

IN THE CYCLING WORLD.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE CYCLE BOARD OF TRADE.

THE GUARANTEE FOR WHEELS REDUCED FROM A YEAR TO SIX MONTHS—NO AGREEMENT WITH THE TRUNK LINE ASSOCIATION.

At an interesting meeting of the Board of Governors of the Board of Trade at its rooms in the Van derbilt Building yesterday much work was done. Among those present were A. G. Spalding, George Pope, C. W. Dickerson, C. F. Smith, E. C. Stearns, W. A. Redding, A. Kennedy Child, Walter Burnham and E. R. Franks.

A resolution was passed the sense of which was that in the future the Board of Trade disapprove of the practice of allowing rebates to clubs. It was also decided that in future the manufacturer would give a six months' guarantee on a bicycle instead of a year's guarantee.

The troublesome question regarding the sanctioning of outside shows was settled off-hand. No sanction was granted to any shows except to those already arranged for in this city and at Chicago. When other cities want to hold shows the request must be made to the National body through local associations or dealers.

The Cycle Club of Brooklyn will throw open its new quarters at the old Remond Army camp on Thursday for inspection. The floor space has an area of 25,000 square feet, making the largest indoor riding floor in the country.

The Nominating Committee of the Riverside Wheelmen have selected the following candidates to be voted for at the next meeting, December 6: President, J. M. Gentie; vice-president, H. E. Voorhis; present incumbent, recording secretary, R. W. Hip.

Cyclists desiring to join the League of American Wheelmen may obtain full printed information and a copy of the constitution and address to Cycling Editor, New-York Tribune.

BIG RECEIPTS AT THE FOOTBALL GAME.

YALE AND PRINCETON WILL EACH RECEIVE ABOUT $14,000—COUNTERFEITING NIPPED IN THE BUD. The echoes of the stirring football battle of last Saturday continue to vibrate through the land and it is impossible to follow the game as discussed in the lively features of the contest with as much gusto as they did a few hours after the game.

YALE'S CLAIMS TO THE CHAMPIONSHIP TESTED.

Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—"The Evening Telegraph" to-day says: "The great football games of the year are over. Pennsylvania and Yale are the victors, Harvard and Princeton, the vanquished." With the Pennsylvania-Cornell game in the city on Thursday the season will end, and, as was the case last year, there will be no means of determining to which team, Pennsylvania or Yale, the championship honors belong.

COLUMBIA SOPHOMORES VICTORS.

In spite of the rain yesterday afternoon the classes of '95 and '97, Columbia College, went up to Williamsport and played the final and decisive football match of the intersession series. The ground was wet and slippery, but both sides put up a spirited game. The first pass was by '95 and the Schaff, who broke through '97's line and carried the ball into '97's goal after a run of about thirty yards.

DEATH OF A FOOTBALL PLAYER.

FATAL ENDING OF A GAME AT THE UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA. Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 25 (Special).—A gloom hangs over the college to-day caused by the untimely death of George Phelan, a student, yesterday. After one of the downs in the annual football game between the medical and law classes for the Harringer cup, last Saturday, it was found that Phelan, who was playing guard, was unable to continue, complaining of being hurt on the head. Soon after he lost consciousness, and was carried to the hospital in the ambulance. He died Sunday morning, according to the coroner's post-mortem examination disclosed a weak blood vessel in his head, and the loss of blood was the cause of his death.

DIPHTHERIA PREVALENT ON LONG ISLAND.

SCHOOLS CLOSED IN SETAUKET-VILLAGES NEAR JAMAICA ALSO AFFLICTED. The schools at Setauket and South Setauket, Long Island, are closed on account of the prevalence of diphtheria in the villages. Two deaths have occurred in John Fallon's family, and another child is ill. The members of the Board of Health are protesting for their alleged neglect to take measures to prevent the spread of the disease. They are especially blamed for allowing Fallon to walk about the streets as usual.

