

JEROME'S LATEST RAID.

DESCENDS ON A POOLROOM WHICH IS RUNNING OPENLY.

Justice Jerome led a raid by the Committee of Fifteen late yesterday afternoon on the poolroom...

When the raiders arrived, a simultaneous entrance was made by the front and side doors. Two men were believed to have escaped.

Justice Jerome seemed much pleased with the results of the raid of Monday night. When asked about the raid on the Savoy Club...

While the party was there a young man called up on the telephone and was told that the coast was clear. He was in evening dress and carrying an overcoat...

Justice Jerome said he knew the apparatus was on O'Rourke's place. He refused to tell the name of the young man.

John Hayes, of No. 27 Christopher-st., and Thomas Martin, of No. 83 Sullivan-st., the two men arrested in the raid on No. 148 Third-ave. on Monday night...

Justice Jerome made public the following letter from a St. Louis man, whose name and address, as well as names and addresses in the letter, are withheld:

Seeing by the morning papers that you would like to know of any one who has been in Canfield's in the last two weeks...

Mount Vernon Pure Rye. Is the highest-priced whiskey in bottles; and is mainly used by people who want the best and are able and willing to pay the price.

BONDSMAN SUES D. J. RIORDAN

WANTS EX-CONGRESSMAN TO PAY HIM FOR JUDGMENT AGAINST CLUB ALLEGED TO BE THE BLACK RABBIT.

A jury will bring in a sealed verdict this morning in the suit of Louis Gordon, a real estate dealer at No. 159 Canal-st., against ex-Congressman Daniel J. Riordan for $50,000...

Subsequently the license was taken away. A judgment was obtained against them by the Excise Department for $300, of which Gordon paid $50. Department counsel said the club was the Black Rabbit or its successor.

Mr. Riordan identified his signature to a letter written on the stationery of the House of Representatives which introduced Max Kennedy to Mr. Gordon. In the letter Riordan said that Kennedy was a responsible person and wanted to obtain a license for the club...

Eugene Driscoll testified that he was with Riordan when the latter paid for a suit of clothes for Gordon. Gordon admitted that he had received the clothes, but said it was in part payment on the amount he considered Riordan owed him.

ZELLER'S FURY MUCH ABATED. MURPHY SHOWS THAT HE IS ACTING ON CORPORATION COUNSEL'S ADVICE.

The charge of Louis Waldron, proprietor of a notorious dance hall in West One-hundredth-st., that Police Commissioner Murphy is guilty of "putting pressure" in trying to suppress it, has been reduced to a mere nothing...

Justice Jerome said he knew the apparatus was on O'Rourke's place. He refused to tell the name of the young man.

John Hayes, of No. 27 Christopher-st., and Thomas Martin, of No. 83 Sullivan-st., the two men arrested in the raid on No. 148 Third-ave. on Monday night...

Justice Jerome made public the following letter from a St. Louis man, whose name and address, as well as names and addresses in the letter, are withheld:

Seeing by the morning papers that you would like to know of any one who has been in Canfield's in the last two weeks...

INQUIRY ABOUT OVERCHARGES.

TAMMANY MIDDLEMEN'S PROFITS TO BE TAKEN UP BY THE GRAND JURY.

An investigation into the methods of purchasing supplies for departments of the city government probably will be begun by the grand jury in a few days. An official in the office of the District Attorney said yesterday that plans for such an investigation had been made and that the grand jury was expected to call some witnesses before the end of the month...

It is expected that some of the city officials, including Controller Cole, will be called before the grand jury in the inquiry. Commissioner Scannell and Commissioner Kearny may be among the witnesses. William L. Marks may be obliged to tell of his relations with Commissioner Scannell and disclose the size of the commissions he has exacted in the purchase of supplies for the Fire Department...

Controller Cole said yesterday that he had tried to prevent the city from paying too high prices for supplies and had taken several cases into court. "In cases in which I protested against bills for Fire Department supplies purchased through Marks," he said, "the court took the ground that where the city has purchased supplies for the Fire Department for an article of the kind, it is not necessary to go to court to contest such payments. The action has been thrown out of court."

Witness becomes demented. After accusing hospital attendants in Wadman inquest he talks strangely.

At the inquest into the death of Herbert C. Wadman, who died in the Manhattan State Hospital on March 3, which was resumed yesterday, one of the witnesses, Patrick Bannon, of No. 345 East Twenty-fourth-st., who had been at the hospital while Wadman was there and who had also been an inmate of the insane asylum at Matteawan, showed signs of mental derangement on the witness stand...

Teachers for Manila. Two men appointed to stay three years in the Philippines.

Professor Atkinson, general superintendent of instruction of the Philippine Islands, recently requested the appointment of two teachers for service in the public schools of Manila. The committee has named William C. Heaton, of New-Paltz, N. Y., and Carl H. Moore, of Greene City, Mo. They will each receive $2,000 a year, and will sail on a transport from San Francisco on July 1. They must sign a contract to serve three years.

Each gets eighteen months imprisonment and a fine. James P. Kellogg and Myron L. Bernard, convicted of using the mails for fraudulent purposes, were brought before Judge Thomas yesterday afternoon for sentence. Kellogg was sentenced to the full term of eighteen months imprisonment and a fine of $50 was imposed on him. Bernard was also sentenced to eighteen months in prison, but his fine was only $10. Bernard was at once taken to Sing Sing. Kellogg's counsel appealed to the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York, and the appeal is now pending.

Enjoins city from paying taxes. A Rochester citizen objects to Roman Catholic asylum teachers drawing salaries.

