THE NEWS OF BROOKLYN.

BROOKLYN SOCIAL WORLD.

The marriage of Miss Lillian Gertrude Eaton, sister of Mrs. Harold Smith, of No. 184 Sixth Ave. and Theodore Grant Caldwell, of Maryland, took place on last Tuesday evening, in Holy Trinity Church. The bride and her attendants were gowned in pure white. Miss Grace Eaton, of Bangor, Me., attended her sister as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Marie Englewood Smith and Florence Estelle Malone. Hugh Wright Caldwell was best man, and the ushers were Frank A. Sargent, Lester D. Wise, Townsend Bitman and Edwin George. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell will make an extended tour of the West Indies, after which they will settle at No. 135 Lincoln Place.

The annual bazaar in aid of the Memorial Hospital for Women and Children at the Pouch Gallery was brought to a close last night. In the afternoon there was an entertainment for children and in the evening the sale of fancy articles was continued. The receipts from the bazaar were up to the expectations.

The wedding of Miss Mabel Patterson, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Howard Patterson, of No. 313 Jefferson-ave., and Everett Jerome Wingert took place on Tuesday night in the New-York Avenue Methodist Church. Green and white were the colors used in the decorations, both at the church and at the bride's home. The bride was attended in a gown of white plush and satin crepe, and carried a bouquet of blush roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Ella Austin, as maid of honor, and Miss Esther Sella, Miss Emma Virginia, Miss Marion Halliday and Miss Madeline Leroy Wingert. Harry Dittman, of 42-48 Avenue C, acted as best man, while the ushers were Russell Patterson, Alexander Virgin and Norman Dittman. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Carson, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, with reception followed at the home of the bride.

The engagement is announced of C. H. Ebbets, Jr., inspector of school supplies, and Miss M. J. Ronayne. Miss Ronayne's father is a Sandy Hook pilot.

BURNED TO DEATH IN BED.

Josephine Laderer, twenty-three years old, was burned to death some time yesterday morning in her room on the top floor of the furnished room house of Mrs. Emma Pope, at No. 28 Bond-st., Brooklyn. The young woman had been employed in a Fulton-st. toy store as a saleswoman. She had been in the house only a short time, and little was known of her. On Friday night she retired about 10 o'clock. At 7 o'clock yesterday morning her body was found in the room and found the charred body of the woman on the bed. Part of her feet were burned to a crisp. A small cylinder gas stove was in the room, and was still burning when the door was opened in the morning. It is believed that the bed clothing caught fire from the gas stove and that the young woman was overcome by the smoke and burned.

COL. MEADE GETS BACK HIS SWORD.

Colonel Robert L. Meade, who was acquitted of the charge of drunkenness by the court martial at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, received back his sword last night at 9:30 o'clock by command in the office of Rear Admiral Barker, commandant of the yard. He did not at once resume duty, however.

POSSIBILITY THAT SECRETARY LONG MAY PREFER CHARGES AGAINST COMPLAINING WITNESSES.

Colonel Robert L. Meade, who was acquitted of the charge of drunkenness by the court martial at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, received back his sword last night at 9:30 o'clock by command in the office of Rear Admiral Barker, commandant of the yard. He did not at once resume duty, however. Paul Fuller, Jr., of counsel for Colonel Meade, said yesterday that so far as his client was concerned no charges would be preferred against Colonel F. L. Denny or Major C. H. Lauchheimer, since the evidence of Colonel Meade could not be called in evidence.

NEW APPOINTEES SWORN IN.

Ex-Judge Jacob Neu was yesterday sworn in as counsel for County Clerk Hartzheim. His sudden appointment was a surprise, as it was supposed that his failure to get the counselship to the Sheriff would prevent his being appointed. Mr. Neu, however, it is said, presented the Republican leaders that his claims for some appointment were strong enough to be recognized. Levi W. Taylor, who has been chosen as counsel to the Sheriff, was also sworn in yesterday. Lieutenant Governor Woodruff, Michael J. Dady and Sheriff-elect Guden went to Washington yesterday.

COL. PARTRIDGE AT CENTRAL OFFICE.

Colonel John N. Partridge paid a visit to the Brooklyn Police Headquarters, No. 15 Smith-st., yesterday afternoon. It was his desire to talk with Deputy Commissioner York concerning police affairs in Brooklyn. Colonel Partridge arrived about noon, and just missed Mr. York, who had left the office only a few minutes before. Mr. York's secretary received Colonel Partridge, and tried vainly to reach Mr. York by means of the telephone. Colonel Partridge shook hands with his old friend, Thomas Carroll, chief clerk of the local headquarters. He said he would call again within a few days.

