

FEELING IN JEFFERSON.

GENERAL REGRET THAT THE DELEGATES WERE INSTRUCTED.

ACTING ON THE WISH OF COLONEL SHAW—ADMIRATION FOR MR. DEWEY—CANDIDACY OF JUSTICE WILLIAMS FOR THE COURT OF APPEALS.

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.]

Waterbury, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The delegates of Jefferson County to the Republican State Convention were instructed to vote for Mr. Morton, and of course, they will have to do so for a reasonable length of time, but the sentiment of the delegates is decidedly against his nomination. Jefferson has always been an anti-Platt county, and the sudden turn that is making it one of the cornerstones in the structure which Mr. Platt is just now trying to raise is making old politicians here rub their eyes and wonder how it came about.

It was in fact cleverly managed. In pursuance of the tactics employed in other parts of the State, a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor was found here. He is Colonel A. D. Shaw. Mr. Shaw's friends will assure you with an air of the utmost confidence that Mr. Platt is favorable to their man. Consequently they are in favor of Mr. Platt's man. Another element in the situation was the admiration that the great body of the people of Jefferson County had for President Harrison. Mr. Morton is the rival of the late Administration, and is its reward for its good deeds, which it required two years of Democratic times to make people in the rural districts credit to logic is which makes the rural voter credit to the gentleman who presided over the deliberations of the Senate with dignity the great works accomplished by policies which he had little or no part in forming, and in which he was being pushed forward by the man who used his power to prevent the renomination of President Harrison, may be difficult for the ordinary mind to understand. Nevertheless, that's the way it works here. Mr. O-R-T-O-N spells Mr. Morton would succeed in having much over a majority of the vote of this city on the first ballot.

Many Assembly districts are expected to elect delegates to-night and send them to Saratoga without instructions. How they will vote will depend largely on the situation as it presents itself to them at the convention. Many local politicians are not in favor of Mr. Platt, and a great deal depends upon the course Mr. Dewey adopts on his arrival here from Europe at the end of this week. If he should decide upon an open and determined fight for the nomination, he will be met by the surplus quantity of latent opposition to Mr. Morton that would probably make itself felt.

Evenly divided in Brooklyn. Apparently the Platt and anti-Platt forces will have about the same number of delegates.

There are ninety delegates in the State Convention allotted to the Republicans of Brooklyn. They will be elected at Assembly District conventions to be held to-morrow evening in the eighteen districts. The delegates, some 1,500 in number, will compose these conventions, were chosen at primaries in the election districts of the city on Tuesday evening, and there is no reason to believe that Mr. Morton as the candidate for Governor. This was largely due to the influence of General Tracy. An effort was made, however, by the friends of General Stewart L. Woodford to bring him forward.

With the mention of the name of Chauncey M. Dewey, however, the opposition in Brooklyn to Mr. Platt secured a rallying point. As nearly as can be ascertained from the primaries, the delegates to be chosen to-morrow night in Brooklyn will be nearly equally divided between Platt and anti-Platt men. The former will support the candidacy of Mr. Morton and the latter will be prepared to support either Mr. Platt or Mr. Dewey. Mr. Platt will support Mr. Dewey, and Mr. Dewey will support Mr. Platt. Mr. Platt will support Mr. Dewey, and Mr. Dewey will support Mr. Platt.

On the other hand the Platt men declared that they would support Mr. Dewey, and Mr. Dewey will support Mr. Platt. Mr. Platt will support Mr. Dewey, and Mr. Dewey will support Mr. Platt. Mr. Platt will support Mr. Dewey, and Mr. Dewey will support Mr. Platt.

They denounce Mr. Platt. Resolutions by anti-machine Republicans of the VIIIth Assembly District.

Depew the choice for Governor. The John E. Milholland Club, the headquarters of the Republican party in the City and County of New York, met last evening at the City and County Club, No. 111 Clinton Place, was crowded with enthusiastic Republicans last evening.

Anti-machine men going to Saratoga. The Executive Committee of the Republican Organization of the City and County of New York met last evening at the State Club, No. 25 East 42nd Street, to arrange for the primaries which will be held in all the districts of the city this evening, and for the transportation of the delegates to the Republican State Convention at Saratoga, and their accommodation in the VIIIth Assembly District, which is the headquarters of the anti-machine party.

Reduced rates to the State Convention. Arrangements have been made with the Trunk Line Association by which delegates and others are to be carried to and from the Republican State Convention at Saratoga for one and one-third the regular rates.

RESULTS OF THE PRIMARIES. ESTIMATES OF MR. MORTON'S STRENGTH IN THIS CITY.

SOME OF THE OLD REPUBLICAN LEADERS SAY HE WILL HAVE THREE-FIFTHS OF THE DELEGATES.

