

THE DRAMA—MUSIC.

MR. HARRIGAN AS THE MAJOR.

In Harrigan's Theatre on Tuesday Mr. Harrigan effected an agreeable revival of his comic play "The Major," and each night since he has pleased his audience by his blandly droll personation of its principal character. The play is a farce in low life. The springs of action are deceitful tricks, which lead to misunderstandings, cross-purposes, and general confusion. It has years since this public has seen a farce that was comic on the same principle—only in those the action has proceeded in drawing-rooms and amid opulent surroundings, and has implicated fashionable persons. In "The Major" the persons implicated are negroes, Irish people, and Germans, of a common order, and the action passes upon a North River steamship pier, in an Irish boarding-house, and in a "pool-room" that is kept by a negro. Mr. Harry is a well-known, possessive remarkable ingenuity in the contrivance of absurd situations, and in linking together the most unexpected and preposterous comic incidents. His art is lawless and his fancy is fertile, and, as he does not trouble himself about probability or style, he is able to weld together a most amazing fabric of ludicrous occurrences and haphazard comedy. At first sight "The Major" seems to be a mere play, but after awhile the observer discerns in it a thread of story which pervades the suggestion of a clear design.

Major Giffleather, played by Mr. Harrigan, is a captain, insinuating, good-natured rogue—a sort of Captain Wrangle of the gutter. He lives by dishonesty. He is not above theft. He mixes and meddles in the affairs of various persons, levying tribute upon all of them and settling them in a peculiar way. His object is to marry a penniless Irish woman, ingeniously well played by Mrs. Yeaman, who keeps a boarding-house, and incidentally to adjust the relations of two pairs of elderly and eccentric lovers, who have got themselves wronged. His vociferous talk, his ready wit, his ready arrival here in time to be arrested, so that he can "collect their dues," and his ready means to obtain their release, all that the Major does is surreptitious. He is a scamp—but he is a comic scamp, and he is a scamp in the character, keeps the auditor in almost continual laughter. He is a scamp, but he is a comic scamp, and he is a scamp in the character, keeps the auditor in almost continual laughter. He is a scamp, but he is a comic scamp, and he is a scamp in the character, keeps the auditor in almost continual laughter.

Major Giffleather, played by Mr. Harrigan, is a captain, insinuating, good-natured rogue—a sort of Captain Wrangle of the gutter. He lives by dishonesty. He is not above theft. He mixes and meddles in the affairs of various persons, levying tribute upon all of them and settling them in a peculiar way. His object is to marry a penniless Irish woman, ingeniously well played by Mrs. Yeaman, who keeps a boarding-house, and incidentally to adjust the relations of two pairs of elderly and eccentric lovers, who have got themselves wronged. His vociferous talk, his ready wit, his ready arrival here in time to be arrested, so that he can "collect their dues," and his ready means to obtain their release, all that the Major does is surreptitious. He is a scamp—but he is a comic scamp, and he is a scamp in the character, keeps the auditor in almost continual laughter. He is a scamp, but he is a comic scamp, and he is a scamp in the character, keeps the auditor in almost continual laughter.

It was a gentle and gracious act on the part of Mr. Beerbaum Tree to give one of the best of his performances and one of the strongest attractions in his repertory for the good of a charitable cause. Yesterday afternoon at Abbey's Theatre he acted Captain Swift, for the first time in America, and gave the receipts of the day to the afflicted sufferers of the city. The play, which is held in high esteem by the musical people of the size of the Metropolitan Opera House. That so many of its friends braved the storm and submitted to the inconveniences of interrupted traffic was a compliment not to be lightly weighed; the more that the programme in itself was not that could attract by reason of its novelty. Both the comic and the dramatic elements of the play were of the highest quality, and the play was a success. The play was a success. The play was a success. The play was a success.

MR. TREE'S PERFORMANCES.

It was a gentle and gracious act on the part of Mr. Beerbaum Tree to give one of the best of his performances and one of the strongest attractions in his repertory for the good of a charitable cause. Yesterday afternoon at Abbey's Theatre he acted Captain Swift, for the first time in America, and gave the receipts of the day to the afflicted sufferers of the city. The play, which is held in high esteem by the musical people of the size of the Metropolitan Opera House. That so many of its friends braved the storm and submitted to the inconveniences of interrupted traffic was a compliment not to be lightly weighed; the more that the programme in itself was not that could attract by reason of its novelty. Both the comic and the dramatic elements of the play were of the highest quality, and the play was a success. The play was a success. The play was a success. The play was a success.

BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA.

The Boston Symphony Orchestra could measure up to the highest standard of excellence held by any orchestra in the world. The orchestra was a success. The orchestra was a success. The orchestra was a success. The orchestra was a success.

