THE SOUTH AND NEGRO EMIGRATION.

The Charleston News and Courier continues to urge the practicability of separating the white and the black races, saying that the "fuged and encouraged emigration of its active" "material and paternal element" would in a few decades result in the extinction of the negro race in this country.

The "South would not tolerate wholesale deportation" is of no consequence, as such industrial interests in the South would not consent to any degree of negro emigration of little more consequence. These interests are not paramount, and the negro is a free man. He is free to go whither he pleases.

We do not find this view shared by some other leaders of Southern thought, nor corroborated either by Southern law and custom. We doubt if, in fact, the negro "is free to go whither he pleases."

The white people in the States where the negroes are most numerous would not let them go. If Mr. Graves or any other advocate of deportation will visit the cotton, sugar and rice regions of the great Mississippi Valley and seek evidence to confute this assertion, he will find that he has undertaken to settle a heavy reckoning without his load.

The further recognition of the military schools by the army authorities, by placing a number of their honor men every year on a level with the graduates from West Point, would be an incentive to still better work at the schools, and would be a potent factor also in the destruction of the useless, mischievous breeding barriers which have been reared between the West Pointer and the officer who came from "civil life."

THE COTTON CORNER.

The speculators who have "cornered" cotton and sent the price of the staple to extravagant heights, thereby compelling many mills here and abroad to shut their doors and to throw tens of thousands of wage earners out of employment, are angrily denouncing Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture because of his criticisms of these schemers as in effect enemies of the public welfare.

But Secretary Wilson is right in his statements, and he has abundant backing of public sentiment. The collapse of this corner and the bankruptcy of its manipulators would be a public benefit.

SIGHT AND RADIUM.

An endeavor to overcome total blindness with radium was briefly reported several months ago from Europe, and a similar effort has now been made in this city. Such an experiment has much to commend it. Any new method of dealing with defective vision which human ingenuity can suggest and which is not attended with risk deserves a trial.

Interesting questions of theory are raised by experiments of this kind. Radium is used as a substitute for the vacuum tube because it is apparently more powerful. For practical purposes the character of its emanation may be regarded as identical with that discovered by Roentgen. As yet the principal service rendered is in diagnosis. By means of the X ray surgeons are able to photograph the interior of the human body or an injured limb, or to obtain a fleeting but instructive peep inside with their own eyes.

ground, then obviously another candidate would be desirable, but if we must win, if we win at all, on the record of Mr. Low, what sort of a campaign will that be which begins by repudiating Mr. Low?

Mr. Sheehan pays cordial tribute to Mr. Low and his administration, but thinks Tammany can defeat the fusionists by an appeal to partisanship. If it can, then the principle of non-partisanship itself is a failure, the voters do not really want non-partisan administration, and it does not make much difference what pretext they take for establishing the old time party domination of city affairs.

It is well known that some of the Republican district leaders have been dissatisfied and have sought to bring the administration into disrepute. The very men who now complain because the President and Governor have on the other hand sought to give Mr. Low support, and through their influence to keep the party true to its pledges of municipal non-partisanship, would be the loudest in denouncing them if they did not co-operate with the Mayor.

Their friendship which the critics would demand if it did not exist, in their desire to find pretexts for joining Tammany they seize upon as evidence of an unholy, partisan conspiracy. They complain because Mayor Low supported Odell for Governor, and then ask in the name of non-partisanship for the nomination of a man like Controller Grot, who worked much more actively for color. Instead of joining to continue an administration the excellence of which they themselves say must be the principal issue in the fusion campaign, without stopping to question the national party preferences of its head, they demand that he be set aside so that a Democrat may run for Mayor.

FOREIGN.—Turks were reported to be again in control in the vilayet of Monistiar, and the centre of the rebels' activity is now at Adrianople, while a fresh revolt broke out in Salonica; Bulgarian officials believe that the situation is becoming serious. Shareholders of the Grand Trunk, at a meeting in London, approved the increase of the common stock to $50,000,000; it is thought that the new capital will be used to acquire a Canadian Atlantic terminal, which the Earl of Salisbury will be held on Monday, August 31, at Hatfield; the ceremony will be private.

DOMESTIC.—Washington learned that Turkey had granted many Armenian wives permission to join their husbands in this country. H. H. Kohlsaat, of Chicago, visited President Roosevelt, and said that the proposed financial reforms would be limited to two mild amendments. Charges were made against a United States marshal in Indian Territory, who had used his position for the political benefit of himself and his friends.

CITY.—Stocks were dull and irregular. Some Democrats were discussing the possibilities of Judge Gray, of Delaware, as a Presidential candidate. The Director of Charities at San Juan, Porto Rico, denies that the people of the island are threatened with contagion from the leper colony. The hostile fleet in the war maneuvers is expected to make an attack on Portland, Me., to-night.

THE WEATHER.—Indications for to-day: Showers probable after noon. The temperature yesterday: Highest, 77 degrees; lowest, 68.

We desire to remind our readers who are about to leave the city that The Tribune will be sent by mail to any address in this country or abroad, and address changed as often as desired. Subscriptions may be given to your regular dealer before leaving, or, if more convenient, hand them in at The Tribune office. See opposite page for subscription rates.

MR. SHEEHAN'S ONE ISSUE.

Perhaps the best argument that has yet been presented for the renomination of Mayor Low is that furnished by Mr. Sheehan in favor of the selection of some other candidate. Indeed, if he is right on the point, it would seem conclusive, and all who take his view must join in urging upon Mr. Low the duty of standing for another term, lest the fusion company should in the campaign be seen presenting the play of "Hamlet" with Hamlet left out.