The delegates elected on Monday evening to the various Republican Assembly district conventions this evening and elect 127 delegates, New York's representation to the Republican State Convention. William H. Ten Eyck, secretary of the County Committee of the George Bliss organization, yesterday estimated the total vote polled at Monday evening's primaries at 35,000.

The old machine leaders yesterday asserted that they were going to give Mr. Morton something like three-fourths of the New-York delegation. Less enthusiastic compilers of the returns assigned to Mr. Morton seventy-five delegates and forty-two to other candidates. More careful and moderate statisticians were inclined to doubt if Mr. Morton would succeed in having much over a majority of the vote of this city on the first ballot.

OSWEGO'S DELEGATES.

THE MAJORITY ARE LIKELY TO FAVOR MR. MORTON.

EX-SENATOR GEORGE B. SLOAN PRAISES MR. DEWEY—FOR SHAW AND VANN.

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.]

Oswego, N. Y., Sept. 12.—The delegates from Oswego to the Republican State Convention are unopposed and unopposed. They were elected almost a month before there were any active candidates in the field who appealed to the sentiment of this part of the State. At that time Mr. Morton was the most prominent person talked of as a possibility, and there was no objection raised against him. A few of the delegates then were and now are avowedly favorable to his nomination. Some are non-committal. Some of the Oswego managers are claiming ten of the eleven delegates to Mr. Morton. Other people say that they will not have more than eight. Without much doubt, though, the majority of the delegates will vote for Mr. Morton, for the first few ballots at least, if the convention is prolonged so far.

By some oversight Oswego was neglected when the work of setting up Morton desks to run for Lieutenant-Governor was undertaken. Perhaps it was thought that Colonel Shaw in the neighboring county of Jefferson would serve for both. At any rate, however, the delegates to the Oswego will go generally in the convention, though politicians here are not overconfident of his being nominated. Justice Irving G. Vann, of Syracuse, is the favorite candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, and is universally spoken of as likely to make an admirable judge, as well as an element of strength on the Oswego delegates to the State Convention. Ex-Senator George B. Sloan, who does not express a preference for any candidate, wishes to put it "to wait until the candidates are all entered for the race. He has no hesitation in saying, however, that the candidate named Mr. Dewey would be in every way a popular one in Oswego County. The Republicans of this section felt well acquainted with Mr. Dewey. They had heard him on the stump, and had lively recollections of their satisfaction in listening to him. He would be elected by Republicans here as the inspiration of a strong personal presence among the people.

Mr. Bliss would not talk politics. Cornelius N. Bliss, who arrived here from Europe yesterday on the T-utonic, would not discuss to any length the political situation here. He expressed himself as gratified at the number of good men in the field for Governor, but he would not give an opinion in favor of any one, nor would he talk about the possibility of his becoming a candidate for either the Governor or the Legislature.

Mr. Bliss said that he was sure that the people of Oswego would elect a Republican. He said that he had been in Maine had done. Mr. Bliss received several callers at his office in the afternoon, among them being William H. Tullish.

SARATOGA INSTRUCTS FOR MORTON. Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 12 (Special).—The Saratoga Republican County Convention, held at Ballston Spa this afternoon and evening, was one of the most harmonious political gatherings ever held in this county.

The Buffalo Express predicts that Levi P. Morton will fall short at least a hundred votes of a majority on the first ballot, and that, with the possible exception of Chauncey M. Dewey, no other candidate will receive the greatest number of delegates.

It is certain, in the opinion of "The Jamestown Morning News," that 99 per cent of the Republican voters of the State desire to see Levi P. Morton nominated for Governor.

The Little Falls Journal and Courier finds that the Morton sentiment is not as strong throughout the State as it was a few days ago, and advises the nomination of Warner Miller.

Whoever the Democratic candidate for Governor may be, "The Elmira Advertiser" says, he will be the help to the record of the Democratic party in this State and must accept of the responsibility. He is not a man who can be manipulated to conceal the facts of his stripes.

In the opinion of "The Lockport Journal" Congressman James W. Wadsworth, leader of the Buffalo in the State, fits into the position of a compromise candidate for Governor, provided he would accept the lower office.

In the unfair selection of the places for holding the Buffalo Democratic caucuses, "The Buffalo Commercial" sees a renewal of the desperate tactics that have in recent years characterized the work of the State machine organization, and another graphic illustration of the imperative necessity of a re-organization of the party by the people.

Mr. Platt's political enemies, declares "The Rochester Herald" are convinced that they can rally upon Mr. Dewey's candidacy as a rallying point. They are for the opposition to the extension of the Hersey.