There are about fifty cases and fifty cases of malignant diphtheria in Ozone Park, Brooklyn Hills, Woodhaven and Morris Park, and in the village of Setauket. The Board of Health gave orders yesterday morning to close school No. 1 in Woodhaven, and if the disease spreads much more rapidly than it is doing, to close the other schools. The Board of Health is also busy attending to the diphtheria cases in the village of Setauket. The whole town of Jamaica, from the borders of the city of Brooklyn to Queens, and this is said to be the day that if something is not done to-day there will be an indignation meeting in Woodhaven to some extent of the local health board to some activity in the matter.

The First Ward public school in Long Island City closed yesterday afternoon for an indefinite time owing to a child in the family of William Nugent, the janitor, having diphtheria. Five hundred children will be kept from school for a week or longer.

SIR JULIAN SURPRISED.

HE HAD NOT EXPECTED TO SEE MR. CLEVELAND OVERRULED. STRONG PARTY FEELING, HE THINKS, CAUSED THE REJECTION OF THE BRITISH LUMP CLAIM FOR DAMAGES IN BEHRING SEA.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The full correspondence between Sir Julian Pauncefote, British Ambassador to the United States, and the London Foreign Office, covering the period from March 8, 1894, to October 31, 1895, respecting the claim for damages in the Behring Sea seizures, was received by the State Department to-day. An abstract of it was called by the United Press from London a week ago, but many interesting points remain to be covered.

It would appear from Sir Julian's dispatch to Lord Kimberley on February 25 that the adverse majority in the House of Representatives against a settlement of the claim for $25,000 was "a surprise as well as a grave disappointment" to him. "Strong party feeling," he continues, "would seem to account for the rejection of so just and so equitable an arrangement, and, as your Lordship will have noticed from the inclosures in my dispatch, statements have been made in Congress which are entirely misleading both as to the law and the facts of the case."

Sir Julian then reviews some of these statements and closes his letter with the declaration that they "were calculated to prejudice the minds of many members of Congress and also to turn public opinion against a settlement of the question which was equitable and advantageous to both parties." He regards the action of Congress as in "strong contrast with the assurance given him by Mr. Blaine at the beginning of the negotiations." "That his Government would not wish that private individuals who had acted in good faith should be the victims of a grave dispute between two great countries, which had happily been adjusted."

The most interesting feature of the correspondence is the dispatch written under date of March 15 to Lord Kimberley, in which Sir Julian makes a vigorous rejoinder to the argument of Senator Morgan, of Alabama, against the payment of the $25,000. His summary of Senator Morgan's objections, which Sir Julian says, the Senator was not allowed to read from his speech, and which were communicated to the press in the form of a memorandum after the adjournment of Congress, covers the following points: "That the United States never agreed to arbitrate the question of their liability for damages, consenting only to negotiate respecting them; that the total amount claimed by Great Britain was $42,100; that the items for loss of profits should not be allowed; that the excess proposed to be allowed by the Secretary of State was fully $12,000; that ten of the ships seized were owned by citizens of the United States, and the amount claimed by the British was largely speculative damages; that $29,204; that even this amount was excessive, inasmuch as the personal claims should be deducted, leaving only $29,204; and that $15,500 of this is not allowable as a charge for the seizure of the Henrietta, which occurred under the motus vivendi."

Replying to Senator Morgan's first contention "that the United States never agreed to arbitrate the question of their liability for damages, etc.," Sir Julian observes that "no admission of liability became a part of the agreement that the Paris Tribunal, by its award, had rejected the legal pretensions of the United States to a special property in the fur seals resorting to the Pribyloff Islands. That declaration at once proclaimed the illegality of the seizure, and the liability of the United States to satisfy the claims. That was the basis of the claims, and I am not at all sure that the Paris award could be taken without disputing the Paris award."

