

EMBROIDERED BLACK CLOTH GOWN FOR AFTERNOON READINGS AND RECEPTIONS.

FRACTURES AND SPRAINS.

A LECTURE BY DR. MEYER ON FIRST AID TO THE INJURED.

BANDAGES WITH AND WITHOUT SPLINTS CAREFULLY EXPLAINED—NECESSITY FOR THOROUGH PADDING.

The third of Dr. Meyer's lectures on "First Aid to the Injured" was given yesterday at 2:30 o'clock p. m. in the Friday class, as Friday is a holiday...

The buzz of conversation ceased promptly at 2:30 p. m., and the business of the day began, after which Dr. Meyer took up the subject of "Fractures and Dislocations, Sprains, Subluxations, Choking and Croup."

Fractures and dislocations, sprains, subluxations, choking and croup, contusions and compound, were described, and treatment illustrated as far as possible on the person of the young boy in attendance for that purpose.

Fractures were especially interesting, namely, that fracture may be caused by violent muscular contraction, without external causes, as in the case of a football player who broke his thigh through missing a ball at which he had kicked.

The lecturer introduced a great variety of articles that might be hastily utilized as splints, such as emergency—lath, shingle, cane, desk, ruler, almost anything, however, with a couple of strips for support.

The padding may be of any soft, clean cloth, lacy, grass, cotton-waste or even soft paper crumpled, without external causes, as in the case of a football player who broke his thigh through missing a ball at which he had kicked.

The patient should be laid on the back and a pillow placed under the injured limb, which should be moved as little as possible. Having been so situated, the seat of the fracture, if it requires, should be pulled to pull the fragments into apposition, as the muscular contraction frequently causes the ends to overlap.

When the fracture is of the thigh the large muscles involved are so powerful in action that it may require the strength of three or four men to pull the fragments into apposition, which will require a strong cord or rope, for later its use may be discarded.

DISLOCATED JAW. A not infrequent accident is the dislocation of the jaw by extreme laughter or violent yawning. In such cases wind a handkerchief around each thumb and pull the thumbs on jaw and fingers, for protection, into and backward, when the jaw will under pressure slip back into place. Be sure to remove the handkerchief from the face and clean the mouth.

IN CASES OF DROWNING. Keep the patient in the open air, if not too cold; remove clothing, wipe froth out of mouth and throat as far down as possible; lay him on the face, and, standing over him, lift by the waist, and the water will run from stomach and lungs. Respiration may be restored by drawing hot and cold water alternately up the face and chest.

FOR INVALID SUNSHINE MEMBERS. Grains served with a cream or a banquet cracker or a square of toast are excellent for the invalid. A Handbook for Invalid Cooking. They may be varied with flavored cinnamon, nutmeg, almond or a little grated lemon peel and sugar.

BARLEY GRUEL. One tablespoonful of barley flour, one cup of boiling water, one teaspoonful of salt, one scant teaspoonful of sugar, one cup of milk. Mix the flour, salt and sugar with a little cold water; then add the boiling water, stir well, and let it boil for ten minutes. Strain and serve with milk, but this gruel may be made without the milk, but with a pinch instead of a cup of water. Barley is a nutritious grain, rich in phosphates and protein.

MARY. John W. Kinella in The Observer. The sweetest name I've ever known. My dearest girl, the one I own. When storms are threatening fierce and low, My only refuge here below.

WOMAN'S NATIONAL SABATH ALLIANCE. Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 11.—The first annual meeting of the Woman's National Sabbath Alliance will be opened in the North Congregational Church to-morrow evening. The organization was founded in the Marble Collegiate Church, in New York City, in 1886.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY. A pretty wedding yesterday was that of Miss Mary Loeffler, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic R. Loeffler, to Selah Brewster Strong, which took place in the Church of the Incarnation, Madison-ave. and Thirty-fifth.

THE JUNIOR PROMENADE OF THE 65th N. Y. UNIVERSITY. The Junior Promenade of the 65th N. Y. University will take place this evening in the gymnasium, University Heights.

MARRIAGE OF MISS BARKER. The marriage of Miss Barker, daughter of Truman Jay Barker, formerly of the Fucker Hotel, to Robert Barker, to Rose C. E. Brown, of the editorial staff of The Tribune, took place in the chapel of the institute yesterday afternoon.