"The Rochester Union and Advertiser" announces that Max Bricker has been chosen to make the speech in the Republican convention nominating Charles C. Johnson as secretary for Lieutenants Mayor George W. Aldridge, of Rochester, and Charles C. Johnson, of Buffalo, a member of the Board of Health of Rochester, and was formerly president of the city's Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Morton is to lead the ticket, a great many people are expected to go through the State to see Senator Saxton named for second place.

To choose the Tammany delegates. All the members of the Tammany Hall Executive Committee were at the meeting at the Wigwam yesterday except Patrick Divver, E. T. Fitzpatrick and Patrick Keenan, regular members, and Henry D. Purroy and W. Bourke Cochran, ex-officio members. Mr. Purroy is still in Europe, and Mr. Cochran is in the Adirondacks with his sick wife.

The filling of the New-York City delegation in the Democratic State Convention at Saratoga on September 25 with trustworthy Tammany men was considered, and several Assembly District organizations were formed for the purpose of electing representatives, three from each district, after giving six days' notice. The organizations are the Cassidy revolution and one passed on motion of Mayor Divver at a meeting of the Tammany Hall on Thursday night.

A call with the dates in blank was proposed for the State Convention. The call will be filled in probably at the meeting of the Committee on Organization to-night.

J. M. White said to be in danger of death. James M. White, of No. 23 Park Place, Brooklyn, was taken ill with consumption at his summer home in Summit, N. J. Mr. White is a wealthy cotton broker and owns the Criterion Theatre in Fulton-st., which he built about ten years ago. He will be removed to his Brooklyn home to-morrow, if it can be done, but no hopes are entertained that he will survive, it is said, gastric fever as well as consumption.

MILDLY AGAINST TAMMANY.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED BY THE GRACE FAIRCHILD DEMOCRACY COUNTY COMMITTEE.

The Grace-Fairchild Democracy held a meeting of their County Committee at the Cooper Union last evening to set things in motion for the campaign in Oswego County. Ex-Judge Jordan, president, and Ex-Secretary Charles S. Fairchild, Commissioner Francis J. Canla, Theodore Suto, E. J. H. Tamsen, John J. Quinlan, "Tim" Shea, the oysterman, ex-Corporation Counsel Henry R. Beckman, Thomas Costigan, John Pennell, George Walton Green, Otto Kemper, Daniel E. Dowling and John A. Henneberry.

After a committee on resolutions had been provided for on motion of ex-Judge Jordan, to which all outside resolutions should be referred without reading and without debate, Colonel Monroe said that under the plan of organization the annual primaries were to be held on Tuesday, six weeks before the general election. As this would bring them on Tuesday, September 25, the day of the Democratic State Convention, he submitted resolutions, which were adopted, changing the time to Friday, September 29.

John Quinlan, chairman of the Committee on Arrangements, announced that he had secured quarters for the delegates at the Grand Union Hotel at Saratoga, where they could be accommodated at $5 a day. Those desiring cheaper quarters could, however, find them in Saratoga. Ex-Secretary George Walton Green here arose and said that it had been suggested that the committee would like to hear about the starting of the campaign at the hotel at Madison Square Garden last week, and as one of the delegates, he would be pleased to tell all about it. In response to vigorous cheering he stepped on the platform. Mr. Green began moving softly down the aisle toward the stage. Unfortunately, his pathway lay near the edge of the platform. Mr. Green was convulsed and almost fainted about an instant to his chair in the back of the house.

Charles J. Canla reported the resolutions. They spoke of the Tariff bill as a substantial advance toward tariff reform, although amended and nullified by the Senate. It fell short of the program of the Democratic National platform of 1892. Cleveland, Professor Wilson, of West Virginia, and the Democratic majority in the House were lauded, and the Democratic Congressmen of this city who had voted against the Wilson bill were denounced. The resolutions also condemned the continued protection of certain trusts and monopolies. Especially did they refer to the Standard Oil Company. Complete separation of local from State and National politics was favored. Tammany Hall, without out money, was to be managed by the party for having for six years subordinated the city's interests to that of a political organization. The election of a Democratic Governor, and the majority in the Assembly and of consistent and faithful Democrats in all the Congress districts of this city, the resolutions asserted, they "heartily desired."

EMPIRE STATE POLITICS. THE CANVASS AND THE CANDIDATES—WHAT THE NEWS-PAPERS ARE SAYING.

"The St. Lawrence Fairdealer," published at Justice Leslie W. Russell's home, Canton, has this to say of his candidacy. "The candidacy of Leslie W. Russell is assuming proportions very gratifying to his many friends in Northern New-York. In fact, this feeling is not confined to that section, but is found all over the State, where he has hosts of friends."

