

Advertisements

Table listing various advertisements with columns for 'Page' and 'Col'.

Index to Advertisements

Table listing various advertisements with columns for 'Page' and 'Col'.

Knox Hats

The Knox Hat has unquestionably Correct Style, Superior Quality, Highest Class Workmanship.

New-York Daily Tribune

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1900.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING

FOREIGN.—It was officially announced that Kateri was dead, and the Yi Hsen had committed suicide by swallowing goldleaf.

CITY.—Stocks were active and irregular at small final changes. Winners at the Empire City track yesterday were: Arcturion, Trumpet, Sweet Tooth, General Mart Garry.

DOMESTIC.—The will of John Sherman was filed for probate, disposing of an estate estimated at $2,000,000.

THE WEATHER.—Forecast for to-day: Showers. The temperature yesterday: Highest, 64 degrees; lowest, 57; average, 61 1/2.

Advertisers in THE DAILY TRIBUNE will be gratified to know that the Presidential Campaign has increased the circulation of this newspaper in Greater New York many thousand copies a day.

THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE enjoys, by the way, a much larger sale than the Daily, and this, so far as we are informed, is true of no other Republican newspaper in New-York City.

SOUTHERN APATHY

The electoral votes of all the Southern States except those upon the border are, of course, going to be cast for Mr. Bryan.

"The Nashville American" a few days ago published an article entitled "What Is the Matter?" saying: "The apathy prevailing among the voters of this county, and especially among the Democrats, does not indicate that sort of 'party spirit' which might be expected to be a 'conscious trait' in the ranks."

"The American" gives warning that Nashville's representation in party conventions is in danger of being reduced by the light vote, and it calls on Democrats to arouse themselves simply to maintain their own influence in the party.

The answer is found in many other papers, however. A prominent New-Orleans journal which supports Mr. Bryan this week publishes a long article on "The Prosperity of the Farmer," which, after quoting prices of what he buys and sells, says: "It is no wonder that the farmers are enjoying a most prosperous season."

Another answer is to be found in the daily admissions of Southern papers that they have no heart in either anti-imperialism or free silver. Some of them openly repudiate both and make fun of Mr. Bryan's constitutional arguments.

AN UNANSWERED QUESTION

"The Washington Post," which does not believe in the Republican view of the relation of the newly acquired territories to the Constitution, is nevertheless able to face frankly the dilemma involved in the discussion and acknowledges the practical advantages which would accrue from a decision by the Supreme Court upholding the Porto Rican legislation. It says:

If, in opposition to what we expect, the court should sustain the Republican contention, it would be an easy matter to get rid of the Philippines in case their retention became undesirable. As "property" they could be sold, given away or otherwise disposed of. If they are not under the Constitution, if they are an integral part of the United States, where is the constitutional authority for permitting them to pass out of the sovereignty of this Republic? "The Post" has pronounced that question several times, but it has not been answered.

THE BRAN'S PHILIPPINE CAMPAIGN

The following quotations are from a letter recently sent to a friend in this country by an American residing in the Philippines: Conditions were improving here very rapidly up to the time Bryan was nominated and began to talk in public.

THE COFFEE CASE.—The recent decision of the Court of Appeals in the case of Michael J. Coffey has excited much interest and some controversy.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

convinces them that nothing but the hope of contributing by such means to the defeat of the Republican Administration and its policy inspires the insurgents to keep up until the end of the political campaign in this country a contest which they will abandon so soon as McKinley is re-elected, and which has already passed into the stage of hideous atrocities.

REPUBLICANS FOR CONGRESS

In selecting his candidates for Congress in this part of the State Mr. Croker has been even less considerate than usual of the true interests of this great centre of commerce, manufacturing and business of every sort.

THOSE SOUTH AFRICAN CONTRACTS

Further information comes to hand about those South African railroad contracts which have been or are to be placed in the United States, and over which some futile efforts have been made to raise a political pother against the British Government.

An important and influential committee of the Chamber of Commerce has adopted a report in favor of municipal control of gas and electricity for the use of New-Yorkers.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

PERSONAL.—The Fairmount Park Association, of Philadelphia, has decided to erect a statue of Robert Morris to cost $15,000.

wit party duty is, and to "isolate" those who refuse to accept their dictation. The law, however, gives them no such power, and it could not give them any such power without practically destroying democratic institutions; for under our system parties control our Government, and unless the individual citizens can act freely within the parties and make their will felt through them they are utterly deprived of all voice in their government.