DINNER OF THE SOCIETY OF THE WAR OF 1812.

The Society of the War of 1812 will hold a commemorative banquet on Monday evening, February 18, the eighteenth anniversary of the proclamation in 1812 by President Madison of the ratification of the Treaty of Peace. The committee of arrangements is composed of the following gentlemen: Chairman, Paul Gilbert Theobald, and Matthew L. DeLafayette. The address of the committee is the City Hall, New York.

HER "WHITE HOUSE FRIEND" HELPLESS.

The action of Queen Liliuokalani in voluntarily renouncing all claim to the throne of Hawaii should be a guarantee of peace to the little republic of the Pacific. The action of Queen Liliuokalani in voluntarily renouncing all claim to the throne of Hawaii should be a guarantee of peace to the little republic of the Pacific.

ITS EFFECT ON THE NATIVES.

The abdication of Queen Liliuokalani is interesting, if not important. It is done under duress, and the evident design of assuming the wrath of the natives. The abdication of Queen Liliuokalani is interesting, if not important. It is done under duress, and the evident design of assuming the wrath of the natives.

ONE REDEMPTION FEATURE, ANYWAY.

From the Boston Journal. These days of repression which Liliuokalani's British sympathies kindly purchased for her army will make a handsome addition to the military resources of the new republic.

MISS ANNA GOULD AGAIN.

SAID TO BE ENGAGED TO THE COUNT DE CASTELLANE.

The friends of Count de Castellane, of Paris, were congratulating him yesterday upon his announcement of his engagement to Miss Anna Gould, daughter of Jay Gould. His friends said that there could be no doubt about it, as the Count announced it himself, but there were others who were inclined to be doubtful for the reason that Miss Gould's engagements and reported engagements in recent months have been numerous. Then, too, not long ago, when one of these rumors was started, George J. Gould, her brother, said that when his sister became engaged he would send word to the newspapers. Mr. Gould sent no word about this engagement yesterday.

About a year ago the social world was startled by the announcement that Miss Gould was engaged to "Harry Woodruff," a member of the New York stock exchange. The engagement was announced on authority that the couple parted "with good-will and respect for each other." Numerous reports of new engagements came to this country, the most persistent of them being that Prince Francis of Saxe-Coburg was engaged to Miss Gould. The engagement was announced on authority that the couple parted "with good-will and respect for each other." Numerous reports of new engagements came to this country, the most persistent of them being that Prince Francis of Saxe-Coburg was engaged to Miss Gould.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY.

The second of the three small and early dances arranged by several young matrons for young married people was held at Sherry's last night. The guests were received in the Pink Room by the ladies who organized the dances. Mrs. Edward W. Humphries, Mrs. Hoffman Miller, Mrs. Frederick Whipple, Mrs. Stanley Walker Decker, Mrs. Walter Jennings and Mrs. Henry C. Woodruff were present. The dancing was very successful.

WEDDINGS PAST AND TO COME.

In the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension, Fifth-avenue and Tenth-street, at noon yesterday, Miss Edith Morgan, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morgan, of Great Neck, L. I., was married by the Rev. Father Leary to Mr. William G. Williamson, of this city. The bride was given away by her father. There were neither bridesmaids nor maid of honor. George De Witt Williamson attended his brother as best man. The ushers were Frederick Foster Carey, Francis G. London, Charles A. Van Rensselaer and Matthew Morgan, Jr., a cousin of the bride. The marriage was celebrated at the residence of Mrs. Kelly, 10 West 17th-street, by the Rev. E. B. Butler, of No. 1, West 17th-street, an uncle of the bridegroom. A reception and breakfast for the family and intimate friends followed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. August Belmont, Madison-avenue. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. Van Rensselaer Kennedy, Samuel D. Babcock, the Misses Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morgan, Jr., Alfred J. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cooper, Mrs. Henry Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Street, Miss Alice Post, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fisher Banks, Miss Banks and the Misses Williamson.

THE GRANT DINNER ON APRIL 2.

The eighth annual dinner of the Grant Banquet Association of this city will take place on the anniversary of the birth of General Grant, April 2. The Committee of Arrangements for 1895 is composed of General Grenville M. Dodge, chairman, General Horace Porter, General C. A. Smith, General Nelson A. Miles, General Thomas H. Stanley, General Charles F. T. Condit, General George H. Sharpe, General C. A. Starnes, General John B. Gordon, Colonel N. T. Sprague, Horace Russell, Joseph H. Choate, Charles C. Bonham, Charles H. Roper, James M. Axtell, George Taylor, General Morton May, Major Stiles, Major Bonner, J. Ambrose Bush, Warner Miller, Rufus S. Hanson, Judge Roger W. Wood, Colonel N. H. Richards, Butler, Henry Ford, Colonel N. H. Hiles, H. O. Armour, Henry F. Howland, Charles L. Colby, J. S. Page, and others. The dinner will be given at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York, on April 2.

