advertise for proposals for street lighting for 1894 to become a law. Corporation Counse Jenks advised him that the resolution was unob jectionable. He holds that the present Board of Aldermen can only receive proposals and cannot make any contract for the coming year in the matter. The officials for 1894 can make contracts upon the basis of such proposals, or they can disregard them altogether. Commissioner Adams will advertise for bids this week and will send the proposals to the Aldermen.

She was taken ill a fortnight ago in Gravesend. Dr. Jacob Howe, of No. 350 Ninth-st., who attended her, gave a certifi-cate of death from peritonitis. Coroner Kene investigated the case and an autopsy was held. It showed that death was due to peritonitis, but no evidence of crime was discovered. Her stomach was retained for chemical analysis. Coroner Kene said yesterday that he had no evidence on which to issue a warrant, but he said he would continue the investigation. The inquest was adjourned, pending the resuit of the inquiry.

ANOTHER BOY KILLED.

ROOKLYN'S TROLLEY SYSTEM CRUSHES OUT ONE MORE YOUNG LIFE.

Still another fatal trolley accident occurred yesorday in Brooklyn. The victim was Willie Young, boy of six years, whose home is at No. 176 Con cord-st. He was playing at Concord and Duffield sta, near his home, with a number of other boys about 4 p. m. They started to cross the street-car tracks in front of a trolley car, which was de cending a hill at that point at a rapid rate, and way. The fender of the car prevented the wheels from parsing over him, but he was knocked down and rolled over and over until all the bones in his body were broken. When the car was stopped the body of the boy could not be pulled from beneath it until the firemen from the house of Hook and Ladder Company No. 3, which is near the scene of the accident, had lifted the car from the track.

The car belonged to the Atlantic Avenue Company and was run on the Park-ave, route, the operation of which by the trolley was begun only a few days ago. Henry Hughes, of No. 229 Fifteenthst., the motorman, and Patrick McVey, of No. 349 Union-st. the conductor, were arrested. The motorman claimed that the car had got beyond his control on the incline. vay. The fender of the car prevented the wheels

STREET RAILWAY CONSOLIDATION.

THE BROOKLYN, QUEENS COUNTY AND SUBURBAN COMPANY ELECTS OFFICERS-A CAPITAL STOCK OF $15,000,000,

For the purpose of promoting the plan for conolidating all the street railroads of Brooklyn under a common management, the Brooklyn Queens County and Suburban Railroad Company has been incorporated. Its capital stock is $15,000,000. The directors are Frank Balley, Edward Johnson, George H. Southard, Henry E. Hutchinson, Frederick T. Aldridge, Julian D. Fairchild, all of Brooklyn Cassius M. Wicker and Francis P. Lowrey, both of New-York City, and Henry T. Bragg, of Yonkers, They met yesterday and elected these officers Henry E. Hutchinson, president; George H. South ard, vice-president; Henry Bragg, secretary, and Frank Bailey, treasurer.

As has been announced, the new corporation will unite the Atlantic Avenue system, now controlled by the Brooklyn Traction Company, and the Broad-way system, now owned by a syndicate. This will system by the Long Island Traction Company which controls the capital stock of the Brooklyn Heights Company, the lessee of the Brooklyn City Company's properties. The new company now organized will issue $12,500,500 of its capital, leaving the remainder in its treasury, and will have $11,000,000 gold bonds, secured by nortranges on the properties. The option will be given to the Long Island Traction Company to take the $12,500,000 capital stock of the new company for a like amount of its capital stock on the following terms: The $5,000,000 capital stock on the following terms: The $5,000,000 capital stock of the new company, issued to the Brooklyn Traction Company, to be exchanged share for share without payment, and the remaining $6,500,000 issued on account of the Broadway railroad properties, to be exchanged share for share for the Long Island Traction stock on payment in a limited period of $15 a share. The various details of the pian of merger are set forth in the circular sent out to the interested stockholders, who will soon meet to vote upon it. which controls the capital stock of the Brookly

TO DEDICATE ST. CECILIA'S NEW CHURCH.

MONSIGNOR SATULLISTO TAKE PART IN THE CEREMONIES A SUCCESSFUL BROOK-

LYN PARISH. Monsignor Satolli will dedicate the new church of St. Cecilia, at Herbert and North Henry sts., to-day. Monsigner Satelli has taken this occasion to renew an acquaintance formed long ago in Rome when the pastor of the church, Father Edward J. McGoldrick, was a student. The dedication will mark the culmination of a long career of activity and ceaseless consideration of a paster for the weifare of the people committed by the bishot to his care, and his fellow-priests in the diocess and many friends and ecclesiastics from neighbored ing cities will join with him in a celebrating which Brooklyn Catholics take great interest The presence of these friends from other places due, not alone to their desire to hono the delegate from Rome, but also to their pleasure at the addition of another fine place of worship to the diocese. Bishop McDonnell will officiate. Father Martin Carroll, of St. Vincent de Paul's Church, on North Fifth-st., will be the deacon, and Fafaes John M. Kelly, of the Church of the Transfigura tion, Hooper-st. and Marcy-ave., sub-de sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Shahan, of the Catholic University at Washington In the evening there will be solemn Pontifica vespers, at which Bishop J. J. Hennessey, of Wi-chita, Kan., will officiate, and the Rev. Chancellor James H. Mitchell will preach the sermon Professor Louis Hannwster will have charge of the musical programme, which will be on an elaborate Goldrick has the care of about 5,000 souls. He built up the parish and its church from a small beginning. He was educated at the American College in Rome, and while there attended the Propaganda where Monsignor Satolli lectured.

