THE CHURCH'S WORK IN THE EPISCOPAL ADDRESS. [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

Cleveland, Ohio, May 2.—The one absorbing topic of conversation among the delegates of the Methodist General Conference to-day is the action to be taken on Monday morning on the question of admitting women as lay delegates to the Conference.

A MAJORITY OF THE COMMITTEE ON ELIGIBILITY IN FAVOR OF WOMEN—REVIEW OF THE EPISCOPAL ADDRESS.

Clerical—First, the Rev. J. W. Hamilton, Boston; Second, the Rev. Dr. Buckley, New-York; Third, the Rev. Charles J. Little, Northern New-York; Fourth, the Rev. H. C. Wood, Philadelphia; Fifth, the Rev. J. S. Hill, Cincinnati; Sixth, the Rev. H. W. G. Robinson, New-York; Seventh, the Rev. J. K. Moore, New-York; Eighth, the Rev. J. F. Chaffee, Minneapolis; Ninth, the Rev. Dr. Cranston, Cincinnati; Tenth, the Rev. J. S. Stewart, Ottawa, Kan.; Eleventh, the Rev. J. R. B. Smith, Louisville, Ky.; Twelfth, the Rev. J. R. B. Smith, Louisville, Ky.; Thirteenth, the Rev. W. A. Kington, South California.

While there is doubt as to the views of some members of this committee on the question at issue, it is admitted by the conservative majority of its members as in favor of admitting women. The majority report of the committee will, therefore, take that ground.

The question of the support of the minority report will then fall to the support of the majority report. That a majority of the Conference is favorable to women on abstract grounds seems to be evident. There are many, however, who believe that the constitution stands in the way, and they will, of course, vote in the negative.

Dr. Lathrop refuses to say whether he will bring up the question of the old Book of Discipline in the Conference, but intimates that he will do so under certain circumstances. CHANGES IN "THE NEW-YORK PRESS." ERVIN WARDMAN SUCCEEDS LEMUEL E. QUIGG AS EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—SUDDEN CHANGE IN THE PAPER'S ATTITUDE.

On the editorial page of "The New-York Press" yesterday a change in the editorial management of the newspaper was announced in two lines, as follows: "Mr. Lemuel E. Quigg has retired from the editorship of 'The New-York Press.'"

These are New-York's claims. She can present none other, more higher, former or ever, more worthy of the honor of chief editorship than she. These things being so, cannot now attain to this highest office in the gift of man, then what son of hers shall ever hope to attain it?

Up to Friday the attitude of "The Press" had not been friendly to the Republican State Convention in this city. "The Press" published an editorial setting forth the claims of Governor Morton for the Republican nomination for the Presidency, and closing as follows:

These are New-York's claims. She can present none other, more higher, former or ever, more worthy of the honor of chief editorship than she. These things being so, cannot now attain to this highest office in the gift of man, then what son of hers shall ever hope to attain it?

Washington, May 2 (Special).—Representative Quigg said to-day: "I thought it best on account of my views differing so widely from those of Mr. Einstein, the proprietor of 'The Press,' on certain political matters, that I should resign. Mr. Einstein did not think that necessary, but I could not see my way to continue the relation. I accepted the resignation of Mr. Einstein, and my resignation is now in effect. I am a delegate to the St. Louis Convention. I am for Mr. Morton, and my conviction is that if it should become necessary for me to make a second choice, that choice would not be Mr. McKinley, but would be Mr. Reed."

MAY VISITORS TO ELLIS ISLAND. COMMISSIONER SENNER THINKS FERRIAGE SHOULD BE CHARGED TO KEEP THE NUMBER IN REASONABLE LIMITS.

There were 1,000 more visitors on Ellis Island yesterday than there were yesterday. Twenty-four hundred arrived on four houses, and those who got to the island by various means numbered nearly 2,500. Never before in the history of the Immigration Bureau had so many people crowded the visitors' pen in the main building, and when it is considered that three men handled this small army of alleged sisters, brothers and other relatives it is plain that some of the guards have about all they can do to preserve order.

READY FOR THE GOVERNOR'S APPROVAL. Many news-dealers of this city are hopeful for the success of the movement which they started several years ago to secure a legal right, with the consent of property-owners and the Board of Aldermen, to maintain news-stands under the stairs of the elevated railroad stations. Assembly bill No. 674, which was passed by the Legislature last year, and which was vetoed by the Governor, is now before the Governor for his approval.

CHILDREN TEETHING. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. THE ONLY COCOA WITH RICH CHOCOLATE FLAVOR. Any Lead Pencil is good until you break the point, then you wish it was a Blaisdell Paper Pencil. CREW OF THE JULIE REACHES PORT. THE SKIPPER'S WIFE DAUGHTER CHEERS THE DISHEARTENED SAILORS UNTIL HELP COMES. The shipwrecked crew of the Norwegian bark Julie arrived here yesterday on the Norwegian steamship Oscar II. There were eighteen in the party, and they included the skipper, Captain Neilson, and a pretty daughter, Margaret. The Julie, which is a 1,200-ton bark, left Wales in sand ballast for Nova Scotia and met with fair weather until April 11. The skipper had with him on his voyage his favorite daughter, Margaret, who is an experienced, though a young, sailor. On April 13 the bark ran into a heavy southwest gale, and Captain Neilson lay to under lower topsails until midnight. Then to ease her the skipper put the Julie before the wind, and she scudded along until noon of the 14th. The bark was a badly waterlogged condition. To add to the trouble, sand got into the pumps and clogged them so that they could not be worked. Margaret, the skipper's daughter, showed herself to be a thoroughbred sailor-woman by encouraging the despairing men by voice and example. In fact, she had more influence over the men and did more to keep hope alive in their breasts than would a score of skippers. The waterlogged craft lay to until April 19, when the steamship Oscar II came in sight. The Julie was then about 300 miles west of the Fastnet, and sinking. Captain Arnesen, of the steamship, saw the signals from the Julie and here to succeed the crew. The dory and whaleboat of the bark were launched and the skipper, his daughter and the crew, with such effects as they could snatch up, got into them and started for the steamship. Margaret was brought to the office landing by the Mutual Towing Company's tug Edward M. Timmons. Captain Neilson, in lower Broadway, and the crew went to the Sailors' Home in Brooklyn. The Julie was an old vessel, and Captain Neilson was part owner. She was partially insured.
