

GRANT POST'S NEW OFFICERS.

INSTALLATION SERVICES HELD IN THE TOMPKINS AVENUE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

In the services of installation of the new officers of U. S. Grant Post No. 27, Grand Army of the Republic, held in the Tompkins Avenue Congregational Church last night, the Navy took a prominent part.

VOORHEES MADE GOVERNOR.

State succeeded you in that office. You now resume the history of the past. You are the Governor of our beloved Commonwealth. You assume that office and you assume its duties.

Permit me to thank you for the gracious terms in which you have received me in the Great Seal of the State. I realize the meaning of this simple ceremony. I know that it imposes upon me most serious obligations.

Mr. Watkins then introduced "His Excellency," Foster M. Voorhees, the governor of New Jersey, to the Senate, who in turn introduced the new Governor to the Senators and Assemblymen.

THE GOVERNOR'S ADDRESS. Governor Voorhees briefly and warmly acknowledged the greetings of the legislators and delivered his inaugural address, as follows:

The duties of the office upon which I am about to enter are assumed with a deep sense of all that is implied in the words of the oath just taken. I submit to you a program of public policy.

Such, in brief, are the views I entertain of the office which I now assume. At all times I shall be ready to receive suggestions from you.

dition of their sacrifices in the Legislature to determine the wisdom of the wisdom of its conclusions I have every confidence. (Applause.)

There was prolonged applause after the address, and the ceremonies then ended with the benediction by the Rev. J. Richards Boyle, of the State Street Methodist Church.

For half an hour the new Governor was kept upon the stage receiving the congratulations of citizens.

The new Governor, attended by officers detailed from the National Guard and the Naval Reserve, left the State House at 5 o'clock.

HIS CONVICTION UPHELD.

APPELLATE DIVISION AFFIRMS R. W. FIELDING'S SENTENCE.

A STAT FROM THE COURT OF APPEALS SECURED JUSTICE GOODRICH DECLARES AMPLE EVIDENCE IN THE RECORD OF A DEAL.

The Court of Appeals is the only thing that now stands between Robert W. Fielding, Deputy City Works Commissioner, and a term in prison.

The Appellate Division yesterday unanimously affirmed the conviction of Fielding for connivance at the audit and allowance of a fraudulent claim against the city of Brooklyn.

A part of Fielding's duty was to pass on bills for work done in his department. The indictment charged that he passed the bill for the water main in Neptune-ave. knowing the bills to be fraudulent.

District-Attorney Marean declared that Finkle was only a dummy for Daniel Doody, who, it was alleged, made a "deal" with Fielding that on all contracts awarded to him he should pay on Fielding 10 per cent.

Fielding, in defence of his conduct, said that the Finkle bills came to him in the rush of closing up the city's accounts prior to consolidation, and that he did not know he was violating the law in signing them. He denied that Finkle was a dummy for Doody.

Fielding's trial was long drawn out, and Justice Hirschberg sentenced him to two and a half years in Sing Sing and to pay a fine of $2,171.60, the amount of the last Finkle bill, which was brought forward in the indictment.

Justice Goodrich writes the opinion of the Appellate Division, in which all the other Justices concur. Fielding has been out on bail pending his appeal. In closing his opinion, Justice Goodrich says:

The record contains ample evidence that the defendant with Daniel Doody, connived and carried out a brazen scheme to defraud the city. That he was cognizant of all that he was doing in all its stages; that for his benefit and profit he basely betrayed the public trust; that he sought a vindication of our judicial system for the discovery and punishment of unfaithful officials.

It is not necessary to justify the charge that the District-Attorney exceeded his duty, either in his opening or his closing address to the jury. It is sufficient to show that the evidence, as shown by the evidence, his conduct not only calls for no disapproval from this Court, but meets with our approval.

Charles J. Patterson, counsel for Fielding, appeared before Chief Justice Parker, of the Court of Appeals, at Albany, yesterday, and secured a temporary stay of execution of sentence, with an order to show cause returnable on January 24, why the stay should not be made permanent.

SOCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

Mrs. Simeon Baldwin Chittenden and the Misses Chittenden, of No. 212 Columbia Heights, gave the second of their two receptions yesterday, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

The drawing-room and supper table were decorated with pink roses. Among the guests were Mrs. James L. Morgan, Mrs. Robert H. Richardson, Mrs. Watson B. Dickerman, Mrs. Edward P. McCarty, Mrs. W. H. Lusk, Mrs. Miss Gilkeson, Miss Sallie Chapman, Miss Howley, Miss Seaman and Miss Blossom.

The marriage of Miss Harriet Masters Lockwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin B. Lockwood, and Samuel Carson Phipps, also of Brooklyn, was solemnized at 4:30 p. m. yesterday, at No. 203 West 11th-st., the home of the bride's parents. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Frederick Burgess, pastor of Grace Church, and the ceremony was performed before a screen of palms and ferns in the front drawing-room. This decoration, with the addition of red poinsettias, was repeated all about the house.

The bride's gown was of white satin, trimmed with chiffon and fastened with a diamond brooch. Her veil was of white tulle, and her bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss May A. Benson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and was attired in pink faille, trimmed with black tulle. Like the bridesmaids, she wore a black velvet Gainsborough hat, with Amazon plumes.

The bridesmaids were Miss Margaret J. McCarty, Miss Anna C. McCarty, Miss Elizabeth A. McCarty, Miss Annie Pearson Betts and Miss Clotilde Shea. Their dresses were of pink tulle, covered with a diamond brooch. The bridesmaids were Miss Margaret J. McCarty, Miss Anna C. McCarty, Miss Elizabeth A. NEIGHBORS OBJECT TO THE BUILDING.

MR. POST DECLARES THAT THEY HAVE ERECTED STOCKADES OF TELEGRAPH POLES.

Abram S. Post, who had the temerity to erect a five-story brick apartment house in First Place, where for years there have been nothing but privy dwellings with large open courts in front, is now suffering from the disapproval of his neighbors.

The house is at No. 120 First Place, and according to a complaint which he filed with the Building Department yesterday, the neighbors on both sides have erected stockades of large telegraph poles.

One of these stockades is sixty-three feet high, according to the petition, in order to prevent the erection of a building which would be a disgrace to the neighborhood. Commissioner Guilfoyle has ordered an investigation.

Charles J. Patterson, counsel for Fielding, appeared before Chief Justice Parker, of the Court of Appeals, at Albany, yesterday, and secured a temporary stay of execution of sentence, with an order to show cause returnable on January 24, why the stay should not be made permanent.