The impression that various papers alluded to in our broadcast over the State that he would not receive a complimentary vote in the convention is no longer manifest. It is clearly evident that Mr. Russell has by his high character, his industry and determined support of a large section of Northern New-York, while there is reason to believe that he will not stop there, but will extend into other quarters."

"The Buffalo Express" predicts that Levi P. Morton will fall short at least a hundred votes of a majority on the first ballot, and that, with the possible exception of Chauncey M. Dewey, no other candidate will receive the greatest number of delegates.

LONG BAUMANN & COMPANY.

CAPTAIN COLEMAN IS AROUSED. HE DECLARES TO THE MEN OF HIS DISBANDED COMPANY THAT A BIG EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO HAVE THE 6TH REGIMENT RESTORED AT ONCE.

Captain Hugh Coleman of disbanded company E, of the 6th Regiment, threw down the gauntlet last night at Lehigh Hall, Third-ave. and Forty-fifth, to the members of the Journeymen Tailors Benevolent and Protective Union from doing anything to interfere with the business of disbanding the company who completed the act of the workmen, who had gone on strike in preference to accepting a reduction of wages. Ex-Judge Alfred Street, of the court, who was present, and argued that they had not violated any order of the court intentionally. They had never been employed in the legal proceeding, and he said that the shopkeepers of the city, who had been out of work for a long time, and had been making efforts to secure employment, were going to have visited the shops of different tailors, not as strikers or with the intent of interfering with others. Judge Lawrence reserved his decision.

ME. EDISON TELLS ABOUT THE COMPANY. In the suit in the New-Jersey Chancery Court for the appointment of a receiver for the North American Phonograph Company, John B. Handley, of Newark, being plaintiff, and Thomas A. Edison, of Menlo Park, being defendant, the plaintiff has filed an affidavit in which he gives the history of the company. He says the company for some time did a good business, and its prospects for further success were good, but in a short time it was shown that the instrument as manufactured had little or no practical or commercial value. In 1882 the company had to absorb the issue of bonds to the extent of $300,000, each bond being for $100. He held 220 of the bonds, and on May 1, 1884, he sold the bonds at a loss of $100,000. He says that the company was unable to pay it. He has lost the stock at auction. The property of the company, he says, is not worth over $25,000.

THE WEATHER REPORT. SHOWERS AGAIN TO-DAY. Washington, Sept. 12.—A storm of great intensity has moved from the north of Montana to Eastern Montana, a pressure of 29.24 inches being reported from Miles City. The high pressure area has moved from Lake Erie to the southern New-England coast, increasing in magnitude. Rain has fallen in the Middle and Lower Mississippi valleys and the South Atlantic States. The temperature has risen in the Upper Missouri Valley and the Southwest and has fallen decidedly over the entire region and has reached nearly stationary elsewhere. Showers may be expected in the Mississippi Valley, the lake region, the Middle and South Atlantic States, and the temperature will fall in the extreme Northwest and will remain nearly stationary elsewhere.

DETAILED FORECAST FOR TO-DAY. For New-England, fair; probably slightly warmer; southerly to westerly winds. For Eastern New-York, fair, followed by showers in the afternoon or night, slightly warmer in the interior; winds becoming southerly. For Western Pennsylvania, New-Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, the District of Columbia and Virginia, showers; easterly winds. For Ohio, showers; easterly winds; slightly cooler in the vicinity of Cincinnati.

THE STRIKE FAST DRAWING TO AN END. SOME CONTRACTORS STILL HOLDING OUT AGAINST THE GARMENT WORKERS—ONE OF THEM ATTACKED BY TAILORS. The tailors' strike is speedily drawing to a close. The contractors are yielding to the demands of the strikers, and the latter are confident that everything will be satisfactorily settled in a few days. About 125 contractors have already signed the agreement and given their bonds for the amount. Samuel Levy, a Knight of the Knights of Labor, has accepted the agreement. The members of the International Tailors' headquarters, went to the United Brotherhood Tailors' headquarters on Tuesday evening to get some of the Brotherhood tailors to work for him, as he could not get his complement of help at the Knights of Labor headquarters. Levy was set upon by the Brotherhood tailors and was roughly handled. He left the place without his hat and nursing a bruised eye. The Executive Board of the United Brotherhood Tailors will issue a circular to all the downtown manufacturers giving their reasons for demanding a bond from the contractors. Labor Local Assembly No. 465, at No. 27 East Houston-st., have their agreement in readiness. A committee has been appointed to meet the contractors and invite them to sign the agreement, which is similar to that of the Brotherhood of Tailors. About 3,000 cloakmakers were out of labor last yesterday morning at Congress Hall. A last night's meeting of the strikers decided to demand the same conditions as the other branches of the trade. At Liberty Hall, No. 27 East Houston-st., the
