

ROOSEVELT AS ORATOR.

GOVERNOR THE FEATURE OF THE OYSTER BAY CELEBRATION.

GREAT CROWD GATHERS TO HEAR HIS VIEW ON THIS NATION'S DUTY TOWARD THE PHILIPPINES.

Seldom has the little town of Oyster Bay, Long Island, held at one time so many people as it did yesterday. The announcement that Governor Roosevelt would deliver the Fourth of July oration had been heralded far and near, and the town officials were expecting a large crowd in consequence.

The town early took on a festive appearance, and most of the houses were decorated. Booths for the sale of ice cream, lemonade and other refreshments, and booths for the sale of Roosevelt buttons, Roosevelt photographs and the like, sprang up on every hand.

All the speaking was good and generously applauded. The Rev. A. G. Russell, who immediately preceded Colonel Roosevelt, provoked much laughter by saying that he thought he could apply to himself the remark of a tired little boy in the congregation, who, when the minister after a lengthy sermon said, "What more can I say?" called out, "Say Amen."

Governor Roosevelt then made his address, and received almost breathless and intelligent attention. Every point taken was fully appreciated, and his words concerning our duty in the Philippines, in his oration, were applauded to the echo.

After the ceremonies Governor Roosevelt held an impromptu reception, shaking almost every one by the hand and greeting old friends and neighbors by the name.

The Governor's speech was as follows: A little less than a year ago you gave me a hearty welcome back to my home here, and I can assure you I'll never forget it.

Nearly a century and a quarter have gone by since the Continental Congress first forth the Declaration of Independence, and I can assure you that the Continental Congress has done so much that its memory seems almost a dream.

The struggling nation of thirteen colonies stretching along the Atlantic seaboard first forth the Declaration of Independence, and I can assure you that the Continental Congress has done so much that its memory seems almost a dream.

During the time of our National existence, our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

opportunity present itself, and that it was the intention of the Administration to organize an entire brigade along the original lines of the Rough Riders. Governor Roosevelt was to make a brigadier-general and assume command of this brigade, while Lieutenant Colonel Brodie was to be promoted to the command of the original Rough Riders.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT was to be recruited (Copyright, 1899, by The Tribune) as rapidly as might be, in order that it might arrive in the Philippines in the rainy season. Lieutenant Governor Woodruff was to act as Governor during the absence of Colonel Roosevelt.

When a representative of the Tribune showed the story to Governor Roosevelt at Oyster Bay yesterday afternoon, he denominated it "sawdust rubbish."

ADDRESS OF ST. CLAIR MCKELWAY AT GLEN SUMMIT, PENN.

Glen Summit, Penn., July 4.—St. Clair McKelway, Editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, spoke at the Fourth of July celebration here today, as he did last year. His subject was "National Transition."

In the course of his address Mr. McKelway said that "right or wrong, wise or foolish, just or unjust, avoidable or unavoidable, the war with Spain, as a fact and as a past fact, devolves on us duties and responsibilities."

THE ACTION AND UTTERANCE OF THE CONGRESS which took this attitude toward the Philippines in the order of that body to act as a grand and a plane as the legislature of any nation ever attained under the impetus of any opinion since the beginning of the experiment of government regulated by written law began on earth.

After the ceremonies Governor Roosevelt held an impromptu reception, shaking almost every one by the hand and greeting old friends and neighbors by the name.

The Governor's speech was as follows: A little less than a year ago you gave me a hearty welcome back to my home here, and I can assure you I'll never forget it.

Nearly a century and a quarter have gone by since the Continental Congress first forth the Declaration of Independence, and I can assure you that the Continental Congress has done so much that its memory seems almost a dream.