Sir Julian goes on to show that Senator Morgan was mistaken in fixing the total amount of the claims at $42,100. It was, he says, upward of $78,000. He says that the United States was entitled to compensation for loss of profit of the fishery season, and quotes from the judgment of the Tribunal in the Behring Sea case, "that the United States is entitled to compensation for the loss of profit of the fishery season, and that the United States is entitled to compensation for the loss of profit of the fishery season, and that the United States is entitled to compensation for the loss of profit of the fishery season."

PHILADELPHIA TO THE RESCUE.

Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—In pursuance to the call of Secretary Carlisle for gold, one of the leading retail drygoods houses of Philadelphia will ship $100,000 of the metal to the Treasury Department at Washington to-morrow. The gold is being shipped in the form of voluntary contribution for the purpose of sustaining the government's gold reserve, and they hope their example will induce other business houses here to do the same.

LOCAL BUSINESS COMPLICATIONS.

The Young Perfumery Company, of No. 14 Franklin-st., through its directors, George Carrigan, William P. Young, Martin B. Cook and Howard M. Cook, applying to the Supreme Court yesterday for a voluntary dissolution of the corporation, and Judge Ingraham granted an order to show cause on February 25. It was averred that the successful prosecution of the business required a cash capital largely in excess of the capitalization, and that the directors would be unable to raise subscriptions for the requisite amount. There are no debts. The company was incorporated in May last with a capital stock of $100,000.

Deputy Sheriff Henning yesterday sold at auction in Philadelphia a number of coats, which were the property of the late John H. Henning, formerly vice-president of the Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Western Railway Co., and who died in Philadelphia on October 15, 1895. The coats were sold for $100.00.

Testimony was taken for the defense, and several witnesses, who lived in the same apartment-house in which Langerman resided, testified that they heard no commotion or noise at the time of the alleged assault.

THE FRIENDLY AID HOUSE OPENED.

ADDRESSES DELIVERED BY THE REV. DR. LYMAN ABBOTT AND EX-MAYOR HEWITT. The formal opening of the new home of the Friendly Aid House, No. 24 East Thirty-fourth-st., took place last evening, and every chair in the large assembly room was occupied by those who had come to listen to the speakers and to attend the reception which followed the addresses. Most of those present were members of All Souls' Unitarian Church, to whose efforts and financial support the Friendly Aid House owes its existence.

The first speaker was the Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, pastor of Plymouth Church in Brooklyn. He spoke of Christ's mission on earth as being to make brighter and happier the life that now is, and said that there is no possible way in which the Christian Church can attain to a theology that is worth anything except by practicing a philanthropy that is worth practicing. He said in closing: "We must go where the poor and needy men and women are. We must carry the leaven where the meal is, and teach the poor what love is by loving them."

Ex-Mayor Abram S. Hewitt was the next speaker, and made the principal address. He said in part: "Before Christ's time, religion was preached to the masses, and the individual counted for nothing. The Christian religion of to-day rests on individual liberty and individual rights; every man stands for himself and is his own world, the centre about which the rest of the earth revolves. This latter view of life has led to the division of labor that has come with the invention. The evil in the present social system is that it employs as individuals, or of their family, those who are capable of doing a great deal more. If the Church is going to remedy this, it will have to stop preaching dogma, go out into the world, and do some practical work. No one in better circumstances ought to condemn the poor laborers for doing what they can do. They have been driven to the grog shops; they have no other places to which they can go. There has been a great deal of talk about the 'wage slave' who is unable to do more than his share. There has been a great deal of talk about the 'wage slave' who is unable to do more than his share. There has been a great deal of talk about the 'wage slave' who is unable to do more than his share."

NATAL AND ARMY NEWS.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Another addition has been made to the long list of naval engineers whose health has been ruined by overwork resulting from insufficient appropriations. A telegram was received at the Navy Department to-day from the Maine Island Navy Yard announcing the breakdown of Chief Engineer R. R. Leitch, of the cruiser Boston. The dispatch states that this officer has been condemned by a medical board, and asks that Mr. Leitch be relieved from his duties as soon as possible. The department has done its best to keep him on the active list. During the last year he was relieved from duty on the Castine and the Alliance on account of his health.