MISS NIEBUHR'S AFTERNOON OF MUSIC. Miss Helen Niebuhr gave a musical at the Waldorf yesterday, assisted by Mrs. Flora Colby Pratt, pianist; Miss J. Bell Landauer and Mrs. Franz H. Armbruster.

READINGS BY MISS HILLIARD. In the beautiful home of Mrs. Clarence Day, No. 42 Madison-ave., Miss Evelyn Hilliard gave the last reading of the present series yesterday morning.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF BABIES

A MATINEE MUSICAL TO ADD DOLLARS TO AN ENDOWMENT FUND.

NOTHING BUT $1,500 WILL SATISFY THE THIRTY AMBITIOUS MEMBERS OF THE CRIBSIDE SOCIETY.

Undoubtedly there is something appropriate about a musical for the benefit of babies. In all psychological and ethnological treatises it is demonstrated that the mind of the babe and the mind of the savage have points in common.

Yesterday afternoon by the babies' friends, to the large ballroom of the Waldorf, where the vine-garlanded and rose-hung walls still bear beautiful and fragrant witness to the Bradley Martin festivities of the night before, a matinee musical was held yesterday afternoon for the benefit of the Endowment Fund of the Cribside Committee of the Babies' Hospital.

Tom Karl's first selection was a song by Verdi—"Quando la Sera," from "Luisa Miller." For an encore he sang a charming English lullaby, "For you, my dear, I sing 'Before the Dawn,' by Chadwick. When recalled he responded with "O Drink to Me only with Thine Eyes."

The chief attractions of the afternoon were Mile. Marie Engele and Signor Campanari, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who sang by permission of Mr. Grau. It had been announced that Mile. Engele would take part in the entire program, but owing to a severe cold she was unable to sing, and Signor Campanari volunteered to take his place.

Mile. Engele sang three songs—a polonaise, "Mignon," by Thomas; a waltz, "Mordelle," by Gounod, and a pretty little English song for an encore. Not a sound was heard until the last birdlike trill of her voice had died away, and then the audience burst into loud applause.

Signor Campanari held an impromptu reception in one of the alcoves of the ballroom. Mile. Engele was dressed in an ecru satin gown trimmed in pale blue. "I told Mile. Engele," said one of the patronesses, "that the only way we could thank her was to tell her to think of the babies. Everybody has helped us gratuitously, and we hope to realize $1,500 for the hospital."

Much of the success of the programme was due to Albert Greenhalgh, who presided at the piano. After the musical was over, Signor Campanari held an impromptu reception in one of the alcoves of the ballroom.

Mile. Engele was dressed in an ecru satin gown trimmed in pale blue. "I told Mile. Engele," said one of the patronesses, "that the only way we could thank her was to tell her to think of the babies. Everybody has helped us gratuitously, and we hope to realize $1,500 for the hospital."

Much of the success of the programme was due to Albert Greenhalgh, who presided at the piano. After the musical was over, Signor Campanari held an impromptu reception in one of the alcoves of the ballroom.

Mile. Engele was dressed in an ecru satin gown trimmed in pale blue. "I told Mile. Engele," said one of the patronesses, "that the only way we could thank her was to tell her to think of the babies. Everybody has helped us gratuitously, and we hope to realize $1,500 for the hospital."

Much of the success of the programme was due to Albert Greenhalgh, who presided at the piano. After the musical was over, Signor Campanari held an impromptu reception in one of the alcoves of the ballroom.

Mile. Engele was dressed in an ecru satin gown trimmed in pale blue. "I told Mile. Engele," said one of the patronesses, "that the only way we could thank her was to tell her to think of the babies. Everybody has helped us gratuitously, and we hope to realize $1,500 for the hospital."

Much of the success of the programme was due to Albert Greenhalgh, who presided at the piano. After the musical was over, Signor Campanari held an impromptu reception in one of the alcoves of the ballroom.

Mile. Engele was dressed in an ecru satin gown trimmed in pale blue. "I told Mile. Engele," said one of the patronesses, "that the only way we could thank her was to tell her to think of the babies. Everybody has helped us gratuitously, and we hope to realize $1,500 for the hospital."

Much of the success of the programme was due to Albert Greenhalgh, who presided at the piano. After the musical was over, Signor Campanari held an impromptu reception in one of the alcoves of the ballroom.

