

ANOTHER HALL OF FAME.

WILLING TO BE DEVOTED TO AMERICANS BY ADOPTION.

GEORGE WASHINGTON THE UNANIMOUS CHOICE OF THE PRESENT JUDGES-LINCOLN AND WEBSTER NEXT-LIST OF NAMES COMPLETED.

Another Hall of Fame is to rise among the buildings of New-York University, on the wooded slopes of Morris Heights. It is to stand beside the Hall of Fame already erected and fast nearing completion, and its memorial panels are also intended for Americans who have achieved renown and honor.

The building of such a twin memorial hall was first proposed yesterday in a resolution adopted by the Senate of the New-York University. Plans had already been sketched by McKim, White & Mead, with whom Chancellor MacCracken had a long conference.

PRESENT AND FUTURE RULES APPROVED. That part of the resolution which directly refers to these communications reads as follows:

The New-York University Senate for a number of reasons cordially approve the strict limitation of the Hall of Fame to native born Americans. At the same time they would welcome a memorial to foreign born Americans, as follows:

The site of the new hall would extend in the form of a semicircular open colonnade from the Hall of Applied Sciences to the Hall of Philosophy. The present Hall of Fame extends from the Hall of Philosophy to the Hall of Languages.

RESULT OF YESTERDAY'S COUNT.

The name of George Washington was found the unanimous choice of the judges yesterday and heads the list of famous native born Americans. Second to him rank Lincoln and Daniel Webster, both of whom received the same number of votes, and in fourth place is found the name of Benjamin Franklin.

Table listing names and vote counts for the Hall of Fame. Includes George Washington (97), Abraham Lincoln (96), Daniel Webster (96), Benjamin Franklin (94), Thomas Jefferson (90), Henry Clay (74), John Adams (61), etc.

THOSE CHOSEN FROM EACH GROUP.

The following table shows the number found eligible from each group and their relative rank: Rulers and statesmen, 71; Scientists, 2; Authors and editors, 4; Educators, 1; etc.

When the count was ended yesterday, and Chancellor MacCracken, as chairman of the Canvassing Committee, announced the result, two hands that had been playing in woful discord because of their different melodies in an attempt to honor Columbus's discovery of America, came together in peaceful union.

The detailed vote which was canvassed yesterday, arranged according to the different classes of judges, is as follows:

Table showing detailed vote counts by class: (a) Rulers and Statesmen, (b) Scientists, (c) Authors and Editors, (d) Educators, (e) Physicians, (f) Lawyers, (g) Preachers and Ministers, (h) Soldiers and Sailors, (i) Missionaries and Explorers, (j) Philanthropists, (k) Musicians and Sculptors.

SOUTHERNER LEAVES LINCOLN OUT.

It will at once be seen that the choice of Washington by the ninety-seven delegates was unanimous. Lincoln and Webster are the unanimous choice of the first three classes, but was cut out by one of the justices.

Friends of sound money and national honor will be encouraged by a large registration, and urge your friends to register, to-day.

MURDER WILL OUT.

This remarkable vote threw Lincoln and Webster into second place.

The vote yesterday was by far heavier than that polled for any single group in the preceding days. The seven men who were found eligible stood head and shoulders above the prescribed mark.

A study of the above table reveals some interesting shades and differences of opinion. James Monroe, for instance, in spite of the fact that twelve justices voted for him, received not a single vote from the publicists, editors and authors.

NOTES OF VARIOUS JUDGES.

Some individual ballots were as follows: Grover Cleveland voted for Samuel Adams, Franklin, Jay, Jefferson, Lincoln, Madison, Washington and Webster.

Chief Justice Fuller voted straight, with the exception of Benton, Hancock, Seward and Sumner.

President Low of Columbia voted for John Adams, Samuel Adams, Clay, Franklin, Patrick Henry, Jackson, Jay, Jefferson, Lincoln, Madison, Monroe, Washington and Webster.

PRESENT JUDGES MAY SERVE AGAIN.

