

ARREST IN CRONIN CASE

POLICE SUSPECT MRS. WARNER OF THROWING THE POTASH, BUT SHE DENIES IT.

The police of the West Forty-seventh-st. station last night arrested Mrs. Etta Warner, who says she is thirty years old, and lives at No. 59 West One-hundred-and-fifth-st., on suspicion of having thrown the potash into the face of Mrs. Cronin, the wife of Dr. John J. Cronin, of No. 43 West Twenty-third-st., on the night of the shooting of which Mrs. Cronin will lose the sight of her left eye. The arrest was made by Detectives Dale, Lyons and Kammer in the apartments occupied by the woman and her husband, Harry, who, she says, is a stenographer and typewriter. The prisoner has a ten-year-old son, who lives with her mother, Mrs. Austin, at No. 201 West Ninetieth-st.

When arrested Mrs. Warner protested that she was not out of her house on the night the poison was thrown, but the police say they have evidence that she was. When the prisoner was taken into the station she was placed in a back room, and Mrs. Elizabeth Lettice, the mother of Mrs. Cronin, her son, John Lettice, and Patrick Wright, janitor, all of whom lived at No. 401 West Thirty-eighth-st., were placed in an adjoining room, where they could overhear the prisoner when her pedigree was taken.

Sergeant Flannery asked the mother of Mrs. Cronin to identify Mrs. Warner as the woman who had called at the house on the night previous to the throwing of the potash and had asked for Mrs. Cronin's address. Mrs. Cronin failed to identify the woman, but she recognized the voice as the one she heard Thursday night.

The woman's son, John Lettice, who is a letter carrier, and Wright also recognized the voice as similar to that of the woman who called at the house on Thursday night and asked for Mrs. Cronin's address.

A young man, who answered the doorbell at the Cronin home last night said that a woman who gave her name as "Austin" called there on Friday and conversed with Mrs. Cronin. He could not tell the nature of her conversation, but said that the Austin woman wept. Dr. Cronin was at the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital with his wife, Mrs. Cronin, at the time the woman called.

Mrs. Cronin was before her marriage forewoman in a dressmaking establishment at Forty-second-st. and Fifth-ave. Among the women employed there was the woman who was arrested. She is a brother of the prisoner's husband and who lives in the same house in One-hundred-and-fifth-st.

Mrs. Warner's husband was not at home last night, but his brother, who is married to the sister of the prisoner, was seen. He said: "I have just heard about my sister-in-law's arrest. We will be glad to see her."

Mrs. Warner's mother-in-law was attending the funeral of her cousin in Park-st. Jersey City, when the acid was thrown. We have already told the police that, but they do not believe it.

Her mother-in-law's sister, who lives in No. 191 West Ninetieth-st., could not be seen. They went out word that they had been instructed not to attend the funeral. Mrs. Warner's mother-in-law had asked the woman he replied: "The only evidence I have is the identification made by John Lettice and the janitor, Wright."

TITLE DEEDS IN MEXICAN ARCHIVES.

INQUIRY IN REGARD TO THE ALGODON LAND GRANT. City of Mexico, May 19.—Inquiries have been received here regarding the alleged finding in the records of the Mexican Government of the title deeds of the Algodon land grant, which territory formerly belonged to Mexico. It is presumed here that the estate referred to is that of which the correct name is Algodones, situated partly in Upper and partly in Lower California. Careful inquiries made in the Department of Foreign Relations and the Department of Fomento have failed to disclose any records of the title deeds of this territory. There is a story that a number of such deeds are to be found in the records of the Government, in some cases in the hands of the United States, and in others in the hands of the United States. The Mexican Government would not refuse to throw open its records for inspection by interested persons, representatives of legitimate interests. Under present conditions the title deeds of the Algodon land grant are in the hands of the United States, and it is not clear whether such title deeds are in the hands of the United States, or whether they are in the hands of the United States, or whether they are in the hands of the United States.

A STAGE COACH OVERTURNED.

DELEGATES TO COUNCIL OF WOMEN'S CLUBS PITCHED INTO MUD—SERIAL FAINT.

Glen Cove, Long Island, May 19.—The stage coach which runs between Sea Cliff and Glen Cove met with an accident to-day which might have had serious consequences. The coach was occupied by a party of Brooklyn women, who were on their way to the meeting of the council of Long Island Women's Clubs. School-st., in which the accident happened, was dug up to the surface of the road is now uneven. Added to this, the rain had made the road heavy with soft mud.

As the coach reached a point near Pembroke Lodge one side of the vehicle sank deep into soft mud. The coach ran on two wheels for a moment and then tipped over. There were fourteen occupants of the coach, and those riding on the outside seats were thrown violently to the muddy ground. A few bruises were suffered by the women, but no one was seriously injured. A few bruises were the extent of the injuries. Two or three of the women fainted, however, and there was a great deal of excitement for a time before the women were rescued.