The new edifice stands on the outskirts of the Eastern District and adjoins the old wooden school-house. The two structures illustrate what may be accomplished in three years of good financial man-house. The two structures illustrate what may be accomplished in three years of good financial management and energy.

The present schoolhouse attached to the parish was creeted by a former pastor, the Rev. John R. McDonnell, and was then used as a chapel. In 1871 the Rev. M. J. Malone was made rector of the parish and remained in charge until five years ago, when it was transferred to Father McGoldrick, then an assistant to Father Thatfle, of St. Patrick's. Through the new rector's energy money began to accumulate. Nearly 120,000 was raised in 1884, and then $7,000 was expended, and the large balance went to pay off old mortrages and pressing obligations. In 1891 ground was broken for the present ellinee, and the cornerstone was laid on September 27, by the late Bishop Loughlia. Ex-Governor Abbett, of New-Jersey, a life-long friend of Father McGoldrick, was on the platform, with fifty priests.

Arbeit, of New-Jersey, a life-long friend of Father Metholdrick, was on the piatform, with fifty priests.

The new edifice will cost more than $100,000. It is Romanesque in design, having a frontage of 100 feet on North Henry-st, and is like feet in length. The front of the church and the ride on Herberts, are of Georgia marble, and the other sides of brick. The senting capacity is 1,2% Groined arches spring from the massive pillars, and the minishing consists of quartered oak. There are three altars, of marble with only trimmings. The chapel for daily morning service extends thirty-two feet on Herbert-st, with a seating capacity of eighty, and adjoins the sacristy of the church. Adjoining the chapel is the pastoral residence at Herbert and Monitor six, faced with Georgia marble, and of the same siyle of architecture as the church. It is four stories in height.

The Rey, E. J. McColdrick received his early education from the Christian Brothers in Jay-st, Brooklyn, after which he entered Manhattan College and was graduated. He was sent to Rome and entered the American College in 18% Five years later he was ordained by the Cardinal-Vicad of Rome, and his first mindon after returning to America was at St. Patrick's Church, Kent and Willoughly-aves, where he labored for six years. He was the sent to his present charge. His career since his arrival at St. Cecilia's has been unformly successfel. His arsstants are the feet. Thomas S. Luddig and the Rey, Peter J. Pahey.

The South Second Street Methodist Episcopal will celebrate the eighty-seventh anniversary of the establishment of Methodism in the old village of Williamsburg, now the Eastern District of the city of Brooklyn, during the present week.

TO CELEBRATE A CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

commemorative services will begin on Thanks-giving Day, concluding next Sunday. Other churches in Williamsburg are lending their as-sistance to the plan for making the occasion a notable one. On Thanksgiving Day the address will be delivered by the Eey, A. H. Wyart, the former pastor of the South Second Street Churca, and the Rev. Dr. S. F. Upham, of the Drew The-ological Seminary, at Madison, N. J., will preach the anniversary sermon on Sunday.

HIS TENANTS WERE SLOW IN PAYING RENT.

Investigation yesterday showed that Jacob L Friday night, was comfortably wealthy. Beside the house where he lived, at No. 385 Eighteenth-st., he owned two houses on Seventh-ave. His tenants were lax in paying the rents, and Langbein, who was fifty-three years old, gerw tired of life and despondent. On Friday night he visited a beer shop kept by Paul Bassenger, in Flatbush, and soon after he left there the shot was heard and he was found dead. A letter to the members of Gowanus Lodge, No. 295 I. O. O. F., asking them to care for his body, was found in his pocket. His relatives were not to be allowed to interfere, he said, as he wanted his body cremated. Langbeln was a widower.

AN INSURANCE AGENT EILLS HIMSELF.

Charles Weber, a general insurance agent and broker, living at No. 188 Hopking-st., Brooklyn, committed suicide on Friday night by hanging himself to a beam in the cellar of his home. He was found by his wife, who cut him down. Life was then extinct, Mr. Weber was sixty years old, The only cause assigned for his act is despondency, brought about by his business.

Dec. 4-Mr. JOHN DREW. MEDICAL ETIQUETTE.

From The London Dally News.

From The London Daily News.

Mr. Ashurst, a medical man at Pendleton, Lancashire, believing himself to have been treated by a brother practitioner named Anderton, at New-Mills, in a manner contrary to professional eliquette, he endeavored to relieve his feelings by dispatching to his rival a telegram in the words: "Your conduct is abominable, and I shall not fail to resent it." This was an attack that Mr. Anderton was not disposed to put up with, for telegrams are necessarily seen by more eyes than one, and a charge of "abominable conduct" is apt to set village tongues wagging. So he called on the libelier for an apology, and this satisfaction not being forthcoming he brought an action of libel, which has just been tried at Manchester. The original quarrel was, it appeared, about a patient who, being dissatisfied with Mr. Ashurst, called in Mr. Anderton, who ought, it was allegted, to have notified the fact to his dismissed predecessor. But Mr. Justice Day declared that he had no sympathy with what he called "violating the right which doctors claim of a monopoly to kill," and he added: "I know doctors claim a right not to be interfered with, but the public have as much right to change their doctor as they have to change their bakes." For all that, the Judge stigmatized the action as "a most trumpery one," and the jury having found a verdict for the plaintinf, with one farthing dates.
