

Copyright, 1903, by The Tribune Association.

Vol. LXIII...No. 20,818.

Today, fair, followed by cloudiness. Tomorrow, probably rain, fresh west winds.

NEW-YORK, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1903. FORTY-FOUR PAGES.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

NEWS OF TWO CAPITALS.

AFFAIRS IN LONDON.

Union of European Naval Powers—More Force to Monroe Doctrine.

Special to The New York Tribune by French Cable. (Copyright, 1903, by The Tribune Association.) London, Nov. 14.—The visit of the King of Italy creates sympathy for the new movement for bringing together the western naval powers.

The festivities at Windsor offer a fantastic contrast to the anxieties of the German Court. The misgivings and forebodings there must be serious respecting the Emperor's health.

The negotiations between Russia and Japan are conducted in absolute secrecy, and there is no trustworthy information respecting the grounds of the compromise which the two governments are seeking to reach.

European events do not divert attention from Washington, where President Roosevelt has imported fresh force to the Monroe Doctrine by the prompt and decisive recognition of the new Republic of Panama.

The week has been remarkable for picturesque events described in detail in the newspapers, such as the Roxburghe-Goelet and Rudini-Lalouchere weddings, but politics cannot be displaced by social incidents when the United Kingdom is agog over a great tariff fight.

Apart from the Bristol demonstration of Unionist consistency, it has been a dull week in politics. Mr. Balfour made a perfunctory address at the Guildhall and riotous proceedings were suppressed in Birmingham.

WARNING TO CHEROKEE.

SHOOT TO HIT NEXT TIME

Clyde Line Defiant—Washington to Decide on Clearance Papers.

There are indications that the Clyde Line steamer Cherokee, which arrived in this port last Friday from San Domingo, with an exciting story of blockade running, is to encounter a similar or worse experience on her next southward voyage.

Several persons who heard the shot ran into the store, and two men carried Mrs. Brunes into the rear of the office. The police were immediately informed, and an ambulance was summoned.

Notwithstanding the notice given by the consul general, it was said at the office of the Clyde Line yesterday that the Cherokee would follow her usual itinerary, which includes all the ports placed under the ban by President Woz y Gil's decree.

"We will accept shipments as usual," said a man at the Clyde Line office. "You know," he added, "that the Baltimore is on the scene, and her mission is to protect American interests. If they try to prevent the Cherokee from going into those ports the aid of the cruiser will have to be asked."

Consul General Galvan explained yesterday that the closing of several ports did not constitute a blockade, said he.

It is probable that the action of Collector Stranahan in the matter of issuing clearance papers to the Cherokee for the closed ports when she sails next Wednesday will be subject to orders from Washington.

MAY FORCE BLOCKADE.

General Jimenez Not Allowed to Land by Haytian Authorities.

Cape Haytien, Hayti, Nov. 14.—The French steamer St. Simon, with General Jimenez, head of the Dominican revolution, on board, has left Port-au-Prince, Hayti, with the intention, according to report, of forcing the blockade of Puerto Plata, on the northern coast of Santo Domingo.

The Haytian authorities formally opposed the landing in Hayti of General Jimenez (who arrived here on the St. Simon, from Porto Rico, November 6, and who proceeded later to Port-au-Prince), in spite of his strong insistence upon being permitted to do so.