Dr. Zabriskie, who lives near where the upset coach was, was summoned, and he gave the women what little attention they required. In the party were Mrs. H. Burtis, president of the Brooklyn Memorial Hospital; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wagner, Mrs. S. P. Hart and Miss C. Moore, of the Children's Department of Pratt Institute.

Cottagers in the vicinity of where the accident happened placed their houses at the disposal of the unfortunate travellers, and after the evidences of the accident had, as far as possible, been removed the party proceeded to the school, where the convention of Long Island Women's Clubs was held.

TRUSTEE CHARGED WITH FRAUD.

Surrogate Silkman yesterday handed down an opinion in the case of Harriet A. Burtis against Nathaniel B. Valentine, of Yonkers, trustee of the estate of her father, George B. Valentine, who left several hundred acres now in the city of Yonkers. Part of the property was sold to the Catholic Diocese of New York for a Catholic Theological Seminary. The Surrogate's opinion in part follows: The shortcomings of the trustee having been so fully set forth in my report of the 17th inst., it is not necessary to repeat them. The law can only look to the fact that the trustee was charged with the duty of selling the property for the benefit of the trust estate as a whole. Both the moral obligations which a trustee owes to a sister and the legal obligations which attach to a trustee seem to have been entirely overlooked by the trustee.

Valentine, it is said, took the income for his own use, and assigned mortgages and securities to his wife and children. He kept no books or checkbooks, it is alleged.

THREATENS TO SUE A MINISTER.

FATHER SAYS CLERGYMAN MUST SETTLE FOR MARRYING DAUGHTER. Somerville, N. J., May 19.—Jefferson Leake, through his attorney, has served notice on the Rev. Thomas McCauley Simonton, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Lower Valley, that suit will be brought against him unless he makes satisfactory arrangements for marrying Leake's daughter, who is under eighteen years of age, within a reasonable time. The minister says the girl assured him that she was eighteen years old, and that her appearance bore out the assertion. The bridegroom, Holloway Carpenter, also stated that she was over eighteen, so the marriage was performed.

SEQUEL TO YOUNG SLOAN'S ELOPMENT.

Chicago, May 19.—"The Tribune" says that after eleven months of waiting parental forgiveness has been extended to young W. W. Sloan, Jr., of Buffalo, who was married while at Harvard to Miss Edwards, of Cambridge, the fiancée of young Mr. Sloan. It is said that the day after the wedding of the latter two was to have taken place in Cambridge church. News that W. W. Sloan, Jr. had eloped and would take the young couple into his good graces was brought to them by John Sloan, of Buffalo, uncle of the young man, who found them in apartments at No. 113 Cass-st., in Chicago. Mr. Sloan was lost in accepting the parental proffer of the olive branch, and last night the young man, his bride of twenty-two and his uncle started over the Lake Shore road for Buffalo.

THE CHARITY ORGANIZATION SOCIETY APPEALS FOR A PENNION OF $10 A MONTH TO ENABLE AN UNMARRIED DAUGHTER TO PROVIDE A HOME FOR HER WIDOWED MOTHER, SIXTY-SEVEN YEARS OF AGE, WHO HAS BEEN FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS BLIND AND FOR THE LAST SEVENTEEN YEARS PARTIALLY INSANE.

The mother's daughters are such that she refuses to accept food or any other assistance from her daughter, and she has for a time confined to an insane asylum. She would have remained if the daughter had been allowed to be with her. The daughter's failing health and impaired eyesight make it impossible for her to provide for the wants of both. Any money for this case sent to the Charity Organization Society, 100 West Broadway, second-st., will be duly and publicly acknowledged.

RAILROAD INTERESTS.

NO CONFERENCE ON BURLINGTON. DENIALS IN PHILADELPHIA OF ANY ABSORPTION OF WESTERN LINES.

Philadelphia, May 19.—The statement that there was to be a conference between President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania Railroad and President Perkins of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy system was denied positively at the office of the Pennsylvania Railroad in this city to-day. The weather was unpleasant, and Mr. Cassatt did not even come in from his country home to his office.

Previous denials of statements regarding the possibility of the absorption by the Pennsylvania of the Burlington or Achenbach system were vigorously repeated. Statements to this effect have never been credited in financial circles in this city.

EXHIBITS NOT YET OPEN.—Though more than a month has gone by since the opening of the Exposition, there are still very important exhibits which have not been opened to the public, and large sections remain in the hands of the workmen. The effective night illumination of the buildings and grounds, which was to be one of the most attractive features, is still delayed. The fire in the Chateau d'Enfer, which was responsible for the setback, all the switchboards regulating the electric illumination having been destroyed in the flames, which it is now declared, were started in revenge by a dismissed employe. The statement is not overdrawn that another month must elapse before the Exposition is open to its entirety.