Rochester, N. Y., May 21.—James Sargent, a leader in the American Protective Association movement, to-day obtained from County Judge Sutherland a temporary injunction, and an order to show cause restraining the Board of Education from paying salaries from the city treasury to the teachers in St. Mary's Orphan Boy's Asylum, a Roman Catholic institution. Such salaries have been paid from the city treasury to teachers in other Catholic institutions, four of them Catholic, for many years.

NEW-JERSEY NEWS.

WILL NOT CALL EXTRA SESSION. GOVERNOR VOORHEES SO INFORMS THE NEWARK BOARD OF TRADE.

Trenton, May 21 (Special).—Governor Voorhees, in a letter to President Tompkins of the Newark Board of Trade to-day, announced his determination not to call an extra session of the legislature, which was urged for the purpose of securing legislation for the prevention of the pollution of the Passaic River.

In his communication the Governor discusses the subject at length, saying that he considers it one of the most important which now confronts the State. At the same time he points out that the vastness of the proposition is such as to make it safe any snap judgment. Having carefully reviewed the obstacles which prevented the desired action by the last legislature, the Governor feels convinced that the same conditions would prevail should he call the lawmakers together again.

The Governor deprecates the present state of affairs, but says that the failure of the legislature to act in the past has been due to the efforts of the press, except such as take a local or partisan stand, will develop a more general sentiment in favor of the legislature against the demand that the existing evils be abated. He also points out that on the lines mapped out by the Newark Board of Trade, probably as much as can be accomplished during the next ten months without further legislation as would be gained by a session of the legislature called for the purpose which the Governor regards as practically hopeless.

MOTHER KIDNAPS HER CHILDREN. FATHER AT WORK WHEN SHE TOOK THEM FROM HIS HOME.

Elizabeth, May 21 (Special).—Mrs. Riker, of Passaic, came to Elizabeth yesterday and kidnaped her two children, one almost a baby, and got them out of the city, while her husband was at work in Lewis Nixon's shipyard. The mother called on Prosecutor English when she came to Elizabeth, but he informed her that he was powerless to act in the matter, and advised her to consult a lawyer. The woman pleaded that she wanted to see her children, and said that her husband had been drinking and had promised she would see them once a week, but she was afraid he would assault her if she called at his home in Centre-st., where he was living with his sister. The woman instructed Constable Carey to go with the woman to the house and protect her.

Iron mining in New-Jersey. Comparative review of the ups and downs of the industry.

The revival of the iron industry in New-Jersey presents some interesting facts. The investigations of the State Geological Department show that the total amount of iron produced for the year 1900 was 47,350 tons, an increase of 106,000 tons over the year 1899. Looking backward, the Assistant State Geologist finds that in 1790, five years after the first iron was produced in the State, the product of the State was 10,000 tons. The turning point in the iron industry there was reached in 1820, when the output was 100,000 tons. There was a steady increase until 1873, when 600,000 tons were mined, and the iron mines of New-Jersey became the nucleus of steadily increasing activity in the State. At this time, however, there was a gradual decrease in the output because of a curtailed demand for iron. The product fluctuated between 200,000 and 300,000 tons, and in 1882 the greatest record was made, when 822,522 tons were mined. Then began another decline, but the recovery about the most recent years has been vital in the iron mining industry known to its history. The reaction came during the year 1890, because of the long and protracted depression. Mines were closed and remained closed, but others, having made extensive preparations for the work, stood to stop and continue to produce as many men employed as was possible. At the end of the year 1900 Professor Henry H. Hummel, the Assistant State Geologist, found fourteen of the important mines in operation.

Philadelphia man commits suicide in Jersey City. Plank road to be reopened.

Peter Hushon, forty-five years old, committed suicide yesterday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Dowling, No. 23 Third-st., Jersey City, by cutting his throat with a bread knife. His home was in Philadelphia. His wife died five months ago, and he became despondent. He leaves six children.

Alumni of the American College. The annual meeting of the Alumni Association of the North Jersey Street Railway Company at a dinner at the Hotel Jersey, Jersey City, N. J., was held on Saturday, May 19, at 5 p. m. on Saturday. The terms of the agreement are that the railroad company shall operate the road for one year at its own expense, and no tolls are to be collected on wagon traffic. A period of all expenses is to be kept until the time limit, the company to be reimbursed if its claim of priority rights in the road shall be established by the courts.

The Wanamaker Store Diamond Jewelry. Maybe it will open your eyes to the resources of this Jewelry Store, which forms such an attractive spot at the corner of Broadway and Tenth street, when you glance at the list of diamond jewelry given below.

Rowboats and Canoes. If you're going to spend your Summer by the water, whether river, lake or bay, you'll be interested in the splendid group of row-boats and canoes we are ready to show you. They are built by the Spalding-St. Lawrence Boat Company, which is really all that needs to be said for them.

John Wanamaker. Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co., Broadway, Fourth Avenue, Ninth and Tenth Streets.

EVERYBODY'S MAGAZINE for JUNE. The Brightest and Best of them All.

CROCKER COACH IN SMASHUP. A COLLISION WITH A CAR. A coach drawn by a spirited team of horses, belonging to George Crocker, was in collision with a Madison-ave. car at Seventh-st. and started about 8:30 o'clock last evening.

Ready Today. All News-Stands. 10c. JOHN WANAMAKER Publisher NEW YORK.

B. Altman & Co. STORAGE OF FURS. of all descriptions, according to the most approved methods and under the usual guarantee.