New Designs In Table Linen.

Striped effects of all kinds are much in vogue this season, and some of the newest and best of these designs are controlled by us exclusively. Among them we mention the Tulip and Stripe—A strong, effective pattern, showing plain satiny stripes in center, with large, pendulous stemmed tulips scattered over the entire surface, and arranged so as to form the table border. 2 x 2 yards, $5.00—2 1/2 x 2 1/2 yards, $7.50. Moss Rose. This design has a perfectly plain center surrounded by an inner row of roses, with a plain satin-band table border. Over this border the moss roses are gracefully strewn. 2 x 2 yds., $6.00—2 1/2 x 2 1/2 yds., $10.00. Rose and Stripe. Running through the center are clusters of stripes, broken by sprays of roses and foliage. Larger roses and a profusion of foliage form a combed table and hanging border, which is both artistic and graceful. 2 x 2 yards, $7.00—2 1/2 x 2 1/2 yards, $11.00. Other sizes up to 4 yds. long, in both widths and in all of these patterns, at proportionate prices. Breakfast and Dinner napkins to match.

FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE

THANKSGIVING ON THE HORIZON. The poet says: "The turkey is an emblem in a way of bigger things." We esteem him most when dressed with sage and thyme, and garnished. So with your dining-room: if it is tastefully furnished and decorated, your Thanksgiving feast will be more appreciated. This is the time to allow us to "garnish" and "dress" it with rich Oriental rugs and beautiful fabrics for hangings and draperies. Oriental ideas for decorative schemes and original and antique designs in dining-room furniture at factory prices, as you

FOUR INJURED IN RUNAWAY. AUTOMOBILES AND HORSES MIXED UP.

A pair of horses attached to an open coach ran away at Madison-ave. and Thirty-first-st. late yesterday afternoon, threw the driver and a man off the front seat, caused a woman to jump into the street, and bruised another woman occupant of the coach, who was thrown out. The woman who jumped sustained bruises of the body as Miss Elizabeth Welsh, of No. 28 Vernon-ave., Brooklyn. The man escorting them was William Brown, of No. 4 Downing-st., Brooklyn, and the driver, James Dempsey, of No. 1,000 Atlantic-ave. Brown and Dempsey were cut on the head and bruised about the body and arms.

Mr. Brown and his friends were on their way home. The driver discovered a bolt had been lost from the wheel, and, being unable to get another, tied the parts with a strong string. At Thirty-first-st. the string became loose, got down around the horses' feet, and frightened them into running away. The animals slewed the coach against the curb and broke loose. Miss Welsh jumped out, and Brown and Dempsey were thrown out. The other woman was badly sliced in the arm, and was almost unconscious when taken out of the coach.

Dr. Potter, of Bellevue, was called to treat the injured, who seemed anxious to be released. An ambulance from Dr. Walton's private hospital, at No. 519 Fifth-ave., conveyed them to Brooklyn. Their injuries were not serious. The horses, released from the coach, dashed down the avenue at a fearful gallop. They ran into a milk wagon, and the driver came near having a runaway of his own. The pair got mixed up with some automobiles and other vehicles at Twenty-ninth-st., and a citizen held the truck, were forced to stop. A citizen held them.

PRODUCE EXCHANGE PARADE. COTTON BROKERS FALL IN WITH THE PROCESSION AS IT PASSES BY.

As on the day following the election of McKinley and Hobart in 1896, the members of the New-York Produce Exchange yesterday organized a parade in celebration of the success of the Republican National ticket. The 8th Regiment Band of forty pieces appeared on the trading floor of the Produce Exchange at about 2:45 p. m., and business was stopped then and there. After ten or fifteen minutes of music and cheering the procession was formed and moved down Beaver-st. toward the Cotton Exchange. First came a double line of police officers, then the band, then the Produce Exchange members. Around into Pearl-st. the procession advanced, and out of Pearl-st. into Wall-st., where the Custom House Sound Music Club's contingent joined the line. A crowd had gathered in Wall-st., and it cheered heartily as the brokers marched up the street and turned into Broad-st. In the line were borne the banners of the Produce and Maritime Exchange organizations, and at the top of a long pole, in a statted box adorned with lithographs of McKinley and Roosevelt and a crape veiled picture of Bryan, was carried a gamecock. At the Cotton Exchange a number of members of the Sound Money Club of that body, with their campaign banners, followed the Produce Exchange members. SALE OF RICH COLORADO MINE. SYNDICATE OF BRITISH FIRMS BUYS PORTLAND MINE FOR $15,000,000.

Denver, Nov. 7 (Special).—The Portland gold mine at Cripple Creek has been sold to an English syndicate for a sum approaching $15,000,000. The purchasers are a combination of British financiers, including the Venture Corporation, the Exploration Company (Limited), of London; Werner, Heit & Co., the great Scotch iron firm, and a certain number of leading capitalists of London. A certain amount will be paid down. The British company will be organized to take over the property and the stock floated in London. Payments are to be made at intervals. The mine is to be managed by the present owners under the supervision of British purchasers until the purchase money is entirely paid. The Portland is one of the greatest as well as one of the best developed mining properties in Colorado, and comprises the largest acreage of any developed mine in the Chippie Creek district. The company owns 183 acres and has paid more in dividends than any other mining company now in existence in Colorado. None of its treasury stock has ever been offered for sale, all having been used in the purchase of new property. The workings measure fifteen miles.

