

ALL TO OBSERVE THE BURIAL. BUSINESS TO BE SUSPENDED AND SERVICES IN NEARLY EVERY CHURCH—NATIONAL GUARDSMEN PARADE.

A DAY OF REAL GRIEF.

WHILE THE COFFIN IS LOWERED NEW-YORK WILL BE SILENT AND MOTIONLESS.

Today is to be a day of mourning and of prayer. The nation's dead chief is to be laid away in his last resting place, and, although that final ceremony will be held hundreds of miles away, the people of this city will stand in thought by the open grave.

Business and recreation are to be abandoned. All occupations in discord with the solemnity of the occasion are to be laid aside. The great mercantile houses of Broadway, the tall office buildings of Wall and Broad sts., are to stand draped in black.

The crowds in Broadway will find the doors of the theatres barred. It is expected that few will spend the day in travel either within the city or without.

The elevated railroad lines on a Sunday schedule is to be maintained. The telephone company will close its offices and lay off as many of the all operators as possible.

The great factories in and out of the city are to be shut. Some for the entire day and others from noon until 6 p. m.

Guns will be fired in a solemn salute to the dead from the revenue cutters in the bay, from the neighboring forts, and in the city by detachments of the National Guard.

The few minutes during which the coffin of the dead President is to be placed in its vault are to be observed especially. At that time many activities which cannot be stopped for the whole day will be brought to a temporary halt.

THE TRAINS TO STOP. From 3:30 to 3:35 p. m., the time of the final ceremony of the burial, all trains on the Metropolitan Street Railroad, the Brooklyn Rapid Transit and the elevated lines will be brought to a standstill.

The trains of the New-York Central, the Central Railroad of New-Jersey and the Long Island Railroad will also be halted. Steamers of the Hudson River Day Line will stop running, and on each steamer the crew will assemble on the main deck while the orchestra plays the President's favorite hymns.

The postoffice and other public buildings will be closed. No work will be done at the navy yard and the heavy gates will be barred. At noon twenty-one minute guns will be fired. Memorial services will be held aboard the receiving ship Columbia, in Brooklyn, and the other vessels at the anchorage.

The draping of buildings, both public and private, in sombre black continued all day yesterday until it seemed that there was no building without its signs of grief, more or less elaborate.

As to-day, in pursuance of President Roosevelt's order, is to be a day of not only mourning, but prayer, the doors of the churches will be open to congregations of all denominations for special services.

CHURCH BELLS TO TOLL. A special prayer will be offered in all the synagogues of the Orthodox Union to-day. The bells of the Collegiate Reformed churches will be tolled at intervals throughout the day.

"Nearer, My God, to Thee" will be sung in the solemn pontifical mass, which will be conducted by Archbishop Corrigan at St. Patrick's Cathedral this morning. Under the canonical law of the Roman Catholic Church no requiem mass can be said for a non-Catholic, but the Archbishop has issued a letter directing that masses be celebrated in the churches of this archdiocese in memory of the noble life and services of the dead President.

For the services in all the Protestant Episcopal churches to-day Bishop Potter issued the following order: The President of the United States having appointed Thursday, September 13, as a day of national mourning and prayer in view of the dastardly assassination of our honored and beloved Chief Executive, William McKinley, the following order of service is hereby set forth for that purpose: First Psalm, xxxviii, xxxviii, xxxix.

The first call upon the people to preserve the nation from treacherous assaults and to urge the sacred duty of the present more chastisement to the greater good of the people; the third prayer for Mrs. McKinley, and the fourth asks for divine assistance to the new Executive.

At the personal expense of Postmaster Van Cott, the Postoffice building was draped with mourning yesterday. Mr. Van Cott took the matter into his own hands because of the statute forbidding the decoration of public buildings.

AT THE ARMORIES.

ALL THE NATIONAL GUARD BODIES IN THIS CITY MEET TO EXPRESS THEIR SYMPATHY.