The following resolutions were adopted by the University Senate: First—The thirty names that have each received the approval of fifty-one judges or more shall be inscribed in the Hall of Fame.

Second—The cordial thanks of the Senate of New-York University are returned to each of the judges for this service rendered to the public.

Third—The official book of the Hall of Fame, the names of which have been approved by the Senate, shall be sent to each of the one hundred judges as a memento of this service.

Fourth—The names of the judges under the rule of the Hall of Fame, will take action in the year 1902 toward filling at that time the vacant panels belonging to the present year, being twenty in number.

Fifth—They invite each member of the present Board of Judges to serve as a judge in 1902. Should any one of the present Board have laid down his educational or public office, his successor may, by preference, be invited to serve in 1902.

Sixth—Each nomination of the present year to the Hall of Fame that has failed to receive a majority will be considered a nomination for the year following, and the name of the nominee shall be written by five of the Board of Judges, or by the New-York University Senate in such way as it may be preferred, to be included in the list of names to be presented to the United States that shall be addressed to the New-York University Senate and will be received and considered by that body.

NEW DEMAND ON MOROCCO.

London, Oct. 12.—The United States, according to a dispatch from Tangier, has renewed the demand upon the Government of Morocco for £1,000 as indemnity to the family of Marcus Azzagui, a naturalized American citizen, who was murdered by a mob at Fez last June.

Marcus Azzagui, who was the manager of the Fez branch of the firm of Braunsegg & Co., while riding on horseback through a narrow street in Fez last June, was killed by a mob of Moroccan religious fanatics, and a dispute ensued, the crowd drew his revolver and fired, wounding a native. This was the signal for a general attack upon the American, who received a dozen knife wounds, and whose body was burned, according to some accounts, before his life was extinct.

NEW STATE CORPORATIONS.

Albany, Oct. 12.—Certificates of incorporation were filed with the Secretary of State to-day as follows: The Huntington Photographic Supply Company, Company of Huntington, Suffolk County, capital, $20,000. Directors: J. M. Brush, William H. Lewis and H. S. Bruch, of Huntington.

EMPEROR DOWAGER SINKING.

Kronberg, Oct. 12.—The marshal of Emperor Dowager Frederick announces that Her Majesty's illness has reached the acute stage in the last few days, but is in the opinion of her medical attendants her condition may shortly be improved.

FRIENDS OF SOUND MONEY AND NATIONAL HONOR.

Will be encouraged by a large registration, and urge your friends to register, to-day.

SOCIETY'S WEEK END.

The second day of the Morristown show was as great a success as the first. The boxes were well filled and many house parties are being given in the neighborhood.

Among those who were present yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. H. McK. Twombly, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Livingston, Mrs. Stephen Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stewart, of Short Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Vernam, the Misses Vernam, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. McCurdy, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Freilighuyzen, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Thebaud, Mr. and Mrs. Waterbury, the Misses Waterbury, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Appleton, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph H. Kissel, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Thers, Mr. and Mrs. John O. H. Pitney, Miss Margaret Lanier Winslow and Mrs. Julius Catlin.

To-day will close the show. This will be the last of the series of important suburban horse shows of the season. These shows have been the novelty of the year, and from the one at Morristown which started in August, to the Hot Springs of Virginia.

Among the arrivals yesterday from Europe were Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Cameron. They have just completed a tour around the world, their honeymoon trip. They will go to Loxox for a short visit.

President Eliot of Harvard voted for John Quincy Adams, John Adams, Samuel Adams, Calhoun, Chase, Clay, Franklin, Jackson, Jay, Lincoln, Washington and Webster.

Judge Bonfield, of Nevada, voted the twenty names straight, with the exception of Benton, Hancock, Seward and Sumner.

Professor J. P. Jameson, of Brown University, voted for all the twenty names, except Benton, Chase, Hancock, Jay and Sumner.

St. Clair McKelway voted for Benton, Franklin, Lincoln, Washington and Webster.

Whiteley Reid voted for John Quincy Adams, John Adams, Samuel Adams, Calhoun, Chase, Clay, Franklin, Jackson, Jay, Lincoln, Washington and Webster.

