A WOMAN ON SOUND MONEY.

MISS BOSWELL MAKES A SPEECH IN COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS' HALL.

TWO THOUSAND MEN CHEER THIS BRAVE LITTLE WOMAN WHO IS WORKING FAITHFULLY FOR MCKINLEY.

There was a large audience yesterday at the Commercial Travellers' Hall, Broadway and Prince-st., to hear Miss Helen Varick Boswell speak.

Her speech was greeted with great applause, and as usual, she made an excellent speech, expressing her pleasure at the enthusiasm of the crowd and the fine prospects for the reign of sound money.

"The wholesome reasons given for this platform daily why the votes of all lovers of our country should be given to McKinley, Hobart and Pringle should be undoubtedly brought to a proper sound money as a citizen of this great republic.

NEW-ENGLAND WOMEN MEET.

The first business meeting of the National Society of New-England Women was held in the ballroom of the Waldorf yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended.

The musical and literary part of the programme was bright and enjoyable. Miss Marie Merriok's excellence as a pianist is well known, while Miss Clark's voice, in her sweet and sprightly ballads, is always charming.

The humorous recitation by Miss Florence Mackwood caused a ripple of merriment, and although the hour was late the women did not lose interest in the excellent paper on "Unseen Influences" by Mrs. Gertrude Andrews.

Forty new members were admitted, among whom are Miss Mary H. Avery, Miss Georgie Whitehouse, Mrs. E. H. Hamilton, Mrs. Arthur Fish, Mrs. John R. Mott, Mrs. Helen M. Howard, Mrs. Harry Walker, Mrs. Helen M. Berg, Mrs. Alfred Mackay, Mrs. Olive M. Crowell, Mrs. Stephen M. Crosby, Mrs. Alvin Beveridge, Mrs. Freeman H. Crosby and Miss R. M. St. John.

Miss Sophie Heilmann, daughter of Mrs. George Heilmann and George W. Mahstedt, daughter of J. A. Mahstedt, were married last evening in the German Lutheran Church, in New-Rochelle.

Easton, Penn., Oct. 29 (Special).—There was a fashionable wedding in the historic Third Street Reformed Church to-night.

Miss Emma Eames Story, the singer, will sail from Southampton for New-York to-morrow. She will be heard at the Metropolitan Opera House this winter.

A DAY WITH SHAKESPEARE.

MME. DE LOUIE READS A PAPER BEFORE THE MEMBERS OF THE P. W. L.

SHAKESPEARE'S RECORD OF THE SECRET CORRESPONDENCE AND LAST WORDS OF PROMINENT PERSONAGES.

The Professional Woman's League held its regular literary meeting yesterday afternoon. The attendance was larger than on any other occasion since the opening of the club.

By the aid of more or less recently discovered manuscripts containing the private correspondence and last words of prominent people of the Elizabethan era it has been discovered, Mme. de Louie said, that the Bard of Avon has expressed in his plays the thoughts of nobles and princes, and has even portrayed their characters.

The first and second quarters of this play, the lecturer said, were published anonymously, and Elizabeth recognized herself in it so distinctly that she forbade its further presentation.

MRS. LEMCKE'S CHOICE RECIPES.

The first recipe given by Mrs. Lemcke yesterday in her "Kaffee-Klatsch" lecture was for butter kuchen, and while manipulating the dough she gave some surprising information on the subject of bread-making.

In her opinion it is a great mistake to let bread rise very much or to knead it any more than is necessary to make it hold together.

The butter kuchen was prepared as follows: Sift one and one-half cups flour in a bowl, add one-half teaspoonful salt, break one yolk into a small piece, add one cup of warm milk, add one teaspoonful of sugar and let stand till the yeast rises to the surface.

Another excellent recipe has the following for creamed corn: Boil one cup of corn in one and one-half cups water, add one-half cup sugar, one-half cup butter, one-half cup milk, one-half cup cream, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup milk, one-half cup cream.

GOING ON TODAY.

Mrs. June Pierce and Miss Helen Varick Boswell in the Lincoln Union Club rooms in Abington Square.

The Delphi Reading Circle of the Crosey Avenue Methodist Church, at Gravesend, will hold its regular Friday evening meeting to-night.

Those who visit the Food Show this afternoon will be entertained at an "Oriental Tea" and will be served by attendants in the costume of Ceylon.

At the Manhattan Liberal Club to-night, in the German Mission Hall, No. 129 East Fifteenth-st., P. H. Roberts will speak on "Patriotism."

A NEW COURSE IN SHORTHAND.

THE TRIBUNE'S COMPLETE COURSE IN SHORTHAND.

A CAREFUL READING OF THESE ARTICLES, WITH REASONABLE PRACTICE, WILL FIT ONE TO REPORT THE WORDS OF THE AVERAGE SPEAKER OR READER—NO PERPLEXITIES—EVERYTHING MADE CLEAR AND EASY WITHOUT A TEACHER.

ARTICLE NO. 5. (Copyrighted, 1896, by A. S. White.)

An attentive reading of the articles referred to below is all that will be necessary to acquire a thoroughly practical knowledge of Shorthand. One lesson will be published in The Tribune every Friday until the whole series of twenty articles has been presented.

The progress of The Tribune's Campaign of Education since the day it was begun has been rapid, and confirms the judgment which pronounced in favor of presenting it to the public.

The testimonials in favor of the Campaign of Education continue to pour in from all quarters, East and West, and from men, women and youths in all conditions of life.

Naturally enough, it expected that its conclusions would be confirmed by the good sense of its readers, but the wholesale and surprising indorsement that has followed the introduction of the scheme was scarcely expected.

Such a result must establish a precedent, which ultimately will be seen in a general work of education by the great newspapers of the country.

The scope of the newspaper writing with time its extent has increased, and it has become a necessity to most all the executives of a steadily advancing civilization.

It would scarcely be in place here to refer specifically to the technical features of The Tribune's shorthand, but it is essential to be understood from time to time to keep pace with the progress of the large class under instruction.

There is no great obstacle in the way of outlining writing in rapid shorthand, and it is to be regretted that many persons who have acquired it do not wish to pursue it, and it is not to be regretted that many persons who have acquired it do not wish to pursue it.