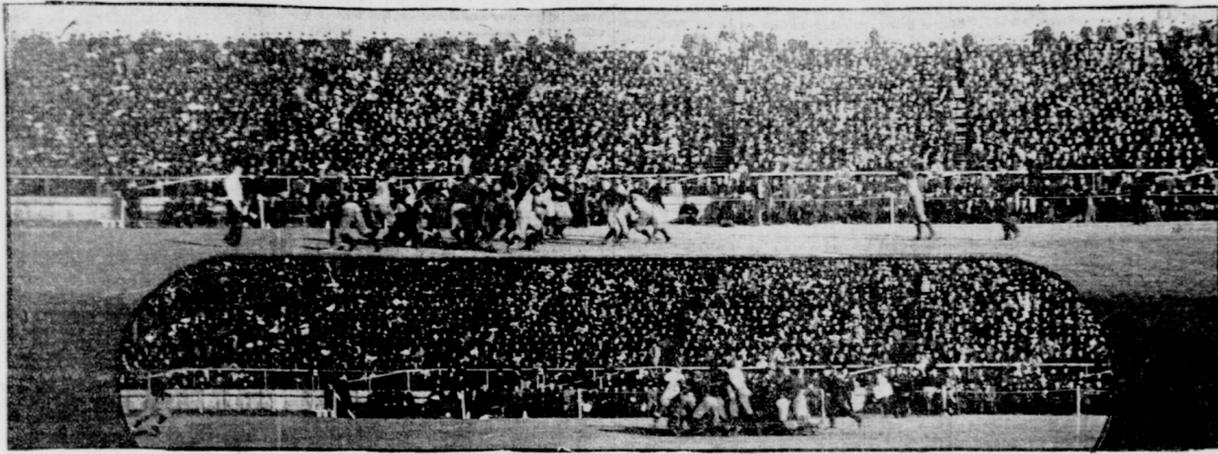

It is said that if the St. Simon is interfered with she will ask for the assistance of the German cruiser Gazelle, or any other foreign warship which may be in Dominican waters.

MR. CLEVELAND IN THE MARSHES.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Baltimore, Nov. 14.—Grover Cleveland, with Ernest Gittings and Andrew D. Jones, of this city, and Dr. Paul Van Dyke, of Princeton, started this morning for the Virginia Beach station for a week's shooting with the Back Bay Gun Club, of Princess Anne County, Va., to which a number of sportsmen of this city belong.

THE PRINCETON-YALE GAME AT NEW-HAVEN.

The upper picture shows De Witt breaking through for his long run. Mitchell, who fumbled, has the ball in his hands.

THE TIGERS TRIUMPHANT.

YALE IS BEATEN, 11 TO 6.

De Witt's Long Run and Place Kick Win Game for Princeton.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] New-Haven, Nov. 14.—In a desperately contested match, which for thrilling and unexpected occurrences was quite the equal of any game seen on a gridiron in recent years, Princeton today defeated her dearest foe, Yale, by a score of 11 to 6.

JOHN R. DE WITT, Princeton's captain, who did the scoring against Yale.

kick. Then, indeed, De Witt redeemed himself. Amid a deathly silence, he lifted the ball straight and true through the forty-two yards of space between the goal posts of the Elis, and the game was won.

GAME IS CURIOUSLY UNEVEN. All told, it was a curiously uneven game. It contained exhibitions of unexpected brilliancy and revealed spots of unanticipated weakness.

There is no question that Yale's team disappointed its coaches bitterly. One man who has been intimately concerned in training the team declared that the eleven played 25 per cent below its practice game form and certainly played a good deal of loose and slovenly football.

"DEWEY'S WINES ARE PURE." "Buy of the makers." "We are the makers." H. T. Dewey & Sons Co., 128 Fulton St., N. Y.—Adv.

SUICIDE IN POSTOFFICE

Young Woman Shoots Herself at Glendale—Mystery in Case.

Mrs. Catherine Brunes, twenty-five years old, the wife of John Brunes, of No. 6 Skillman-ave., Brooklyn, who is a collector for Trommer's brewery, committed suicide yesterday in the postoffice at Glendale, Queens Borough, by shooting herself in the right temple with a revolver.

Several persons who heard the shot ran into the store, and two men carried Mrs. Brunes into the rear of the office. The police were immediately informed, and an ambulance was summoned.

"There was something behind this whole case, but what it is I will never know. My daughter always lived happily with her husband. They were married about ten years ago, and have a little boy eight years old. If any one is to blame for driving my daughter to this I pray they will suffer for it."

KILLED IN FOOTBALL.

Two Deaths in Brooklyn in Two Days—Another Injured.

Thomas McCauley, jr., son of Police Sergeant McCauley, of the Port Hamilton station, died yesterday in the Seney Hospital, Brooklyn, from injuries received to his spine in a football game.

McCauley's death is the second to occur in Brooklyn within two days as the result of injuries received in football. Raymond K. McVeigh died at his home, No. 9 Spencer Court, on Thursday.

Yesterday afternoon Herbert Gee, eighteen years old, while playing right end on the Commercial High School team, came into collision with a player on the Flushing High School team and sustained concussion of the brain.

BOY FOOTBALL PLAYER KILLED.

Steps in Front of One Car After Letting Another Pass.