Justice and Mrs. George P. Andrews have visiting camp at New-London Mrs. Lindley Hoffman Chapin and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. A. Tremeneber, Mr. and Mrs. Tremeneber have taken a house in New-York for the winter. Mrs. Robert G. Remsen and Miss Mabel Remsen will leave New-London about November 1. Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Scott have purchased a house in East Sixty-fourth-st., where they will live this winter.

The number of ships due from Europe to-day will make a considerable change in the social aspect of the town, as each brings a long list of well known passengers, many of whom will remain over Sunday before going to their country places.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Twombly, who have been in the White Mountains, will return this week to their town house, No. 21 East Fifty-fifth-st. They will go to Lakewood, where they usually pass a great part of the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hude Beckman will close their cottage at Newport on Sunday, and will come to New-York, where they will remain for the rest of the season. Mrs. George R. Schieffelin and Mrs. Ismay will stay a short time longer at Southampton.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt will leave Newport on Monday and will pay a short visit to the Virginia Hot Springs. Miss May Goolet will accompany them. Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt will return to town and settle for the winter.

The next meet of the Meadow Brook Hunt will be held this afternoon at Locust Valley. This, should the weather prove propitious, will be one of the best attended of the season, as most of the Meadow Brook people are at home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hude Beckman will close their cottage at Newport on Sunday, and will come to New-York, where they will remain for the rest of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Twombly, who have been in the White Mountains, will return this week to their town house, No. 21 East Fifty-fifth-st. They will go to Lakewood, where they usually pass a great part of the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hude Beckman will close their cottage at Newport on Sunday, and will come to New-York, where they will remain for the rest of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Twombly, who have been in the White Mountains, will return this week to their town house, No. 21 East Fifty-fifth-st. They will go to Lakewood, where they usually pass a great part of the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hude Beckman will close their cottage at Newport on Sunday, and will come to New-York, where they will remain for the rest of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Twombly, who have been in the White Mountains, will return this week to their town house, No. 21 East Fifty-fifth-st. They will go to Lakewood, where they usually pass a great part of the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hude Beckman will close their cottage at Newport on Sunday, and will come to New-York, where they will remain for the rest of the season.

MURDER WILL OUT.

This remarkable vote threw Lincoln and Webster into second place.

The vote yesterday was by far heavier than that polled for any single group in the preceding days. The seven men who were found eligible stood head and shoulders above the prescribed mark.

A study of the above table reveals some interesting shades and differences of opinion. James Monroe, for instance, in spite of the fact that twelve justices voted for him, received not a single vote from the publicists, editors and authors.

NOTES OF VARIOUS JUDGES.

Some individual ballots were as follows: Grover Cleveland voted for Samuel Adams, Franklin, Jay, Jefferson, Lincoln, Madison, Washington and Webster.

Chief Justice Fuller voted straight, with the exception of Benton, Hancock, Seward and Sumner.

President Low of Columbia voted for John Adams, Samuel Adams, Clay, Franklin, Patrick Henry, Jackson, Jay, Jefferson, Lincoln, Madison, Monroe, Washington and Webster.

Justice and Mrs. George P. Andrews have visiting camp at New-London Mrs. Lindley Hoffman Chapin and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. A. Tremeneber, Mr. and Mrs. Tremeneber have taken a house in New-York for the winter.

St. Clair McKelway voted for Benton, Franklin, Lincoln, Washington and Webster.

Whiteley Reid voted for John Quincy Adams, John Adams, Samuel Adams, Calhoun, Chase, Clay, Franklin, Jackson, Jay, Lincoln, Washington and Webster.

Justice and Mrs. George P. Andrews have visiting camp at New-London Mrs. Lindley Hoffman Chapin and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. A. Tremeneber, Mr. and Mrs. Tremeneber have taken a house in New-York for the winter.

