

SMALLPOX CASES AT LARGE

TWO WOMEN PATIENTS SPEND A NIGHT AND A DAY ABOUT THE CITY BEFORE BEING CAUGHT.

Dr. Frederick H. Dillingham, Assistant Sanitary Superintendent, was asked yesterday about the escape of two smallpox patients from No. 55 Carmine-st. The patients were Mrs. Florence Lederer, twenty-seven years old, and Nellie Riley, twenty-four years old. It was learned that they were afflicted with the disease indirectly through tracing the history of the two Dugan boys, who were removed to North Brother Island from No. 413 Hudson-st. The boys had lived at the Carmine-st. house, and a Health Department physician went there to see what he could find. He learned that the two women, although apparently not critically ill, had shown unquestionable signs of smallpox. The physician went out to call an ambulance and a patrolman.

The women acted promptly, and when the doctor went back with a policeman they had disappeared. Dr. Alonzo Blauvelt, who is in charge of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases, last night announced that he had found the Lederer and Riley women and had then removed to North Brother Island. He said that after the women had escaped he gave instructions to the landlady of the Carmine-st. house that if either of them returned she should call the policeman on duty in St. John's Park. The Riley woman landed the house at 5 p. m. yesterday. The policeman searched the house while an ambulance was summoned. The Riley woman was then taken to the island.

Dr. Blauvelt and a policeman familiar with the neighborhood then instituted a search for the Lederer woman. They met her husband, who informed the physician that he had just taken his wife home. Dr. Blauvelt and the policeman and the woman's husband went to the house and found her. An ambulance was summoned and the woman was then taken to North Brother Island.

CUBAN EDUCATIONAL QUESTIONS.

SUPERINTENDENT FRYE TO COME TO WASHINGTON—UNWILLING TO WORK UNDER PRESENT CONDITIONS.

Havana, Jan. 1.—Superintendent Frye has not assigned, but goes to Washington to ask the Administration to resign in behalf of the Cuban schools. In the trouble between Frye and General Wood, the latter has provided a law giving no power to Frye. The office of School Commissioner is held by Lieutenant Hanna, who holds all the power over the schools, and Frye is helpless to do anything.

An interesting fight is on, as Frye holds the confidence of the Cuban people more than any other American, and will have the great interest he awakened in the schools here to back his claims. Frye will charge that the law was arranged to destroy his influence with the Cubans. Frye states that he may not come back. He has positive he will not work for the Cuban schools under the present conditions.

General Wood will go to Washington in the latter part of January to consult in regard to the constitution, which will be ready then. It is probable that the suspension of Rodriguez in the hands of a Cuban lawyer, with instructions to bring a criminal and civil action for defamation of character.

LORD DUFFERIN TO REMAIN.

HE WITHDRAWS HIS RESIGNATION OF CHAIRMANSHIP OF LONDON AND GLOBE.

London, Jan. 2.—The Marquis of Dufferin and Ava has withdrawn his resignation of the chairmanship of the London and Globe Finance Corporation, Limited, and postponed his departure for South Africa in order to meet the shareholders and consider the position of the company.

An immense number of brokers have been affected more or less seriously by the collapse of the corporation. "The Daily Chronicle" said to-day:

The immediate cause of the trouble was the failure of the Baker Street-Waterloo Railway issue. The London and Globe Finance Corporation in a liability of £1,250,000, and as there was no possibility and is none of raising such a sum, it is probable that the suspension of the company will involve that of the railway. It is probable that the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava will not leave the company. In the minds of many shareholders, the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava is the outside public has to bear.

TWENTY-FIVE LIVES MAY BE LOST.

CAPTAIN OF THE IDUN SAW THREE VESSELS FOUNDER IN BRISTOL CHANNEL.

London, Jan. 1.—The captain of the bark Idun, which has arrived at Cardiff, reports that in course of the gale on Friday he saw three vessels founder in the Bristol Channel, and he believes that as many as twenty-five lives were lost.

THINK IT AN ATTEMPT TO BLACKMAIL.

MAN ARRESTED WHO WROTE HE WAS HURT IN THE HARLEM FIGHT.

