AT A FLAG RAISING.

FORMAL OPENING OF DE WITT CLINTON PARK.

There was a housewarming at De Witt Clinton Park farm yesterday when the neighbors all called to see the children's vegetable plots. There were 114 of them, all fenced in, and every one had green things growing in it, which were planted exactly ten days before.

The park was formally opened by the raising of the flag, which was done by Margaret Fitzgerald and William Marx, representing the Farm Branch of the National Plant Club.

The best selling varieties in men's gloves are mochas in shades of gray, capes in castor and red tans. The automobile gauntlet is a specialty for which there is a steady demand.

Among the white gowns, which are always most effective, a new one was exhibited made of an exquisitely lovely white velveteen, trimmed with bands of white cashmere, embroidered in Persian designs.

Wool batiste in a pretty shade of old blue gives a satisfactory development in a smart shirtwaist suit, all-over lace, tucking, braid ornaments, velvet and French knots worked in black making the necessary contrast.

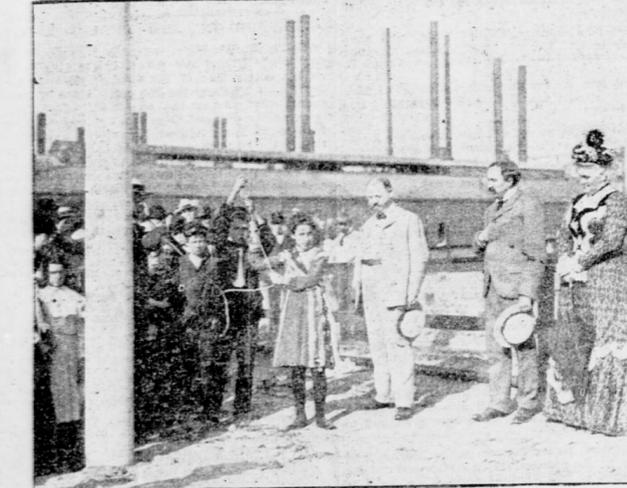

Ribbon trimmings not only hold their own, but are far in the lead of other ornamentation for midsummer, as they do not "muss" with wear, humidity or salt air, and are comparatively inexpensive.

MISS LUCY HAD BAD THROAT.

OBJECTED AT FIRST TO SWALLOWING NINE FOOT TUBE.

Imagine a sore throat nine feet long, and every inch of it stiff and inflamed. This is what Miss Lucy has been going through, though she is now convalescent. Miss Lucy is still in her teens, and is as graceful a creature as ever drew the breath of life.

Added to her trouble was a thoroughly developed and most excruciating cough which seemed almost eternal in its slowness, probably owing to its having such a long distance to travel—nine feet, and every inch of it sore and inflamed.

It was necessary, however, to protect the throat, and a bolt of dry flannel was procured. Men perched on ladders several feet high, and carefully around the throat until the entire nine feet was completely covered. There were over thirty yards used, and when the work was completed Lucy had so changed in appearance that her own mother would not have known her.

The spray was administered regularly once an hour, and at the same time the patient was put on a special diet. This comprised warm broths, soups, boiled cream, and whiskey and water.

"A SAD CASE OF FATHER-IN-LAW."

JUSTICE DICKEY ALLOWS MRS. W. C. PITMAN ALIMONY OF $5 A WEEK AND $50 COUNSEL FEE.

"This is a peculiar and sad case of father-in-law," said Frank Harvey Field yesterday in the Brooklyn Supreme Court, in opposing a motion for $30 a week alimony and $500 counsel fee made by a lawyer on behalf of Mrs. Carrie C. Pitman in her suit for absolute divorce from her husband, Walter C. Pitman, an official of the American Steel and Copper Plate Company.

"Father-in-law" ejaculated Justice Dickey. "We often hear of a mother-in-law in a case like this, but I never heard a father-in-law blamed before."

The father-in-law of Mr. Pitman is Charles H. Covell, president of the New-York Steel and Copper Company. Mr. Field, who acted as counsel for Mr. Pitman, said that his client at the time of his marriage was in Mr. Covell's employ, and that when he started the same kind of business Mr. Covell was exceedingly angry. He questioned his daughter about Mr. Pitman's movements, and followed him and tried to get away his customers.

The Pitmans have been married for eight years.

want a fourth term. Of course, I don't propose to give up my interest in politics. I can't afford to go on and give up my time and neglect my business interests for the sake of public office.

"Governor Odell is to be renominated. He is the strongest candidate that the party can name, and has well earned a renomination and re-election. He will win by a large majority even if the Democrats do get together, which does not seem likely at this time.

Mr. Woodruff was asked what he thought of the opposition of the Committee of Two Hundred and Fifty to the present Republican leaders in Kings County.

"I hear stories of how Mr. Scheren is opposing my renomination," he said, "and how there is an ill feeling toward me in Kings County. Now I don't understand that the people of Brooklyn are opposed to me. I didn't place Sharkey, Dady or Hanbury, and I don't see why I should be unpopular. I will also add that I don't believe I am unpopular.