Mile. Engele was dressed in an ecru satin gown trimmed in pale blue. "I told Mile. Engele," said one of the patronesses, "that the only way we could thank her was to tell her to think of the babies. Everybody has helped us gratuitously, and we hope to realize $1,500 for the hospital."

Much of the success of the programme was due to Albert Greenhalgh, who presided at the piano. After the musical was over, Signor Campanari held an impromptu reception in one of the alcoves of the ballroom.

Mile. Engele was dressed in an ecru satin gown trimmed in pale blue. "I told Mile. Engele," said one of the patronesses, "that the only way we could thank her was to tell her to think of the babies. Everybody has helped us gratuitously, and we hope to realize $1,500 for the hospital."

Much of the success of the programme was due to Albert Greenhalgh, who presided at the piano. After the musical was over, Signor Campanari held an impromptu reception in one of the alcoves of the ballroom.

Mile. Engele was dressed in an ecru satin gown trimmed in pale blue. "I told Mile. Engele," said one of the patronesses, "that the only way we could thank her was to tell her to think of the babies. Everybody has helped us gratuitously, and we hope to realize $1,500 for the hospital."

Much of the success of the programme was due to Albert Greenhalgh, who presided at the piano. After the musical was over, Signor Campanari held an impromptu reception in one of the alcoves of the ballroom.

Mile. Engele was dressed in an ecru satin gown trimmed in pale blue. "I told Mile. Engele," said one of the patronesses, "that the only way we could thank her was to tell her to think of the babies. Everybody has helped us gratuitously, and we hope to realize $1,500 for the hospital."

Much of the success of the programme was due to Albert Greenhalgh, who presided at the piano. After the musical was over, Signor Campanari held an impromptu reception in one of the alcoves of the ballroom.

Mile. Engele was dressed in an ecru satin gown trimmed in pale blue. "I told Mile. Engele," said one of the patronesses, "that the only way we could thank her was to tell her to think of the babies. Everybody has helped us gratuitously, and we hope to realize $1,500 for the hospital."

Much of the success of the programme was due to Albert Greenhalgh, who presided at the piano. After the musical was over, Signor Campanari held an impromptu reception in one of the alcoves of the ballroom.

Mile. Engele was dressed in an ecru satin gown trimmed in pale blue. "I told Mile. Engele," said one of the patronesses, "that the only way we could thank her was to tell her to think of the babies. Everybody has helped us gratuitously, and we hope to realize $1,500 for the hospital."

Much of the success of the programme was due to Albert Greenhalgh, who presided at the piano. After the musical was over, Signor Campanari held an impromptu reception in one of the alcoves of the ballroom.

Mile. Engele was dressed in an ecru satin gown trimmed in pale blue. "I told Mile. Engele," said one of the patronesses, "that the only way we could thank her was to tell her to think of the babies. Everybody has helped us gratuitously, and we hope to realize $1,500 for the hospital."

Much of the success of the programme was due to Albert Greenhalgh, who presided at the piano. After the musical was over, Signor Campanari held an impromptu reception in one of the alcoves of the ballroom.

Mile. Engele was dressed in an ecru satin gown trimmed in pale blue. "I told Mile. Engele," said one of the patronesses, "that the only way we could thank her was to tell her to think of the babies. Everybody has helped us gratuitously, and we hope to realize $1,500 for the hospital."

FACTS ABOUT THE MIND.

PROFESSOR APPLETON P. LYON GIVES A DESCRIPTION OF THE BRAIN.

Professor Appleton P. Lyon gave the first of a series of four psychological talks yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gilbert E. Jones, No. 222 Madison-ave. The lecture was on "Wonderful Facts About the Mind."

Professor Lyon began with a description of the brain. "It has two thousand million cells," he said. "Each cell consists of millions and millions of molecules, and each molecule is composed of up to a million atoms. There are a million atoms in each cell, and there are a million cells in the brain."

"Then, in addition to the brain proper, there are thousands of secondary brains, or ganglia, connected with each other and with the various organs of the body. Upon these facts all modern theories of psychology are based."

To enable his audience to get an idea of the nature of the nervous system, Professor Lyon gave the following illustration: "Imagine," he said, "that you are in a city of London, with its thousands of houses, with their millions of rooms, and its five million inhabitants. Imagine all these rooms connected by telephone wires, and then imagine a telegraphic system connecting London with the other cities of the world, all these having a central station in London."

