BISHOP POTTER AND EX-GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT SPEAK OF THE PATHOS OF THE LIT.

THE CRIPPLED LIFE.

A large number of men and women well known in society and interested in philanthropic work gathered yesterday at the annual meeting of the New-York Orthopedic Dispensary and Hospital, No. 125 East Fifty-ninth-st., which was founded three years ago by a few young men, among whom were Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Howard Potter, brother of Bishop Potter.

ART NEEDLEWORK ON A GOWN.

QUEEN WILHELMINA'S WEDDING GOWN IS CLOTH OF SILVER, EXQUISITELY EMBROIDERED.

The rumor that Queen Wilhelmina's marriage to Duke Henry may not take place after all would consign to at least temporary retirement one of the most magnificent wedding dresses on record. The wonderful embroidery that is to be used lavishly is being executed in the Royal School of Art Needlework, in conjunction with the Rijks Museum at Amsterdam. This institution is directed by Mme. Van Emstede Winkler, who is a practical worker herself. She has selected her eight or nine most highly skilled embroideresses, and most of the work done by them has been for the Queen's gowns.

HOUSEHOLD TALKS.

Lovers of peanuts will find peanut cookies to their liking. To make them run to a cream four tablespoonsful of butter, add to it one-half cupful of sugar and two eggs, and stir into the mixture four tablespoonsful of milk, one cupful of finely chopped peanuts, one cupful of flour with which two tablespoonsful of baking powder has been sifted, and a generous pinch of salt. Season with salt and paprika, one-fourth teaspoonful of lemon juice and one-fourth teaspoonful of horseradish. As soon as it thickens add the meat, and serve as soon as it is heated.

A CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS.

PRACTICAL WORKERS ASKED TO ASSIST THE LEAGUE FOR POLITICAL EDUCATION.

Volunteer workers are loudly called for by the League for Political Education, and as the cause is one in which there is a large and general interest the league is hopeful of obtaining many. Robert E. Ely, one of the managers of the work, said yesterday at the league rooms, No. 23 West Forty-fourth-st., that the organization does not attempt so much to introduce new methods as to make those already existing more effective.

"We have no political axe to grind, no special caste the less fortunate that they will be fitted for intelligent citizenship.

"There is room for a vast number of workers in the city and so many lines of carefully systematized work that every one may choose the line she prefers. We use the Senate districts as a basis, making a map of each district, on which is indicated all existing agencies for good and evil. Every school, church, college or other neighborhood settlement and library, every saloon and low club, are on the map, so that one can see at a glance what needs to be done and what efforts are being made to do it.

"We put the volunteers into relations with kindergartens or settlement work, or establish classes for lectures on civics and kindred topics. Last year we had a staff of twenty-five ready to give occasional talks on social and political subjects.

"One of the important features of this branch of our work is that we bring the various agencies of the workers have not known of the work of the other half heretofore, and co-operation leads to a vast increase in effectiveness. Then, we invite the clerk of the ward or the Assemblyman of the district to meet the organizers, and see its work and the necessity for it.

"Some of the details might be of interest. For instance, at the Nurses' Settlement, No. 265 Henry-st., last year, a class of about thirty boys met twice a week for the study of civics. The members of the class were regular in their attendance, and showed an inspiring interest in the subjects discussed. This class will be resumed.

"On one evening a week a class of about forty young men and women—school teachers, students, clerks and mechanics—studied economics at the Young Men's Benevolent Association, East Broadway and Third-ave., and the same lecturer took them through a more advanced course at the Students' Club, No. 123 Lexington-ave.

"At the Bible House a series of lectures was given to a group of men on sociological subjects, a short course on 'Citizenship to a boys' club in East Forty-sixth-st., and a course on 'Civic Affairs to a men's club at the Greenpoint Settlement, Brooklyn.

JUDAISM AND CHRISTIANITY.

A DISCUSSION HELD AT A MEETING OF THE LEAGUE OF UNITARIAN WOMEN.