Barnett Sous, twelve years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Sous, who live in the Anthony apartment house, at No. 423 West One-hundred-and-twenty-third-st., was instantly killed by a car in front of No. 1,884 Amsterdam-ave., about 1:29 o'clock p. m. yesterday.

Sous had been playing football and was returning home for luncheon. He was about to cross when a southbound car came along, and he waited for it to pass. Not noticing a northbound car on the other side, he ran across the tracks, and was struck by the tender.

PARALYZED IN FOOTBALL GAME.

Salt Lake, Nov. 14.—Ray Booth, of this city, was badly injured in a game of football between the two local teams here to-day. He was taken from the bottom of a pile of players and removed to a hospital, where it was found that the lower part of his body is completely paralyzed.

ONLY $1,000 FOR SON.

Rest of F. G. Tefft Estate Goes to Miss H. M. Whitney.

The will of Frank Griswold Tefft, who died on last Monday, at Great Barrington, Mass., was filed in the Surrogate's Office yesterday. Mr. Tefft's estate is said to be worth $10,000, of which he leaves all, with the exception of $1,000 to his son Erastus, to Miss Helen M. Whitney, whom he was to marry next month.

SCOUTS A KIDNAPPING.

PRIEST SEEN ON TRAIN.

Captain Foody Declares Story About Two Men a Myth.

Little belief was expressed by the police yesterday in the theory that the Rev. Giuseppe Cirringione, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, in First-st., Williams-bridge, who has been missing from his home, adjoining the church, since Friday night, had been kidnapped or was the victim of foul play.

Captain Foody thought it likely that Father Cirringione, his mind having given way under the strain resulting from too much work, committed suicide, and that his body might be found in some woods in The Bronx.

The guard replied that at 1:06 a. m. yesterday Father Cirringione got on the last car at Bedford Park with three Italians, who were smoking. One of the Italians was a stout man, whom the guard declared he would recognize

BESSIE DAVIS IS FOUND.

NEVER KNEW A. H. GREEN

He Visited Her Next Door Neighbors—Funeral Next Tuesday.

The element of time has served to clear up whatever mystery there may have been about the shocking murder of Andrew H. Green by the negro Cornelius M. Williams. The police have discovered the woman Bessie Davis, whose name figures in the murderer's explanation of the crime.

Inspector McClusky, basing his statement on the investigations of the Detective Bureau, has flatly declared that Williams, in the fancied association of Andrew H. Green with his wrongs, was absolutely mistaken, and the whole wild story of the negro has been demolished.

With references to the Davis woman, who is known as Mrs. Hannah Elias, Mr. Greene said that to all appearances she was a person of considerable wealth. He himself had tried to purchase the house she occupied, but the price asked was too much.

Mr. Greene said that yesterday afternoon, while he was talking to a newspaper man on the stoop of his house, an elderly man, with white hair, left Mrs. Elias's house. He told the newspaper man that he had frequently seen the same person enter and leave her house.

"I do not know much about my next door neighbor," said Mrs. Greene, "but until now I always believed her to be perfectly respectable. So far as we know she has always conducted her household in a perfectly orderly manner.

Mr. Greene said that yesterday afternoon, while he was talking to a newspaper man on the stoop of his house, an elderly man, with white hair, left Mrs. Elias's house. He told the newspaper man that he had frequently seen the same person enter and leave her house.

"I do not know much about my next door neighbor," said Mrs. Greene, "but until now I always believed her to be perfectly respectable. So far as we know she has always conducted her household in a perfectly orderly manner.

Mr. Greene said that yesterday afternoon, while he was talking to a newspaper man on the stoop of his house, an elderly man, with white hair, left Mrs. Elias's house. He told the newspaper man that he had frequently seen the same person enter and leave her house.

"I do not know much about my next door neighbor," said Mrs. Greene, "but until now I always believed her to be perfectly respectable. So far as we know she has always conducted her household in a perfectly orderly manner.

Mr. Greene said that yesterday afternoon, while he was talking to a newspaper man on the stoop of his house, an elderly man, with white hair, left Mrs. Elias's house. He told the newspaper man that he had frequently seen the same person enter and leave her house.

"I do not know much about my next door neighbor," said Mrs. Greene, "but until now I always believed her to be perfectly respectable. So far as we know she has always conducted her household in a perfectly orderly manner.