GHOSTS IN GRAMERCY PARK. FOUND TO BE OF THE HUMAN SORT. SUFFERING FROM DELIRIUM TREMENS.

Until within the last few days Gramercy Park was thought to be haunted. The simple minded serving gentry in the aristocratic homes about the park first started the gossip, then members of the Players' Club, who had played parts in Shakespearean tragedies, began to talk about it, and finally several gray headed men, whose families had lived with ancestral seclusion in that part of the city since the streets were laid out, began a searching investigation. The cause of the gossip, the discussion and the investigation was a series of strange and unearthly lights which began to be heard with especial distinctness shortly after sundown. At first the sounds were thought to be the howls of cats. This theory was soon shattered. Those who had made a specialty of the subject said that cat howls always have a certain crescendo and diminuendo and a final spitter. In the howls which led to the investigation there was a complete absence of the rising and falling movement, as well as of any final spitter. A few chambermaids then spread the story that they had seen a white figure in the square several times just before midnight. The only ghost story proved to be the momentary appearance of a white apron and cap with a member of the Holmes patrol. Meanwhile the howls kept increasing. At times they were heard in the most unlikely places, and then suddenly as if by magic, they would cease. It was then found that the man taken into the hospital had nothing more or less than delirium tremens. The cause of the disease was traced to a cure of such unfortunate. The institution was run, it was found, not wholly on philanthropic principles, since a large fee was charged for each patient filled with delirium tremens and $2 a day for quiet drunks. An indignation meeting was immediately held by the aggrieved residents of Gramercy Park, and the Board upheld the petition and ordered the doctor to move out. The doctor is now looking for another site for his sanatorium.

EXPLOSIVES AT TARRANT'S. THOMAS F. MAIN ADMITS KNOWING THEY WERE THERE IN SMALL QUANTITIES.

A hearing was held yesterday in the investigation into the cause of the recent explosion in the building of Tarrant & Co. Fire Marshal Seery said after the hearing that Thomas F. Main, president of Tarrant & Co., was the only witness heard. Mr. Main had testified that he was mainly occupied in the drug department on the first floor and knew little of affairs on the seventh floor. He had admitted knowing that explosives in small quantities were stored in the building. He promised to give the Fire Marshal a list of all employees of the company. The hearing was adjourned to Saturday. Two safes of Tarrant & Co. were taken from the ruins at Greenwich and Warren-sts. yesterday and removed to the warehouses of Horning, Hall & Marvin, to be opened in the presence of the Fire Marshal, District Attorney and representatives of the firm. Fire Marshal Seery, Patrolman Lyons, Assistant District Attorney Walsh and representatives of Tarrant's were at the warehouses when the safes reached that place. One safe is large and the other small. Both were in the Tarrant office on the first floor. Neither safe is damaged much, Mr. Walsh contended that the Fire Marshal had a perfect right to open the safes and take possession of the books if he found in them anything needed for his investigation. Tarrant & Co. and their counsel objected to this. The large safe was readily opened and its contents found intact and apparently not damaged, except by water. It had been expected that the contents of the firm would show the purchase of explosives, but it was found that the original invoices received of goods purchased were not kept on file. Only the amounts of such purchases were entered in the ledger book. The original invoices were filed in an ordinary letter file and were not put in the safe. The originals were, therefore, destroyed at the time of the fire. The examination of the books was not ended and will be resumed at 11 o'clock this morning. Another smaller safe will be opened at the same time.

INSURANCE TO BE DELAYED. The committee of five, appointed at the last meeting of the insurance companies involved in the Greenwich-st. fire, made its report yesterday. The report was not made public. It was said a fuller investigation of the fire and explosion in Tarrant & Co.'s place will be made and that nothing will be done toward settling the losses until it had been learned definitely what the buildings destroyed had contained.

BARRED BODIES FROM HIS HOUSE. LANDLORD REFUSES TO ALLOW FUNERAL OF TENANTS TO BE HELD IN THEIR APARTMENT.

Mrs. Charles Peppy, thirty-four years old, of No. 1508 B'way, died in the German Hospital Monday night from typhoid fever, and her brother, John D. Collins, thirty-two years old, who had lived with her, died from the same ailment at midnight last night. The woman had faithfully attended the man for several weeks, till she also became ill. Godfrey Schultz, owner of the apartment house in which they had lived, refused to allow their bodies to be taken into the house, on the ground that other tenants, fearing a contagious disease, had threatened to move if he did so. Cornelius F. Collins, of No. 202 Webster-ave., a brother of John D. Collins, who had taken the management of the funeral, had the bodies taken to an undertaking establishment. He was indignant, and said he intended seeing what could be done with One-hundred-and-seventy-fifth-st. and No. 1508 B'way, and no reason why Schultz should not have permitted the bodies to be taken to the house. Dr. Van Der Snissen, a druggist of One-hundred-and-seventy-sixth-st. and Bathgate-ave., said he thought Schultz was right in not letting the bodies be taken into the house.