During the time of our National existence, our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

for the country. By the treaty we paid back to Spain the unpaid half of the debt. That explains the $20,000,000 we stipulated to pay and have paid. Those who say that with it we bought ourselves out of the purchase of the Philippines, in the conception of the purchase of the Philippines, and that would palm that infamous claim upon the people of this country, are as false as the sun. Their proposition is as false as it is foul and false. They are not only false, but they are also dishonest. By reiteration they have, perhaps, come to believe it, under the rule that the first and the best lie is the one that is repeated most often. But my countrymen, let no such calumny deceive or corrupt your minds. The finest thing in our history is the fact that we have not only paid back to Spain the unpaid half of the debt, but we have also paid back to Spain the unpaid half of the debt, and we have also paid back to Spain the unpaid half of the debt.

In closing Mr. McKelway said: To read charges that our President is doing King Crockett's work; that our Government is a tyrant and our soldiers are incendiaries and murderers and the flag of our Nation from the property of the traitors and the flag of our Nation from the property of the traitors and the flag of our Nation from the property of the traitors.

MR. MATTHEWS ON EXPANSION.

Boston, July 4.—A general suspension of business and a universal willingness to celebrate marked the passing of the Fourth in Boston. Sunrise, noon and sunset bells were rung, the sound of almost every kind of noise-producing instrument was heard from midnight to midnight, and the usual parade, band concerts and games were held.

THE FORMER DEMOCRATIC MAYOR OF BOSTON DELIVERS A ROUSING ADDRESS ON THE PHILIPPINES.

Boston, July 4.—A general suspension of business and a universal willingness to celebrate marked the passing of the Fourth in Boston. Sunrise, noon and sunset bells were rung, the sound of almost every kind of noise-producing instrument was heard from midnight to midnight, and the usual parade, band concerts and games were held.

THE ACTION AND UTTERANCE OF THE CONGRESS which took this attitude toward the Philippines in the order of that body to act as a grand and a plane as the legislature of any nation ever attained under the impetus of any opinion since the beginning of the experiment of government regulated by written law began on earth.

After the ceremonies Governor Roosevelt held an impromptu reception, shaking almost every one by the hand and greeting old friends and neighbors by the name.

The Governor's speech was as follows: A little less than a year ago you gave me a hearty welcome back to my home here, and I can assure you I'll never forget it.

Nearly a century and a quarter have gone by since the Continental Congress first forth the Declaration of Independence, and I can assure you that the Continental Congress has done so much that its memory seems almost a dream.

During the time of our National existence, our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

Our country has been the scene of a wealth of glorious memories, alike of war and of peace, of just and victorious wars, of great reforms, of noble and patriotic deeds, of the common sense and of the lofty adherence to an ideal, of difficult problems bravely met, of the noblest and most heroic of our countrymen.

of commerce and civilization roll round the globe. The American people never yet have fallen on great occasions. They will not now. The duty to be determined by considerations based on selfishness or fear. They will not shrink the duties or loathe the duties. They will not shrink the duties or loathe the duties. They will not shrink the duties or loathe the duties.

REPRESENTATIVE BROSIUS ADDRESSES TEACHERS AT GETTYSBURG.

Gettysburg, Penn., July 4.—Congressman Marriott Brosius, of the Xth Pennsylvania Congress District, delivered an address here today before the State Teachers' Association, which devoted the day to patriotic exercises. Mr. Brosius spoke, in part, as follows:

The initial movement against the Spanish power in Cuba, and the subsequent war, were not the work of a nation to arms. We struck the blow in the name of liberty, justice and humanity. We struck the blow in the name of liberty, justice and humanity. We struck the blow in the name of liberty, justice and humanity.

THE OCEANIC POLICY.

The ratification of the peace treaty has made us regarding the Pacific and order in the Philippines before all the world. The United States being in legitimate possession are in honor and duty bound to discharge the duties which dominion and responsibility impose. This obligation is not a Spanish authority and we are morally bound to perform it.

THE OCEANIC POLICY.

The ratification of the peace treaty has made us regarding the Pacific and order in the Philippines before all the world. The United States being in legitimate possession are in honor and duty bound to discharge the duties which dominion and responsibility impose.