So many candidates for the Legislature of 1901 have now pledged themselves against Ramapo that New-Yorkers feel like taking a long breath of relief. The people of the 11th Congress District of this State, which includes Brooklyn Heights, the financial centre of the Kings County Borough, are without doubt in favor of sound money and they ought to be represented at Washington efficiently and effectually for sound money and not by a man who is at odds with the most vital of his own party's principles, but not enough at odds with the organization to dissolve partnership with it when it accepts free silver and Bryan. Mr. Fitzgerald, the Democratic candidate, we believe, says he is a gold man, but if elected he will doubtless vote for Mr. Richardson or some other silver man for Speaker, and if possible give the Bryanites power to overturn the gold standard, even if he does not vote for the overturning bill himself.

Mr. Chamberlain's relations in the manufacture of military supplies sold under contract to the Government have provoked no end of malicious comment, and the War Office issues a circular ordering that hereafter all bidders must submit the names of their partners in business, or, if companies, the names of their directors, so that it can see at a glance with whom it is dealing.

Mr. Chamberlain's relations in the manufacture of military supplies sold under contract to the Government have provoked no end of malicious comment, and the War Office issues a circular ordering that hereafter all bidders must submit the names of their partners in business, or, if companies, the names of their directors, so that it can see at a glance with whom it is dealing.

Mr. Chamberlain's relations in the manufacture of military supplies sold under contract to the Government have provoked no end of malicious comment, and the War Office issues a circular ordering that hereafter all bidders must submit the names of their partners in business, or, if companies, the names of their directors, so that it can see at a glance with whom it is dealing.

Mr. Chamberlain's relations in the manufacture of military supplies sold under contract to the Government have provoked no end of malicious comment, and the War Office issues a circular ordering that hereafter all bidders must submit the names of their partners in business, or, if companies, the names of their directors, so that it can see at a glance with whom it is dealing.

Mr. Chamberlain's relations in the manufacture of military supplies sold under contract to the Government have provoked no end of malicious comment, and the War Office issues a circular ordering that hereafter all bidders must submit the names of their partners in business, or, if companies, the names of their directors, so that it can see at a glance with whom it is dealing.

Mr. Chamberlain's relations in the manufacture of military supplies sold under contract to the Government have provoked no end of malicious comment, and the War Office issues a circular ordering that hereafter all bidders must submit the names of their partners in business, or, if companies, the names of their directors, so that it can see at a glance with whom it is dealing.

Mr. Chamberlain's relations in the manufacture of military supplies sold under contract to the Government have provoked no end of malicious comment, and the War Office issues a circular ordering that hereafter all bidders must submit the names of their partners in business, or, if companies, the names of their directors, so that it can see at a glance with whom it is dealing.

Mr. Chamberlain's relations in the manufacture of military supplies sold under contract to the Government have provoked no end of malicious comment, and the War Office issues a circular ordering that hereafter all bidders must submit the names of their partners in business, or, if companies, the names of their directors, so that it can see at a glance with whom it is dealing.

Mr. Chamberlain's relations in the manufacture of military supplies sold under contract to the Government have provoked no end of malicious comment, and the War Office issues a circular ordering that hereafter all bidders must submit the names of their partners in business, or, if companies, the names of their directors, so that it can see at a glance with whom it is dealing.

Mr. Chamberlain's relations in the manufacture of military supplies sold under contract to the Government have provoked no end of malicious comment, and the War Office issues a circular ordering that hereafter all bidders must submit the names of their partners in business, or, if companies, the names of their directors, so that it can see at a glance with whom it is dealing.

Mr. Chamberlain's relations in the manufacture of military supplies sold under contract to the Government have provoked no end of malicious comment, and the War Office issues a circular ordering that hereafter all bidders must submit the names of their partners in business, or, if companies, the names of their directors, so that it can see at a glance with whom it is dealing.

Mr. Chamberlain's relations in the manufacture of military supplies sold under contract to the Government have provoked no end of malicious comment, and the War Office issues a circular ordering that hereafter all bidders must submit the names of their partners in business, or, if companies, the names of their directors, so that it can see at a glance with whom it is dealing.

Mr. Chamberlain's relations in the manufacture of military supplies sold under contract to the Government have provoked no end of malicious comment, and the War Office issues a circular ordering that hereafter all bidders must submit the names of their partners in business, or, if companies, the names of their directors, so that it can see at a glance with whom it is dealing.