Mr. Greene said that yesterday afternoon, while he was talking to a newspaper man on the stoop of his house, an elderly man, with white hair, left Mrs. Elias's house. He told the newspaper man that he had frequently seen the same person enter and leave her house.

"I do not know much about my next door neighbor," said Mrs. Greene, "but until now I always believed her to be perfectly respectable. So far as we know she has always conducted her household in a perfectly orderly manner.

BESSIE DAVIS IS FOUND.

NEVER KNEW A. H. GREEN

He Visited Her Next Door Neighbors—Funeral Next Tuesday.

The element of time has served to clear up whatever mystery there may have been about the shocking murder of Andrew H. Green by the negro Cornelius M. Williams. The police have discovered the woman Bessie Davis, whose name figures in the murderer's explanation of the crime.

Inspector McClusky, basing his statement on the investigations of the Detective Bureau, has flatly declared that Williams, in the fancied association of Andrew H. Green with his wrongs, was absolutely mistaken, and the whole wild story of the negro has been demolished.

With references to the Davis woman, who is known as Mrs. Hannah Elias, Mr. Greene said that to all appearances she was a person of considerable wealth. He himself had tried to purchase the house she occupied, but the price asked was too much.

Mr. Greene said that yesterday afternoon, while he was talking to a newspaper man on the stoop of his house, an elderly man, with white hair, left Mrs. Elias's house. He told the newspaper man that he had frequently seen the same person enter and leave her house.

"I do not know much about my next door neighbor," said Mrs. Greene, "but until now I always believed her to be perfectly respectable. So far as we know she has always conducted her household in a perfectly orderly manner.

Mr. Greene said that yesterday afternoon, while he was talking to a newspaper man on the stoop of his house, an elderly man, with white hair, left Mrs. Elias's house. He told the newspaper man that he had frequently seen the same person enter and leave her house.

"I do not know much about my next door neighbor," said Mrs. Greene, "but until now I always believed her to be perfectly respectable. So far as we know she has always conducted her household in a perfectly orderly manner.

Mr. Greene said that yesterday afternoon, while he was talking to a newspaper man on the stoop of his house, an elderly man, with white hair, left Mrs. Elias's house. He told the newspaper man that he had frequently seen the same person enter and leave her house.

"I do not know much about my next door neighbor," said Mrs. Greene, "but until now I always believed her to be perfectly respectable. So far as we know she has always conducted her household in a perfectly orderly manner.

Mr. Greene said that yesterday afternoon, while he was talking to a newspaper man on the stoop of his house, an elderly man, with white hair, left Mrs. Elias's house. He told the newspaper man that he had frequently seen the same person enter and leave her house.

"I do not know much about my next door neighbor," said Mrs. Greene, "but until now I always believed her to be perfectly respectable. So far as we know she has always conducted her household in a perfectly orderly manner.

Mr. Greene said that yesterday afternoon, while he was talking to a newspaper man on the stoop of his house, an elderly man, with white hair, left Mrs. Elias's house. He told the newspaper man that he had frequently seen the same person enter and leave her house.

"I do not know much about my next door neighbor," said Mrs. Greene, "but until now I always believed her to be perfectly respectable. So far as we know she has always conducted her household in a perfectly orderly manner.

Mr. Greene said that yesterday afternoon, while he was talking to a newspaper man on the stoop of his house, an elderly man, with white hair, left Mrs. Elias's house. He told the newspaper man that he had frequently seen the same person enter and leave her house.

"I do not know much about my next door neighbor," said Mrs. Greene, "but until now I always believed her to be perfectly respectable. So far as we know she has always conducted her household in a perfectly orderly manner.

Mr. Greene said that yesterday afternoon, while he was talking to a newspaper man on the stoop of his house, an elderly man, with white hair, left Mrs. Elias's house. He told the newspaper man that he had frequently seen the same person enter and leave her house.

"I do not know much about my next door neighbor," said Mrs. Greene, "but until now I always believed her to be perfectly respectable. So far as we know she has always conducted her household in a perfectly orderly manner.

Mr. Greene said that yesterday afternoon, while he was talking to a newspaper man on the stoop of his house, an elderly man, with white hair, left Mrs. Elias's house. He told the newspaper man that he had frequently seen the same person enter and leave her house.

"I do not know much about my next door neighbor," said Mrs. Greene, "but until now I always believed her to be perfectly respectable. So far as we know she has always conducted her household in a perfectly orderly manner.