Among those present at the lecture were Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. Charles Morgan, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Charles Stewart Smith, Mrs. Daniel Butterfield, Mrs. George Elder, Mrs. George Glanville and Mrs. J. W. Chapman.

BABIES, WEE BABIES!

A LETTER BY GEORGE DONALDSON IN BEHALF OF THE RIVERSIDE DAY NURSERY.

The First Auxiliary of the Riverside Day Nursery held its third meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Brown, No. 170 West Seventy-second-st.

The Auxiliary is a newly formed branch of the Riverside Day Nursery, which for the last ten years has done a good work in caring for the forlorn little ones of working mothers who are forced to leave them during the working hours of the day.

The home of No. 170 West Sixty-third-st. is well equipped, and here the children are left in the morning in care of the nurses, and called for by the mothers at night. There is also a kindergarten in the nursery, and, besides the regular work, a number of children are sent away each summer for several weeks in the country.

The members of the Auxiliary are Mrs. E. H. Porter, president; Mrs. Alfred Whitman, vice-president; Mrs. George Jones, secretary; and Mrs. J. W. Chapman, treasurer. The meetings are held every two weeks.

A social meeting of the Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Whitman, No. 222 West Seventy-second-st., on Monday evening last. The members were Mrs. E. H. Porter, Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. Charles Morgan, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Charles Stewart Smith, Mrs. Daniel Butterfield, Mrs. George Elder, Mrs. George Glanville and Mrs. J. W. Chapman.

MRS. STANFORD'S GENEROSITY.

SHE WILL DEED HER VALUABLE HOME TO THE STANFORD UNIVERSITY.

San Francisco, Feb. 11 (Special).—At the meeting of trustees of Stanford University to-day Mrs. Jane L. Stanford surprised every one present by announcing that she had made a deed of gift to the University, to take effect at her death, of this city, with all its furnishings, paintings and other art work, the whole valued at $100,000.

The house is the finest ever built in California, for, though it is constructed of wood, each room was decorated by an expert and furnished in appropriate style. The rooms and the large galleries are filled with art treasures and bric-a-brac from Europe. The house and lot are estimated to be worth $1,000,000.

The members are Mrs. E. H. Porter, Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. Charles Morgan, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Charles Stewart Smith, Mrs. Daniel Butterfield, Mrs. George Elder, Mrs. George Glanville and Mrs. J. W. Chapman.

THE BROOKLYN Y. W. C. A.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS, READING REPORTS AND FORMING COMMITTEES THE PROGRAMME OF THE DAY.

The Brooklyn Young Women's Christian Association held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the Association Building, at Schermerhorn-st. and Flatbush-ave. The meeting was largely attended, and the reports read were most gratifying to the members and all persons interested in the welfare of the organization.

The treasurer's report showed that the association is in a most prosperous condition. There was nothing like a contest in the election of officers, and the following were elected: President, Mrs. Charles N. Judson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Samuel B. Duryea, Mrs. George H. Priddy, Mrs. Edwin Boers and Mrs. George W. Read; recording and corresponding secretary of the Executive Board, Miss Sarah J. Day; recording and corresponding secretary of the association, Miss Bertha M. West; secretary, Mrs. Daniel C. McEwen; and secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Helen Niebuhr.

The treasurer's report gave many interesting details of the work done in the past year by the various committees of the association. The total amount of the receipts, $12,322.92, was from regular sources, and the total amount of the disbursements, $11,512.12, was from the same sources.

The association is in a most prosperous condition. There was nothing like a contest in the election of officers, and the following were elected: President, Mrs. Charles N. Judson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Samuel B. Duryea, Mrs. George H. Priddy, Mrs. Edwin Boers and Mrs. George W. Read; recording and corresponding secretary of the Executive Board, Miss Sarah J. Day; recording and corresponding secretary of the association, Miss Bertha M. West; secretary, Mrs. Daniel C. McEwen; and secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Helen Niebuhr.

The association is in a most prosperous condition. There was nothing like a contest in the election of officers, and the following were elected: President, Mrs. Charles N. Judson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Samuel B. Duryea, Mrs. George H. Priddy, Mrs. Edwin Boers and Mrs. George W. Read; recording and corresponding secretary of the Executive Board, Miss Sarah J. Day; recording and corresponding secretary of the association, Miss Bertha M. West; secretary, Mrs. Daniel C. McEwen; and secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Helen Niebuhr.