THE DRAMA

LITERARY CURIOSITIES AT WALLACK'S—MRS. LE MOYNE AS A QUEEN.

Robert Browning's well-known versified colloquy entitled "In a Balcony,"—a composition that is admirable for its occasional flights of rhetoric and deplorable for its dreary artifice,—was inflicted upon a considerable audience, mostly of females, yesterday afternoon, at Wallack's Theatre, Mrs. Le Moyne assuming the amatory Queen, and Mr. Otis Skinner presenting the stolid, sonorous, and all-fascinating Norbert. The effect, aside from a few moments of polished elocution by Mrs. Le Moyne, and one fine outburst of passion by Mr. Skinner, was ghastly. The play, if it can be called which is merely dialogue, is fantastic and ridiculous in plot, morbid in spirit, absolutely uninteresting in its dramatic construction, and devoid of all dramatic interest.

The defect of Browning's play is not artificial, and dramatic, and mostly composed of long, tangled, oratorical speeches such as human beings never did, and never could, address to one another (least of all when dominated by love), under any possible influence of feelings, sequent upon any conceivable set of circumstances. Blank verse, to be sure, is not the language of Nature; but Nature (as Shakespeare has taught us), can speak, with perfect simplicity and perfect music, through blank verse. The defect of Browning's play is not artificial, and dramatic, and mostly composed of long, tangled, oratorical speeches such as human beings never did, and never could, address to one another (least of all when dominated by love), under any possible influence of feelings, sequent upon any conceivable set of circumstances.

Mrs. Le Moyne's production of the piece has served only to emphasize the fact that it is unsuitable for the stage. Toward its end, a lady, the Queen, and a woman, the Queen, is allowed to perceive the full truth and meaning of the mistake, this colloquy struggles wearily into something like a dramatic situation; here Mr. Otis Skinner, a romantic actor of genuine power, bursts the cerements of syntax and spoke in a man's voice from a man's heart. Mrs. Le Moyne's delivery of the speech in which the Queen avows to Norbert that indeed she loves him, is a masterpiece of the art, with a long address on the political situation. It may, however, be assumed that Browning's poem is remembered by all persons who are likely to read these remarks.

Among those who are due on the ships coming from abroad are Mrs. Horace Porter, the wife of the Ambassador to France; Frank Lawrence, Mrs. E. Lorillard, Miss Callender and Miss De Forest, Mrs. Henry Cram and the Misses Cram. An interesting incident of the future is the annual sale of boxes and seats for the Horse Show, which will take place on Thursday, November 8, at the Garden Theatre. The Horse Show will begin on Monday, November 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hodge will return from Lenox about November 15 to their town house, in West Fifty-second-st., which is being prepared for their arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Chatfield Chatfield-Taylor, of Chicago, proposed to spend the winter in New-York.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Freilinghuysen will pass the autumn at Tuxedo, where they have a cottage.

Mrs. Adolf Ladenburg has now entirely recovered from the effects of her hunting accident, and is able to dispense with the assistance of her cane. She took luncheon yesterday at the Waldorf-Astoria. She wore a frock of biscuit colored cloth, the Eton jacket of which was braided with material of the same color. Her hat was of white felt with white satin. Her three-cornered hat of white felt was worn off her face, and had its corner and outside edge of the crown of the hat, with the exception of the left side, which shaded from the palest pink to the deepest purple.

JOHN ADDISON PORTER'S ILLNESS. PRESIDENT'S FORMER SECRETARY SUFFERING FROM A FATAL DISEASE—HIS CASE HOPELESS.

Pomfret, Conn., Oct. 25.—John Addison Porter, formerly secretary to President McKinley, lies dangerously ill at his home in this place. It is understood that he is suffering from an abdominal cancer. For many months before he resigned his position as secretary to the President, he had been suffering from a disease which has now reached a fatal stage. His Executive had been in poor health, and his suffering finally made it imperative that he should resign his position. He had been suffering from a disease which has now reached a fatal stage. His Executive had been in poor health, and his suffering finally made it imperative that he should resign his position.

THE BOLIVIAN MINISTER'S ADDRESS. Fernando E. Guachalla, the new Minister of Bolivia to the United States, delivered the following address on the occasion of his reception by President McKinley: Your Excellency: It is the aim of the Bolivian Government in its intercourse with those of the other American republics, to further their fraternal union under the auspices of justice and respect for the rights of all nations, and to attain this end, to strengthen the political ties already existing between Bolivia and the United States of America, and to improve the social, industrial and commercial relations between the two countries.