In accordance with General Orders No. 8, issued on Tuesday by Major-General Charles F. Roe, the four regiments and battery of the Fifth Brigade, the three regiments and battery of the First Brigade, Squadron A, and the 1st Signal Corps, assembled last night in their respective armories in full dress uniform to do honor to the memory of President McKinley.

At the 17th Regiment armory the scene was most impressive. The regiment was assembled at 8 p. m., and marched into line in the drill hall to "Chopin's Funeral March." Regimental Adjutant J. W. G. Hall read the order of assembly and the following notice from Colonel Appleton:

It is proper at this time to remind the officers and men of the regiment of the prompt and appreciative reply which President McKinley made to the tender of the services of the regiment for any duty in April, 1881, in an autograph letter to its commanding officer, when in thanking them for their "patriotic offer," he assured them that if their services were required he would immediately call for them, expressing at the same time his confidence in their patriotism and in their ability to respond effectively should the occasion arise to call upon them.

The band then played the President's favorite hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," the "Star Spangled Banner" and the Doxology. After taps were sounded, the regiment was withdrawn in close order with colors in front, the band playing a dirge.

There was a large crowd of visitors. The main entrance of the armory was curtained in black, the colors of the regiment, battalions and companies were draped, and the officers wore the prescribed badge of mourning.

Hundreds of persons viewed the impressive ceremonies at the 9th Regiment armory, No. 125 West Fourteenth-st. Long before Colonel William F. Morris assembled the regiment for parade, the galleries were filled to their utmost capacity.

The troops formed, Adjutant Edwin D. Graf read the orders for the assembling of the National Guard of the State, immediately after the reading "Nearer, My God, to Thee" was played by the band. The hymn was followed by "Lead, Kindly Light." There was hardly a dry eye in the big hall when the music ceased.

Scarcely more than half the visitors to the 6th Regiment armory were unable to get into the building last night. There, too, the ceremonies were impressive. The regiment, under Colonel Edward Duffy, in full dress uniform, formed, and evening parade, with band, played dirges. Adjutant J. R. Foley read the orders for the ceremonies, which were followed by the playing of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," after which Father Daly, chaplain of the regiment, delivered a short but impressive address.

The 2d Regiment marched out in good force at the 6th Regiment armory. The band played "Lead, Kindly Light," then "Nearer, My God, to Thee," after which the companies were dismissed.

The 7th Regiment, Colonel W. G. Bates commanding, and the 1st Signal Corps, under Major O. B. Bridgman, joined in their observance of President McKinley's death at the regiment's armory, Park-ave. and Thirty-fourth-st. The regiment formed in line, with the Signal Corps on the right. The 1st Regiment band marched past the troops playing "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and the "Star Spangled Banner." After the parade a sacred concert was given.

At the armory of the 22d Regiment, Broadway and Sixty-seventh-st., Lieutenant-Colonel H. H. Treadwell was in command in the absence of Colonel Bartlett, who is now in Maine. Adjutant R. J. Daly read the order assembling the regiment, after which the Rev. Dr. W. J. Dunne, chaplain of the regiment, made an address on the personal qualities of the President and on the force of his example. He then offered prayer. The band played "Nearer, My God, to Thee," the audience standing.

The 2d Battery paraded, in the basement of the 7th Regiment Armory, Park-ave. and Thirty-fourth-st. After Captain David Wilson read the orders the battery was dismissed.

At sunset last night the battery fired the Union salute of forty-five guns at East Thirty-fourth-st. and the river. The battery has been selected to represent the artillery of the State at the Pan-American Exposition, Buffalo, on New-York Day, October 8.

Captain Louis Wendel paraded the 1st Battery last night at the armory, No. 20 West Forty-fourth-st. After reading the orders he dismissed the men. At sunset the battery fired the Union salute of forty-five guns at Forty-fourth-st. and the North River.

To the sound of Chopin's Funeral March the 1st Regiment marched into line in the drill hall of its armory and fell into line. The galleries were crowded with friends of the officers and men, and in the absence of the tribune of respect, of a total of 629 men, 550 were lined up in the drill hall. The regular uniform, company by company, the colors drooped behind the men, and from the buglers. After the band had played "Lead, Kindly Light," "Nearer, My God, to Thee," Adjutant Lock read the order of assembly.