LEHIGH MEN TO DINE TOGETHER TONIGHT.

The Lehigh University Club will have a dinner tonight at the Arena, in West Thirty-first-st. A good number of applications for places at the table have been received and everything points to a successful reunion. Professors Ringer, Merriman and Chandler have said that they will be present. The dinner will be given at the Arena, in West Thirty-first-st. A good number of applications for places at the table have been received and everything points to a successful reunion.

ME. DALY'S DOUBLE BILL.

Nothing since "A Night Off" and "Seven-Twenty-Eight" seems to have created so much laughter at Daly's as the present double bill. "The Orient Express" and "A Tragedy Rehearsed" of the latest withdrawal have filled the theatre to the seats. The matinee performances have also been largely attended and greatly appreciated, especially by the younger people. On the matinee will be given next Monday.

FOR THE DR. PARKHURST TESTIMONIAL FUND.

The treasurer of the Dr. Parkhurst Testimonial Fund, J. Langdon Brown, reported the following contributions up to noon yesterday: President acknowledged $22,735 25; Dr. H. T. Sutphen 100 00; Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn 100 00; Total $23,935 25.

WILLIAMS WITT AND WISDOM.

ANNUAL DINNER OF THE NEW-YORK ALUMNI.

PROFESSOR BARNUM ON THE INSPIRATIONS OF COLLEGE LIFE, AND J. EDWARD SIMMONS ON THE COLLAGE MAN IN BUSINESS. PROFESSOR BARNUM ON THE INSPIRATIONS OF COLLEGE LIFE, AND J. EDWARD SIMMONS ON THE COLLAGE MAN IN BUSINESS.

WILLIAM R. PUTNEY.

The Brunswick soon obliterated all memory of the storm outside and the good fellows of all Williams College, in spite of the fact that the actor had retired from the stage and was preparing to enter the law. The actor had retired from the stage and was preparing to enter the law. The actor had retired from the stage and was preparing to enter the law.

WELCOMED BY THE CHAIRMAN.

After the cigars had arrived, Mr. Farney arose to address the audience. He gave them all a hearty welcome. He gave them all a hearty welcome. He gave them all a hearty welcome.

JOHN BOWEN WHITING.

John Bowen Whiting, a well-known lawyer of this city, died, another sad victim of grip, in this city yesterday. He was the son of Sarah J. and the late John N. Whiting, and was born in Geneva, Ontario County, N. Y., in 1822. He was a graduate of Yale University in the class of '44 and was also a graduate of the Columbia law school.

WILLIAM HARRISON COOPER.

William Harrison Cooper died from pneumonia on Tuesday, aged seventy-eight, at his home, No. 24 West Twenty-first-st. In 1836 he came to New-York from Rockland county, and for many years he was engaged in the real-estate business. He was a member of the National Bankers' Association.

THE COLLEGE MAN IN BUSINESS.

J. Edward Simmons, class of '82, spoke for "College Men in Business." He said in part: "When a man goes to college he goes to it to get a liberal education, to get a broad view of life, to get a knowledge of the world, to get a knowledge of the world, to get a knowledge of the world."

THE GRANT DINNER ON APRIL 2.

The eighth annual dinner of the Grant Banquet Association of this city will take place on the anniversary of the birth of General Grant, April 2. The Committee of Arrangements for 1895 is composed of General Grenville M. Dodge, chairman, General Horace Porter, General C. A. Smith, General Nelson A. Miles, General Thomas H. Stanley, General Charles F. T. Condit, General George H. Sharpe, General C. A. Starnes, General John B. Gordon, Colonel N. T. Sprague, Horace Russell, Joseph H. Choate, Charles C. Bonham, Charles H. Roper, James M. Axtell, George Taylor, General Morton May, Major Stiles, Major Bonner, J. Ambrose Bush, Warner Miller, Rufus S. Hanson, Judge Roger W. Wood, Colonel N. H. Richards, Butler, Henry Ford, Colonel N. H. Hiles, H. O. Armour, Henry F. Howland, Charles L. Colby, J. S. Page, and others. The dinner will be given at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York, on April 2.

CHARLES RANDOLPH.