STATE OF LORD RUSSELL OF KILLOWEN. London, Oct. 25.—A meeting of jurists and eminent public men to-night called to determine upon means to perpetuate the memory of Lord Russell of Kilowen, the late Lord Chief Justice of England, decided to erect a statue in the High Court of Justice. Melville Watson Fuller, Chief Justice of the United States, and James C. Carter, of New-York, were invited to join the General Committee. Joseph H. Choate, the United States Ambassador, was chosen member of the Executive Committee.

NOTES OF THE STAGE. Miss Blanche Walsh, who is playing "Marcelle" at the Broadway Theatre, will present "More Than Queen" at that house next Tuesday night.

THE AMERICAN ACADEMY OF THE DRAMATIC ARTS AND EMPIRE THEATRE DRAMATIC SCHOOL will give a series of four new plays of American authorship at the matinees at the Empire Theatre in place of the one act plays, "A Colonial Beau" and "The Acts," by Victor Mapes, which will have their first production on the afternoon of November 8.

THE COMPANY which has been engaged to produce Miss Ada Rehan in Paul Kester's new play, "Sweet Nell of Old Drury," has been called to hear a reading of the piece on Monday morning. Rehearsals will begin at once, and Miss Rehan will have her first appearance in the play on Monday evening, November 20.

JUSTICE FREEDMAN in the Supreme Court on Thursday denied the application of John Army Knox for an injunction restraining Miss Blanche Walsh from using the title "Marcelle" in the play now running at the Broadway Theatre. Knox said that he had, together with James C. Roach, written the play, but that name several years ago had been copyrighted.

ON WEDNESDAY evening the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Meeting Temple of this city, accompanied by friends and invited guests, will, in compliment to their brother Shiner, Edwin H. Price, attend David's Theatre in a body to see "San Toy."

MISS OLGA NETHERLAND leaves Paris, where she has been spending the last month, to-day, and will sail from Cherbourg on the St. Paul.

CITY CLUB AGAINST CONSTABULARY. The Council of the City Club on Thursday last passed a resolution declaring itself against the establishment of a State constabulary as a remedy for abuses in the Police Department.

SOCIETY'S WEEK END

Friday is the date usually set for out of town house parties. Many remained over for the reception to Governor Roosevelt, and the mass was in the minority at most of the autumn resorts last evening. The ball at Tuxedo, however, took place with great élan. Next week there will be some tableaux there for the benefit of the Episcopal Church, of which the Rev. George Grenville Merrill is rector. Mr. Merrill is the brother-in-law of George W. Vanderbilt.

Shillalah's were the feature of the collision affair at the Tuxedo Club ball last night. The dancing took place in the large circular ballroom adjoining the clubhouse, which was beautifully decorated with foliage and evergreens. At 1 o'clock supper was served in the dining room, and dancing was afterward resumed. The cotillon, which was led by Mr. and Mrs. Jules J. Vatable, began at 11 o'clock, and the favors, besides the shillalahs, included Japanese dolls, gold and silver buds, baskets of flowers and flags of all nations. Two orchestras played alternately from the opposite ends of the ballroom. In the evening, prior to the ball, many dinners were given at the clubhouse and cottages. Mrs. Charles B. Alexander's guests included Mrs. W. W. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. C. Pell, Mr. and Mrs. Price Collier and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. C. Pell, Mr. and Mrs. Price Collier and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. C. Pell, Mr. and Mrs. Price Collier and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Harris.

The chief incident in town to-day will be the wedding of Charles Bell Gibson Galliard and Miss Adele Erben, the daughter of Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Erben. It will take place at the Church of the Epiphany, Lexington-ave, and Thirty-fifth-st. There will be no reception, but there are many invitations for the church.

Oliver H. Payne has a party out duck shooting in Canada. Among his guests is Dean Sage, of Albany. The party will remain away for the next ten days.

Mrs. E. J. Berwind, of No. 2 East Sixty-fourth-st., has gone to the Hot Springs of Virginia. Her husband, Dr. E. J. Berwind, sails this week for the Deutschland for New-York.

To-day will be one of some interest in the suburbs. At the William R. Grace place, near Great Neck, there is an amateur horse show, which will be of much interest to all the people who live in that part of Long Island. The racing track hounds meet at Newcaste this afternoon and the Westchester hounds at Rye. The Orange hounds meet at the Richardson farm, near Goshen.