August Olsen, twenty-nine years old, a sailor, who refuses to give his address, was arrested yesterday morning at the general delivery window of the General Postoffice as he was in the act of asking for mail for himself. On December 29, it is alleged, Olsen wrote a letter to Mrs. Miles McDonnell asking for money on the ground that he was in the saloon at the time that McDonnell shot four men, and that he was hurt and wanted money so he might send a doctor to his wife.

Mrs. McDonnell wrote the letter to Captain Dean of the East One-hundred-and-twenty-fifth-st. station. The letter contains this: "Unfortunately, at the time of the trouble I got on the floor and got a very bad cut on my head. Two men took me away to a house in Second-ave, and got me a doctor, who fixed my head. They gave me $5 and told me to stay out of the way, as they were waiting for my husband, but I can't stay away on nothing."

The police think that the man was not present at the shooting at all, and that it is a case of blackmail.

THE DUKE OF YORK A REAR-ADMIRAL.

London, Jan. 1.—The Duke of York has been gazetted a rear-admiral.

The promotion from the rank of captain to that of rear-admiral, as a preliminary to his visit to Australia and Canada, gives universal satisfaction, and the fact that this year passes over the heads of sixty-six senior captains will not in the slightest degree detract from his universal popularity in the navy. Since the Duke of Edinburgh succeeded to the Duchy of Saxe-Coburg, the British Navy has lacked the distinction of a prince as a sailor.

MISSIONARIES NOT TO BLAME.

CONSUL-GENERAL GOODNOW NAMES THE CAUSES OF THE BOXER OUTBREAK.

San Francisco, Jan. 1 (Special).—John Goodnow, United States Consul-General at Shanghai, arrived here to-day for a sixty days' vacation, a part of which he will spend in Washington and a part in the States. He has been captured near the State line between Nebraska and South Dakota. Three detectives following Crowe's trail came upon him on the Pine Ridge Reservation, near Rapid City, S. D., captured him, and he was wild chase. Crowe was driving a team and buckboard. He whipped the horses and tried to outrun the horsemen, who soon brought him to a halt with their six-shooters.

Consul-General Goodnow has just reached town with the news, and says that the posse had stopped at a ranch about thirty miles out for luncheon and to feed their horses. KILLED SEVEN HUNDRED BOXERS.

THIS IS THE RECORD CLAIMED BY AN AMERICAN AND HIS WIFE ON THEIR RETURN FROM CHINA.

San Francisco, Jan. 1 (Special).—Among the passengers who arrived to-day on the steamer City of Peking, China, were Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Chamot, who were among the most prominent defenders of the besieged legation in the Chinese capital, when for fifty-six days it was repeatedly stormed and shelled by the Boxers. Mrs. Chamot was formerly a resident of San Francisco, and is the sister of Supervisor McCarthy. She has lived at five places in Peking, and returned here from her first to this city after the foreigners in the capital were penned up in the British Legation.

With Mr. and Mrs. Chamot on the steamer came Pepper Box, a Mongolian pony, occupying a stall on the forward deck. Pepper Box became famous as the only horse not eaten by the besieged whites when waiting for the allied armies. Only three miles stood between him and the butcher when the rescuers came.

The Chamots having lost all of their property in Peking and suffered much as the result of their privations and wounds, have come back from China to remain permanently. For eighteen months Mr. Chamot conducted a hotel in Peking and also owned a silk factory, both of which were wrecked by Boxers' shells. On account of his familiarity with the Chinese and their language he was conspicuous during the siege, and frequently risked his life. On one occasion he left the Legation when the city was swarming with Boxers, and with an escort of coolies made his way for three miles to a place where he secured eighteen head of cattle. He was within eight yards of the legation on his return when the Boxers charged his party, killing eleven coolies and twelve head of cattle. Mr. Chamot, although bleeding from a bullet in the head, one of them on his skull, managed to reach the Legation with the six remaining cattle. He had then shot through the left hand and both legs on the top of the head. Although he received seven wounds during the escape, he was not seriously injured. He had to hold the sick and distressed doctor, who died three days, was shot four times. One of the bullets fired at Mr. Chamot penetrated the brain. Both the unfortunate not penetrating the brain. Both the unfortunate not penetrating the brain.