Charles Randolph, the son of Edmund D. Randolph, and a member of the Stock Exchange, died at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., on Tuesday, of consumption. He was born in Philadelphia in 1862, and was graduated from Columbia College in 1884. He was a member of the Stock Exchange and was president of the same from 1890 to 1894.

ELIJAH DUBOIS.

Kingston, N. Y., Feb. 7 (Special).—Elijah Dubois, a fellow student of Kingston, died from grip at his home here to-day, after a short illness. He was seventy-nine years of age. He was a member of the Kingston Baptist Church and was a member of the Kingston Baptist Church.

OBITUARY.

THE REV. DR. ALEXANDER RAMSEY THOMPSON.

The Rev. Dr. Alexander Ramsey Thompson, chaplain of Roosevelt Hospital, died at the home of his daughter in Summit, N. J., yesterday after a protracted illness. He was born in New-York in 1822. His grandfather, whose name he bore, was a distinguished officer under Washington in the American Revolution. His mother's father, Elias Nixon, was the first Collector of the Port of New-York.

The Rev. Dr. Alexander Ramsey Thompson, chaplain of Roosevelt Hospital, died at the home of his daughter in Summit, N. J., yesterday after a protracted illness. He was born in New-York in 1822. His grandfather, whose name he bore, was a distinguished officer under Washington in the American Revolution. His mother's father, Elias Nixon, was the first Collector of the Port of New-York.

DUDLEY W. BAIN.

Dudley W. Bain, who died yesterday at his home in Rutherford, N. J., was one of the oldest lawyers in New-York. He was born in New-York in 1807. He was a member of the New-York bar and was a member of the New-York bar.

JULIUS HAHNE.

Julius Hahne, head of the firm of Hahne & Co., died at his home, No. 21 Halsey-st., Newark, N. J., yesterday, aged sixty-seven. He was born in Hahne, Germany, in 1828, and came to America in 1850. He was a member of the First National Bank, which is an honored son and generous benefactor of Williams College.

JOHN BOWEN WHITING.

John Bowen Whiting, a well-known lawyer of this city, died, another sad victim of grip, in this city yesterday. He was the son of Sarah J. and the late John N. Whiting, and was born in Geneva, Ontario County, N. Y., in 1822. He was a graduate of Yale University in the class of '44 and was also a graduate of the Columbia law school.

WILLIAM HARRISON COOPER.

William Harrison Cooper died from pneumonia on Tuesday, aged seventy-eight, at his home, No. 24 West Twenty-first-st. In 1836 he came to New-York from Rockland county, and for many years he was engaged in the real-estate business. He was a member of the National Bankers' Association.

THE COLLEGE MAN IN BUSINESS.

J. Edward Simmons, class of '82, spoke for "College Men in Business." He said in part: "When a man goes to college he goes to it to get a liberal education, to get a broad view of life, to get a knowledge of the world, to get a knowledge of the world, to get a knowledge of the world."

JOHN B. McDIVITT.

John B. McDivitt died on Wednesday at his home, No. 29 Seventh-st., Brooklyn, of which he had been a resident. He was a member of the New-York bar and was a member of the New-York bar.

JOHN BOWEN WHITING.

John Bowen Whiting, a well-known lawyer of this city, died, another sad victim of grip, in this city yesterday. He was the son of Sarah J. and the late John N. Whiting, and was born in Geneva, Ontario County, N. Y., in 1822. He was a graduate of Yale University in the class of '44 and was also a graduate of the Columbia law school.

CHARLES RANDOLPH.

Charles Randolph, the son of Edmund D. Randolph, and a member of the Stock Exchange, died at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., on Tuesday, of consumption. He was born in Philadelphia in 1862, and was graduated from Columbia College in 1884. He was a member of the Stock Exchange and was president of the same from 1890 to 1894.

ELIJAH DUBOIS.

Kingston, N. Y., Feb. 7 (Special).—Elijah Dubois, a fellow student of Kingston, died from grip at his home here to-day, after a short illness. He was seventy-nine years of age. He was a member of the Kingston Baptist Church and was a member of the Kingston Baptist Church.

FREDERICK VILLIERS IN THE CITY.

THE FAMOUS WAR CORRESPONDENT HAS COME TO TELL OF HIS EXPERIENCE IN JAPAN AND CHINA—THE FALL OF FORT ARTHUR.

Frederick Villiers, the well-known war correspondent and special artist, who has been in Japan and China reporting the Japan-Chinese war for a number of newspapers, has arrived in New-York, and he is expected to give a long and interesting lecture on his experiences in Japan and China. He will also exhibit a number of his photographs of the war. He will also exhibit a number of his photographs of the war.

FREDERICK VILLIERS.

