

MUSIC.

CONCERT OF THE PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

At its third public rehearsal and concert for this season on Friday afternoon and last night the Philharmonic Society brought forward a new work in an ambitious form by an American composer...

The new work which was produced was the symphony in F minor by Henry K. Hadley, entitled "The Four Seasons," which has won as much celebrity as its due (and more notably) from the fact that it recently carried off two prizes almost simultaneously.

As the symphony carried off both the Paderewski and New-England Conservatory prizes two months ago and was thereby acclaimed the best orchestral composition which came under the notice of two juries acting independently and unconsciously of each other's existence.

Dr. W. W. Campbell, director of the Lick Observatory, goes to Chili to select the station and install all the apparatus. The work thereafter will be in charge of Professor William H. Wright, who with one or more assistants will be engaged for two or three years in observing a series of stars distributed as uniformly as possible over the region lying within 60 degrees of the South Pole.

William Gwin, whose death recently relieved him of his duties as head messenger of the State Department, was born on the Pittsburgh estate in Virginia about sixty years ago. In 1861 or 1862 he enlisted on a blockading ship, and returned to Washington after the war.

Colonel Arthur Lynch, who for six months before the fall of Pretoria fought with the Boers against England, and was elected a few days ago to represent Ireland in the House of Commons, is not a native of Ireland or the British Isles, for that matter.

Dr. MacArthur on Sunday Saloons. To the Editor of the Tribune. Sir: The Tribune is usually so accurate in all its statements that we have come to trust it as a high authority.

TELESCOPE FOR LICK OBSERVATORY IN CHILI—THE GIFT OF D. O. MILLS.

San Francisco, Dec. 21.—Harron, Rickard & McCone, who have taken over the business of the Parke & Lacy Company, a long established machinery firm of this city, have just completed a contract with the Lick Observatory for the mounting of a large reflecting telescope.

In November, 1900, Dr. Campbell called the attention of D. O. Mills, of New-York, to the desirability of providing such an observatory in the southern hemisphere, and he gave a sum of money to construct a telescope, a spectro-scope, a dome to cover them, to defray the expense of installing the observatory in the southern hemisphere, and to pay the salaries of the astronomers engaged in the work.

As the investigations are to be made entirely by photography, it is more advantageous to make use of a reflecting telescope than of a refractor. The Brasshear Company, of Allegheny, Penn., are constructing mirrors to be used in the telescope mounting. The principal mirror, to be placed in the lower end of the great tube, will be of glass, 30 1/2 inches in diameter, and its thickness of the mirror will be 4 1/2 inches.

A thoroughly modern photographic spectro-scope is under construction and nearly completed at Lick Observatory. This spectro-scope will be attached to the lower end of the great tube in such a way that light from a star will enter the spectro-scope and pass through the telescope and prisms making up the spectro-scope, and falls upon a photographic plate suitably placed.

The artist in this picture is a very important part. We might be edified and uplifted by the picture and words of a vulgar Christ, but scarcely interested (unless with a dying and self-incriminating moribundity) in the death of an inconsequential one of the million.

Colonel Arthur Lynch, who for six months before the fall of Pretoria fought with the Boers against England, and was elected a few days ago to represent Ireland in the House of Commons, is not a native of Ireland or the British Isles, for that matter.

J. E. Dodson, who is a member of Mrs. Minnie Madden Fliske's company at the Manhattan Theatre, sometimes feels a troublesome uncertainty as to what play he is in. A short time ago he was acting in "The Bonnie Brier Bush," and that at the end of this season he would retire from the stage forever.

TEXAS COLLEGE PRESIDENT RESIGNS. Weatherford, Tex., Dec. 21.—Professor D. S. Wiltzer, who has for the last fourteen years been president of the Weatherford College, has resigned.

SELECTIONS FROM THE MAIL.

LIKES TO HAVE THE LAWS ENFORCED. AND THINKS IT WILL BE NO HARDER TO ENFORCE THE EXCISE LAW THAN ANY OTHER.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: Since the attention in regard to the opening of saloons on Sunday has been going on lately it has set many people to thinking very seriously on the subject; especially those who are looking to the highest good of the community in which they live.

THE APPRAISER HAS HIS PERSONAL EFFECTS MOVED FROM HIS OFFICE. Appraiser Wilbur F. Wakeman received yesterday the letter from President Roosevelt which removed him from office.

THE RAINES LAW AND "OPEN SUNDAY." To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: The "open Sunday" republicans and other folks outside the metropolitan district are making the November election watched with more than ordinary interest.

THE PRESIDENT'S CHURCH. To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: I have much satisfaction in the knowledge that our President is a man who has always manifested the utmost respect and reverence for sacred things.

MRS. TUTTILL SEEKS HER SISTER. To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: I am a woman of very small means, residing in Buffalo, and I am in search of my sister, who lived in New-York City nine years ago.

INCREASE THE PENALTY FOR EXCISE LAW VIOLATIONS. To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: Though not a believer in open saloons on Sunday, I am of the opinion that much of the opposition to that plan would vanish if the penalty for violation during prohibited hours would be so severe as to make it a matter of life and death.

SMUGGLED IN WITH GREASE. There was a report in Custom House circles yesterday that an important seizure of valuable chemicals had been made for an attempt to smuggle them in as other goods.

WAKEMAN GETS REMOVAL LETTER. THE APPRAISER HAS HIS PERSONAL EFFECTS MOVED FROM HIS OFFICE.