TWENTY-FIFTH-ST. HIGHWAYMEN.

THEY KNOCK A CONTRACTOR DOWN AND STEAL HIS GOLD WATCH AND CHAIN.

A bold highway robbery occurred last night at 10:30 o'clock in West Twenty-fifth-st., between Sixth and Seventh aves. The victims were Thomas O'Brien, a contractor, and his brother, William O'Brien, both of Rosebank, Staten Island. The men had been visiting their sister in Twenty-fifth-st. Thomas O'Brien was set upon by a man and knocked down. Another man held William O'Brien at arm's length and prevented him from assisting his brother. The man who was knocked down was kicked several times in the face, and then his gold watch and chain, valued at $150, was snatched, and the highwaymen fled toward Seventh-ave. The case at the West Thirtieth-st. station.

TERRIBLY INJURED BY A DYNAMITE BOMB.

NEW-YORKER HURT WHILE CELEBRATING ADVENT OF NEW CENTURY AT PORT CHESTER—NO HOPE OF RECOVERY. IT IS SAID.

Robert Santo, of this city, was terribly mangled in Port Chester early yesterday, while celebrating the advent of the new century. Santo, who is thirty-three years old, with his wife and children, went to Port Chester on Monday to visit his brother, at No. 109 Purdy-ave. At midnight Santo, to amuse the children, set off several large dynamite bombs. One of the bombs not going off promptly, Santo examined it, supposing that the fuse had gone out. It exploded with terrific force while he was doing so, the man's right hand was blown off, and he was badly injured. He was taken to the Woman's Hospital, where Dr. Lewis dressed his injuries. It was said last evening that he would die. He was in no hope of Santo's recovery.

IGNATIUS DONNELLY DEAD.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 1.—Ignatius Donnelly died suddenly at the home of his father-in-law, Barton Hanson, in this city to-night.

COAL TO BE SENT OVER A CURRENT.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Dr. H. F. Pratt, the X-ray specialist, says that it will be possible after reducing coal into a gaseous form to send it through the air on an electric circuit, to be reduced at the place of destination to a solid, and to be sold as coal with all the original qualities of the product dug from the mines.

TO END THE COFFEE AND SUGAR WAR.

Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 1.—The "Times" to-morrow will say: "Very much to be desired at the current time is a coffee and sugar war, which has been so long and bitterly between the Arbuckle and Havemeyer interests, is nearing an adjustment satisfactory to all parties. For four long years past the coffee and sugar companies have advanced in the price of roasted coffee. It is now understood that to-morrow, with an understanding with the Arbuckle Coffee Company, the Arbuckle people will order an advance of one-half-cent a pound on their roasted product."

GREENSBORO AND DAVIS.

EXCITEMENT IN NORTH CAROLINA TOWN OVER CHARGE OF LACK OF HOSPITALITY TO CONFEDERATE PRESIDENT.

Greensboro, N. C., Dec. 30 (Special).—The interest here in the recent magazine publication of an article entitled "Last Days of the Confederate Government," as detailed in The Tribune of December 16, has by no means subsided. The people here little dreamed that the innocent Cupids in the magazine cover to indicate the season of good will to men concealed a tearing away of the curtains of the past and the revelation of alleged inhospitality to President Davis when he sought safety in flight from the Confederate capital. Letters began to come from all parts of the land urging residents here to explain, to refute the "slander," for the sake of the fair name of the Confederacy, "more troops than any other Southern State and more soldiers than she had voters." In the term "slander" there was, of course, no reflection upon the management of the magazine, nor even upon any real or fancied prejudice of Federal officers, for the article was written by the Confederate Secretary of the Navy, Stephen P. Mallory.

But each prominent citizen present upon some other the duty of immolating himself upon the altar of explanation, and recent history, as yet chiefly traditional, is being overhauled. While, therefore, the State waits for sufficiently weighty and authoritative statements, the following conclusions of Greensboro opinion are here presented as gathered. "What have you to say, Major?" "I really cannot say anything. I—" "He was out of town, you know," said a voice from behind the counter. "Oh, of course, I was out of town." "Yes, well, Major, you were not the only one—all the other men had business elsewhere."