Frederick Villiers, the well-known war correspondent and special artist, who has been in Japan and China reporting the Japan-Chinese war for a number of newspapers, has arrived in New-York, and he is expected to give a long and interesting lecture on his experiences in Japan and China. He will also exhibit a number of his photographs of the war. He will also exhibit a number of his photographs of the war.

JOHN B. McDIVITT.

John B. McDivitt died on Wednesday at his home, No. 29 Seventh-st., Brooklyn, of which he had been a resident. He was a member of the New-York bar and was a member of the New-York bar.

JOHN BOWEN WHITING.

John Bowen Whiting, a well-known lawyer of this city, died, another sad victim of grip, in this city yesterday. He was the son of Sarah J. and the late John N. Whiting, and was born in Geneva, Ontario County, N. Y., in 1822. He was a graduate of Yale University in the class of '44 and was also a graduate of the Columbia law school.

WILLIAM HARRISON COOPER.

William Harrison Cooper died from pneumonia on Tuesday, aged seventy-eight, at his home, No. 24 West Twenty-first-st. In 1836 he came to New-York from Rockland county, and for many years he was engaged in the real-estate business. He was a member of the National Bankers' Association.

THE COLLEGE MAN IN BUSINESS.

J. Edward Simmons, class of '82, spoke for "College Men in Business." He said in part: "When a man goes to college he goes to it to get a liberal education, to get a broad view of life, to get a knowledge of the world, to get a knowledge of the world, to get a knowledge of the world."

JOHN B. McDIVITT.

John B. McDivitt died on Wednesday at his home, No. 29 Seventh-st., Brooklyn, of which he had been a resident. He was a member of the New-York bar and was a member of the New-York bar.

JOHN BOWEN WHITING.

John Bowen Whiting, a well-known lawyer of this city, died, another sad victim of grip, in this city yesterday. He was the son of Sarah J. and the late John N. Whiting, and was born in Geneva, Ontario County, N. Y., in 1822. He was a graduate of Yale University in the class of '44 and was also a graduate of the Columbia law school.

WILLIAM HARRISON COOPER.

William Harrison Cooper died from pneumonia on Tuesday, aged seventy-eight, at his home, No. 24 West Twenty-first-st. In 1836 he came to New-York from Rockland county, and for many years he was engaged in the real-estate business. He was a member of the National Bankers' Association.

THE COLLEGE MAN IN BUSINESS.

J. Edward Simmons, class of '82, spoke for "College Men in Business." He said in part: "When a man goes to college he goes to it to get a liberal education, to get a broad view of life, to get a knowledge of the world, to get a knowledge of the world, to get a knowledge of the world."

JOHN B. McDIVITT.

John B. McDivitt died on Wednesday at his home, No. 29 Seventh-st., Brooklyn, of which he had been a resident. He was a member of the New-York bar and was a member of the New-York bar.

JOHN BOWEN WHITING.

John Bowen Whiting, a well-known lawyer of this city, died, another sad victim of grip, in this city yesterday. He was the son of Sarah J. and the late John N. Whiting, and was born in Geneva, Ontario County, N. Y., in 1822. He was a graduate of Yale University in the class of '44 and was also a graduate of the Columbia law school.

DIED.

JONES—At Passaic, N. J., on Wednesday, February 6, Edwin Russell, only son of William B. and Kate Reynolds, aged 22 years. Burial at Passaic, N. J., on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

KUNHARDT—Henry Rudolph, suddenly, at Genoa, Italy, on Thursday, February 7, in his 60th year. Burial at Genoa, Italy, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

McDIVITT—On February 6, John B. McDivitt, aged 50 years. Burial at Brooklyn, N. Y., on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

OSBORN—Hazel Osborn, son of the late Charles J. Osborn, in the 26th year of his age. Burial at Brooklyn, N. Y., on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

RANDOLPH—Charles Randolph, son of Edmund D. and Helen E. L. Randolph. Burial at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

ROME—On Wednesday, February 6, at her residence, 135 Manhattan-avenue, Constance (Gardner), wife of Edward A. Rome, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

SMITH—On Wednesday, February 6, at 10 o'clock, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

THOMPSON—On Wednesday, February 6, at his residence, 135 Manhattan-avenue, Constance (Gardner), wife of Edward A. Rome, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WARD—At East Orange, N. J., February 6, 1895, Mary D., widow of the late Albert A. Ward. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—On Thursday, February 7, suddenly, of pneumonia, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith, aged 70 years. Burial at St. Ann's Church, New York, on Friday, February 8, at 10 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

WHITING—Suddenly, on Thursday, February 7, in New-York, at his residence, 105 West 73rd-st., Mrs. Elizabeth S. Smith