JUDGE WOODWARD, IN HIS ADDRESS AT CHAUTAUCU, UPHOLDS THE POLICY OF EXPANSION.

Jameson, N. Y., July 4.—There was the largest attendance on the assembly grounds at Chautaucu on Sunday ever known. The grounds were beautifully decorated with American colors, the amphitheatre being ablaze with flags. Bishop Vincent presided at the celebration, and Justice John Woodward, of the New York Supreme Court, was the orator of the day.

THE REPUBLIC, whose career seemed so rightly definite, has suddenly become a vast and a new track toward an unknown destiny.

THE REPUBLIC, whose career seemed so rightly definite, has suddenly become a vast and a new track toward an unknown destiny.

THE REPUBLIC, whose career seemed so rightly definite, has suddenly become a vast and a new track toward an unknown destiny.

THE REPUBLIC, whose career seemed so rightly definite, has suddenly become a vast and a new track toward an unknown destiny.

THE REPUBLIC, whose career seemed so rightly definite, has suddenly become a vast and a new track toward an unknown destiny.

THE REPUBLIC, whose career seemed so rightly definite, has suddenly become a vast and a new track toward an unknown destiny.

THE REPUBLIC, whose career seemed so rightly definite, has suddenly become a vast and a new track toward an unknown destiny.

THE REPUBLIC, whose career seemed so rightly definite, has suddenly become a vast and a new track toward an unknown destiny.

THE REPUBLIC, whose career seemed so rightly definite, has suddenly become a vast and a new track toward an unknown destiny.

THE REPUBLIC, whose career seemed so rightly definite, has suddenly become a vast and a new track toward an unknown destiny.

THE REPUBLIC, whose career seemed so rightly definite, has suddenly become a vast and a new track toward an unknown destiny.

THE REPUBLIC, whose career seemed so rightly definite, has suddenly become a vast and a new track toward an unknown destiny.

THE REPUBLIC, whose career seemed so rightly definite, has suddenly become a vast and a new track toward an unknown destiny.

A STUDY OF THE SITUATION.

CONDITIONS IN THE PHILIPPINES DESCRIBED BY A FORMER MINISTER TO SIAM.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

John Barrett, a former United States Minister to Siam, has been an interested observer of the conditions in the Philippine Islands for the last few years, and in the July number of The Review of Reviews he gives a most interesting study of the situation.

SAMOA REMAINS QUIET.

WORK OF THE COMMISSION NEARLY COMPLETED.

TO LEAVE THE ISLANDS ON JULY 14—THE ABARENDA SAILS FROM VALPARAISO WITH MATERIALS FOR PAGO PAGO COALING STATION.

Washington, July 4.—Secretary Long this morning received the following cable dispatch from Commander James Miller, commanding the auxiliary cruiser Badger, at Apia, Samoa:

Washington, July 4.—Secretary Long this morning received the following cable dispatch from Commander James Miller, commanding the auxiliary cruiser Badger, at Apia, Samoa:

Washington, July 4.—Secretary Long this morning received the following cable dispatch from Commander James Miller, commanding the auxiliary cruiser Badger, at Apia, Samoa:

Washington, July 4.—Secretary Long this morning received the following cable dispatch from Commander James Miller, commanding the auxiliary cruiser Badger, at Apia, Samoa:

Washington, July 4.—Secretary Long this morning received the following cable dispatch from Commander James Miller, commanding the auxiliary cruiser Badger, at Apia, Samoa:

Washington, July 4.—Secretary Long this morning received the following cable dispatch from Commander James Miller, commanding the auxiliary cruiser Badger, at Apia, Samoa:

Washington, July 4.—Secretary Long this morning received the following cable dispatch from Commander James Miller, commanding the auxiliary cruiser Badger, at Apia, Samoa:

Washington, July 4.—Secretary