WHAT PARISIANS TALK ABOUT.

Paris, May 19. EFFECT OF MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—The unexpected result of the Paris municipal election, so unfavorable to the Government, has thrown France into a state of political uncertainty, which the reassembling of the Chamber of Deputies on Tuesday will help to clear up.

The opening debates will show how the hostile feeling in Paris influenced the position of the Ministry of the Interior, and the Chamber of Deputies. Prior to the adjournment of the session it was indicated that the Cabinet's hold on the Chamber was far from secure, and the slap in the face received may be followed by a coup de grace from the Deputies.

In an case, the fight in the municipal arena is only the certain raiser to a more deadly struggle between the Nationalists and the Ministerialists within Parliament, as the Nationalists, encouraged by their victory, are determined to try a fall with Waldeck-Rousseau at the earliest opportunity. The Nationalists are certain of the support of the malcontent Republicans, headed by ex-Premier Melme, who are incensed at the Socialist hint given the Ministry of the Interior by the predominant influence of M. Millerand, the Minister of Commerce, and also by the Government's partiality toward the Dreyfus party. This Melme faction of the Moderate Republicans is most prominent factor in what would be the votes of its members that turned the scale against the Ministers at the Paris election.

MELINE MAY SUCCEED ROUSSEAU.—If M. Waldeck-Rousseau is defeated in the Chamber, M. Melme is looked upon as his most probable successor, with a policy of appeasement and the wiping of the Dreyfus affair entirely off the slate. He is vehemently opposed to any resuscitation of the Dreyfus case, and has already expressed his threat to M. Joseph Reinach and other Dreyfusists.

M. Melme, interviewed on the municipal election, declares that the result is a crushing defeat for the Government, and doubts if the latter will survive the debates thereon. "It is very probable," he says, "that the Government has just struck this week it would already have been in a minority. Its days are certainly numbered."

EFFECT OF VICTORY ON NATIONALISTS.—Count Boni de Castellani will be one of the first to congratulate the Government by calling the attention of the Chamber to the speech of Joseph Reinach intimating that a pact exists with the Ministry against the Nationalists. The latter, however, have lived after the Exposition, and the Nationalists' speeches and attitude since Sunday indicate that their victory has had a sobering effect upon them, and their leaders and organs counsel moderation in municipal policy. The fact is, their victory came as a surprise, and their electoral declaration to which the Chamber is referring, is an appeal in municipal matters, fearing to indicate the success of the Exposition and cause a reaction in the minds of the Nationalists.

The newly elected Nationalist Councilors visited M. Deroulade at San Sebastian and held a banquet at the Hotel de Ville. The banished president of the League of Patriots declared that he would say nothing to disturb the happiness of the country and would not break the truce of the Exposition.

MARCHAND WOULD RETURN TO AFRICA.—Major Marchand, the hero of Fashoda, is eager to win fresh laurels. He is announced to have requested the Colonial Office to intrust him with a new mission in Africa. Major Marchand, since his return to France, has been busy in perfecting himself in obedience to the desire of the Government, and has modestly refrained from accepting opportunities to be run as a second Boulanger. He wishes to go to the region of Lake Chad, to organize the fruits of the recent French expedition on a more secure basis.

HOLY WAR IN MOROCCO FEARED.—The French authorities are in receipt of information indicating that trouble is brewing on the southeastern border of Morocco, a holy war is being preached among a number of tribes who are concentrating in Taflet. This territory is adjacent to the oasis recently occupied by French expeditions after fighting the Arabs. The French fear that the holy war, the object of which is to drive the French out of Morocco, is within its sphere. The French troops, therefore, are being reinforced. NO TRACE OF "GYPS" ABDUCTORS.—After a week's careful investigation by the police, no trace has been found of the alleged abductors of the authors "Gyp" (Comtesse de Janville), nor of the mysterious chateau in which she asserts she was held a prisoner. There are not lacking persons who are sceptical regarding the story, especially as "Gyp" admits she is not sure she could recognize the chateau of her abductors. The police have made a number of night excursions in company with "Gyp" over the possible area where the chateau might be situated. Many amusing incidents have been the result, but the search has been without practical outcome. This is not the first enigmatical adventure in which the authoress has been engaged. Several years ago she related a story of a vellel woman throwing a veil at her in the Parc de Monceau. The police inquiries regarding this story were fruitless. Later, when the man fired a shot from a revolver at her in the Boulevard Bineau, in the middle of the night. She opened the window and looked out, when the man fired a shot from a revolver at her, the ball flattening itself against the window frame. The police investigation in this case also was without result.