A speech on "Points of Contact between Judaism and Christianity" by Mrs. Frederick Nathan was the feature of the day at the meeting of the New-York League of Unitarian Women in All Souls' Unitarian Church yesterday. The Jewish religion, pure and simple, is the oldest of all religions, said Mrs. Nathan. She quoted Dr. McGiffon, of this city, who asserted that "Christianity, as the old Apostles believed it, was Judaism and nothing more." She described some of the ancient Jewish customs, which vary only slightly from many now in use in Christian churches. The charity and love taught by both Jews and Christians, she declared, is the basis of both religions. She deplored the fact that the spirit of Christ's teaching is not more universal after nineteen hundred years, and that the peace which He proclaimed seemed yet so far away.

Miss Slade, of the Philanthropic News Committee, in a detailed account of the various Jewish charities in this country, and described the application of the Baron de Hirsch fund in its various departments.

An appeal was made by Mrs. Robert H. Davis for contributions toward the expenses of a student who is preparing for the ministry in Newville College.

THE WESTCHESTER WOMAN'S CLUB.

At the meeting of the Westchester Woman's Club of Mount Vernon on Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Franklin T. Davis, the president, presided. It was the first business meeting of the year and of the district, the chairman of the different sections reported, showing increasing interest in the work. Especially encouraging was the report of the music section. The club historian, Mrs. Robert McVicker, in a bright paper, gave the club's history for the last three months. At the close of the business Mrs. Ella T. Chapin read a paper on "Current Events."

DECLINES TO PAY RENT IN WINTER. DOCK BOARD THREATENS TO REVOKE PERMIT TO USE PIERS GRANTED TO MANHATTAN ICE COMPANY.

The Dock Commissioners at their regular meeting yesterday received a letter from James Jackson, president of the Manhattan Ice Company, in which he declined to pay the three months' rent for the piers granted to the Manhattan Ice Company by the Dock Board.

When President Jackson made application last summer the piers that he desired were not granted to him. Mr. Jackson then threatened to mandamus the Board, intimating that the Board would not grant the permits because the Commissioners were stockholders in the American Ice Company.

President Jackson "when he heard of the action of the Board was indignant. He refused, however, to say what action. The three months' rental would not be paid by the Manhattan Ice Company. Barber & Co., steamship agents, yesterday applied to the Dock Board for berths on the North and East rivers for the use of their China and South African steamers. The application was referred to the treasurer.

FOURTEEN CITY CLERKS DISCHARGED.

Controller Coler yesterday sent letters to fourteen of the employees in the Finance Department, telling them their services will not be required on or after January 12. The reason assigned for the discharge of the men is lack of appropriation for the year 1901. By the discharge of the fourteen men Controller Coler will save $18,100 to the city during the year. The men discharged, their salaries and the positions that they held are as follows: Henry Woram, cashier, tax office, Brooklyn, $2,500; Robert McNamara, warrant collector city revenue, $2,500; Otto Stutzbach, collector city revenue, $2,500; Charles W. Hoadley, inspector, $1,400; Jacob Manheimer, assistant accountant, $1,300; Sumner Sweet, examiner, $1,300; John J. Hanly, examiner, $1,300; James H. O'Brien, examiner, $1,300; Mulach, P. Keane, assistant accountant, $1,300; Herman Muesel, manager, $1,300; Henry Leeds, assistant accountant, $1,200; Benjamin Karetz, examiner, $1,200; Abram H. Merlette, examining clerk, Bureau of Assessments and Arrears, $1,200; and William C. Mann, clerk, tax office, the Bronx, $1,000.

WIFE OF A BREWER'S SON SAYS HE FAILS TO KEEP AN AGREEMENT TO LET HER SEE THEIR DAUGHTER.

In answer to a writ of habeas corpus Charles Schutte, Jr., the son of Charles Schutte, a brewer, who lives at No. 23 East Ninety-third-st., was before Justice Leventritt in the Supreme Court yesterday. The writ commanded Schutte to produce his two-year-old daughter, Veronica, in court. The little girl was not brought to court, and argument on the writ was postponed until to-day.

