

Announcements.

EDISON MUSEUM—9 a. m. to 11 p. m.—Waxworks, Grand Concert and Chromatograph.

Index to Advertisements.

Table with 3 columns: Page, Col., Page, Col. listing various advertisements and their locations.

New-York Daily Tribune.

SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1900.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

FOREIGN—Admiral Kempff reported that the foreign Ministers were not with Admiral Seymour's column.

DOMESTIC—At Kansas City the chief activity was displayed by supporters of Sulzer and David B. Hill.

CITY—Stocks were firm and dull. Senator Craker's statement regarding the Republican platform.

THE WEATHER—Forecast for to-day: Fair and cooler. The temperature yesterday: Highest, 80 degrees; lowest, 72; average, 79.

THE TRIBUNE will be mailed, daily and Sunday, to any address in the country for a dollar a month.

Any newsdealer will supply THE TRIBUNE in response to a regular order.

JEFFERSON AS A DESPOT.

Mr. Bryan's home organ, "The Omaha World-Herald," with that superior insight natural to those who recognize Mr. Bryan as the reincarnation of Thomas Jefferson, comes forward to enlighten Senator Depew as to the views of Jefferson on the present situation, and assure him that if he will go to Kansas City and "listen to Thomas Jefferson, he will learn more about just governments than he ever has seemed to know."

What is to become of your expansion? Mine was carved into fifteen great States. Yours is to be ruled as a dependency of a crown. Mine is self-governing. Yours is ruled in keeping with the argument of the "consent of the governed."

It is true that few men could turn a corner quicker than Jefferson or talk more glibly about liberty while acting the dictator, but we seriously doubt if the despot of Louisiana would so far forget his record as to indulge in any such comparison.

less of the rule of the Constitution on that subject. It put all powers of government in the hands of creatures of the President, thus making him an absolute despot.

In time this dependency became self-governing. So, too, after suitable tutelage, may the Philippines. So is Porto Rico now on the way to become self-governing under laws more liberal to the inhabitants than Jefferson gave to the Louisianians.

THE MISSING MINISTERS.

The most serious present question in China remains unanswered. At the hour of this writing no news has been received from any of the foreign Ministers in China.

It was just two weeks ago that the period of rumors but no news began. On June 16 it was said the Ministers were practically prisoners in the legations and a Chinese army of one hundred thousand was massed at Peking to oppose Admiral Seymour.

At a fire in Pittsburgh one fireman was killed and eight injured by a falling wall. The Cornell and Pennsylvania seem to be the favorite crews in the variety races at Poughkeepsie to-day.

THE WEATHER—Forecast for to-day: Fair and cooler. The temperature yesterday: Highest, 80 degrees; lowest, 72; average, 79.

THE TRIBUNE will be mailed, daily and Sunday, to any address in the country for a dollar a month.

Any newsdealer will supply THE TRIBUNE in response to a regular order.

JEFFERSON AS A DESPOT.

Mr. Bryan's home organ, "The Omaha World-Herald," with that superior insight natural to those who recognize Mr. Bryan as the reincarnation of Thomas Jefferson, comes forward to enlighten Senator Depew as to the views of Jefferson on the present situation, and assure him that if he will go to Kansas City and "listen to Thomas Jefferson, he will learn more about just governments than he ever has seemed to know."

What is to become of your expansion? Mine was carved into fifteen great States. Yours is to be ruled as a dependency of a crown. Mine is self-governing. Yours is ruled in keeping with the argument of the "consent of the governed."

It is true that few men could turn a corner quicker than Jefferson or talk more glibly about liberty while acting the dictator, but we seriously doubt if the despot of Louisiana would so far forget his record as to indulge in any such comparison.

nothing to say against ordinary trusts such as corner necessities of life and charge the poor of the tenements, where children die by hundreds from heat and spoiled food.

This is not the sort of a platform that dear old Gus was making a year ago. Then he didn't pick his way so daintily among the trusts, but denounced them all and was anxious for the protection of poor consumers from the ravages of insatiable manufacturers and speculators in the things necessary for their comfort.

CONTRACTOR AND COMMISSIONER.

For the convenient removal of excavated material one of the rapid transit contractors has built a tramway in Lafayette Boulevard.

Not many men have in this day that Chief Austin of the Bureau of Statistics, which he performs in his monthly returns with unprecedented promptness and care, as with obvious satisfaction.

EXPORTS AND THE TARIFF.

General Marcus P. Miller drove into a barn near Great Barrington, Mass., during a thunderstorm a few days ago.

THE TALK OF THE DAY.

The latest authentic snake story is from North Glenwood Farm, near Barton, one of the country places in Talbot County, Md.

TSE-HSI-TUAN-YU.

The day's lot of rumors from China deals largely with the Dowager Empress and her brother-in-law, Prince Tuan.

DEAR OLD GUS.

Dear old Augustus Van Wyck, having got as far as St. Louis on his way to Kansas City to see that the Democracy is properly embarked on its anti-trust campaign, sends forth one of those conservative appeals suited to his make-up for a sound, honest, straightforward and austere man.

His dear old platform is highly interesting, particularly in its adaptation to the business of the dear old Ice Trust. It calls for honesty and economy in administration of the dear old Government, National and State, but has nothing to say about honesty or economy in the dear old city.

former. The latter was not content with urging reforms; he openly charged Tse-Hsi with a hideous array of vices and crimes. Thereupon that extraordinary woman reasserted herself. She made the Emperor issue a decree declaring his own incompetence to rule and asking her to resume the Regency, and she revoked all the reforms and made short work with all the reformers who did not save themselves by flight.

Accordingly, Tse-Hsi called the Imperial Clan into council again, and dictated the choice of a new Emperor, in the person of Pu-Chun. The latter was the son of Prince Tuan, who was the son of Prince Tui, who was a brother of the Emperor Hien-Fung and of the father of Kwang-Su.