ABRAHAM AND STRAUS. BROOKLYN. Women's Very Elegant Wraps—About Half.

Just fifty-five cents on the dollar, the exact figuring shows—it is the most important offering of women's stylish Winter Wraps that was ever made anywhere in December. Here is the story, briefly: The New York maker, who stands very positively at the top in the production of the richer and more elaborate Wraps for women, is in a hurry to get to Paris to study styles for Spring. He has had a very successful season—he can afford to make a sacrifice now, so as to be first in the Parisian field of fashion. And he turned to the quickest outlet—they all do. Thus, 250 of the finest Wraps that the season has produced are here for about half—

Prices Yesterday $15.00 to $150.00—To-morrow $7.50 to $82.50. The best we can say about these Wraps is that within two weeks we have sold many identical garments, made by the same man, at the full prices. There are Ulsters, Newmarkets, Raglans and Velour Jackets. Among the finer garments are many exact copies of the latest imported models from Paris and Berlin—indeed, some of the original imported Wraps themselves. They are made of rich broadcloths and satin duchesse, some elaborately trimmed with fur and silk, others plain. All are handsomely lined. Colorings are Oxford gray, tan and olive mixtures and black. Sizes are 32 to 40 and there is widest choice in 36 and 38 sizes. It is the best bargain we ever knew in Wraps—every one should be gone by night.

Taffeta Silk Separate Skirts, $9.75 and $12.98. A hundred very handsome taffeta silk Dress Skirts that are exceedingly small priced. They are handsomely trimmed with cording and ribbon ruching, some made with yoke effect. They have inverted pleat backs and are lined with mercerized peraline.

Second floor, center, Central Building.

Guaranteed Black Silks. Bargains. The Best of Gifts.

What better, more refined or distinguished gift is there than a black silk dress. Especially if the Silk has the broad Abraham and Straus guarantee behind it so that you know it will be a source of satisfaction as long as it is worn. What double satisfaction there is in being able to purchase such a gift for

The Least Guaranteed Silks Have Cost. We have 4,400 yards of double-faced black Peau de Soie, the overproduction of one of the best makers. Every yard is perfect—"wear guaranteed" woven on the edge of the fabric. And these are the prices:

1,200 yards Black Peau de Soie at 65c. 1,200 yards Black Peau de Soie at 75c. 1,000 yards Black Peau de Soie at 95c. 1,000 yards Black Peau de Soie at $1.15. C. J. Bonnet's Guaranteed Black Taffeta. 2,000 yards C. J. Bonnet's black Taffeta, 2 1/2 inches wide, wear guaranteed, at .69c. 1,800 yards C. J. Bonnet's black Taffeta, 23 inches wide, wear guaranteed, at .79c. 1,800 yards C. J. Bonnet's black Taffeta, 23 inches wide, wear guaranteed, at .95c.

Silk Waist Patterns. 1,400 yards fancy silk Waist Patterns, from 3 to 5 yards in each; all colors and black, in satin, crepe, de chine, plain figured, striped and embroidered; each in a handsome box for holiday giving; $1.75 to $15.00 each. Main floor, West Building.

Real Lace Handkerchiefs. Fresh From Paris. Near Half Prices.

Ask milady what her daintiest gift may be—without doubt she will say, a Handkerchief of real lace. Such things bring full prices in holiday season—it is the most remarkable of chances that brings here

89c. to $8.50 Handkerchiefs, 49c. to $4.98. And such beauties as they are. Many haven't been in the country a week—all are freshly arrived from Paris. There is infinity of styles; description won't describe them. The rare combinations of Duchesse and Point laces are shown in some. There is no other such gathering hereabouts and we never knew such prices before.

Other Real Lace Articles Underpriced. Real Duchesse Turnover Collars, $1.00 to $2.98 each; Barba, $1.49 to $4.98 each; Collars, $7.50 to $15.00; Scarfs, $1.98 to $12.98; Berthas, $2.00 to $7.50.

Machine Made Laces—About Half Price. We have just received two cases of new Galleons, from St. Gall, made for the Spring of 1902. The patterns are all new and very attractive; same character of goods which we have been selling so rapidly the last four weeks, prices . . . 10c. to $1.98 a yard. Laces for fancy work—washable Laces and Insertions, in sets and odd widths. . . 2c. to 10c. a yard.

