

LITERARY NOTES.

The new edition of Byron's works to be brought out in this country by the Scribners will contain a good deal of hitherto unpublished material.

Miss Jeanie Gould Lincoln, the author of that long-popular story, "Marjorie's Quest," is writing what is described as an historical romance dealing with certain interesting and hitherto untouched episodes of the Revolution.

The history of a copy of Johnson's "Scots Musical Museum" is an interesting one. It is interleaved, and contains upward of a hundred and forty entertaining notes in the handwriting of Robert Burns.

Miss Bayley died in due course, and bequeathed them to a friend, at whose death they were again inherited by a lady, who, interested, nothing whatever of their value, interest, or origin, sold them to a second-hand bookseller.

Mr. John Salkeld, then of Orange-st., Red Lion Square (but now of Clapham Road, London) these volumes, along with an annotated edition of "The Musical Museum" (Edinburgh, 1763) and such other miscellaneous matter, were offered to Mr. Salkeld at a small figure.

The books were duly conveyed to Orange-st., and, in the mean time, the same fate had befallen the "Musical Museum" and its contents. The books were duly examined before they were examined for catalogue purposes.

IN THE CYCLING WORLD.

CYCLISTS TO ASK FOR A WHEELWAY ON THE BRIDGE.

A COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO SEE COMMISSIONER SHEA—"TEDDY" EDWARDS ARRESTED IN WASHINGTON—DEALERS WILL MAINTAIN PRICES—LONG ISLANDS ASSOCIATED CYCLE CLUBS RETALIATE.

An important meeting of the committees representing the several cycling associations in this district was held yesterday to see what plans could be suggested to enable cyclists to ride over the Brooklyn Bridge without endangering their lives in making the attempt.

Among those present were M. M. Belding, Jr., of the New York State Division, L. A. W. O. E. Eachwe and H. B. Fullerton, of the Good Roads Association; F. R. Hesse, J. O'Neill and W. H. Kay, of the Associated Cycling Clubs of New York; and A. C. Crow and Dr. L. C. Leiby, of the New York Consulate. A committee of three, composed of Messrs. Belding, Eachwe and Fullerton, were appointed to wait upon Bridge Commissioner Shea to see what the bridge officials intended doing for the cyclists.

It was learned that Commissioner Shea is inclined to be liberal in his attitude toward the cyclist, and that he is willing to consider the proposition of a wheelway over the bridge. The cyclists are of the opinion that a wheelway over the bridge would be a great improvement, and they will propose to Commissioner Shea that one be constructed. The question of approaches will be left for future consideration.

Benjamin Ansell, the secretary of the Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island, has issued a circular to the clubs belonging to that association, advising them that the New York State Division of Motor Vehicles has issued a circular to the clubs belonging to that association, advising them that the New York State Division of Motor Vehicles has issued a circular to the clubs belonging to that association.

The Associated Cycling Clubs of New York have instituted a movement looking toward increasing their membership by soliciting Brooklyn and Long Island cyclists to join their ranks. This is a laudable aim, and the clubs are doing their best to accomplish it.
