

REFORM CLUB HAS HOPE.

CITY'S WELFARE DISCUSSED AT THE DINNER BY MANY SPEAKERS.

EDWARD M. SHEPARD SAYS THE MOVEMENT HAS INCREASING VITALITY—CONTROLLER COLER TALKS.

In view of the public sentiment which has during the last two or three weeks acquired such gathering force for the betterment of the social conditions of this city and for the necessity of organized effort to sweep from power an administration which has fostered corruption...

Mr. Shepard was more incisive and more specific in pointing to ways whereby results might be attained. Probably the most pertinent, so far as immediate effect is concerned, of the evening's suggestions that were made during the man's remarks...

FRIENDS OF GOOD GOVERNMENT.

Wallace Macfarlane presided over a gathering that included more than a hundred men who have gained prominence in recent years in the efforts for good government.

Mr. Macfarlane in his opening remarks said that the failure which reform movements had met with in the last twenty years had been due to the political ignorance of the great mass of the people...

CONTROLLED COLER FOR REFORM.

Controller Coler was the first regular speaker of the evening. When he rose to respond to the chairman's introduction he was loudly cheered.

Reform government must of necessity be progressive government, not extravagant and not miserly. It must be government for the people, not for the few.

Mr. Coler went on to speak of the public school system. He believed that the main end of the Department of Education should be to give the vast majority of children who leave school before fifteen such common sense education as would fit them for everyday walks of life.

EDWARD M. SHEPARD'S TALK.

Edward M. Shepard, in rising to speak next, was also received with the warmest cordiality. At the outset he remarked that of recent years the spirit of such gatherings as that which he was addressing seemed to be declining in vitality and declining optimism.

Mr. Shepard said he was incorrigibly optimistic. "There is vice," he said, "but there is less vice than there was. There is misgovernment, but I think there is less misgovernment than there was. I think the virtues of the city are better. At their lowest they are not so low as they were; at their highest they are higher. So I don't admit that there is foundation for that depressing belief with which we have to deal."

REVISION COMMISSIONERS HAVE DONE THEIR WORK.

They have recognized the true note of municipal government. It is the note of centering responsibility. It will do away with the removable tenure of office, which produces corruption and disorder.

RESOLUTIONS CONDEMN TAMMANY.

At the close of the speaking the following resolutions condemning Tammany Hall and recommending an alliance between all good citizens for the defeat of the organization was presented by the chairman of the Committee on Municipal Affairs, under whose auspices the dinner was given, and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The political faction in power in this city has failed to perform most of the administrative promises made by it when it assumed office in January, 1898...

Resolved, That this meeting recommends the promotion of the union of all citizens of Greater New-York into one organization for the following purposes:

First—Of securing the enactment into law of those provisions which have been recommended by the various revisers, and shall hereafter be deemed wise and valuable.

Second—Of electing in November of 1901 all municipal officers, irrespective of party affiliations, pledged to administer the city government solely for the benefit of the people, and to the promotion of the welfare and safety, education and contentment of all its people.

Third—Of defeating threatened State legislation for the purpose of shifting the responsibility for the maintenance of the city government to the people.

DELAY ANNOYS PURIFIERS

JAMES C. CARTER'S RETURN AWAITED TO ORGANIZE THE COMMITTEE OF FIFTEEN.

Upon the part of some of the members of the Committee of Fifteen the feeling of impatience at the delay in calling the committee together to organize and to formulate a plan of campaign against police protected vice is growing to one of indignation. They contend that valuable time is being unnecessarily lost and that the committee, by its standstill position, is apt to find its public influence and prestige lessened.

Mr. James C. Carter, upon whom, according to parliamentary usage, devolved the duty of calling the first meeting, is generally looked upon as being responsible for the inactive attitude which has been forced upon the committee.

ONLY LAW BUSINESS, SAYS ALBANY.

HILL'S FRIENDS DO NOT EXPECT HIM TO OPENLY DEFEY TAMMANY HALL.

Albany, Dec. 6 (Special).—The reports from New York last night that ex-Senator David B. Hill had extended there, in calling the committee together to organize and to formulate a plan of campaign against police protected vice is growing to one of indignation.

MR. SCHIEREN'S STRONG POINTS.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: My personal preference for Mayor is Charles A. Schieren, former Mayor of Brooklyn. I do not know that he is a personal friend of mine, but I do know that he is the best and most efficient Mayor Brooklyn has ever had.

FORMING AGAINST CROKER.

JOHN C. SHEEHAN SAYS ORGANIZATIONS HAVE BEEN PERFECTED IN SIXTEEN DISTRICTS—MR. HILL'S VISIT.

The revolt against the continued domination of Richard Croker in the city and State organizations of the Democratic party is spreading rapidly, and astute politicians said yesterday that the combination formed within party ranks to drive Mr. Croker out of power is of the most formidable character.

My visit to New-York at this time is of no significance. I am not here to help Croker, but to assist in the formation of any anti-Tammany organization. I know nothing about any such movement.

BEYOND 3,000 MARK.

LOW STILL FORGING AHEAD—SCHIEREN OUSTS COLER FROM THIRD PLACE.

The vote for Seth Low in The Tribune Mayoralty candidacy canvass has now passed beyond the three thousand mark, making him still the most strongly supported candidate, either for first or second choice.