The number of ships due from Europe to-day will make a considerable change in the social aspect of the town, as each brings a long list of well known passengers, many of whom will remain over Sunday before going to their country places.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Twombly, who have been in the White Mountains, will return this week to their town house, No. 21 East Fifty-fifth-st. They will go to Lakewood, where they usually pass a great part of the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hude Beckman will close their cottage at Newport on Sunday, and will come to New-York, where they will remain for the rest of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Twombly, who have been in the White Mountains, will return this week to their town house, No. 21 East Fifty-fifth-st. They will go to Lakewood, where they usually pass a great part of the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hude Beckman will close their cottage at Newport on Sunday, and will come to New-York, where they will remain for the rest of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Twombly, who have been in the White Mountains, will return this week to their town house, No. 21 East Fifty-fifth-st. They will go to Lakewood, where they usually pass a great part of the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hude Beckman will close their cottage at Newport on Sunday, and will come to New-York, where they will remain for the rest of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Twombly, who have been in the White Mountains, will return this week to their town house, No. 21 East Fifty-fifth-st. They will go to Lakewood, where they usually pass a great part of the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hude Beckman will close their cottage at Newport on Sunday, and will come to New-York, where they will remain for the rest of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Twombly, who have been in the White Mountains, will return this week to their town house, No. 21 East Fifty-fifth-st. They will go to Lakewood, where they usually pass a great part of the winter season.

THE PASSING THROUG.

Ex-Governor S. T. Hauser of Montana, speaking yesterday at the Fifth Avenue Hotel of the somewhat complicated political situation in MONTANA'S outlook in the State said: "You THREE COR- know there is a triangular political contest going on in Montana now. There are the straight Republicans, and the Democrats are divided in twain. The Daily Democrats bolted the convention, and the Clark wing of the party controlled the Legislature and the Executive forces cast in their lot with the Republicans in an effort to secure the Legislature and also to elect certain Democratic Legislators will carry a successor to the present Republican Senator, Thomas H. Carter, of Helena. The ad interim appointment of Senator Clark only carries to the meeting of this Legislature, so it will choose his successor as well. Thus the incoming Legislature will elect both Senators. If the Daily Democrats in coalition with the Republicans prevail, then the anomaly will be presented of Montana—an unconstitutionally Democratic Legislature being elected by two Republican Senators. This fight does not affect the electoral vote, which will go to Bryan. Both branches of the Democracy are at one on this point. The fight is on State, not National, issues. I have been absent from Montana for some time, and consequently am not up to date in my venture a prediction on the outcome. A Daily man, however, told me yesterday that, much as he regretted the fact that the Legislature will elect a Democratic Legislature, he thought the Heinze combination was going to succeed and win out when the votes were counted."

Walter Emerson, of Portland, Me., who is speaking throughout this State in behalf of the Republican ticket, when seen at the A. C. M. Hotel Earlington yesterday, said: "I have uniformly had good meetings, and the people have been enthusiastic everywhere. In fact, I have had better meetings and more ardent campaigning. From what I have seen and heard in my travels, it is all over but the shouting, although the campaign should hold warm for the next three weeks. Bryan will be overwhelmingly beaten in this State. Up to the date they are perfectly confident of coming down to the Harlem River with at least one hundred thousand more votes than Bryan can come up to the river with. I hear too that the Republicans have notable gains in Erie and Kings, and that it is not at all impossible that we will carry the latter county."

I had one amusing experience during this campaign. I received a rather good dinner, which I was spending, while he nearly started to death. I can well afford to tell the story. I was alone in this way. The congressman and myself were scheduled to speak at a town where the railroad station was some distance from the town proper. On our arrival I went to the ticket office to look up the trains. On my return I found two men waiting for me. They were both well known to me, and I had the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of conducting the Congressman to the town. One of them turned out to be the chairman of the committee on the subject of the election in charge, and the other was the postmaster of the town. As I joined the group, the postmaster, who was in charge, said to me: "Well, I'll escort Mr. Emerson, provided you'll allow me to go first. This was agreed to, and so off we started. The Congressman, however, did not do it. He said he was going to stay and the committee chairman of the other. He had beaten the latter in the fight for postmaster, and he was going to stay. He said he would have the honor of