The association is in a most prosperous condition. There was nothing like a contest in the election of officers, and the following were elected: President, Mrs. Charles N. Judson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Samuel B. Duryea, Mrs. George H. Priddy, Mrs. Edwin Boers and Mrs. George W. Read; recording and corresponding secretary of the Executive Board, Miss Sarah J. Day; recording and corresponding secretary of the association, Miss Bertha M. West; secretary, Mrs. Daniel C. McEwen; and secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Helen Niebuhr.

The association is in a most prosperous condition. There was nothing like a contest in the election of officers, and the following were elected: President, Mrs. Charles N. Judson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Samuel B. Duryea, Mrs. George H. Priddy, Mrs. Edwin Boers and Mrs. George W. Read; recording and corresponding secretary of the Executive Board, Miss Sarah J. Day; recording and corresponding secretary of the association, Miss Bertha M. West; secretary, Mrs. Daniel C. McEwen; and secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Helen Niebuhr.

The association is in a most prosperous condition. There was nothing like a contest in the election of officers, and the following were elected: President, Mrs. Charles N. Judson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Samuel B. Duryea, Mrs. George H. Priddy, Mrs. Edwin Boers and Mrs. George W. Read; recording and corresponding secretary of the Executive Board, Miss Sarah J. Day; recording and corresponding secretary of the association, Miss Bertha M. West; secretary, Mrs. Daniel C. McEwen; and secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Helen Niebuhr.

The association is in a most prosperous condition. There was nothing like a contest in the election of officers, and the following were elected: President, Mrs. Charles N. Judson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Samuel B. Duryea, Mrs. George H. Priddy, Mrs. Edwin Boers and Mrs. George W. Read; recording and corresponding secretary of the Executive Board, Miss Sarah J. Day; recording and corresponding secretary of the association, Miss Bertha M. West; secretary, Mrs. Daniel C. McEwen; and secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Helen Niebuhr.

The association is in a most prosperous condition. There was nothing like a contest in the election of officers, and the following were elected: President, Mrs. Charles N. Judson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Samuel B. Duryea, Mrs. George H. Priddy, Mrs. Edwin Boers and Mrs. George W. Read; recording and corresponding secretary of the Executive Board, Miss Sarah J. Day; recording and corresponding secretary of the association, Miss Bertha M. West; secretary, Mrs. Daniel C. McEwen; and secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Helen Niebuhr.

The association is in a most prosperous condition. There was nothing like a contest in the election of officers, and the following were elected: President, Mrs. Charles N. Judson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Samuel B. Duryea, Mrs. George H. Priddy, Mrs. Edwin Boers and Mrs. George W. Read; recording and corresponding secretary of the Executive Board, Miss Sarah J. Day; recording and corresponding secretary of the association, Miss Bertha M. West; secretary, Mrs. Daniel C. McEwen; and secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Helen Niebuhr.

The association is in a most prosperous condition. There was nothing like a contest in the election of officers, and the following were elected: President, Mrs. Charles N. Judson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Samuel B. Duryea, Mrs. George H. Priddy, Mrs. Edwin Boers and Mrs. George W. Read; recording and corresponding secretary of the Executive Board, Miss Sarah J. Day; recording and corresponding secretary of the association, Miss Bertha M. West; secretary, Mrs. Daniel C. McEwen; and secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Helen Niebuhr.

The association is in a most prosperous condition. There was nothing like a contest in the election of officers, and the following were elected: President, Mrs. Charles N. Judson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Samuel B. Duryea, Mrs. George H. Priddy, Mrs. Edwin Boers and Mrs. George W. Read; recording and corresponding secretary of the Executive Board, Miss Sarah J. Day; recording and corresponding secretary of the association, Miss Bertha M. West; secretary, Mrs. Daniel C. McEwen; and secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Helen Niebuhr.

The association is in a most prosperous condition. There was nothing like a contest in the election of officers, and the following were elected: President, Mrs. Charles N. Judson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Samuel B. Duryea, Mrs. George H. Priddy, Mrs. Edwin Boers and Mrs. George W. Read; recording and corresponding secretary of the Executive Board, Miss Sarah J. Day; recording and corresponding secretary of the association, Miss Bertha M. West; secretary, Mrs. Daniel C. McEwen; and secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Helen Niebuhr.

IT WAS LADIES' DAY.

