NEW-YORK CITY.

Lafayette Post No. 140, G. A. R., will give a reception for Thomas J. Stewart, commander in chief, and his staff, and Allan C. Bakewell, department commander, on the evening of November 21 at Masonic Temple.

The full choral evening with cantata, "God, Thou Art Great," by Spohr, will doubtless attract many music-lovers to Calvary Protestant Episcopal Church to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, where Lacey Baker, organist and choir-master, has for several seasons drawn crowded audiences at the musical services. A short organ recital at 7:40 o'clock will precede the service. A brief sermon will be preached by the rector, the Rev. Dr. J. Lewis Parks.

Professor Kelly Miller is to address the League for Political Education, at No. 23 West Forty-fourth-st., this morning at 11 o'clock. Professor Miller's subject will be "The Negro as a Political Factor." He is a professor in Howard University, at Washington, and is a remarkably thoughtful and interesting speaker.

Minnie Kurtz, the woman who figured in the Diamond, Bissert and Herlichy cases, was yesterday discharged by Judge McMahon, in the Court of General Sessions, on the recommendation of the District Attorney's office, with the understanding that she live at the house of the Good Shepherd until she is wanted by the authorities.

The Educational Alliance, at East Broadway and Jefferson-st., announces the second of its series of Sunday night concerts. It is under the direction of Sam Franko, and consists of music arranged for strings, piano and organ, with instrumental and vocal solos. Admissions are 5 and 10 cents for reserved seats. The programme will include the Mozart overture of Beethoven and the Fantasia on Hebrew Melodies by Lewandowski.

The People's Bible Institute, the Rev. Dr. Thomas B. Neely, president, has resumed its public meetings at 330 o'clock on Saturday afternoons at No. 150 Fifth-ave. To-day the Sunday school lesson for to-morrow will be taught by Dr. Robert Remington Doherty. There is a marked increase in the attendance at these meetings.

STUDENT MASQUERADES AS GIRL. INSANE COLUMBIA MAN APPEARS ON CAMPUS AND IN GYMNASIUM IN FEMININE ATTIRE.

Nelson C. Martin, a first year man at the Columbia University Law School, became temporarily insane on Wednesday, and after astonishing his fellow lodgers at the university apartments that night, created a sensation among the students at large on Thursday by appearing on the campus in girls' dresses, and by running on the track in the gymnasium in woman's under-clothing.

Martin comes from Cheshire, Mass., and was formerly a student at Dartmouth, where he showed many eccentricities, earning him the name of "Freak" Martin. On Wednesday evening Martin appeared at the supper table in complete female attire. He did not like his own seat, but persisted in remaining by one of the women boarders.

Then early on Thursday morning a white robed figure in woman's garments, with long hair flying out behind, ran around the college running track on South Field. Observed by several hundred of the Morningside students, the figure finally disappeared as mysteriously as it had arrived. At first it was thought to be some Barnard girl, but the ease and freedom of the runner's stride contradicted this belief.

At 2 p. m. on Thursday, while many men were dressing in the gymnasium, they were scattered by the sudden appearance of a girl dressed in becoming blue, with long hair hanging in curls about the shoulders. She said, "Don't be afraid, boys," and proceeded to remove her outer skirts, and was recognized as Martin, who was persuaded to go into Dr. Savage's office in response to a feigned telephone message. Before doing so, however, he insisted on dressing, and asked one of the students to help fasten his blue neck ribbon. Secured in the office, he was finally quieted down, his long wig tied up on top of his head, and covered with a mackintosh and hat, he was taken back to his rooms, where he soon grew more sensible, and has now almost recovered.

TIGER MASCOT BITES CAPTAIN.

THE PRINCETON GRIDIRON SEES A LIVELY "SCRAP" BETWEEN DAVIS, BANNARD AND THE ANIMAL.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 14.—The little tiger mascot which was sent to Captain Davis by Coach Hillbrand to be used at the Yale game to-morrow broke loose to-day and almost escaped. Captain Davis was leading it out on the field, when the animal suddenly slipped its collar over its head and bounded out across the gridiron. Captain Davis and Coach Bannard pursued the fugitive, and after a sprint of 150 yards the captain sprang upon it, and, after being bitten and scratched badly, succeeded, with Bannard's help, in refastening the collar on its neck. The active mascot will be kept within the field house until the game starts to-morrow, when it will appear on the side lines.

Don't put off buying to-day what you may need to put on to-morrow. Suits—sacks of fancy mixtures; frock coats. Overcoats—long and medium length; paddock and tourist. Underwear—not just one, but all the good sorts. Hats—silk, opera, Derbies. Shoes—"Trump," $3.50; "Pedestrian," $5.

RAKOPOLOS APPEALS AGAIN.

HIS CONVICTION OF KEEPING A DISORDERLY HOUSE WAS AFFIRMED BY THE APPELLATE DIVISION.

Judge Edward T. Bartlett, of the Court of Appeals, yesterday, on application of ex-Judge Thomas F. Wentworth, of Wentworth, Lowenstein & Stern, granted an order directing the District Attorney to show cause before him in Albany, on November 19, why a certificate of reasonable doubt should not be granted in the case of Demetrius Rakopolos. Rakopolos was convicted on March 24 of keeping a disorderly house, before Justices Hinsdale, Wyatt and Mayer, in the Court of Special Sessions, and was sentenced to sixty days in the City Prison.

Rakopolos was charged with keeping a resort in the Tenderloin, at No. 37 West Twenty-eighth-st., known as "The Alhambra." After the conviction Justice Gildersleeve, of the Supreme Court, granted a stay pending an appeal to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. The Appellate Division recently affirmed the conviction, and Rakopolos now desires to appeal to the Court of Appeals.