"I reckon they did," grimly. "But even if I knew of it, which I do not—I would still have nothing to say. The Revolution is a subject large enough and far enough off to talk about." "That is a foregone conclusion, with the Guilford background at your very doors." "Yes," enthusiastically, "that is the Mecca for all Americans. The Federalists and the British more of the decisive battles of history. Without the Guilford Courthouse there would have been no Yorktown. The monuments, the tablets, the souvenirs, the museums, the woods, the lake, the grounds, and, above all, the associations, make it a beautiful and hallowed spot. As much as I love my own State, I love the North Carolina. There, without heartburns, every American can come to do honor to our great dead."

THE FATHER WOULD NOT YIELD.

THE REWARD FOR THE ARREST OF THE KIDNAPERS NOT WITHDRAWN.

Omaha, Jan. 1.—This information was given last night by General John C. Cowing, Mr. Cudahy's lawyer, immediately after an interview with the military authorities on the kidnaping case was discussed in all its details. Mr. Cudahy does not withdraw his offer of $25,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the kidnapers. He meant what he said when he made that offer, and he will stand by it to the amount in addition to whatever the city or any other individual will give for the apprehension and conviction of the kidnapers. The city has the control of the payment of it, to be used with what they desire to pay as a reward. I regard it as the duty of the city to stand by the offer. I will not let the reward for the arrest of the kidnapers be withdrawn. I will not let the reward for the arrest of the kidnapers be withdrawn. I will not let the reward for the arrest of the kidnapers be withdrawn.

CUDAHY CASE HELPS KIDNAPPING BILL.

Albany, Jan. 1 (Special).—The experience of Mr. Cudahy in Omaha at the time his boy was kidnaped leads Assemblyman Appar to have some hope that his bill of 1900 against kidnapers will now become a law. He will therefore once more introduce the bill. The bill amends the Penal Code by making the kidnaping of a child a crime punishable by imprisonment for life. The maximum sentence at present is seventeen years of imprisonment.

RAILROAD INTERESTS.

FURTHER POOLING PROPOSED.

J. J. HILL TO TAKE FINANCIERS ON A TOUR OF INSPECTION OVER RAILROAD LINES.

According to a dispatch from St. Paul received here yesterday, J. J. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railroad, has invited a large number of financiers to make a tour of inspection over the big railroads of the country for the purpose of inspection. It is in anticipation, it is said, of a still greater pooling of interests in the transcontinental lines. The financiers to be invited are the Harriman interests will be well represented in the pooling. According to present plans, the party will leave St. Paul for the West about the middle of this month. The report is denied by officials of the Northern Pacific, who say that the party could not be sent yesterday. At his home, No. 1 East Fifty-fifth-st., it was said that he was at Arden House, his country home at Arden, N. Y.

HAPPY DAYS AT LAKEWOOD.

BRILLIANT ANNIVERSARY BALLS AT TWO OF THE GREAT HOTELS.

Lakewood, N. J., Jan. 1 (Special).—The annual New Year's ball to-night at the Lakewood House was so contemporaneous with Lakewood was a renewal in attractiveness and artistic effects of those which have preceded it. There was a greater variety of decoration, and it differed from that of former balls at this eminently appointed hotel, which led the way in making the ball and the ball. Everybody who attended the ball expected to find the house unusually attractive, because of the new year's greeting it was to extend to its friends. The decorations were in the hands of the young and in keeping with the stateliness and the benignity of the older guests whose time to dance had been so long. MISS RUTH HANNA INTRODUCED.

THE SENATOR'S YOUNGEST DAUGHTER MAKES HER FIRST APPEARANCE IN SOCIETY.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 1.—The coming out party of Miss Ruth Hanna, the youngest daughter of Senator Hanna, to-night was a social success. The reception and dance were held in the parlors of the Commodore Hotel, and were engaged for the occasion because of the distance of the Hanna home from the center of the city. The guests included all the leading society people of Cleveland, fifteen hundred invitations having been issued. The hall was decorated in an artistic manner with evergreens, holly, smilax and red mistletoe.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT, SHE SAYS.