Among those who are due on the ships coming from abroad are Mrs. Horace Porter, the wife of the Ambassador to France; Frank Lawrence, Mrs. E. Lorillard, Miss Callender and Miss De Forest, Mrs. Henry Cram and the Misses Cram.

An interesting incident of the future is the annual sale of boxes and seats for the Horse Show, which will take place on Thursday, November 8, at the Garden Theatre. The Horse Show will begin on Monday, November 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hodge will return from Lenox about November 15 to their town house, in West Fifty-second-st., which is being prepared for their arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Chatfield Chatfield-Taylor, of Chicago, proposed to spend the winter in New-York.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Freilinghuysen will pass the autumn at Tuxedo, where they have a cottage.

Mrs. Adolf Ladenburg has now entirely recovered from the effects of her hunting accident, and is able to dispense with the assistance of her cane. She took luncheon yesterday at the Waldorf-Astoria. She wore a frock of biscuit colored cloth, the Eton jacket of which was braided with material of the same color. Her hat was of white felt with white satin. Her three-cornered hat of white felt was worn off her face, and had its corner and outside edge of the crown of the hat, with the exception of the left side, which shaded from the palest pink to the deepest purple.

JOHN ADDISON PORTER'S ILLNESS. PRESIDENT'S FORMER SECRETARY SUFFERING FROM A FATAL DISEASE—HIS CASE HOPELESS.

Pomfret, Conn., Oct. 25.—John Addison Porter, formerly secretary to President McKinley, lies dangerously ill at his home in this place. It is understood that he is suffering from an abdominal cancer. For many months before he resigned his position as secretary to the President, he had been suffering from a disease which has now reached a fatal stage. His Executive had been in poor health, and his suffering finally made it imperative that he should resign his position. He had been suffering from a disease which has now reached a fatal stage. His Executive had been in poor health, and his suffering finally made it imperative that he should resign his position.

THE BOLIVIAN MINISTER'S ADDRESS. Fernando E. Guachalla, the new Minister of Bolivia to the United States, delivered the following address on the occasion of his reception by President McKinley: Your Excellency: It is the aim of the Bolivian Government in its intercourse with those of the other American republics, to further their fraternal union under the auspices of justice and respect for the rights of all nations, and to attain this end, to strengthen the political ties already existing between Bolivia and the United States of America, and to improve the social, industrial and commercial relations between the two countries.

STATE OF LORD RUSSELL OF KILLOWEN. London, Oct. 25.—A meeting of jurists and eminent public men to-night called to determine upon means to perpetuate the memory of Lord Russell of Kilowen, the late Lord Chief Justice of England, decided to erect a statue in the High Court of Justice. Melville Watson Fuller, Chief Justice of the United States, and James C. Carter, of New-York, were invited to join the General Committee. Joseph H. Choate, the United States Ambassador, was chosen member of the Executive Committee.

NOTES OF THE STAGE. Miss Blanche Walsh, who is playing "Marcelle" at the Broadway Theatre, will present "More Than Queen" at that house next Tuesday night.

THE AMERICAN ACADEMY OF THE DRAMATIC ARTS AND EMPIRE THEATRE DRAMATIC SCHOOL will give a series of four new plays of American authorship at the matinees at the Empire Theatre in place of the one act plays, "A Colonial Beau" and "The Acts," by Victor Mapes, which will have their first production on the afternoon of November 8.

THE COMPANY which has been engaged to produce Miss Ada Rehan in Paul Kester's new play, "Sweet Nell of Old Drury," has been called to hear a reading of the piece on Monday morning. Rehearsals will begin at once, and Miss Rehan will have her first appearance in the play on Monday evening, November 20.

JUSTICE FREEDMAN in the Supreme Court on Thursday denied the application of John Army Knox for an injunction restraining Miss Blanche Walsh from using the title "Marcelle" in the play now running at the Broadway Theatre. Knox said that he had, together with James C. Roach, written the play, but that name several years ago had been copyrighted.

ON WEDNESDAY evening the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Meeting Temple of this city, accompanied by friends and invited guests, will, in compliment to their brother Shiner, Edwin H. Price, attend David's Theatre in a body to see "San Toy."

MISS OLGA NETHERLAND leaves Paris, where she has been spending the last month, to-day, and will sail from Cherbourg on the St. Paul.

CITY CLUB AGAINST CONSTABULARY. The Council of the City Club on Thursday last passed a resolution declaring itself against the establishment of a State constabulary as a remedy for abuses in the Police Department.