"If Mr. Platt has chosen Frank Higgins for the nomination, that has nothing to do with me, and I shall not discuss it."

Mr. Woodruff was asked if he would oppose Mr. Platt and Governor Odell, who wishes a man of Manhattan Borough to get the nomination.

"That is not a fair question to ask me," he replied, "as I have not yet had an offer of the nomination from any one. I must decline to answer that question."

Mr. Woodruff said that he would see Senator Platt to-day, either at his office in the afternoon, or at Manhattan Beach to-night.

"I wish you would deny the report," he said, "that I saw, which said that I and my wife had been caught in a riotous mob while driving through the streets of Paris. There is absolutely no truth whatever in the story. We were never in any trouble and I cannot imagine how such an untruth ever came to be printed."

Mr. Woodruff was met down the bay by Congressman Bristol and Naval Officer R. A. Sharkey. Mr. Woodruff denied that the purpose of offering him a renomination and said that Mr. Bristol's presence there had been actuated by personal motives only.

An exciting scene took place outside the pier just as Mr. Woodruff had reached the west side of West-st. A horse attached to public hack No. 326 became frightened at a passing freight train and attempted to run away. The scared animal was heading straight for the Lieutenant Governor when a wheel of the carriage caught in an upright from post, stuck in the ground, and held it back.

At last a knife was produced and the traces were cut away. The horse was then thrown down on his side and held on the ground until his fears had been quieted.

Mr. Woodruff, when he saw the horse coming, made a quick dash for a private omnibus which happened to be passing and jumped inside. After the excitement was over the Lieutenant Governor laughed and said, with a smile: "That is about the most exciting thing that has happened to me since I have been away."

and have a seven-year-old daughter. Mr. Pitman is said to have an income of $300 a year, but he denies holding any stock in the company, and says his salary is only $5 a week. Justice Dickey awarded the plaintiff $5 a week alimony and $500 counsel fee.

Pitman is charged by his wife with travelling in the West with a woman named Woolston, and with misconduct with another co-respondent in Brooklyn. He denies the latter, but admits the first.

"I say," said Mr. Field in court, "that it was the neglect and conduct of the defendant that made the plaintiff a large counsel fee by speaking of the difficulty of getting the evidence against Mr. Pitman in the West. Justice Dickey replied: "There is no authority in the court to pay for watching a party in a divorce suit."

MR. ISELIN'S GIFT COMPLETED.

IT CONSISTED IN ENLARGING THE ST. ELEANORUS HOME AT SCARVILLE. The work of enlarging the St. Eleanorus Home for convalescent patients from New-York hospitals, built by Adrian Iselin, at Scarville, was completed yesterday. Mr. Iselin has expended more than $150,000 on the property, which is in memory of his wife.

In addition to his home, Mr. Iselin has just built, under plans laid out by his daughter, Miss Georgiana Iselin, a retreat for the Sisters of the Visitation, of Manhattan. This institution is entirely separate from the home, and is exclusively for the use of Sisters of this city who devote their lives to visiting the lowly in the tenement house districts. When they are exhausted they go to the Iselin retreat, where they recuperate. This separate building cost $25,000, and is surrounded by lawns and flower beds.

TO INSTALL WIRELESS AT FORTS.

SIGNAL CORPS OF FIRST DEPARTMENT TO HAVE SPEEDY CONNECTION WITH BAY STATIONS. The Department of the East has ordered for the signal corps the installation of two wireless telegraph plants—one at Fort Wadsworth, the other at Fort Hancock—to superintend cable communication. While the government has experimented with various systems, this is the first official adoption of "wireless" in department work. The signal office at Washington had also purchased instruments for the same system.

Dr. Lee De Forest, the inventor of the system chosen, said his plan differed diametrically from Marconi's, in that no coherer is used. The current is transmitted through a chemically treated paste, breaking the circuit, which automatically closes, opening again in response to the current vibrations. The receiver uses an ordinary telephone receiver, a Morse key. The speed is thus limited by the sender's ability. A record of fifty-five words in fifty-five seconds has been made. In receiving a message from their station Iselin received another message, apparently from a ship fitted with Marconi apparatus, was received, and both were received perfectly, though the receiver was not "tuned."

A SPECIAL ALDERMEN'S MEETING.

MAYOR LOW CALLS ONE FOR NEXT TUESDAY TO TAKE ACTION ON TAX AND ASSESSMENT ROLLS. Mayor Low yesterday called a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen for next Tuesday at noon for the purpose of receiving and acting upon the report of the Committee on Finance in relation to the tax and assessment rolls of real and personal estate for the year 1902. These rolls were delivered to the Board on the first Monday in July. The special meeting is in accordance with the charter, and besides the action on the committee's report, the Board will take action on the levying and collecting of taxes and assessments.

Mayor Low did not come to the City Hall yesterday. He remained at his summer home at Rye and busied himself with official business there. Assistant Corporation Counsel Clark visited him and went over various affairs with him.