Squadron A assembled at its national guard drill hall, at the armory, No. 20 West Forty-fourth-st. After reading the orders he dismissed the men. At sunset the battery fired the Union salute of forty-five guns at Forty-fourth-st. and the North River.

At sunset last night the battery fired the Union salute of forty-five guns at East Thirty-fourth-st. and the river. The battery has been selected to represent the artillery of the State at the Pan-American Exposition, Buffalo, on New-York Day, October 8.

WORDS OF SORROW.

MANY ORGANIZATIONS ADOPT RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.

The members of the Stock Exchange, President Keppler presiding, at a meeting held on the trading floor, business being suspended for five or ten minutes for the purpose, yesterday afternoon the following resolutions on the death of President McKinley, which resolutions had been approved by the governing committee, and were read from the rostrum by R. H. Thomas, chairman of the committee of arrangements of that body:

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

Resolved, That the death of William McKinley, the President of the United States, has removed an ideal American patriot and counselor from his sphere of usefulness and honor. During the forty years of his public life he has constantly grown in the appreciation and affection of the people. Situations of grave responsibility have been satisfactorily confronted, and intricate and international work long and toilsome, the walls of Congress will long echo his words of wisdom, and his untimely death is a loss to the nation and to the world.

CHURCH SERVICES HERE.

ALL DENOMINATIONS TO OBSERVE THE BURIAL OF THE PRESIDENT IN CANTON.

Services will be held in almost all of the churches of this city to-day in observance of the burial of President McKinley. In many of the churches union meetings will be held, where several congregations, representing as many creeds, will worship under one roof.

A list of some of the churches where services will be held and the names of those who will conduct the services are printed below:

METHODIST. St. Paul's, West End-ave. and Eighty-sixth-st., the Rev. Dr. George F. Eckman, 11 a. m. Calvary, One-hundred-and-twenty-ninth-st. and Seventh-ave., the Rev. Dr. Willis F. Odell, Senator Slater, Adelbert H. Steele and Captain E. A. Hartshorn, 10:30 a. m.

First Baptist, Seventy-ninth-st. and Broadway, the Rev. Dr. Arthur C. Pierson, 11 a. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m. Grace Reformed, Seventh-ave. and Fifty-fourth-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Protestant Episcopal. Grace, Broadway and Tenth-st., the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, pastor, 2 p. m. Trinity, Broadway and Rector-st., the Rev. Dr. J. R. Duryc, 11 a. m.

Crown King & Co. Clothiers and Outfitters. A new Clothing and Furnishings Store that ought to interest YOU will open on SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 21. Come in and look about. You'll come back.

Cooper Square, West. Nearly Opposite Cooper Union. A new Clothing and Furnishings Store that ought to interest YOU will open on SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 21. Come in and look about. You'll come back.

Studebaker. Wear and Tear. For a great while after you buy a Studebaker vehicle "wear and tear" seems an unknown quantity. It wears—after a while. But it is a graceful and noble resignation to the inevitable. A Studebaker has—always—aristocratic bearing—dashing in youth, dignified in age.

WISNER Pianos. Used by Eminent Artists. CARPET CLEANING. J. & J. W. WILLIAMS. REED & BARTON, SILVERSMITHS. CARPET CLEANING. The C. H. BROWN CO. (Incorp.)

SUNDAY AT SHELTER ISLAND, ORIENT GREENPORT or SAG HARBOR. SHINNECOCK. MEMORIAL EXERCISES CARRIED OUT BY THE PUPILS. WEST POINT, NEWBURGH & POUGHKEEPSIE.

CARL H. SCHULTZ Artificial Vichy, Selters, Carbonic. Lithia and Lithia-Vichy. Double Lithia-Vichy. Double Lithia-Vichy. Double Lithia-Vichy.

THE DAY IN NEW JERSEY. SCHOOLS TO BE CLOSED AND CARS TO CEASE RUNNING FOR FIVE MINUTES. To-day will be generally observed throughout New-Jersey as a day of prayer and worship.