THE MEMBERS OF KNICKERBOCKER ATHLETIC CLUB ENTERTAIN THEIR WOMEN FRIENDS.

Ladies' Day was observed yesterday at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club, and all the women of that beautiful building, from the top floor to the Turkish and Russian bath rooms, the bowling alleys and shooting gallery in the basement, were thrown open for feminine inspection.

The club members acted as cicerones, and took a pardonable pride in exhibiting the various perfections of the place. An elaborate programme was also prepared for the entertainment of the guests. An entertainment, with music by the Columbia College Mandolin and Banjo Club, was given in the theatre at 5 o'clock; there was a gymnastic exhibition in the gymnasium at 4 o'clock, and a game of water polo in the evening. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock, and extra tables were set in the hall adjoining the dining-room to accommodate the numerous guests.

The following was the programme for the gymnastic performance: Parallel bars, E. Friedman, D. Reuss and G. A. Salmon; Roman ladders, J. M. Kinney, B. S. Kinney and P. G. B. Brown; rings, A. B. De Young and P. B. Brown; horse, D. Reuss, E. Friedman and H. Anderson; brother act, P. F. Fitzgerald, G. Neuss and W. Curtin; trapeze, S. K. Thomas and G. A. Salmon; ground and lofty tumbling, G. Neuss, P. Boulo, W. Curtin, F. T. Fitzgerald and G. A. Salmon.

The Reception Committee consisted of Gardner Abbott, Dr. J. E. Allen, P. L. Aron, P. F. Austin, H. B. Barks, C. M. Carlson, H. R. Farlow, J. F. Fitch, Edward F. Gray, Warren Sage, John P. Yates, L. M. Hamburger, M. W. Ford, H. H. Janeway, J. M. Riggs, W. D. Bliss, C. S. McKane, H. S. Neuman, H. C. Tuttle, Boudinet Keith, J. H. W. Cole, J. D. Adams, E. F. Bushnell, C. C. Hughes, R. Mollaux, Chaudes Fulton, H. C. Barret, J. H. Barks, Charles C. Barks, W. H. Whitman, A. B. Miller, Dr. George Heywood, J. T. Headley, T. M. Rowlette, H. H. Johnson, E. J. Murphy, G. G. Hollander, Dr. H. E. Westbay, J. A. Boyken, G. E. Robinson, Dr. C. Adams, Charles Morgan, A. H. Watson, G. H. Fish and E. A. Stewart.

Among those present at the lecture were Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. Charles Morgan, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Charles Stewart Smith, Mrs. Daniel Butterfield, Mrs. George Elder, Mrs. George Glanville and Mrs. J. W. Chapman.

The Auxiliary is a newly formed branch of the Riverside Day Nursery, which for the last ten years has done a good work in caring for the forlorn little ones of working mothers who are forced to leave them during the working hours of the day.

The home of No. 170 West Sixty-third-st. is well equipped, and here the children are left in the morning in care of the nurses, and called for by the mothers at night. There is also a kindergarten in the nursery, and, besides the regular work, a number of children are sent away each summer for several weeks in the country.

The members of the Auxiliary are Mrs. E. H. Porter, president; Mrs. Alfred Whitman, vice-president; Mrs. George Jones, secretary; and Mrs. J. W. Chapman, treasurer. The meetings are held every two weeks.

A social meeting of the Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Whitman, No. 222 West Seventy-second-st., on Monday evening last. The members were Mrs. E. H. Porter, Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. Charles Morgan, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Charles Stewart Smith, Mrs. Daniel Butterfield, Mrs. George Elder, Mrs. George Glanville and Mrs. J. W. Chapman.

THE DAY'S GOSSIP.

Miss Helen Varick Boswell is mingling in the gay life of Washington, and is being entertained extensively. On the night of her arrival she attended the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Miss Boswell will attend the opening of the big carnival at Masonic Temple. It was Congressional Night. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster made a speech, and Miss Boswell was called upon, and she responded with the wit and pliancy which characterize all her speeches.

Bicycle Trophies.

AND PRIZE CUPS ADAPTED TO ANY CONTEST, BOTH IN SILVER PLATE AND STERLING SILVER.

Illustrations and prices, or special designs, will be furnished on application.

MERIDEN BRITANNIA CO., 218 Fifth Avenue.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY. A pretty wedding yesterday was that of Miss Mary Loeffler, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic R. Loeffler, to Selah Brewster Strong, which took place in