PERSONAL.

Kobel Ojwa, a Japanese electrical engineer of considerable prominence is traveling in this country, studying waterpower development.

Baron Hayashi, the new Japanese Minister to the Court of St. James, is regarded as one of the ablest among Japan's junior statesmen.

Dr. Donaldson Smith, of Philadelphia, the well known explorer, has recently communicated with the Royal Geographical Society of England.

WOMAN-WELL, WHO DO YOU WANT?

Woman—Well, what do you want? Trap—Last time I was round here you gave me a pie wetter yed yer cooked yerself, lady.

A WATCHMAKER.

A Watchmaker—The late Aaron Dennison was called "the father of American watchmaking."

A KANSAS MISSIONARY.

A Kansas missionary in China, writing to his friends in Wichita, Kan., says he has noticed that "dogs bark, pigs squeal, roosters crow and babies cry in English."

THE CHARM OF IT.

The charm of it—He thinks you handle the mandolin, Miss Lillian, better than any other girl I ever saw.

THE CANADIAN MINISTER.

The Canadian Minister of Education in his annual report, refers to the liberality of the United States in the matter of high schools, and suggests that it would be well for Canadian municipalities to consider if larger expenditures for this purpose would not be advantageous to the great body of taxpayers.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Executive Committee of the Committee of One Hundred on India Famine Relief met at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

to these latter as to have a fair prospect of surpassing them within the next half dozen years.

"The Troy Times" completed its forty-ninth year on June 25, and has, therefore, entered upon the year which marks its half century.

Democrats are active in Washington securing material for campaign use, and comparative statistics of the trade, rate of wages, and unemployed labor during the Cleveland and McKinley administrations will probably receive their careful attention.

While a few one time Gold Democrats and those queer fishes the "Anti-Imperialists" now declare their readiness to support Mr. Bryan, with or without free silver, on the principle of "anything to beat McKinley," it is to be observed that the men who really counted for something in the Gold Democrat movement four years ago are talking in a different fashion.

ALASKA.

ALASKA with us in Washington, and as ALASKA they arrive in September they acquire a residence by November, VOTE IN WASHINGTON. This has made for several years a large and doubtful voting

INDIA FAMINE RELIEF FUND.

The Committee of One Hundred on India Famine Relief reported the following contributions received yesterday:

Table listing contributions to the India Famine Relief Fund, including names and amounts.

RECEIVED BY THE TRIBUNE.

The Tribune has received $10 from Cornelia Prime and $50 from "D. R." Morrinstown, N. J., for the India Famine Fund.

SECRETARY ROOT RETURNS TO WORK.

Washington, June 29.—Secretary Root returned to the city this morning, after a vacation of ten days at his summer home in Southampton, Long Island.

JAPANESE STRIKE IN HAWAII.

Honolulu, June 16, via San Francisco, June 28.—A series of strikes has been begun by Japanese laborers on several of the islands.

MEETING OF PALISADE COMMISSION.

Albany, June 29.—J. E. H. Mongin, Deputy Secretary of State, in the absence of John T. McDonough, who is in Europe, gave notice to the Commissioners of the Palisade Interests.

speeches according the nomination of Vice-President, who has not yet returned from Philadelphia.

Mr. Ashton went to Washington to see the President. Then he came to this city, where legal business has detained him. In speaking yesterday at the Waldorf-Astoria of the present political outlook in the State of Washington, Mr. Ashton said: "I think we will carry Washington from the first day of the Administration is popular with our people, particularly the so-called expansion part of it; but there are elements that have entered into the elections of Montana and Oregon, and to a lesser degree in other States do not have to reckon with, but which bear most importantly on the elections of the States I have mentioned."

"Ninety per cent of the men who return in this way from Alaska," continued Mr. Ashton, "winter with us in Washington, and as they arrive in September they acquire a residence by November, and can register and vote in the month of November. This has made for several years a large and doubtful voting readily see from this that if an election were held between May and September the normal and natural vote will be polled. Oregon has just had such a vote, and the State went straight Republican. But in an election occurring between September and May this foreign and unknown element has to be taken into consideration, and that is why we cannot predict with absolute certainty that Washington will go Republican in the fall. We do not know the political opinions of this, so to speak, alien population, and the resident population of the State. I want to say, however, that the men who are now in Alaska are an excellent type of men, the rougher number of them, and judging by the mass by those whom I know, I think that the State has a sturdy, patriotic and honest body of American citizens as can anywhere be found in the Union. The Republican party stands on the record of its past achievements, and the party whose continuance in power so certainly promises, and which has done so much politically and commercially for America in the last four years, or will cast that party wide and make its promises as uncertain and whose record of property is principally kept upon blank paper. I think I am certain in saying that their votes will come to us."

"Some of the papers of the country fell into a curious error in reporting the recent Republican nominations at Philadelphia," said Mr. Ashton.

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of a question. Both President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt were nominated by the unanimous vote of the Convention. McKinley had 72 votes, and a New York member would say New York casts 72 votes for McKinley. Roosevelt had 20 votes, as the case might be, and so it went on down the line until the last vote was in, and there was no need to report the nomination of McKinley as each State cast her solid vote, each in the same direction, but it was not acclamation, and as a matter of fact, the Republican Convention, and the nominations were drawn with the express purpose of doing away with nominations by acclamation, which were for the most part, the result of a candidate must first be put in nomination, and on the vote a roll call of the States must follow."

Mr. Ashton, of Chicago, at the NOMINATIONS Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, WERE MADE. "When they stated that both McKinley and Roosevelt were nominated by acclamation. Acclamation means the weight of the vote, not the number of votes raised, and the other side of