WOMAN WOUNDED IN RIGHT BREAST TAKEN TO PRESBYTERIAN HOSPITAL—CONDITION SAID TO BE SERIOUS.

A woman who described herself as Mary Ann Braun, twenty-five years old, and said she lived at No. 140 Park-ave., with her husband, Herman, was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital last night in a cab. A man who accompanied her told the hospital clerk that the woman was sick and wanted treatment. The surgeons in the accident ward found that the woman had sustained a gunshot wound in the right breast, and that the bullet had penetrated to the vicinity of the heart.

TO PERMIT PRIZEFIGHTING AGAIN.

Albany, Jan. 1.—Assemblyman Charles F. Brooks, of Erie, who it is said will introduce a bill amending the Penal Code so as to permit prizefighting in the State, said to-night that he had not framed any bill yet, as he desired first to ascertain the sentiments of the members of the assembly. If he found a strong opposition to such a bill he would abandon his plan. Speaking about prizefighting Mr. Brooks said he was convinced that the general public was in favor of it, providing the contests were scientifically conducted and were absolutely on the level.

LONG CHASE AFTER PRISONER.

MAN CHARGED WITH BURGLARY ESCAPES FROM WHITE PLAINS JAIL WHILE HIS OFFICERS ARE CHANGING.

Through a mistake in the identification of prisoners discharged at the county jail in White Plains yesterday August De Weill, who was indicted for burglary on December 19 on two separate charges, succeeded in gaining his freedom. After a hot and exciting chase he was recaptured and returned to the prison. De Weill is said to be the man who put up the job on Saturday night to burn the mattresses in the cells, with the idea that Jailor Johnson would rush in to put out the fire and then the prisoners would overpower and take the keys from him and thus make their escape. It has since been learned that the plan included the freeing of Burns, and that Burns knew all about it and was a party to the plot. Sheriff Samuel C. Miller and his new deputy took office at midnight yesterday morning. The prison is now in charge of Jailor John R. Rye, whose assistant is Frank Winn. It is the custom to discharge at 10 o'clock every morning the prisoners whose terms of imprisonment have expired. Excepting De Weill, the purpose of identifying the prisoners who were to be released yesterday, went to the jail to identify the prisoners as they were let out. Six men were to be discharged. Assistant Jailor Winn called out the names of the men and they were lined up in the jail corridor. Mr. Johnson said that they were those that the orders of discharge called for. He read the list, and the names of them, opened the three iron doors and the men passed by the old and new jailer into the street. Almost immediately after the doors were opened, De Weill came an ash white and, rushing out of the jail, he exclaimed, "The last man that went out was not Kelly; that was De Weill, the burglar."

FIRE FRIGHTENS TENANTS.

A FINE APARTMENT HOUSE HASTILY VACATED ON DISCOVERY OF FLAMES.

A fire broke out in a tailor store in the basement of the seven-story apartment house known as the Sorrento, at Nos. 125 and 128 Madison-ave., a little before 11 o'clock yesterday afternoon, causing about $5,000 damage. The apartment house is at Madison-ave. and Thirty-first-st. On the Thirty-first-st. side, in the basement, is the tailor store of J. S. Jones. Directly overhead, on the first floor, are the offices of Dr. George J. and John N. Helmer. About a dozen patients were in the offices at the time of the fire. In various stages of dishevelment, waiting or undergoing treatment, when the fire was discovered, they became alarmed. A brother of the doctors, C. C. Helmer, and a woman, Mrs. J. H. Merkle, in the employ of the doctors, assisted the patients into their clothes, and they were removed to neighboring buildings. The fourteen families—men, women and children—hastily made their exit. All the tenants were well dressed, and some stood about watching the proceedings with the great crowd that had collected. The fire was under control in twenty minutes and was put out in half an hour. Jones says he had $3,000 worth of goods in the place, situated in the fire was destroyed. He lost the firemen place the loss at near $5,000.