The writ was obtained by Mrs. Gabriella Schutte, the wife of Schutte. Mrs. Schutte says that she was married in October, 1897. In 1899 Mrs. Schutte began an action for separation on the ground of cruelty and non-support. Schutte retaliated by beginning an action for absolute divorce, naming Alexander C. Campbell as correspondent. Mrs. Schutte then asked for an absolute divorce. Mrs. Schutte asserts that her husband took their daughter with the understanding that the little one was to spend Saturdays, Sundays and Mondays with the mother. Schutte refused in the early fall to allow the child to visit her mother any longer.

TWO INJURED AT A FIRE.

A gallon can of kerosene exploded in the kitchen of the fifth floor of the apartment house at No. 109 West Fortieth-st., a little after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It severely burned Frank Armitage, thirty-five years old, an actor, and also burned Mary Armitage, his sister, thirty-two years old. Armitage was in the kitchen smoking a cigar. In turning about he knocked the can over, and the stationary tub and the sparks from his cigar ignited the oil.

Armitage was burned about the face and hands and may lose his left eye. Miss Armitage was burned about the hands. The fire was put out with chemicals. There was much excitement in the apartment house.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE CASE FAILS.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court has affirmed a decision of the lower court denying the application of the Rev. John Q. A. Henry for the revocation of the liquor tax certificate issued to Frank E. Moran for a hotel at No. 361 Sixth-ave. Mr. Henry, who is the superintendent of the New-York Anti-Saloon League, made charges against Moran of violation of the Liquor Tax law on Sunday, May 8.

WITNESSES DEFEND M'DONNELL.

The Coroner's courtroom was filled yesterday morning when the inquest into the death of George Price was resumed before Coroner Hart and a jury. When Miles McDonnell, the accused man, took his place in the courtroom he was cool and collected. His wife was in the courtroom.

Sylvester H. Freeland, a paperhanger, said he was in the saloon and saw McDonnell, Kennedy and Price standing together talking near the cigar counter. He turned his back, and heard a shot fired. The witness saw a pistol in McDonnell's hand pressed against Kennedy's side. He went up and said, "Mac, think what you are doing," and, seizing the pistol, turned it from Kennedy as it was discharged. Witness then went out of the side door, and heard two more shots. He returned and saw Kennedy lying on the floor wounded. He said he saw no other revolver than the one in McDonnell's hands.

APPELLATE DIVISION DECIDES AGAINST THE COUNTRY CLUB LAND ASSOCIATION.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court reverses the judgment of the Special Term in the case of the Country Club Land Association against Frederick Lohbauer et al. The action was in the nature of an ejectment. The property was purchased by the club in 1888. It is bounded on the north by lands of the plaintiff and on the east by Pelham Bay. Lohbauer occupied a house on property adjoining on the west. It is charged that Lohbauer put a boothhouse on the club's property. The lower court restrained the defendant from trespassing. Justice Patterson concludes that no such ownership has been shown as would justify the plaintiff in maintaining an action of ejectment.

CHARGED WITH STEALING FROM A BANK.

Frederick B. Rockwell, seventeen years old, of No. 76 Melrose-ave., a messenger in the employ of the Astor National Bank, at No. 15 West Thirty-fourth-st., was a prisoner in Centre-st. court yesterday on a charge of grand larceny. Harris Frankel, the assistant cashier, complained that on December 28 Rockwell was sent to the banking house of B. Hartfield & Co. at No. 7 Wall-st., to collect on a draft for $200. Rockwell, it is charged, failed to return to the bank and appropriated the money to his own use. The prisoner was committed to the Tombs in default of $1,000 bail.

MAN CHARGED WITH STEALING MAIL HELD.

Francis Murphy, who was arrested in Poughkeepsie, charged with stealing two mail pouches from the New-York Central station there on January 2, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields yesterday. He waived examination, and was held for the January 9 $1,000 bail.

IMPORTANT POSITION FOR A WOMAN.

A woman, Dr. Myrtle Applin, has just been appointed a resident physician at the State Insane Asylum at Napa, Cal. Dr. Applin was graduated from Cooper Medical College in 1898, and has held the position of house physician at Lane Hospital, San Francisco, for two years, being the only woman ever appointed.