Main floor, center, Central Building.

Screens. A Notable Sale.

GOSSIP OF THE BOROUGH.

Alexander Robb, the new chairman of the Kings County Republican General Committee, was much surprised when he heard that he had really been chosen for that office. Some weeks before his election he had been asked to accept the place by friends had been urging him to accept the place. His business did not give him much time to attend to politics. Then they suddenly sprang a new argument on him. "Look here," they said, "you want to get out of politics. Now, don't you think that the best way for you to do it would be to accept this office?" Mr. Robb, considering the Brooklyn have served a law and discovered that no "inmate of a penal institution" was entitled to vote. On the strength of which the election commissioners, in vain he protested that he was an employee of the penitentiary and not an inmate of it. The protest was of no avail. The following year the doctor took pains to establish a residence outside of the penitentiary.

The Gloucester Naval Command, No. 17, Spanish War Veterans, has a relic in the flag that floated over the famous vessel Merrimac when she was sunk in the narrow entrance to the harbor of Santiago. It has been presented by George H. Stevenson. The command has also received a stand of colors, toward the purchase of which Mayor-elect Low and J. Pierpont Morgan contributed.

Charles G. Tuttle, principal of Public School No. 25, Lafayette-ave., near Summer-ave., than whom only two principals in Brooklyn have served a longer term, will probably retire or, before January 1, he has been a principal since 1856. Principals Dunke and Bush exceed him in length of service, both having more than half a century to their credit. Mr. Tuttle has been actually teaching for about sixty years. Although eighty years old, Mr. Tuttle is in a hearty condition, both mentally and physically. He is planning a trip abroad. His pension will be half of his present salary.

It is said that a number of teachers will retire before the first of the year, under the present law, which permits them to retire on a pension at the age of fifty-five. According to the new charter, the retiring age is increased to sixty-five years.

RODE A STEER IN STAMPEDE.

From The Kansas City Star. For nearly an hour James Evans, a cowboy, in the Four Corners, Ariz., was being put to an experience which has come to few men. Evans holds the steering-tying championship of the northwest part of the territory. He was in a corral roping, throwing and tying a vicious steer in twenty-four seconds, the world's record, two years ago. This time Evans was roping a steer in a corral of cowhands was putting fifteen hundred cattle in two hundred feet, less than eleven miles to the south, a feat which Evans has never done before. The herd came nervous at the display of lightning, and started on a stampede, headed for the south. Evans and his men mounted hurriedly, and circling in front of the madly charged cattle tried to turn them to the east and swing them back into place. Evans headed his men, and with whoops and roars, swung vainly trying to stop or turn in a swiftly running herd of horns and horns. In the dense black of the night Evans's horse lost his footing and rolled. The horse was a strange reeler, in a split hair, the horse of "Shorty" Davis, close behind, stumbled over Evans's horse, and Davis came to earth and in a moment, and Evans's horse was useless with a broken leg. Fifty yards away came the herd, and a short flash of lightning showed Evans the futility of attempting to escape by either side. The herd was now a hundred yards each way. Unable to arouse Davis, and never thinking of the chance of saving them both, his revolver and the gun of Davis he emptied into the center of the herd, throwing a brainiate form of Davis over his shoulder he awaited his opportunity. As one of the leaders brushed by Evans, he swung out and caught the body of Davis as he was being thrown over his shoulders of the steer and mounted. Evans carried his men, and with whoops and roars, swung vainly trying to stop or turn in a swiftly running herd of horns and horns. Evans carried his men, and with whoops and roars, swung vainly trying to stop or turn in a swiftly running herd of horns and horns. In the dense black of the night Evans's horse lost his footing and rolled. The horse was a strange reeler, in a split hair, the horse of "Shorty" Davis, close behind, stumbled over Evans's horse, and Davis came to earth and in a moment, and Evans's horse was useless with a broken leg. Fifty yards away came the herd, and a short flash of lightning showed Evans the futility of attempting to escape by either side. The herd was now a hundred yards each way. Unable to arouse Davis, and never thinking of the chance of saving them both, his revolver and the gun of Davis he emptied into the center of the herd, throwing a brainiate form of Davis over his shoulder he awaited his opportunity. As one of the leaders brushed by Evans, he swung out and caught the body of Davis as he was being thrown over his shoulders of the steer and mounted.
